SPRIT OF CO-OPERATION WITH CITY EVIDENCED BY TRACTION COMPANY

President and Manager Have Conference With City Commission. Promise Better Service and Consideration of Extensions. Mayor Prince Expressed Delight With Attitude of Officials.

Better street car service throughout the city, immediate work on the street railway extension to Morgan Park and favorable consideration of the proposed Ninth street extension, were the chief items discussed at a conference between the city commission and the Duluth Street Railway company, which was held at the city hall this morning by J. W. Robertson, president of the Duluth Street Railway company, and Mayor Prince.

CHICAGOANS TO HAVE THEIR MILK AGAIN

War of Producers and Distributors Has Practically Ended. Chicago, April 8.—The milk war between producers in the Chicago district and the distributors in Chicago, which for the past few days has assumed a serious aspect with the curtailment of the city's supply, is practically at an end today. But one of the distributors, the Borden Condensed Milk company, has not agreed to buy milk at the new price of $1.55 per hundred pounds, an increase of 22 cents over the old price. Local officials of the city have tentatively agreed to settle the matter by arbitration, but announced their intention to have the matter decided by the courts.

FLOOD CONDITIONS AT LA CROSSE GROWING WORSE

Water Entering Basements Where Much Merchandise Is Stored. More Families Likely to Be Driven From Their Homes. La Crosse, Wis., April 8.—With water entering basements in the wholesale district along the river front, where thousands of dollars worth of merchandise is stored, flooding railroad tracks, roads and parks, and threatening to drive dozens of families from their homes in the Goose Green section of North La Crosse, the Mississippi river flood assumed an ominous aspect in this city today, when the high water passed the 13-foot mark on the government gauge.

IS RIDICULED BY VON JAGOW

Minister Laughs at Reports That Germany Wants Canada. Declares Teutons Have Never Pursued Such Senseless Aims. Berlin, April 7, via London, April 8.—Recent press dispatches have brought word of statements in the Canadian parliament and Canadian newspapers that Germany was planning after this war to plunge upon the American continent and particularly to demand cession to Germany of the Dominion of Canada. In a conversation with Herr von Jagow, minister of foreign affairs, the Associated Press correspondent referred to these rumors. The foreign minister's first reply was an outburst of laughter.

GIUSEPPE ARICHELLO.

ALLIES WILL CONFER AGAIN

To Assemble at Paris to Consider Economic Questions. Cabinet Ministers and Distinguished Delegates to Attend. Paris, April 8.—The conference of the Entente allies for discussion of economic and commercial questions will assemble in Paris on April 20. The conference will extend over four days. President Poincaré will preside at the opening session. Premier Hughes of Australia, who will be a delegate, is expected to take an advanced position for a joint tariff system which will establish minimum rates among the subject of patents. Under eighteen inches of water. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks on the levee leading to the manufacturing district south of Main street, are under eighteen inches of water today. The main tracks of all the railroads leading into La Crosse are almost level with the water and the rails seem as though laid on the surface of a great lake.

ANOTHER GAIN MADE BY GERMANS IN DESPERATE ATTACK NEAR VERDUN

Berlin Announces Capture of French Positions Two Kilometers Wide. Troops West of Meuse Are Assaulted on Two Sides. Intermittent Bombardment Continues in the West Section.

Berlin, April 8, via London, 8:38 p. m.—The war office today announced the capture of French positions more than two kilometers wide in the Verdun region west of the Meuse. Founded on Two Sides. London, April 8.—The salient in the French lines west of the Meuse with the village of Bethincourt at its sharp angle is being pounded on both sides by the crown prince's troops, which in their last drive, succeeded in making a new dent in the line southwest of Bethincourt.

FREDERICK C. TANNER.

New York, April 8.—Frederick C. Tanner will continue to be chairman of the New York Republican state committee. An attempt by followers of William Barnes to oust him from that position at a meeting of the committee here today for purposes of organization was defeated by a vote of 82 to 63.

GERMANS DENY ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR EXPLOSION ON SUSSEX

Berlin, April 8, via London, 6:10 p. m.—The German government is able to announce that no German submarine or warship was responsible for the explosion which damaged the British steamship Sussex.

HAVE SHATTERED FORCES OF VILLA WHO IS FUGITIVE

Official Says Bandit Has Lost All Prestige Among Followers By Running Like Coward Before Americans. Original Order to Funston Was to Disperse Villa Band; Bandit Last Heard of at Parral.

El Paso, Tex., April 8.—The American troops have accomplished their object in destroying Villa's military power and should therefore withdraw from Mexico without delay, was the view expressed today by a well-known member of the Carranza government, speaking unofficially. "The punitive force," he said, "has done all that it could expect to do. It has shattered the forces of Villa, who is now a fugitive, robbed of all prestige and power he ever held among the people. The peons may be ignorant but they are not fools. They will never again respect a man who turned tail and ran like a coward before the Yankees, without even making a stand."

TO FIND SOME ALTERNATIVE

Getting Permission to Use Mexican Railroads Apparently Hopeless. Imperative That Some Way Be Found to Send Supplies to Troops. San Antonio, Tex., April 8.—Faced by the apparent hopelessness of getting permission to ship stores to Mexican railroads from El Paso to the troops in Mexico, and recognizing the inadequacy of the present system of supply, army officers at headquarters here virtually were convinced today that some alternative would have to be found.

SUPERIOR PEOPLE ARE NOT SATISFIED

Appeal to Secretary of War From Agreement on Bridge Approach. From the Herald Washington Bureau. Washington, April 8.—The question of the erection of the Duluth approach to the Interstate railway bridge was argued before Secretary of War Baker late today. The recent agreement between the railroad and the government, satisfactory to certain people in Superior, who appealed from the chief of engineers, was not reported. Those at today's hearing were Solon Fernin of Superior, representing the city, and Representative Clarence H. Miller, Senator Hastings and Representative Leonard from Wisconsin and John Brennan of Superior.

THREE SHIPS SUNK; ONE MAKES ESCAPE

French Passenger Steamer Shelled in Mediterranean Without Warning. London, April 8.—The loss of three more British vessels was reported today by Lloyd's. The steamship Brunton and the schooner Clyde of Whitehaven were blown up. The crews were saved. The steamship Chantala was sunk. The Brunton, 4,675 tons gross and 380 feet long, was built in 1911 and owned at Cardiff, Wales. Her recent movements are not reported. She arrived at Spezia, Italy, from Philadelphia on Dec. 18. The Chantala was in London on March 10 and was booked to sail for Calcutta. She was built in 1913 and was 408 feet long, 4,849 tons gross, and was owned in Glasgow. The Clyde of Whitehaven, 204 tons gross, was built in 1912. Passenger Steamship Shelled. Marseilles, France, April 8.—The large French passenger steamship Colbert was shelled without warning by a submarine in the Mediterranean, but being under a full head of steam, escaped her aggressor by superior speed, at the same time sending out wireless warnings of the submarine's presence to other ships in the vicinity. The Colbert, of 5,394 gross tons, 327 feet long and 47 feet beam, was built in 1908 at French Mediterranean yards.

This "914" has all the benefits of the original "606" and is devoid of any objectionable feature that the "606" preparation might have had.

JURY ACQUITS CUT-RATE MAN

Bilderbeck, One-Cent-Fare-Man, Found Not Guilty of Charge.

Not Present in Person—Bail Refunded to Attorney.

It took a municipal court jury three minutes yesterday afternoon to acquit William Ray Bilderbeck, 1-Cent Street Car Ticket Wallfingford, of advertising illegally.

Bilderbeck did not appear in court during the trial, and in fact has been missing since last Tuesday, when he posted $200 bail to insure his appearance and disappeared. He left a forwarding address at a hotel in Laporte, Ind.

Walter F. Dacey, as Bilderbeck's attorney, entered a plea of not guilty for his client and fought a case successfully. Pamphlets alleged to have been distributed by Bilderbeck, stating that the car tickets were "good on all lines," were presented by the state, but Judge W. H. Smallwood refused to allow them to be accepted in evidence.

The state contended that the pamphlets were misleading, as the car tickets were not good on Park Point lines.

Makes Nice Cleanup. Police say Bilderbeck is one of the smoothest "financiers" who has operated in Duluth in recent years. He cleaned up between $2,000 and $4,000, they claim, as a result of two days and a half of selling 5-cent street car tickets at a cent apiece.

His scheme was an endless chain coupon system, whereby each coupon purchaser was required to buy three coupons at 25 cents apiece, sell them to three friends, and to wait until the three friends applied at the company's office and obtained three coupons in turn before No. 1 could receive his twenty-five cent tickets for 25 cents.

Two or three other warrants will be served upon Bilderbeck if police have an opportunity, they say. He stated a similar scheme in Chicago, police say, but was ordered to discontinue, and left the city.

PUBLIC ISSUES TALKED OVER

Jackson Welfare Club Discusses Some Leading Questions.

The proposed terminal railway franchise, the milk ordinance, and county officials all came in for criticism at the regular meeting of the Jackson Welfare Club held last evening at the Jackson school. John Ross, president of the club, presided during the evening.

An outline of the terminal road franchise was made by Roy Hood, who attacked the measure in its present form, declaring that the city's interests are not adequately protected. The members decided to watch the progress of the franchise and study all future drafts considered by the city officials.

Attacks Milk Ordinance. Dr. F. C. Bowman gave a short talk on the proposed milk ordinance, during which he launched an attack on the measure, saying that it tends to discourage the small dairyman and creates a monopoly for the large dealers. At the close of his talk the members adopted a resolution opposing the passage of the ordinance.

County officials came in for criticism for their failure to keep the steps north of the courthouse in proper condition for pedestrians. It was declared that the steps are coated with ice, making it extremely dangerous for walking.

A committee consisting of Roy Hood, Dr. Bowman, Robert Patterson and J. D. Molitor, was appointed to confer with the city commissioners on the plan to improve the park property near Ninth avenue west and Second alley.

Grand Forks Really Dead. Grand Forks, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Real estate transfers in Grand Forks during the month of March exceeded $100,000 in value, setting a new record for the month, according to local real estate dealers. Most of the transfers were of farm property, the greater part of which sold for $50 or more per acre.

THE HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Aspirin Habit

Here is an instructive letter from a high school girl:

"I have been suffering for some time from headache which our family doctor says is due to overstudy. He advises me to leave school. But as I expect to graduate in June I cannot give it up. Some time ago I was told of a very simple remedy, which I did, and it soon relieved me. I have taken a great many of the five-grain aspirin capsules, sometimes as many as seven or eight a day, when my head ached severely. Now I do not have headaches so much, but still want the aspirin and cannot be still in the house unless I take some. I frequently feel as though I would faint, and things turn black about me. I never had this before taking the aspirin. Please advise me if aspirin is a habit-forming drug and if it weakens my heart, thus causing these strange spells."

Evidently this young woman's education is faulty. Somehow she has learned to place "graduation" above the most precious accomplishment a woman can have—good health. Evidently her instructors are giving her a wrong start in life, when they allow her and her classmates to feel that "graduation" is so important as this. Of course, a high school girl is just a high school girl. Often one-sided, she is too many books under one arm and too many data in her left third frontal convolution. But assuming this young woman is not merely solving the vagaries of a top-heavy girlhood, is she in danger?

Aspirin is one of the coldest derivatives. Dr. Brady will answer all student letters pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered personally; if not, it will be answered by mail. Address, Dr. William Brady, care of this newspaper. Protected by The Adams Newspaper Service.

Most all medicines made from coal tar, including all the popular headache cures—are depressing to the heart. Further, they break down the red blood corpuscles and ultimately ruin the nervous system. We see quite a number of victims of the coal tar drug habits eventually become nervous wrecks and sometimes they reach the insane hospital.

The young woman "was told" to "try" the drug. Who told her? What a terrible responsibility! Why do human beings so love to experiment upon each other?

Her symptoms are characteristic—she frequently feels as though she would faint, and things turn dark around her.

Acetamide, phenacetin, antipyrin, acetophenetidin, phenylacetamide—any of these in headache cures, "cold" or "grippe" cures is a dangerous drug. Aspirin is perhaps less depressing than the others, but it is depressing.

Our high schools, we have always believed, make us a little top-heavy. We waste at least a year there. The sight of a round-shouldered, precocious, be-speckled young woman staggering along home with an armful of algebra, trigonometry, bugology, etc., always makes us sigh for the future of the race.

artillery fire when no action of the infantry was in progress. We cite, for instance, the thirty-seventh regiment of infantry, which was surprised by our fire while on the march to the trenches. It lost about 500 men and from this fact was so reduced that it could not, on March 10, take part in the village of Vaux, as was ordered, in place of the Nineteenth regiment, which had been decimated by our machine guns.

Force on Verdun Front. "Summarizing during the forty days from Feb. 21 to April 1, the Germans had on the Verdun front, from Avocourt to Eparges, exactly 239 battalions of infantry and presenting a minimum of 1,975 companies of infantry, besides twenty-three battalions of engineers of three companies each, which give an aggregate of 1,144 companies fully reinforced, the companies varying from 260 to 280 men. The assaulting army, therefore, represented at least 285,000 infantry alone.

"Since Feb. 21 the reinforcements have been frequent and heavy. At least eighty battalions have been sent to the rear to be reconstituted. They have received their reinforcements on the field. It is, therefore, nearly 450,000 infantry which appeared upon the firing line and this estimate is even under the mark.

"Declarations gathered from prisoners and our own observations lead us to estimate at least one-third of the total engaged as the minimum losses of the German infantry up to April 1. It is, therefore, 150,000 men who have fallen solely upon the first battle line."

MOORE WILL PAY FOR PLAYGROUND

Duluthian Will Provide Recreation for Stowe School This Season.

Watson S. Moore, prominent grain man, will equip a playground at the new Harriot Stowe school, at Stowe school, and pay an instructor during the coming summer season.

Mr. Moore presented to the board of education last night, during their monthly meeting, by Director H. J. Granin, and was accepted by the board. There was one condition, that the board go to the expense of leveling off the ground and preparing it for the apparatus.

Director J. E. Batchelor reported that preparations for the summer playground activities were rapidly being completed, and recommended crushed rock surfacing for several playgrounds which are now under construction. The board accepted the recommendation, and the board members, because of a measles epidemic, an attendance record on one day of the month showed only four full classes out of the 210 which were checked.

There were 14,440 pupils in school on March 24, which is an increase of 106 over the corresponding date last year, and almost 1,000 more than were enrolled when school began last fall.

The resignation of Leon C. High, English instructor at the R. E. Denfeld high school, was accepted, to take effect immediately. He will accept position with the Scott-Graft Lumber company.

An order made by Kane & Co., of Minneapolis, to sell $2,000 worth of bonds maturing in 1923 at $106 and interest, was accepted without discussion by the board.

BUSINESS AND SENTIMENT CLASH

Sentiment and business may clash at the Oneta school, Forty-fifth avenue west and Rene street, within the next few months, because school board directors want to do away with the building, and residents want to keep it.

"It's a matter of sentiment," said Anton O. Wicklund, of the Oneta and Hazelwood Improvement club last night, in addressing the board. "We've tried before to have this old building replaced, but a lot of those people don't want to see the dear old school-house go."

The Oneta school originally was a seven-room structure, but now only three rooms are being used. Directors admit that conditions are not of the best as regards sanitation, because of lack of sewer connections.

And in favor of rededicating the territory, said Dr. L. Q. Graefley, one of the directors. "When we finish the Merritt school addition I think plans should be made along this line."

The Oneta district is between Forty-second and Forty-ninth avenues west, south of Third street. Eighty-eight pupils would be divided between the Bryant, Ely and Merritt schools.

No matter what you want, it will save you time and money if you will use THE HERALD'S WANTS.

It is Goodyear quality and Goodyear features of construction—which make Goodyear Tires go farther, last longer, and so cost you less in the end.

consideration at the regular council meeting next Monday afternoon. Commissioner Farrell will introduce a resolution awarding the contract for paving Superior street, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenue east, to the General Contracting company of Minneapolis on its bid of $47,575 for a Trinidad lake asphalt pavement, and Commissioner Merritt will introduce a resolution awarding the contract for the construction of a stone foot bridge over Fischer's creek to J. F. Schlemmer of this city on his bid of $14,447.90. No action will be taken on the two measures until a week from Monday, as the contracts involve expenditures more than $1,000.

Bids on paving East Superior street were opened last Tuesday, and those for the bridge over Fischer's creek were opened yesterday. The latter bids followed: J. F. Schlemmer, $14,447.90; Rogers & McLean, $14,810; D. H. Cough & Co., $17,060, and the Pastoret Construction company, $18,438.

Contracts for all but four of the thirteen water sprinkling districts will be awarded to the following low bidders: District No. 1, Dominick Scandlin, $13,847; No. 2, Dominick Scandlin, $14,438; No. 3, Louis Nord, $154; No. 7, Joseph Cavallero, $126; No. 8, Tony Ferraro, $130.82; No. 9, Frank Michalek, $138.70; No. 10, Dominick Scandlin, $166.35; No. 11, Joseph Cavallero, $128; and No. 12, Frank Fox, $139.20. District No. 1, including Superior street, is sprinkled by the city, while bids on the other three districts will be rejected, because they are too high.

Resolutions making changes to the widths for the Central and Minnesota auditorium pavements will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell, works head, following out the requests made by the property owners. Fifty-sixth street west will be ordered paved from Rammer to Bristol street.

ANTI-LYNCH MEN TO FIGHT

Will Oppose Indorsement of Committeeman to a Finish.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The anti-Lynch delegates to the Democratic national convention practically boycotted the meeting of the delegation here today.

Only Z. H. Austin, Minneapolis, and Dr. E. C. Hawkins of Granite Falls showed up at the beginning of the session.

No business was transacted, not even the election of a permanent chairman of the delegation. But especially they were there to protest the passage of a resolution indorsing Fred B. Lynch for re-election as national committeeman.

In support of the position they produced the call for the meeting, which did not state that any of these matters were to be taken up, but merely said that the meeting was "for the transaction of important business."

"We ought to have those fellows all the way to St. Louis and back if they try to put through an indorsement of Lynch or to elect a permanent chairman, or to indorse any of their members for important offices," said Austin. "The anti-Lynch delegates want nothing for themselves, not even a committee place, all we want is a national committeeman other than B. Lynch, and for that we will fight to the last ditch."

Hoped for Test Vote.
"Other members of the committee expected that the matter of selecting a national committeeman would come up. They were hoping that all of the anti-Lynch delegates would be present and would vote so there could be a test vote. They claimed sixteen votes for Lynch and had fourteen of them present, including Dan Lawler, Julius J. Olson, John Jewell, Douglas Greedy, M. J. Daly, Fred E. Wheaton, Ed Conroy, C. H. Helweg, J. F. Nelson, R. J. Williams, Fred Schlipplin. Two alternates were present on time, W. C. Quinn of St. Paul and John B. Galtner of Alitka.

Fred E. Wheaton was the favorite of the Lynch men for membership on the committee on resolutions, the most important at the St. Louis convention. The delegates went into executive session at noon, the Lynch people determined to do business and the two anti-Lynch delegates determined that nothing should be done save to arrange for transportation and hotel accommodations at St. Louis.

R. Kane, St. Paul, anti-Lynch delegate appeared, but said he would not attend the meeting.

"My understanding is that it is merely a meeting of Lynch followers, and under no circumstances will the anti-Lynch members of the delegation have anything to do with an indorsement of B. Lynch as national committeeman," he said.

The delegation at last elected Daniel W. Lawler temporary chairman and Fred Schlipplin of St. Cloud temporary secretary.

BREAK ICE
NEXT WEEK

It is the plan of shippers now, to start breaking the ice in the harbor about the middle of next week so that boats may be moved about and grain hauled into them. It is not thought necessary to move them before that time, and it is hoped that in the meantime there will be enough warm weather to weaken the harbor ice so that the tug Wisconsin and Minneapolis, upon which will fall the job of opening the bay, will have an easier time of it.

It was decided this morning, at a conference of shippers and vessel men, to make the start by moving the ship about the middle and not later than the end of next week.

Conditions in the lake continue to be bad. On Wednesday night, the northwest wind blew the ice outside of Two Harbors clear of the other side of the lake, and fifteen to eighteen miles from the north shore, open water could be seen eastward as far

WOULD HAVE PEACE BUREAU

Dr. Lefkovits Advocates New Federal Department for World Restraint.

A federal department of peace, with a secretary to labor toward the peace of the world, was urged by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, in a sermon on "Preparedness for Peace" at the regular weekly services last evening. The sermon concluded the series on "Preparedness for Peace." Dr. Lefkovits said, in part:

"This country is in no danger of invasion. There is not the least ground for apprehending an attack on this country by any power whatsoever, unless we greatly prepare for it. Thus far we have steered clear of all entangling alliances. No past wars have left us with grudges against other nations, or have planted in them grudges against us. We have been the friend of all the enemy of none. Why, then, anticipate hostilities? Hostilities only and feeble-mindedness, or else cunning greed and mercenary calculation will configure up dangers where none exist. But are we really as unprepared as our alarmists would have us believe? Peruse the records of the hearings of the congressional naval committee and you will find it stated by the most unimpeachable and most expert authori-schools, the peace department would maintain schools in which young people would be specially trained in the science of peace. It is in the art of harmonizing differences of nationality, race and creed, in skill directing conciliation, and of developing, through school and church, peace and platform, a deep-seated hatred of war and a love of peace.

"America's manifest destiny is to be the apostle of peace. If we disregard that destiny, and embark upon elaborate preparations, history will soon write our epitaph. The fate that has overtaken other militaristic nations will overtake us, if, on the other hand, we heed our destiny, history will record us among the immortals—the one great nation which, amidst general hysteria, has possessed its soul in calm reason, and amidst the deafening din of battle has kept its vision steadily fixed on the star of peace."

EMPLOYEES TO ENTERTAIN.

Duluth Street Railway Men Will Stage Farce on "Day's Work."

The date for the entertainment which is being arranged by employees of the Duluth street railway company, will be decided at a meeting of the committee to be held Monday evening following a rehearsal. A cast of twenty men is being selected to take part in the comedy, "All in Day's Work."

The play is a farce on the operation of street cars. Many of the humorous and pathetic incidents that occur on the car will be brought out in shape for presentation. A miniature car has been built in the club room for use in presenting the play.

The play opens up with the sleepy crew making the early morning "pull-out." The final scene is that of the "owl." Several scenes of operation are included, including the bringing of the students to high school, morning shoppers, noon rush, afternoon madhouse, evening home rush, show crowds of the evening and port going to parties, will be the subjects.

Several musical selections will be included. Some of these are parodies that have been composed by street car employees and will be sung by them. Owing to the club room not being able to accommodate more than about 200 people, the play will be given on two nights so that all employees may witness it. Invitations will be extended to the employees of the superior lines and their families.

TELLS OF MISSION WORK.

Rev. Carl Vingren Relates Experiences in China of Generation Ago.

A lecture on "When I Was Transformed into a Chinese," given by Rev. Carl Vingren of Minneapolis, featured an entertainment given under the auspices of the Young Ladies Society of the First Swedish Baptist church. Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, last evening. Mr. Vingren spoke of his experiences as a missionary in China twenty-five years ago.

Rev. Mr. Vingren said that he had been the first white person to have entered into the district to which he was sent. His appearance attracted a great deal of attention, and he had to see him because of curiosity. He said that in order to first get out of the crowd, he had circulated a rumor that a "white devil" was going to appear.

While giving his address last night Rev. Mr. Vingren appeared in the Chinese costume worn by him while on his missionary work. The program included, in addition to the address, musical numbers and refreshments.

FEW REFUSE TO SIGN DRY PETITION

Few refusals and plenty of commendation meet the men who are soliciting signatures for the local option petition, according to W. L. Smith, who is actively in charge of the work.

Mr. Smith is usually to be found at the office opened in the Providence building, on the second floor, and is generally kept busy answering telephones from his lieutenants and helpers.

Mr. Smith said this morning that while he understands that a great many men are signing the petition, he has no way of estimating just how many have signed the petition. He said that he has estimated that of those who are handling the petitions meet at the headquarters on the first floor, many of the desired 5,000 names are being secured, but the workers have set 5,000 as their goal.

It is now being today by a number of freight operators that the Western situation is a very bad one, but that the cars are not available being tied up on Eastern lines. ## BLACK SHEEP SENTENCED

"Ralph H. Miller" Sent to Reformatory for Theft of $1,600.

Judge Shields Parents From Disgrace Brought By Wayward Son.

RALPH H. MILLER.

To those who have known him as a lawbreaker, Ralph H. Miller, pick-pocket and crook, was sentenced this morning to an indeterminate term of not more than ten years behind the bars of the St. Cloud reformatory. But to Judge Dancer and twelve men, who knew and shared his secret, the son of a highly respected family stood disgraced before the court. And for the sake of those who are connected with Miller by ties of blood, his true name, though known to the court, will be kept out of the court records. The family will be spared further humiliation or disgrace.

Miller will be remembered as the young man who so deftly relieved S. Belmont, treasurer of the Duluth Street Railway company, of $1,600 in an elevator in the First National bank building in this city on Sept. 25 last. He was with two other men who escaped. Miller did not have the money when he was arrested and the $1,600 was never recovered. When Mr. Belmont missed his wallet, he grabbed Miller, who, he remembered, had looked him when he entered the elevator.

Deafened New Trial. On Dec. 1 last, Miller was brought to trial before Judge Dancer and a jury found him guilty of the crime of grand larceny. In the second degree. His attorney, Walter F. Dacey, moved for a new trial, but the motion was denied. Yesterday afternoon, members of his family appeared before Judge Dancer before the case was taken up and after a lengthy conference, it was decided to postpone action until this morning.

Judge Dancer entered to the plea of the brother, father and stepmother of the wayward boy for leniency. They told him the whole story. It was a story of heartaches and disappointments. They feared going back to their home city in Michigan and facing their friends should the newspapers publish the true name of the young man.

Secret Is Safe. But Judge Dancer assured them that with him their secret was safe. This one, unhappy, tear-stained page in the family history will remain unread—at least so far as Judge Dancer is concerned. The young man's father is a professional user of black standing. His name, of course, is not Miller. But he satisfied Judge Dancer that he was a worthy man.

The father told the judge that a few years ago when the boy's mother died the home was temporarily broken up. The young man went to live with his brother, but finally broke away from all home influences and fell into evil company. Then he joined a gang. Within the last two years he has been playing confidence games. For a time he traveled with R. J. Murphy, alias Richard Kavenagh, notorious crook.

Under the name of Miller, the prisoner, who is now 24, has a record of arrests, fines, convictions and sentences extending over a period of two years. These offenses were such as short-changing passengers on railroad trains and pocket picking.

The two other men who know and share Miller's secret with Judge Dancer are Walter F. Dacey, county attorney, and Warren E. Greene, Mr. Greene stated in court this morning that he had no recommendations to make to the court as to the disposition of the case. Mr. Dacey asked the court to extend as much leniency as possible and pleaded for a reformatory rather than a penitentiary sentence.

Will Mend Ways. Miller was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed. "Well," he said, "nothing except that I have determined to live right from here on. When I get out I'm going to straighten up."

Miller told the court that he did not use tobacco or intoxicating liquors. He presented a fine appearance before the court.

Judge Dancer told him that he would not require that his true name be placed on the record, although it was known to the court. He advised Miller to try to take his punishment like a man and to come out determined to live right. He advised him not to try to deceive the reformatory authorities, because they never were deceived by false appearances.

No matter what you want, it will save you time and money if you will use THE HERALD'S WANTS.

FLOOD CONDITIONS

St. Paul is the only point above here which shows a decline in the stage today.

Stationary at Winona. Winona, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mississippi river at this point was at a standstill at 15.3 feet above low water mark today and is now on its expected to fall. Travel is out of between Wisconsin points and Winona except by rail as the approaches to the high wagon bridge to this city for a stretch of several hundred feet. Men are stationed at either side of the bridge to warn travelers of the danger.

The work done by the Burlington railway in strengthening its roadway where seepage developed yesterday afternoon has proved effective and trains are running as usual today.

Much damage has been done in the low portions of the city. The entire switch yards of the Northwestern railway are under from two to five feet of water.

SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION WITH CITY EVIDENCED BY TRACTION COMPANY

Immediately accepted the invitation and the meeting was held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Ready for Extension. During the discussion Mr. Robertson announced that active work on the Morgan Park extension would start just as soon as weather will permit.

Causes of Cataracts

among welders was traced to the violet and infra red rays.

probably the latter part of this month. The improvement will be valued to an early completion, he said, as there will be no let-up until the extension is completed. Three new cars have already been ordered and will be here this month ready for service on the Morgan Park line, he told the commissioners.

Help With Bridge Fills. Arrangements were made by President Robertson, Manager Warren and Commissioner Farrell to co-operate in the removal of dirt and the making of fills for the extension, while the company officials agreed to assist the works division in its program of making fills underneath all the wooden bridges of the city. This announcement proved especially pleasing to the commissioners, as it will aid the city considerably in handling the improvement plans outlined for this year.

When asked about the proposed Ninth street extension over Chester creek, President Robertson announced that it is being considered favorably and that the program will be carried out in all probability as soon as a bridge is constructed by the city.

With regard to better service for street car patrons, Mr. Robertson announced that an expert is now here going over the schedules and outlining a more complete and thorough program, which will be put into operation in the near future. These lines with light schedules will be given better service to meet the public demand, he told the commissioners.

Downtown "Loop." During the conference the proposed establishing of a downtown "loop" was brought up. Nothing definite was said by the company officials. Mr. Robertson declared that the "loop" in Minneapolis has proved a tremendous success and that such a program might be carried out in Duluth in the near future. The congestion on Superior street, it was generally conceded by those present, must be remedied before Duluth grows much larger and indications are that a downtown "loop" will be established here within a few years. The plan most favored and one that has been recommended on many occasions is to have the "loop" extend from Mesabi avenue west to Mesabi avenue and then down that avenue to Superior street, completing the circle. This plan, it was explained, would relieve the congestion at Third avenue east and Superior street.

"We want to co-operate with the city in every possible way," Mr. Robertson told the commissioners, "and to work in harmony and with a friendly spirit at all times."

for transportation with necessary civilian personnel as may be required.

"You are instructed to make all practicable use of the aeroplanes at San Antonio for observation of the situation of whatever reinforcements or material you need. Notify this office as to force selected and expedite movement."

Brig. Gen. Scott, chief of staff, declared today that Gen. Funston had not yet reported that this task had been accomplished.

The Mexican embassy today announced that no advice had been received from Gen. Carranza that the de facto government forces were prepared or desired to relieve American troops and assume the task itself.

Gen. Scott would express no opinion as to whether he believed the orders to Gen. Funston had been completely carried out.

Villa Near Parral. El Paso, Tex., April 8.—Information from Mexican sources today indicated that Villa had reached the environs of Parral and had sent emissaries into the town to test the spirit of the garrison and also to secure provisions. No verification was possible, but the bandit was reliably reported to have been only fifty-five miles from Parral two days ago and gave color to the story.

Expected to End Rumors.

Washington, April 8.—Official denial of persistent reports that the de facto government of Mexico had asked for withdrawal of the American troops was expected here today to set at rest all such rumors.

Secretary Lansing emphatically declared today that no such request had been made, formally or otherwise. He said there was no truth in border reports that General Carranza had given the United States certain time in which to withdraw the American forces and that 15,000 Carranza soldiers were massed just below the international boundary line.

Natives Aiding.

Washington, April 8.—Gen. Funston today reported to the war department that natives were beginning to aid in secret scouting work for Gen. Pershing in the Santa Maria valley and that Col. Brown, of the Tenth cavalry, stated that high water had interfered with aeroplane communication. He added concerning the four men wounded at Guerrero as follows:

"Wounded of the Seventh cavalry very slight, not considered enough to report, practically all healed now."

The names of the men were not given.

On Fresh Trail of Villa.

Expeditionary Field Headquarters, South of Nampulpa, April 5, (by aeroplane and wireless to Columbus, S. Mex., April 8.)—The American troops are on a fresh trail of Villa as the result of reports made by an army aviator and observer who returned today from what may prove one of the most important scouting flights of the campaign.

WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS FOR CANADIAN BORDER

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—Barbed wire entanglements will be erected along a portion of the frontier of Canada in the neighborhood of the electric plant at Niagara Falls, it was announced yesterday, after a conference of Brig. Legie, with P. W. Ellis, chairman of the Niagara Falls Park commission and J. P. Jackson, park superintendent.

The area of the park about the plant will be closed to the public. The present armed guard will be increased and no one will be allowed to approach or enter the restricted area without a pass. Electric lights will illuminate the fence at night and street cars will be escorted through the enclosures under armed guard.

Said the Critic

"Give us TRACTION, without Friction!"

WHEN there arose, in the Tire Industry, a sound of Many Voices,—each clamoring that its Owner had the very best "Non-Skid" design that ever did happen on a Tire, our Professional Critic said, with much Chuckle,—"Give us Traction without Friction!"

We are glad to have met that "Poser" more than half-way. Here's how and why.

Makers of "Non-Skid" Tires, in a mad effort to produce maximum Traction, have done the very natural thing of being too successful.

Too successful in gaining Traction, not merely through "Non-Skid" designs, but through providing a sandpaper texture in Tire Tread Rubber which grinds against the pavement, wearing out as it grinds.

Of course such Treads HAD to be made very thick, and the Tires very HEAVY, in order not to wear out too soon under such constant grinding, with such constant strain on the Rubber Adhesive between the many layers of Fabric in their necessarily cumbersome construction.

Of course, such Tires were heavy in that part of the Car below the Springs where Engineers say that every pound of weight counts as more than twenty pounds placed above the springs.

But beyond all this, their great thickness, the many layers of Fabric, and the stout Tread of gritty, sandpaper, Rubber, made them naturally stiff, unyielding, hard to bend, and conform where obstacles were struck,—hard to drive with moderate power,—and slow to coast down hills (which proved all this).

The intention was good, but the result was a relatively hot, stiff, Tire, with a Traction-wave to overcome that went far toward boosting the Sales of Gasoline.

Well,—

—Making the Silvertown Cord Tire, taught us a few lessons in the manufacture of lighter, cooler, more flexible and enduring FABRIC Tires.

THE "Silvertown" Tire, you know, gains its marvellous Speed (and the Coasting qualities that demonstrate its Speed) primarily through having only TWO layers of Cords, laid transversely.

Of course, these TWO layers bend more readily than Five, Six, or Seven Layers of Fabric do (or of Cord would).

But, we found it necessary, in order to conserve that flexibility (in the Two-cord construction), to put a Rubber Tread over it which was equally flexible,—equally strong,—and elastic enough to act as a sort of spring between the Earth and the Tire-casing, when Brakes were thrown on at stopping, or clutch thrown in at starting.

So, we had to devise practically a new kind of Rubber,—for this purpose TWO YEARS AGO.

This new type of black "Barefoot Rubber" now does for GOODRICH Tires a work similar to that done by the wonderful Alloys of Steel and Bronze in modern Motor Car construction.

It multiplies Rubber Efficiency, for Tire purposes, while decreasing its Weight, and without increasing its Bulk, or its Cost to you.

AS we cannot yet supply half the demand for "Silvertown Cord Tires" (until enough manufacturing equipment can be constructed) we decided to use this wonderfully efficient black "Barefoot Rubber" in all Goodrich FABRIC Tires for 1916.

This makes them the most Resilient and Responsive-to-Power,—the most Long-Lived and Lively, of all FABRIC Tires, at ANY price,—without increasing their price to you.

We call this new Hyper-Rubber by the name and brand of "Barefoot Rubber."

Because, it CLINGS to the pavement for the same sort of reason that your bare foot clings to a slippery floor, while being flexible, stretchy, springy, and light.

TENACIOUS, resilient, enduring, this "Barefoot Rubber" you today get in all black tread Goodrich Fabric Tires,—Goodrich Motor-Cycle Tires,—Goodrich Truck Tires,—Goodrich Bicycle Tires,—Goodrich Rubber Boots, Overshoes, Soles and Heels, and in none but GOODRICH products.

Get a Silver of it from your nearest Goodrich Dealer's or Branch. Stretch it thousands of times, but break it you can't.

Then test out a pair of these very moderately priced black tread FABRIC Tires, and see!

TURKISH WARSHIP IN THE BLACK SEA

Petrograd, via London, April 8.—News of the sudden appearance of the former German cruiser Breslau in the Black sea, which it has been seen by the Turkish cruiser's short and ineffectual duel with a Russian warship, and her subsequent disappearance, was received here with considerable surprise. It was stated, however, that the Russian fleet, which was guarding the entrance to the Bosphorus from the Black sea, has been compelled by the necessity of concentrating elsewhere, and thus permit the Breslau to slip by her guard.

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

FOR months Duluth theatergoers have speculated on the possibility of booking road attractions at the Orpheum theater, devoting the Lyceum to a stock company.

This plan will be given a trial on April 20 when Harry Lauder will visit Duluth and will appear with his vaudeville show at the Orpheum under Lyceum management.

The future of the Orpheum is very much in doubt. The Orpheum circuit is watching the conditions in Duluth closely, and it is confidently believed by many well informed on theatrical matters, that the Orpheum vaudeville will again be presented next fall. In the meantime the theater will be kept open with motion picture features, and an occasional road attraction. The Paddy stock company will return to the Lyceum on May 7, and after that any road attractions coming to Duluth are likely to be shifted over to the Orpheum.

During the last week Manager J. L. Morrissey of the Lyceum theater, acting for Walter Hadden, secured a leading man and almost secured a leading woman. Fred L. Bruce-Tiden, the leading man of the "Peg o' My Heart" company signed a contract to appear with the Lyceum company as the leading man during the summer season. Mr. Morrissey also approached Miss Florence Martin, the "Peg" of the company, and tried to secure her signature to a contract as a leading woman. He was not successful, but was not definitely turned down. Miss Martin was made a very attractive offer, so attractive that she hesitated about turning it down, but had to wait until she found out the plan of Mr. Morrissey for the summer. It is likely that "Peg" will be booked for a summer run in the East, in which case Miss Martin will not be available. She frankly admitted she would like to come to Duluth for a summer of work, but it is not likely that she will.

Mr. Bruce-Tiden is expected to make a very popular leading man. During the week he has been in Duluth, he has made a surprising number of friends, and also a very favorable impression in his role of "Jerry."

Lyceum bookings for the remainder of the season include "It Pays to Advertise," "His Majesty, Bunker Bean," "Edna Munsey in 'The Only Girl,'" "Omar the Tentmaker," and two burlesque shows.

RECORD BREAKERS AT THE LYCEUM

Big Musical Show Will Hold Boards for Next Week.

The big musical comedy and extravaganza company, Jack Reid and "The Record Breakers," will be seen at the Lyceum theater for five days with matinees daily, commencing tomorrow. This company is entirely new throughout, and comes well recommended. The opening and closing skits abound in many bright, catchy musical numbers, mounted in an attractive style, and introduced by chorus girls known as "Lily Singing Beauties." Forty players are required for this production. The two skits are billed as "Hello Frisco" and "The Underworld." If the laughter of the audience is a criterion, the public seems to enjoy every situation and every song, and the dancing is above the usual for these productions. The cast and specialties are said to be of the best, and the scenic and electrical effects with the costumes and settings are up to standard.

Amusing complications and mistaken identity are the two themes on which the opening and closing skits are founded. The manner of these complications is ingenious, and the dialogue is interspersed with musical numbers not merely to fill in the time, but which go to make up part of the story. At no time does the audience lose sight of the story in the opening skit. The closing skit is entitled "The Underworld." Among the cast are such well-known people as Edna Field Gil-

SCENE FROM "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE," Which Will Be Seen at the Lyceum for Four Days, Beginning April 16.

BREEZY FARCE COMING TO LYCEUM

"It Pays to Advertise" Will Be Attraction Beginning April 16.

Taking something more than a hint from the "Jack Sparlock" stories of five or six years ago, and a suggestion or two from here and there, Rol Cooper Megre and Walter Hackett are said to have fashioned in "It Pays to Advertise," which is to be the attraction at the Lyceum theater Sunday, April 16, for four nights, with Sunday and Wednesday matinees, another of those precisely modern farces that sweep a susceptible audience off its feet, and, figuratively, leave it panting for breath in the aisles.

Trick farces they are, to be sure—"Officer 666," "Stop Thief," and others of their ilk—but mighty good fun, just the same. Trick farces they are called, because they seldom will stand any sort of character test. The premise is usually preposterous, the development dependent on the expected "surprise," and the characters usually created while you wait to fit the situations as they arise. And yet, especially when they are produced under the Cohan and Harris chaperonage, with the alert and experienced George M. Cohan to look in at rehearsals and build up a scene or two, they invariably possess a human quality in both their fun and their sentiment that more than justifies them in the sight of the reasonably intelligent audience.

"It Pays to Advertise," for instance, is built on the Sparlock theme of the rich man's son who tries to make good. But back of all the fun it makes of that familiar and usually hopeless type is rather a sound philosophy that accepts human nature as the fundamental basis of character and gives it a chance. Though his father is rich, and while popular geniuses create their own opportunities, this opportunity occasionally creates a genius.

The pinhead of "It Pays to Advertise" is the victim of a unique conspiracy. His father, a soap magnate, betrays his stenographer that she can't make a business man of him within a year. She takes the wager, encourages a sentimental interest she has in the young man, strengthens his pity for her, has herself cruelly "nipped" by the father, and gains the young man's promise to make good for her sake.

With the help of a youthful visionary who has been a press agent in the show business, he embarks in the soap business, he embarks in the soap business with the intention of bunking his father into buying him out. He is conservative. They will be ridiculous. They will advertise so big he will have to acknowledge them as dangerous rivals. Two or three times they are on the point of failing; so many times they are flirting with success. Finally father sees through their scheme and calls their bluff. But they meet the test, and of course come, though the play is always there with the silver and gold in Act III, and smiles sweetly upon them.

"It Pays to Advertise" is said to be well cast. Harold Vernilley plays the pinhead; Frank Allworth is the enthusiastic promoter; Elmer Grandin is the conservative soap-making father; Adele Holland the brainy young stenographer; Elza Frederic the adventuresome of linguistic ability, the best woman part in the piece, and Marion Barrie the part French maid.

Lyceum Notes.

"His Majesty Bunker Bean," a new comedy by Lee Wilson Dodd, from the novel by Harry Leon Wilson, will be the attraction at the Lyceum theater for two nights and Tuesday matinee, starting Monday, May 29. The action of the play centers around the adventures of Bunker Bean, a struggling stenographer, who is led to believe that he is the reincarnation of Ram-Tah, an ancient Egyptian king. The confidence in himself thus gained, he chieftain Bunker to succeed in business, as well as his love affair.

Taylor Holmes, who is being starred by Joseph Brooks, will assume the role of Bunker Bean. In his supporting company will be Charles Abbo, Florence Shirley, Robert Kelly, Jack Devereaux, Lillian Lawrence, Walter M. Sherwin, Marion Kerby, Clara Louise Moore, Harry C. Power, Horace Mitchell, Grace Peters, John Hogan, Bedford Forrest, Annette Westway and George C. Lyman.

Duluth is one of the few cities visited by Mr. Holmes and the entire original cast. "His Majesty Bunker Bean" was the sensation of the Chicago season, where for six months the play was presented at the Cort theater to audiences that taxed the capacity of the theater at every performance.

In writing "The Only Girl," which is to be produced at the Lyceum theater April 20, 21 and 22 by Joe Weber, the author of the book "Henry Kissom," evidently bore in mind that theatergoers, while wishing to be amused also desire to have their amusements served up in a sane fashion. He has, therefore, so it is admitted, provided a libretto that contains a story, both consistent and plausible, and has been to some pains to draw his characters so that they resemble human beings.

Again joyous Omar Khayyam will pitch his tent in Duluth. Guy Bates Post will appear at the Lyceum theater for three days commencing Thursday, April 27, in Richard Walton Tully's magnificent spectacle, "Omar the Tentmaker." During its previous engagement here this production aroused great interest.

As every theatergoer already knows, "Omar, the Tentmaker," is based upon the life times and "Rubayrat" of Omar Khayyam, the beloved Persian poet of the Eleventh century, especially emphasis being laid upon his engaging love story.

SIDNEY DREW, Who Will Appear Each Week at the Lyceum in One-Reel Comedies.

GLASSY VAUDEVILLE AT NEW GRAND

Clever Animal Act Heads Show of Many Bright Features.

Lovers of good vaudeville and photoplays are having a treat this week-end at the popular New Grand where one of the best bills of the season is now on tap. There is plenty of fun, some lively dancing, surprising novelties and a dandy dog and pony circus in the lineup, and they are all topnotchers in their particular line of endeavor.

Dogs, ponies and monkeys trained to a remarkable degree make up Thalerio's circus, which is a feature that is particularly appealing to the young. These clever animal actors perform many original stunts that are new to animal thespians and go through their routine seemingly without the aid of their trainer who does not appear on the stage to direct them.

The Dohertys deal in nonsense and offer a line of comedy and songs that are bright and witty and full of ginger. Their turn is very cleverly constructed and carries with it the necessary ingredients that go to make good entertainment, while they are backed by personalities that win.

Billed as the singing cornettist, Lillian Seiger, lives right up to her billing, displaying much ability on her chosen instrument and diversifying her specialty with a repertoire of excellent song numbers which she puts over with a breeziness and voice that are most enjoyable.

Handon and Hanlon offer a talking and acrobatic act entitled, "Abe Kibb in a Gym." Fun runs riot all through the offering registering these clever boys' one of the laughing hits of the program.

Ernest Maugh is featured in "The Dixie Winner," a two-reel story of the race track that is full of thrills and heart interest. Vernon Howe's sketches of Paris, "When I'm Home," a drama, and the William Tell scene, which includes some excellent pictures of American soldiers along the border and in Mexico, wind up a most enjoyable entertainment.

On Monday the new bill promises much in the way of public favorites. The Three Old Soldier Musicians, real of the play centers around the adventures of Bunker Bean, a struggling stenographer, who is led to believe that he is the reincarnation of Ram-Tah, an ancient Egyptian king. The confidence in himself thus gained, he chieftain Bunker to succeed in business, as well as his love affair.

YOUNGEST SCREEN STAR AT ZELDA

Mary Minter Will Appear in Stellar Role of "Lovely Mary."

Mary Minter, one of the prettiest and most charming young actresses in the country, will appear in the starring role of "Lovely Mary," a five-part Metro picture, which will be presented here at the Zelda for three days, commencing tomorrow. This delightful and gifted young artist is surrounded by an excellent cast in this big feature, headed by Thomas J. Carrigan, her new leading man. Mr. Carrigan first appeared with Miss Minter on the Metro program in "Dimples."

The story of "Lovely Mary" was written by Richard Barry and is especially suited to the talents of the screen's youngest star. The locale of this interesting feature is laid in the picturesque surroundings of Florida. The story deals with prison conditions as they were in Florida a few years ago, when state prisoners were employed by private individuals. The story concerns the love of a young Southern girl and a Northerner who is falsely accused and sentenced to life in prison.

She obtains his freedom by employing him to work on the little farm she owns. In due time his innocence is proved and he is married to his benefactor. There are many interesting complications as the plot and counterplot are unfolded, tractions at the Rex, announced today for the coming week, bear this out. Mae Marsh, that delightful star, appears with her real fiance, Robert Harron, in "Hoodoo Ann" beginning Sunday for two days. Their love affair is strictly a romance of the studio and screen and their engagement has but recently been announced.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

In this story the two, playing opposite, make one of the best combinations of good acting seen for a long time. There is a fine and plausible plot, full of action and thrills.

Two screen favorites will be seen Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in a Thomas H. Ince Triangle production. They are H. B. Warner and Doris Dalton. It is the double achievement of a stock broker's clerk in saving a railroad president from ruin and winning his daughter for a wife—with a great deal more to it than could be related in so brief a space. It is termed the "many-thrilled" story.

Next Friday and Saturday Pauline Frederick, in a Famous Players company production, "Audrey," appears in this new picture, and by many who have seen it elsewhere to be distinctly her very best. The usual music organ and orchestra music is played throughout the week, with Keystone comedies and photographs at the showhouse.

MANTELL AT LYRIC.

Noted Dramatic Star Will Appear in "A Wife's Sacrifice."

Robert M. Mantell, whose name has been a household word in old-time for almost a generation, opens the new week bill at the Lyric with the new picture, "A Wife's Sacrifice." As brother and sister, Peppo and Gorgone Journeay, under assumed names lay fraudulent claim to the fortune left by an aristocrat, involving the adjustment of the claim, they live by their wits—and provide enough excitement, plot, and color to satisfy the most exacting. All is done, too, with the stagecraft and lighting effects of William Fox, the producer. The picture will be shown for three days.

Constance Collier, who divides honors with many of the Paramount stars, will be seen at the Lyric Wednesday and Thursday in "The Code of Maria Gray." Every woman will find in the great crisis in Maria Gray's life an exact duplication of what she would have to do should she meet the same problem. Oliver Morosco has produced a beautiful picture—a story that will hold old and young of both sexes. Friday and Saturday, next, Mary Pickford—"Little Mary"—returning to the Lyric in "Foundling." When the picture was at the Lyric before, hundreds were actually turned away from the doors for lack of seating capacity. There will be no increase in prices for this engagement. Undoubtedly as the founding Miss Pickford in this, one of the most sweetly pathetic characters she has ever impersonated on the screen, surpasses herself.

Burton Howard, who divides honors with many of the Paramount stars, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday in "The White Way." The program for the whole week promises to be one of the best shown in many weeks.

For Sunday there will be a gripping line picture film starring the famous "Horse" Darracq in "The Cup of Life." This is a vivid picture of the great moral drama in five parts, showing the "White Way" and the "Right Way." The giving of the life history of two shop girls, one of whom wins success and the other the misery of failure by the primrose path route. Ford Sterling, a new Sunbeam comedian, will appear in "The Messenger Boy," and Hurl and Bud will appear in "The Knockout One-Act Comedies."

Monday and Tuesday Edith Barrymore, a powerful drama, will be featured in "A Man's Sacrifice," a powerful drama. For comedy there will be Harry Watson, the inimitable comedian with his vaudeville routines, in a corking good laugh producing chapter of "The Mishaps of a Merry Sunday." This will be the seventh happy whirl of this infectious comedy, all of which have been great successes.

Did Mary Page murder the man she hated? This question will be answered this week when the murder of James Pollock is revealed. Henry Watthall and Edna Mayo are giving a fine impression in this excellent series of photoplays, and the towns of Miss Mayo, designed by "Ludlow," are creations of art.

Friday and Saturday the feature will be "The Black Crook," a five-part photoplay of that spectacular extravaganza, which was one of the biggest stage successes of two generations. There will be many beautiful scenes shown and many attractive choruses girls.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

A. Romane Callender, who will be remembered as the "Girl of the Year" in the "The Belle of New York," which is to be put on by the Lederer-Shuberts offices. It was attempted to secure Edna Mayo for the part, but failing in this the producers offered the role to the screen star, Rene Darnay, who has been booked for the part of the comic opera queen in the "Belle" show.

Irvin Cobb and Roi Cooper Meador have collaborated on a new play which Selwyn and company are to produce this spring, opening at Atlantic City. The title of the piece is "The Blue Flank" and has prison reform for its underlying theme.

A cablegram from Emma Trentini, in her home in Italy, was received by Arthur Hammerstein recently, wherein the little prima donna accepted the proposition offered her to appear in productions under Hammerstein's management during the next five years. The prima donna has been obliged to remain at her home in Italy this season by reason of ill health and conditions caused by the war, but she has now fully recovered in health and is ready to begin another operatic campaign. The contract with Hammerstein involves a new opera by Otto Hauerbach and Rudolf Friml, each year. The first of the series is expected to be produced early next fall.

Cyril Maude will make his last appearance in "Grumpy" at the Toller-Shubert theater in Brooklyn on April 16. Mr. Maude is negotiating for the London rights to "The Blue Envelope," which he will witness during his Brooklyn engagement, a special performance being scheduled for his benefit.

The Shuberts will revive "The Co-respondent," with Irene Fenwick as the star. Norman Trevor will play the leading male role.

Rehearsals were begun recently of the Polish play, "Through the Ages," under the direction of Madame Yorska, who, with Emmett Corrigan, will be the leading lights in a company of sixty players. The play was written and produced about fifteen years ago in Warsaw by Dr. Jerzy Zdanowicz, and since its premiere is annually presented in the principal Polish cities. The story is designed to show the struggle of the soul against the body, as presented in various incarnations from the earliest times. Seven acts are required and the scenic effects are of a startling nature. Witold Gordon, MISS LILLIAN LIPPMAN, With Jack Reid's "Record Breakers" at the Lyceum for Five Days Beginning Sunday.

NEW YORK STAGE REVIEW

BY DIXIE HINES.
New York, April 8.—The present developed a more interesting week than that which preceded it, when we had a revival of "Captain Bragg" by Grace George, and a new musical play called "See America First." This is a not in disparagement of Miss George, who really gave an admirable performance of the "warrior tamer" in the Shaw satire, and a generally satisfactory performance of the Irish dramatist, but Miss George's night audience acted it with skill, and made it plausible.

But "See America First" was something awful. It would be charitable to pass over it without comment. Say only good-bye to the dead, we are told, and this will, or should, die shortly. Undoubtedly the most interesting and most notable production which has been made this season is "Justice" at the Candler theater. This is a remarkable play of prison reform, by John Galsworthy, produced in an almost matchless manner by B. Iden Payne, and acted with rare force and intelligence by a thoroughly competent cast, of which John Barrymore, O. P. Heggie, Wallis Clark, Rupert Harve, Henry Stephenson and Cathleen Nesbitt were conspicuous members. The play has been widely read, but was deemed unsuitable for the stage. Mr. Payne has shown the presentation in New York possible. It is a powerful drama, with a clear, direct, and absorbing, if somewhat distressing story. This is overlooked, however, by reason of the consummate art of the players and the producer. It was well received by a first night audience and will undoubtedly prove one of the dramatic and literary triumphs of the season. The cast is so uniformly excellent that it is invidious to praise the individuals, as each contributed to the general success.

"Rio Grande" was the only play to share first night honors with "Justice." It is by Augustus Thomas, and has just returned from a successful premiere in Chicago. Designed by the brilliant member of the cast, but this too, like the play before mentioned, is noted with such excellent success.

One of Poland's foremost artists, will come to Duluth to paint the scenery. Another feature is an especially written score by Haderwick, the pianist, and it is rumored that unlimited capital is behind the enterprise.

Klaw & Erlanger have a new musical play by Remond Wolf and Louis Hirsch, which will be produced early next season. The name of the piece has not yet been announced.

"The Dawn," a comedy by George D. Parker, will be produced by A. H. Woods, with a strong cast, including Robert Edison, Kathlene Macdonell, William Deseroux, Sara McVicker, Annie Buckley, June Eastman and Edward Lee. Other important players will be engaged later. Rehearsals began April 3 and the opening is expected to take place on May 1 at Atlantic City.

It is stated that Peggy O'Neill will be seen as "Maymouren" in the production of the London play of that name when the piece is put on by Corby, Ritter and Williams. It is also rumored that another production of "Maymouren," a play from the pen of Augustus Pilon, soon will be revived by Chauncey Olcott next fall.

Elsie Ferguson will next be seen as Portia in Sir Herbert Tree's production of "The Merchant of Venice." The English actor-manager will assume the role of Shylock.

Reading (article in Duluth public library)—
George H. "Leading American Inventor" (interview) and will illustrate accounts of invention with something of the lives of the inventors.

Roosevelt's "Delicacy" on September 23, 1914.

Lawrence F. Abbott of the Outlook magazine rises to the defense of Col. Roosevelt, caught in a pretty mess by the discovery of the sharp conflict between his statement in the Outlook of September 23, 1914, and his present policy of abusing the president for not doing what Roosevelt then declared should not be done.

Mr. Abbott's defense is not a defense, but a quibble.

In the Outlook of the above date, discussing the arrival of a delegation of Belgians seeking American interposition in behalf of Belgium, Col. Roosevelt said among other things:

It is eminently desirable that we should remain entirely neutral, and nothing but urgent need would warrant breaking our neutrality and taking sides one way or another.

Sympathy is entirely compatible with full acknowledgment of the unwise-ness of our uttering a single word which might be construed as a statement of opinion on the part of the United States.

Plain enough, that language, is it not?
And true and wise, too. It is the policy the nation adopted and has clung to.

But in this spring of a campaign year
Col. Roosevelt has seen fit to denounce the president in unmeasured terms for not having "deviated from our rule of neutrality and non-interference," for not "breaking our neutrality and taking sides," for not having promptly interposed in behalf of Belgium when Germany broke its pledge and invaded and overcame Belgium.

What has Mr. Abbott to say to this?
First, that Governor Glynn of New York, who first called attention to this sharp proof of the intellectual and political dishonesty of Mr. Roosevelt, omitted a part of what he said. That is true. He did not report the whole Outlook article, nor have those who have done their civic duty by making this exposure of Rooseveltian charlatanism.

But there is not a sentence, a phrase, a word or a syllable in the rest of the Roosevelt article that changes in the slightest degree the meaning of the sentences quoted above! The Outlook of that issue is on file in all libraries, and any man who has any doubt should read the whole of it. Certainly there is no word in what Mr. Abbott quotes which expresses a sentiment conflicting with that quoted above. Indeed, in the unquoted section Roosevelt enforced his argument for neutrality by pointing out that neutrality would strengthen our hand "toward the re-establishment of general peace when the time comes."

But Mr. Abbott reports what the Colonel and the Outlook staff really thought about the matter at the time the article was published: "Mr. Roosevelt—and the Outlook agreed with him—at that very time believed that an official protest against the Belgian invasion was demanded both on grounds of good morals and good Americanism." Yet Mr. Roosevelt said—and the Outlook printed it—that "it is eminently desirable that we should remain entirely neutral, and nothing but urgent need would warrant breaking our neutrality and taking sides one way or another."

Sympathy is entirely compatible with full acknowledgment of the UNWISDOM OF OUR UT-TERING A SINGLE WORD OF PRO-TEST unless we are prepared to make that protest effective."

According to Mr. Abbott, Col. Roosevelt then THOUGHT that we should protest.
According to plain print, he SAID that we should NOT protest.

Why did he not say what he thought?
According to Mr. Abbott, because "he hoped the president was going to come to this view, and he did not desire to put obstruction in his way." Would suggesting that a protest be made have been obstructing the president in making a protest? Would not protesting, as Roosevelt did, that no protest should be made, weaken the president if he intended to make a protest? Is there any more honesty in this Abbott defense than there is in the chicanery he is defending?

When should a protest be made? Obviously, when the act to be protested is threatened. The German invasion of Belgium began with the investment of Liege

August 4, 1914. Liege was occupied August 9. By the end of August the Germans had swept across Belgium and were deep in France. Indeed, on September 23, when Roosevelt's article was published, they had been across the Marne and days since had been pushed back to the Aisne!

On September 23, then, Col. Roosevelt and the Outlook staff, in a spirit of delicacy most unlike their leader, were hoping that the president would utter a warning protest —though Roosevelt SAID no protest should be made—against an invasion then six weeks old, against an outrage long before consummated!

Roosevelt may eat his words of September 23, and welcome. But can his followers expect intelligent human beings to eat them, too, and to believe in this belated, shallow, feeble, evasive defense of his change of front? It is entirely too thin.

One thing we must give the Colonel credit for—he has let others undertake this defense of him. He has audacity and effrontery enough for almost anything imaginable, but not enough for this job, which he is well content to leave to Lawrence Abbott and his penny whistle echoes.

Suffragists will see a distinct advance in human thought because Waite didn't imitate Adam and say it was a "little bad woman."

The Fatal Lure of the "War Brides."

Louis Jacoby, 68 years old, who lived at 4833 Prairie avenue, a retired dealer in textiles and embroideries, ended his life in a room in the Saratoga hotel by taking poison—Chicago papers.

And thereby hangs a tale—an old tale but new with every recurring stock market frenzy.

This unfortunate man, it is easy to imagine, worked hard to get his start in life—worked long hours, worked on small wages, gained a foothold, saved his money, applied himself industriously, got into business for himself, struggled, prospered and after ups and downs finally found himself on Easy street—fixed for life.

Retiring with a competence, he faced happily a life of ease, his way down into the Valley of the Shadow softened by an adequate income, surrounded by family and friends, everything to make his rest after labor happy, including the feeling that it was his own, that he had earned it and deserved it.

And then, time hanging heavily sometimes, he got to dropping into the brokers' offices. He found a strange, new interest in watching the fluctuations of the figures.
The day of the "war brides" came along,
and he saw one man make a "killing," and then another. It was "easy money," and there was a vast interest and excitement about the game.

And one day he got into it himself. With stocks going up all the time, it was ridiculously easy. He bought, and he won. It tasted good, and he tried again. Then he lost. To get back what he had lost, he plunged deeper—then deeper. . . . It all went.

He wrote a letter to his son. "By the time you receive this, I will be dead. . . .
Take care of Flora and be sure and save your money." He took a room in a hotel, went to it and ended it.

It's a great game!
It's "war brides" now. A few years ago it was oil, or copper, or railroads. It is now one thing, now another. Always it is a great game! Fascination in it; excitement in it; hot pleasure in it when you win
—a great game. But there's death in it, and woe and misery. It got Jacoby. It has got others. It will get yet others.

IT WILL NEVER GET ANYBODY WHO KEEPS OUT OF IT!

If he insists on rushing out of the house immediately after reading the want ads, maybe he saw that an asking for "an experienced lady presser."

The Convert and the Church.

Evidently there has been a revival at Danville, Illinois, for the Press of that city prints a piece about the post-revival shrinkage in the list of converts, evidently with the purpose of making a case in defense of the converts who slide back.

"We haven't much patience with those who will not stand firm for a good cause," says the Press, "but sometimes there seems to be a pretty fair excuse for the new converts' taking to the woods. The matter of taking on church obligations is not and should not be a one-sided affair. The new convert has a right to expect the church to be as good as it looks and as good as it pretends to be. He has a right to expect that the pillars of the church shall be solid oak throughout and not merely so many pieces of veneered furniture. He has a right to expect that those who talked and prayed him into the church shall talk and pray to keep him there and shall make him feel that he is both welcome and wanted. He has a right to expect that those who make profession of religion on Sunday shall practice it during the other six days of the week."

We haven't the slightest notion of assailing the good motives of the Danville Press.
Neither have we much criticism to make of what it says. The lecture it reads the church and the church members about their responsibility to the convert would do them no harm, and may do them much good if they will take it to heart.

But just the same it's letting the back-slider down too easily. He has his responsibilities, too, and the Press lays hardly enough stress on them. He is not relieved of these responsibilities if one or more of the pillars of the church do not analyze in practice what they appear by profession.

It is to be feared that he will have to expect something of that kind in almost any church. And when the convert discovers that one of the pillars is very shaky indeed, and follows a devout Sunday by six days of most un-Christian business methods, his cue is not to quit in disgust but to make up his mind to profit by the example and make sure that he, at least, never becomes a whited sepulcher and a hypocrite. Moreover, if he will, he has an opportunity by his own conduct to offer an example that will shame hypocrisy.

While there is doubtless a good deal to the idea advanced by the Press, the trouble with it is it makes it too easy for the back-slider to excuse his lapse; and if the convert who weakens bases his backsliding on the errors of others, he becomes a hypocrite himself. Any man who is looking for an excuse for not joining a church, or for leaving one he has lately joined, can always find it if he can satisfy himself with the excuse that somebody in that church is not living up to his professions. The church without somebody of whom that can be said is rare indeed.

But the convert must stand on his own feet. That others reach and fall short is no excuse for his not reaching. All of us, unfortunately, fall short; the glory is in reaching, the ignominy in not reaching.

The convert, too, may be disappointed in the quietness of the church after the rattle and bang and hullabaloo of the revival. To turn from a Billy Sunday meeting to an ordinary church service must be like going from a boiler factory into a quiet home.

The convert who is the product of the professional revival may have some trouble adjusting himself to the calmer and holier atmosphere of the church; but it will be good for him to make that adjustment.
Noise isn't religion, any more than it is patriotism. "The woods were God's first temples," and a quiet nook in the forest heart of nature, with a soul there attuned to God, is holiness indeed; though that is no fair excuse for going fishing on Sunday.

The convert, entering upon his new church life, should look not at the conduct of his new associates, but into his own heart and up to God. He should not falter because others falter. He should determine to give an example of strength and courage rather than to follow an example of weakness and cowardice.

Where is the philosopher who will argue that warfare is really the highest thing in social life, and that the race is but just coming into its own?

"I TOOK THE PANAMA CANAL."
"Uncle Sam," says Theodore Roosevelt,
"must never wrong the weak."

Fine! "It is excellent to have a giant's strength, but it is tyrannous to use it like a giant."

But—What about Colombia, Colonel, and its canal zone which "I took?"

How did the Thava case alienists ever overlook that "little bad man" stuff?

THE WAY OF EUROPEAN ARMAMENTS.

What is the greatest fear the governments of Europe have had in the last half century or so?

Not each other, though they have pretended it was that. The present fiction—somewhere it is a fiction, surely—that all of them are fighting in self-defense grows out of that pretense.

No, it was not outside aggression that was their greatest fear. It was the people —democracy. They remembered France and 1789 and its awful sequence, 1793. They remembered 1848, when the slumbering giant Democracy stirred and was put to sleep again with much pain and bloodshed.
They noted growing intelligence, and with it a growing inquiry into the wisdom of keeping up the burdensome expense of royal and ducal privilege. It was uncon-formable, menacing; it grew rapidly more uncomfortable, more menacing.

Under Lloyd-George's leadership the house of lords had lost its veto, social justice legislation had gone far, and the great ducal estates were on the point of being broken up by wise taxation.

Under Kaiser Wilhelm the Social Democratic party had grown to enormous proportions, was kept out of power mainly by a wretchedly unjust voting system, and was becoming more and more bold in its demands.

Under the Hapsburgs the polyglot nations were growing daily more uneasy and their unrest was growing more menacing.
The magic word "democracy" was penetrating to the remotest and most benighted fastnesses of royalty and dukedom, and privilege felt its seat daily hotter and more insecure.

These things, no less than the complex and corrupt and false and uncivilized can-cery of international politics, kept Europe armed and on the verge of war.

Here is what a shrewd observer said of it forty-eight years ago:

The great calamity and danger of Europe today are these enormous armaments. No honest statesman can say that he sees in the present attitude of politics the necessity of war. No great power is threatened. There is no menace that could not be immediately dispelled by a firm protest of the peacefully disposed majority of nations. There would be, thereafter, no danger to any people, but a vast and immediate gain to all from a general disarmament.

Why, then, is this awful waste of youth and treasure continued? I believe FROM NO OTHER MOTIVE THAN TO SUSTAIN THE WANING POWER OF KINGS. Armies are today only useful in Europe to overcome the people in peace or BY GROUNDLESS WARS TO DIVERT THEIR ATTENTION FROM DOMESTIC MISRULE. With the disappearance of great armies the welfare of the people would become the only mainpring of national action, and that false and wicked equilibrium by which now the interests of one man weigh as heavily as those of millions of his fellow-creatures would be utterly destroyed.

No truer word ever was spoken, no truer vision ever recorded itself. Whose word, whose vision?

They are the word and vision of a good man, a good citizen, a good statesman, a good Republican. He had been a secretary to President Lincoln and later was to be his biographer. He was to be a secretary of state in the cabinet of a president of the United States.

This vision was seen, and this word said of it, by John Hay in a letter written to Seward from Vienna in 1868.

What he saw and said is as true today as it was then—truer, indeed, because the need of keeping down democracy by whatever means available has grown greater. It will not always be kept down—there, here or anywhere.

Some of our statesmen couldn't see any power in our army even if it consisted of five million men, unless every one of the five million lived in said statesman's district and had a perfectly good vote.

RICH MEN AND THEIR SONS.

"Recently," says Dr. Russell H. Conwell in the American Magazine, "I have been investigating the lives of 40,433 American millionaires."

Think of it! Millionaires totaling 40,433!
And doubtless many escaped the net of the good doctor's investigations, too. If these millionaires have but a million apiece—and that's a paltry figure as such figures go nowadays—that's more than four billions in the hands of one out of twenty-five thousand of the population. Not difficult, then, to understand why many of the unmillions find it hard to stretch both ends to meet.

"All but twenty of these millionaires," continues Dr. Conwell, "started life as poor boys, and all but forty of them have contributed largely to their communities. But alas! not one rich man's son out of seventeen dies rich!"

A thought worth while in that last. Imagine the process between inheriting great wealth and dying poor. Imagine its effects —its effects upon the spenders, physical, moral, spiritual; the effects of its example upon everybody around them.

Imagine these things, and you have another good argument for the inheritance tax—for a real inheritance tax that will protect the sons of rich men from the hurt of unearned great wealth.

At any rate, no congressional district in Minnesota can claim superiority over another on the plea of having a congressman who voted to protect the president.

The Reign of Law
By "The Innocent Bystander."

IX.—The Public Opinion of Mankind.
When the American colonies set up for themselves, their first declaration was addressed to the public opinion of mankind—an authority to which no one had ever before appealed—a power that hardly existed.

In 1776 what was public opinion like in France? Rather less than there is today in Mexico. In Russia—about as much as now in Siam. In Germany—perhaps as much as in Sabana now. In Italy—maybe as much as in Somalia. In 1776 there was no such thing as the public opinion of mankind.

The idea of public right—the appeal to the public opinion of mankind—is set before practical statesmanship as a force to be employed for the control of international relations.

We who have seen the reign of law established over states and groups of states, kingdoms and groups of kingdoms, displacing the rule of violence, why should we doubt it will be extended over the relations of nations also? For the family of nations must live together in the world.

Why Women Are More Religious Than Men.
Bernard J. Bell in the Atlantic: The real reason why women are more religious than men today is because they are more human than men.

Social conditions have made them so. As we have divided the labor of the world between the sexes, the work of men is almost entirely concerned with the production and distribution of things; the work of women almost entirely with the production and sustenance of persons.

We notice the great throngs of men who go, at the call of the whistle, in and out of our factories. To the average man's mind, these hundreds of men are "hands," and the purpose of the factories where they are employed is to produce "goods;" but to the average woman's mind, these hundreds of laborers are human beings, and the purpose of the factories is to furnish sustenance, through pay envelopes, to men and women and boys and girls and babies yet unborn.

In most of our homes the man leaves human interests early in the morning, devotes the best hours of his day to the welfare of things, and returns to his home only for the evening's relaxation. His wife, meanwhile, has hardly done an act of labor
all day, has hardly made a man's work, and yet she is not without a considerable intimacy related to human beings—her husband, her children, her neighbors.

Soon thereafter we find him again in Kentucky, proclaiming the Gospel in the mountains. For years he was so employed, and abundant was the harvest. The governor of the commonwealth confessed Christ at one of his meetings and thousands of others, great and obscure, did likewise. He went to Ohio, to Indiana, to New York city, and wherever he appeared blessing followed in the wake.
He crossed the ocean and preached in London and the rest of his life he devoted to the work of his Master, proclaiming the one transcendent, overwhelming truth, the root of all good—that God is Love, and nothing else.

Here is what he said of Bob Ingersoll:
"A gentleman as he is, scholar as he is,
intellectual giant as he is, and above all, attacking a theological God who is wrothly indefensible by Dr. Talmage or Judge Black, anybody else, he stands upon such vantage ground that I do not wonder he is sweeping the decks by his oratory and making infidels of thousands upon thousands of the best thinkers of our nation, old and young. And I frankly confess here, as I have often said from the platform, that if I had as I do, what the God whom Col.
Ingersoll so fiercely, justly and successfully assails, I would gladly take refuge, as he does, in the only comforting thought left, that there is no God."

"Oh, if he only knew my God, the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, I believe he would love and trust and prefer me as I do, while abating not a whit his opposition to the devil enthroned, whom so many thousands in and out of the church are trying to worship and serve, but successfully let the dead churches and the leader church-goers witness. The stream rises not higher than its source."

I have not the space, and if I had, I am too weary to attempt, a word regarding "Brother Barnes" devoted daughter, Miss

"The Mountain Evangelist"

By Barnes.

Washington, April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A most estimable and honored Kentucky woman has asked me to write something about George O. Barnes, the beloved "Mountain Evangelist," whose memory is venerated in ten thousand households of the "Old Commonwealth" to this day.

It was as my opinion the other day that Matt Carpenter was the greatest orator I ever heard. I did not have the pulpits ministry of speaking of matters entirely secular, worldly, political, etc.

We judge orators by many things. One, and perhaps the chief of these, is the effect an address has upon the auditors. Put in the test Brother Barnes was by far the greatest orator I ever heard. He was a tall, graceful, handsome man, with more of that quality called "magnetism" than any other I ever saw—and I've seen Blaine and Beecher and Bryan—yet he might have been a failure as an orator had he not been endowed in such abundance with that other and even more essential quality in a platform speaker, sincerity.

Highly cultivated, with a noble contempt for the material and sensuous things of this life, with the broadest charity for all human weaknesses, with a sublime trust in the Master and a resolute courage to do his Master's will, with the love of God filling his great heart to overflowing, George O. Barnes preached the Gospel of Christ and planted the love of God and the peace that passes understanding in the hearts of thousands of his fellows theretofore heavy laden and sorely tormented.

I am only one of thousands who can devoutly thank God for the ministry of this great preacher of His word. Before I heard him I was a poor intellectual, was subject to the influence of Tom Paine; but soon he set me free. Since then I have read the scriptures of Balaam and heard the blasphemies of Ingersoll without the slightest adherence to either.

George O. Barnes was born in Kentucky in 1822, the son of James C. Barnes, a clergyman of the Presbyterian faith, yet venerated and beloved in the Blue Grass region. He was a John Knox-of-a-man and in the Master's cause cheerfully he would have gone to the stake, and of him it might have been said what Murray said of Knox, "he never feared to look on the face of man."

After graduating at Princeton, "Father Barnes" found a wife and a helpmeet in Maria Stockton Smith of New Jersey, who was even more extraordinary as a woman than her husband was as a man. To them were born four children, George Owen the youngest.

In the material things of this world the family was very poor, but it was a household of ten thousand and that humble roof-tree might as well have excited the envy of the great and the rich of the world many a realm. By the exercise of the most rigid economy George was enabled to attend the famous Central college at Danville, then presided over by John C. Young, whose superior as a trainer of youth, mentally and morally, our country never knew. After his graduation, young Barnes entered the office of an attorney at Princeton, where he remained for a few years.

Turner, at Richmond, Madison county, as a student. He was only 19 years of age and in a few weeks there was a call for volunteers to fight the Mexican war. He was one of the first to respond, and in less than three days Capt. Stone's company was raised.
In thirty minutes the farmers of Madison county furnished, without charge to the government, the horses, thoroughbreds, to mount it, and the company became a part of the Kentucky regiment commanded by Humphrey Marshall. Young Barnes was the tail-est man in the regiment and the most popular soldier. Overflowing with animal spirits, he led in every pardonable mischief, though nothing vicious ever came from him.

After the war Barnes heeded a call to the ministry and attended the Theological school of Princeton college, where he was graduated. Then he became a regularly ordained minister of the Presbyterian church.
Upon his graduation he took for a while practical statesmanship as a force to be employed for the control of international relations.

We who have seen the reign of law established over states and groups of states,
kingdoms and groups of kingdoms, displac-
ing the rule of violence, why should we doubt it will be extended over the rela-

KAUFMAN'S DYNAMIC INSPIRATION

Failure and success are measured by the same clock-tick

A Chance for Everybody But a Quitter

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Failure is a phase of success. How can you tell what to do until you learn what to avoid? The only game without a losing chance is Solitaire, and that's a loss of time. If you aren't occasionally wrong, you aren't on the right track. Men who don't make mistakes never take chances and seldom get them. Even Nature miscalculates; droughts, hurricanes, tidal waves, floods, pests, storms, blights, landslides and earthquakes, constantly upset her plans but don't alter them. We survive only because the forces which support us are persistent. One bad season cannot thwart the Creative Will—the law of growth is founded upon averages. Do you expect a better show? Ride out to the nearest orchard and let a peach-tree teach you how to try again. If a wheat field had your code, we would have starved to death centuries ago. There's always room to grow again—indomitability is the greatest ability. There were no elements in yesterday which won't be uplicated in tomorrow. The sky is your limit and aeroplanes have given you farther skies than your father's. You have a complete equipment of the faculties with which the first humans faced the future, plus all the conclusions of the past. Every year it's easier to make good because of time-saving, blunder-erasing, energy-conserving ideas placed at your disposal by the experimenters of previous years. Therefore the valid excuses for incompetence dwindle annually. The generation possessed of the most tools should have the fewest fools. Surrender of ambition is folly: real persistence never accepts defeat. Nothing has happened to you, except the loss of a few things which you picked up on the way. There's a longer road ahead and every mile of it is richer in possibilities. If you seek as hard as you used to, you'll get more than you used to have. As industries multiply, the need for capable administrators grows in proportion—as new forces are discovered, so are openings for men who can apply them—as commerce extends its scope, the field for executives broadens—as science provides substances, a corresponding provision for their utilization is necessary—as railroads push into virgin territory and trolley lines nose into isolated districts, the demand for business and processional pioneers increases—as inventive imagination pours its dreams into foundry moulds, the prospects of another group of men are re-cast. The best thing that could have happened to you—is this seeming reverse. It will force you to look about, to investigate the season's latest styles in opportunities. If you are still alert, eager, assured and determined, one of these recent developments will offer you a scope which your former engagement never possessed. Bad luck has often proved a knocker on the gate of Fortune. There's a chance for everybody but a quitter.

When Hill Meets Will

When a man has one fixed method and accepts his first rebuff as the final decision of fate, he will never solve his problem. Metre Hill was not in the Japanese philosophy and so it eventually yielded to their assaults. Port Arthur was the goal and everything in its path an incident. A fighter's imagination wipes out all barriers—a craven's creates them where they don't exist.

DON'T fret about the chance that flew,
Another will soon come to you.
Clouds never last, skies must turn blue.
Your right to fight and smite and hew Remain. You'll get your proper due
If but to purpose you stand true.
One setback doesn't count, nor two.
The biggest men we ever knew
Met with defeat—that's how they grew.
They sought and failed and fought anew,
Rode through the stiffest gales that blew,
Proved worthiness to join the crew
That history chooses for "Who's Who."
Regret is not a mending glue;
Regret—regain your pluck—dare—DO.

These Be Men

LOUIS, the little waiter who used to serve you at the La Fayette, is serving a "seventy-five" at Verdun. Etienne, the fat cook of the Palace Grill, was decorated last month for conspicuous gallantry. Beppo, the boot-black, went down before the leaden sleet of that awful Isonzo assault.

We suddenly realize that they were men after all—these humble servants of our necessities. Valor at the stock-pot, heroism in an apron, courage wiping muddy shoes—life IS queer!

There's a crippled valet in a New York hotel with a record in the Northwest Mounted Police and a sergenty in Strathcona's Horse, to his credit. A putty-faced butler in the upper sixties carried the guidon through the Tugela River campaign. A dish-wiper in a cheap Greek restaurant answered the call in both Balkan wars and accommodated half of a Bulgarian bayonet in his groin.

They serve—these alien workers from over seas. We measure them with scant comprehension and judge them low, because they do our menial work. But can a nation take into its veins a better strain? How many a cook is worthy of the master's place—how many a master should be busy with the basting spoon!

The Junkman Gets His Turn

WAR makes strange millionaires. Camp followers have more than once died financiers. There's a suttler in the history of many a "proud and haughty" family. The Rebellion created opportunities which turned peddlers into plutocrats. Now it's the junkman's turn.

Woolen scraps, linen shreds, bits of metal are at a premium. Paper making materials, hitherto supplied by Europe, have mounted to prices unprecedented in our experience. Shoddy will soon cost as much as we used to pay for fine cloths—metal filings, brass, copper, zinc, antimony, manganese steel in any form, are quoted at prices that make short-handed weavers and manufacturers writhe in the bank-balance.

For some time past, the collection of refuse has been one of the best paying little businesses in our midst.

There's more gold to be mined out of rubbish heaps than Golconda held. Another group of back alley families seem slated to move "up-town." You can never tell what a fellow's beginnings will lead to. Every business gets its day. Old Rags-and-Iron is topside man at last!

WHAT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY DANIELS HAS ACCOMPLISHED

More Abused Than Any of His Predecessors Since Gideon Welles, Yet the Navy Today Is Better Balanced and More Effective Than Ever Before.

By MAJ. J. C. HEMPHILL.

Josephus Daniels of North Carolina is secretary of the navy. North Carolina seems to run naturally to secretaries of the navy. There was John Branch under Jackson, of South Carolina; Badger, under Harrison. "Old Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," Graham, under Fillmore; Dobbin, under Pierce; and now comes Daniels, under Wilson, who was brought up in South Carolina, but got a part of his college training in North Carolina and knows something about the quality of the North Carolina output in men and resources.

Mr. Daniels is now serving his third year and has been more abused than any of his predecessors since Gideon Welles, the Connecticut Yankee of Democratic faith, who had the confidence of Mr. Lincoln in time of the nation's sorest distress. Just as Mr. Daniels now has the confidence of Mr. Wilson in the most trying period through which this country has passed in its relations to the rest of the world, George Creel has told in a late number of the New York World a moving story about Daniels and his administration of his office, and has given in the secretary's own words the first answer he has made to the slanders and abuse heaped upon him by so many of the so-called "leaders of men." One of Mr. Daniels' cabinet associates recently expressed his admiration of the fine courage displayed by Daniels in the bitter experiences through which he has passed and who when reviled has reviled not again, but has taken his punishment without complaining, confident that he will be justified by the event. The story Creel tells is the truth about Daniels.

Added to the Men. When he became secretary of the navy he found that it was 6,000 men short of the number allowed by law. He has added 6,885 men to the service in three years. There are 700 men of the navy in prison now; there were 1,800 when he went into office. Under the administration of George von Meyer, his immediate predecessor who has been one of the most unfair and persistent of "Dan's" critics and defamers, there were over 10,000 desertions from the navy. There has been a reduction of 17 per cent in desertions under Daniels.

Fifty-two per cent of the men discharged in good standing from the navy under Meyer re-enlisted; 85 per cent are re-enlisting under Daniels. The United States navy is not as strong as the German navy today, not on account of Daniels' failure to do any of the things required of him, but because for nine years, from 1903 to 1912, when the Republicans were in charge of the government, they recommended the general board of the navy, with Admiral Dewey at the head, to disregard steadily, and the German navy passed the American navy in fighting strength before Daniels became secretary.

The board recommended a policy of continuous building. Of thirty-four dreadnaughts recommended, fifteen were authorized; of forty cruisers recommended, five were built.

Then and Now. There was not a single sea-going submarine when Daniels went into office; there are three now of the latest and largest model. There were four aviators then; there are eighteen now. There were 1,328 men on fourteen ships to care for twenty-nine submarines carrying 331 men then; there is a submarine flotilla now under the separate command of a rear admiral of the navy.

There was one mine-laying ship then; there are three now. There was a fleet of sea-going tugs and a fleet of torpedo boats with mine-searching equipment. There was an inadequate and out-of-date wireless system on the ships of the navy then; there are seventy-five ships with radio equipment now, besides which every submarine in the navy has been equipped with radio and three new shore stations have been added to the chain of such stations. The navy now has thirty-one mines where it had only one two years ago. There are two torpedoes now where there was only one then. Under his administration Daniels has increased the navy's 70,000,000 as compared with $28,000,000 secured by Meyer during the last two years of his inefficient service in the same office. Last October, according to the official reports of Admiral Fletcher, the scores made by the navy at long range practice were the made over made in the open sea, and 90 per cent of the shots fired at the longest range would have hit an enemy ship.

Unfounded Stories. The story that Daniels issued an order that the officers and men should mess together, but upon reflecting that this might bring the black men and white men together dropped the matter, is an "infamous falsehood," which is the next thing to being a deliberate lie. "No such order was ever made or contemplated." The report that Mr. Daniels has gathered about him in the management of the navy, untold and incompetent men as false as all the rest of the falsehoods industriously circulated about him and his administration. Victor Blue is the chief of the bureau of navigation. He is noted in the Navy Register for extraordinary heroism during the war with Spain, served as Admiral Knap's staff in the Philippines, was a member of the first relief expedition which marched from the sea to Tientsin, China, was chief of staff of the Pacific fleet, was appointed by Secretary Meyer to the general board and has filled every position on a modern man of war. The chief of the other bureau of the navy are all distinguished for eminent ability in the particular service to which they have been assigned, and Mr. Daniels' right arm, chief of the bureau of naval operations, and Mr. Daniels' right arm in the administration of his great department, is concededly one of the most competent officers in the service.

"Laid Off" the Aides. When he went into the office of secretary, Mr. Daniels found that the service was loaded with aides, an amazing amount of red tape and correspondence between the secretary and men in adjoining rooms—a system which Congress has repeatedly refused to sanction—and he "laid off" the aides and brought the heads of the bureaus into intimate and direct touch with the secretary.

He has been censured for recommending to Congress that promotion in the navy be made by merit and not by seniority. Instead of censures this action should have been received with the highest favor by the really desiring officers of the navy. He has been criticized for refusing to permit naval officers to seek to influence legislation by making addresses or otherwise; but this has been the unbroken policy of the navy for all time. In 1902, President Roosevelt, and in 1909, President Taft, reinforced the policy by executive orders that established dismissal as a penalty for violation. No one has been permitted to simply forbid officers from running about the country for purposes of propaganda, a practice in which 99 per cent had no desire to indulge.

Millions Saved. Under Mr. Daniels' administration, the United States is making its own powder for 34 cents the pound; it used to pay from 60 to 80 cents. He saved the government $1,115,733 on this account last year. He cut out $1,072,200 on one bid alone of a manufacturer of projectiles and has asked Congress for money to build a projectile plant for the government. He reduced the bids of the armor plate people $1,110,084 and heartily favored the bill of Senator Tillman providing for the establishment of a government plant where armor can be made for the tonnage against $400,000 demanded by private concerns. In 1909 contracts for the tonnage for $11,000,000 for a government armament plant unless contracts could be made at "a reasonable and equitable figure." The plan was not established under Moody, Morton, Bonaparte and Meyer, all Republican secretaries, the treasury was nuked of the sum of over $7,000,000 in high prices.

Condition of the Navy. Manifestly, Mr. Daniels is not to be blamed for the general condition of the navy. He had to take over a navy turned over to him by his utterly incompetent predecessor, George von Meyer. He found the establishment very much run down in men and material. He has greatly strengthened it in both respects. According to Capt. J. S. McKean, of the service, more progress has been made in building up the navy in the last two years than in any previous period of five years, and there was never a time when "everybody in the service was working as hard as today," said Mr. Daniels, "a finer, better balanced and more effective first class navy than ever before in its history." In the last ten years of Republican administration the expenditures on account of the navy amounted in the aggregate to $1,123,013,862. This was the rate of $12,301,386 the year, and when Mr. Daniels succeeded Mr. Meyer he found the navy without men to man the ships, without ships to meet the requirements of a modern navy, without submarines, without torpedoes, without equipment of an adequate sort; a kind of snug harbor for officers of great distinction; a great institution possessing many of the lightful qualities of a well-ordered club but lacking in like proportion as social graces had been cultivated, the hardy elements of an effective fighting machine. What did the republicans do with the money?

FACTS ON BAVARIAN FORESTRY

By Gen. C. C. Andrews, Secretary, Minnesota State Forestry Board.

Bavaria is in the southwest part of Germany in the upper Danube valley and includes some of the territory known in former times as Swabia, whose people were noted for the best traits of German character. Many of the early settlers of our Stearns county were from Bavaria and were my neighbors nearly sixty years ago. Munich, its capital—a city now of over 600,000 population—is one of the favorite resorts for American travelers, and I had the pleasure of visiting it myself in 1895. While Bavaria has a population of over 7,000,000—three times that of Minnesota—she is only a little more than one-third of the area of Minnesota; yet it can teach our state a lot of things in forestry.

In reply to inquiries which I submitted I have lately received from the ministerial director of the state forestry of Bavaria a number of interesting facts in regard to their administration and revenue. Naturally the forested land is not suitable for agriculture. The area of productive forest is 1,381,258 acres and from which is derived annually an aggregate net revenue of $8,245,000. Think of that, Minnesota statesmen, what a country not half as large as Minnesota is doing! We are letting our larger natural forest resources lie idle.

There are also in Bavaria a little over 4,000,000 acres of municipal and private forests. There is expended annually for the administration of the state forests $7,500,000, the most of which is paid for labor. Coniferous trees comprise most of the state forests and the average annual growth is about 300 board feet, including dimensions over two and half inches in diameter. Ninety years half the most profitable age for cutting. Selection cutting and clear cutting are about equally practiced. A little over 21,000 acres are artificially afforested annually, and mostly by planting. The state forests give employment to 74,000 workers, averaging 61 working days annually. On an average a little over 4,000 acres, called assessor district, are under the charge of a scientifically educated forestry official, who in addition manages a portion of municipal forests and attends to the policing of the state forests. On quitting the service the forestry official receives a pension depending on the years of service and ranging from 35 to 75 per cent of the salary he received before being retired.

The forests of Bavaria are not only a great financial resource, they also beautify the country and afford health and pleasure resorts for tourists, just as ours can do in Minnesota. In the last thirty-six years, 10,023 acres were burned by forest fires, resulting in damage of $130,222.86—a small amount indeed compared with our experience here.

GASOLINE PRICES ARE UNCHANGED

Greater Production Expected to Prevent Further Advances.

New York, April 8.—The price of gasoline in the East remains unchanged. All four of the principal companies—Standard Oil, Fire-Ex, Gulf Refining and Texaco—are quoting 24 cents in New York and 23 cents in New Jersey. Prices in Connecticut are at the same level as for New York. In the Western cities, Minneapolis alone has a higher price, independent of the low-grade gasoline, tank wagon basis, to 20 1/2 cents, medium 21 1/2 cents and high 26 cents. The Standard Oil prices in Minneapolis are 1 cent lower for the lower and medium grades.

In view of the fact that the higher prices now prevailing have served to stimulate production, conservative oil men are beginning to question the probability of further increase. It is generally conceded that the present supply and demand situation justifies current prices. Oil men, therefore, are inclined to look ahead at predictions of 40-cent fuel.

The following table gives prices of fuel at present obtaining and those for August, 1915. Prices for March, 1915, were at their lowest, which was 2 to 3 cents below the August price.

cars, each of which was price-tagged and carried data as to its owner, name, year, power and cylinders. Prices ranged from $225 for a 1912 Thomas six to $1,800 for a 1916 Hudson six. There were many cars below $500.

MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN POPULAR

Nineteen Makes of Cars
Can Be Bought
That Way.

The deferred payment plan recently announced by the Guaranty Securities corporation of New York is said to be one of the greatest steps ever taken toward facilitating the purchase of automobiles. Under the terms of this new selling arrangement, purchasers of motor cars can buy any one of nineteen different makes of cars on a monthly payment basis.

The "guaranty plan," as it is called, can be applied in the purchase of almost any car made in the United States. The list includes practically all of the well known makes and is made up of the following: Ford, Overland, Buick, Studebaker, Dodge, Maxwell, Geo., Chevrolet, Hupmobile, Cadillac, Hudson, Chalmers, Chandler, Paige, Jeffery, Chrysler, Oldsmobile, Mitchell and Oakland.

With this array of cars to choose from, the prospective buyer can select his car, make his first payment when it is delivered and then make the balance in equal monthly payments. There is no additional expense attached to the transaction other than a small charge for insurance and incidentals and a normal rate of 6 per cent interest on the deferred payments. According to officials of the Guar-

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

*****
Under this heading The Duluth Herald is conducting a weekly column of information for automobile owners and drivers. If you are planning on taking a trip, write to the automobile department. All the information at our disposal is yours for the asking. Motorists outside of Minnesota are especially invited to make use of this department.
*****

G. Roy Hill, secretary of the Minnesota State Automobile association, makes the following appeal in behalf of the Duluth-Twin City highway, in this month's issue of "Sparks," the official paper of the organization:

"Again, the call to arms for more 'pop' on the Duluth-Twin City highway. Some day, you know, we may have a real highway between the Zenith City and the Twins, and this is prophesying some, in view of the difficulty we have had in trying to get the proper amount of enthusiasm for this much-needed thoroughfare.

"We are frank to confess that we have not been able to ascertain just what has been the matter with this project. That it is needed is needed badly, not only for the benefit of the three cities most interested, but think what it would mean in advertising our state. Of course right here we get fact that the automobile has passed beyond the luxury stage and is now looked upon as an every day necessity, has influenced thousands of people to take advantage of this easy payment plan, who, under ordinary conditions, probably would not buy for another year or two.

South Carolina is giving the question of a state highway department serious consideration. Georgia is in an equally hopeful condition, while Mississippi in its house of representatives recently voted against the creation of a state commission. The legislators opposed the legislation because it called for an engineer with a salary of $2,500 a year. Maine pays $5,000 and back into the same old rut. What have we ever done of consequence in the way of road-building to facilitate showing off our 'more beautiful than the rest' vacation country of the Northwest? We were going to say 'nothing,' but that would be rather severe on us, so we will only say 'not very much.'

"Nearly everyone will agree that from a business standpoint this highway is badly needed, but has it ever occurred to you that there are any number of good roads out of Duluth into the iron country and up among virgin timber country to the north of Duluth that is worth going hundreds of miles to see and they are right here in our very doorway, and it is almost impossible to reach them on account of a few miles of poor road intervening. We of Minnesota don't half appreciate what a wonderful country we are living in, but we must have the means of reaching our beautiful spots and that means good roads, and one of the most needed right now is the Duluth-Twin City highway.

Washington, April 8.—Forty-three of the forty-eight states will qualify for Federal aid in roads under the bankhead bill, recently reported favorably to the senate by its committee on post-offices and postroads. Indiana, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas are the five states which have yet to equip themselves with a centralized direction of roads improvement. Indiana has an active campaign in progress which ought to prove successful, energized in great degree by the Hoosier State Automobile association, which is affiliated with the American Automobile association. Indiana is a great automobile-producing state, and a large percentage of its farmers have adopted the self-propelled vehicle.

Springfield, Ill.—Twenty million dollars will be available for expenditure in improving the roads of Illinois within eighteen months through bond issues which are being considered in thirty counties in all sections of the state, according to report from Springfield. Bond issues for that amount have already been favored by boards of county supervisors and many other counties have taken first steps toward improving the highways under the amendment to the good roads law, which allows counties to spend the state-aid allowances to pay off bond issues. The issues range in amounts from $500,000 to $2,000,000. In Cook county the amount is $2,000,000, the bond issues having been legalized at the last special session of the state legislature.

Sacramento, Cal.—The state highway commission has already expended $14,351,332 of the $18,000,000 highway bond issue voted several years ago, according to figures given out by State Highway Engineer A. B. Fletcher. Of this amount $11,591,188 has gone into actual construction, $684,326 into what is technically termed overhead and the remainder into expense for inspection, surveys and other such work. The commission has on hand $3,647,678 but of this amount only about $1,500,000 is available for new construction, the remainder being payable on contracts under way.

Enthusiastic responses to the statewide road-marking movement recently inaugurated by the Omaha Automobile club are being daily received at the club headquarters in Omaha, Neb. Already over thirty cities and towns in various sections of the state have been heard from, either through the local organizations or through individuals who assume the responsibility of forwarding the movement themselves.

The Standard of Value and Quality

Once Again—We Must Ask You To Place Your Order Before It Is Too Late

Two weeks ago, we published an advertisement urging you to act QUICKLY in placing your order for a Paige, seven-passenger "Six-46."

At that time, we told you of the overwhelming demand for this model.

We told you that the factory was literally flooded with orders and predicted that there would be a shortage in the very near future.

Well—all that we said in that advertisement is now DOUBLY IMPORTANT.

SINCE THAT TIME, EVERY SINGLE PAIGE DEALER ON OUR BOOKS HAS APPEALED TO THE FACTORY IN AN ATTEMPT TO INCREASE HIS ALLOTMENT. This statement—astounding though it may seem—is the actual, literal truth.

And at the time this advertisement is written, our March orders for the Fairfield Model alone amount to ONE MILLION, FIVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS. This represents 1,200 cars.

These are cold, uncompromising figures—the kind of evidence that no man can deny.

So, now, it is only a matter of a short time before Paige dealers will be compelled to refuse any orders for the "Fairfield" which are placed subject to "immediate delivery."

We are doing everything that is humanly possible to keep step with the demand. So far, our tremendously increased production has enabled us to satisfy most of our distributors.

But—with the spring retail season almost at hand—we know that this condition cannot continue. Soon we shall be compelled to apportion our production to the best of our ability—and many people will be obliged to wait thirty or even sixty days for their cars.

Such—in plain terms—is the condition that stares us in the face. A SHORT-AGE OF "FAIRFIELDS" IS COMING.

Surely, after two such explicit warnings, the wise man will protect his own interests and see the Paige dealer while immediate deliveries are still possible.

And now—after turning these facts over in your mind—you will find yourself, face to face, with one inevitable conclusion.

The REASON for this overwhelming demand must be based upon the consistent day-in and day-out performance of the "Fairfield" in the hands of thousands of owners. This is the truest and safest of all tests.

No other construction can be placed upon such decided preference on the part of men who know automobiles. In short, the "Fairfield" leads in demand because it leads in "value received."

VOTERS MUST DECIDE ISSUE

Firemen's Demand for the Double Platoon System to Be Submitted.

All Efforts to Compromise Fail at Friday's Conference.

Duluth will have an election some time before July 1 on the matter of establishing a double platoon system for the firemen of the city.

As the result of a conference held by the city commissioners and a delegation of ten firemen in the council chambers yesterday afternoon, it is now considered certain that the voters of Duluth will decide whether or not the members of the fire department shall work in two shifts of twelve hours each after Jan. 1 next, at an additional cost of $30,000 the first year. Leaders in the fight for the firemen's demand last night that the initiative ordinance, signed by 8,000 voters, will be filed early next week, and it is generally admitted at the city hall that the election on the measure will be held at the same time as the voters of the city pass on the several charter amendments now being prepared by the charter commission. This will be sometime in May or June according to city officials.

Compromise Efforts Fail.

At the meeting of the commissioners and the firemen all compromise efforts made by both sides being turned down after a long discussion, the commissioners also refused to endorse the initiative petition as officials of the city, claiming that the firemen must accept the sole responsibility of introducing the measure.

All the members of the council declared themselves in favor of a special election, claiming that the voters of the city should decide such an important change, which involves an increased expenditure of $30,000 the first year.

Two weeks ago the firemen filed a petition for the establishment of a double platoon system on Jan. 1, 1917, while at a conference last week the commissioners submitted a proposition agreeing to appropriate $10,000 for three years, working up gradually to the double platoon by 1918. They claim that the city is unable to appropriate $30,000 at one time without affecting all the other city departments.

Propose Gradual Establishment.

According to the proposition, $10,000 would be appropriated in 1917, giving the firemen one off-day in five, in and of six, at present, and in 1918, giving them one off-day in three, and $10,000 more in 1919, thus establishing a complete double platoon system in three years. It would require a total of thirty-four additional men.

This offer was turned down by the firemen, and at the conference yesterday they submitted a counter proposition, agreeing to accept the plan of the double platoon system on July 1, 1917, instead of Jan. 1. The commissioners refused to accept this plan, saying that their first offer will have to stand, as the city's financial condition prohibits the consideration of greater expenditures next year. It was explained that the counter proposition would involve an expense of $15,000 in 1917 and $20,000 in 1918, a total of $35,000 in the next two years, while the offer of the commissioners meant a total expense of but $20,000 in the same period.

ROAD FUNDS APPORTIONED

County Board Cuts $104,903 Melon—Twelve Highways Legalized.

Appropriations from the county's special road fund authorized by the board of county commissioners in session yesterday afternoon, aggregated $104,903.10 and were distributed among the various districts as follows: First, $400; Second, $2,642.65; Fourth, $10,500; Fifth, $43,050; Sixth, $41,863.03 and Seventh, $6,347.42.

The commissioners legalized twelve new highways and the auditor was authorized to receive bids for constructing the following work:

Construction of two bridges across the two rivers, one on the Tower and Hunsdale road. Concrete and steel construction figures are both wanted and bids will be opened at the city meeting.

Change in State Highway No. 1 from the west line of section 36, 38, one-half mile.

Spruce road, through sections 13 and 14, 67-18.

Williams road along southerly line of section 7, 56-15.

Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, advised the commissioners that while the engineering department of the county might have automobiles purchased by the county, county board members, the attorney general had ruled, must hire machines to take them to and from road work. The law will have to be amended before St. Louis county will be permitted to purchase cars for the use of any of the commissioners.

The request of C. E. Everett, Hibbing, probation officer for a car, was laid over.

The county board authorized Joseph C. Helm, supervisor of assessments in unorganized districts to employ not more than eight deputy assessors at $3 a day and expenses to assist in making the personal property assessments for 1916.

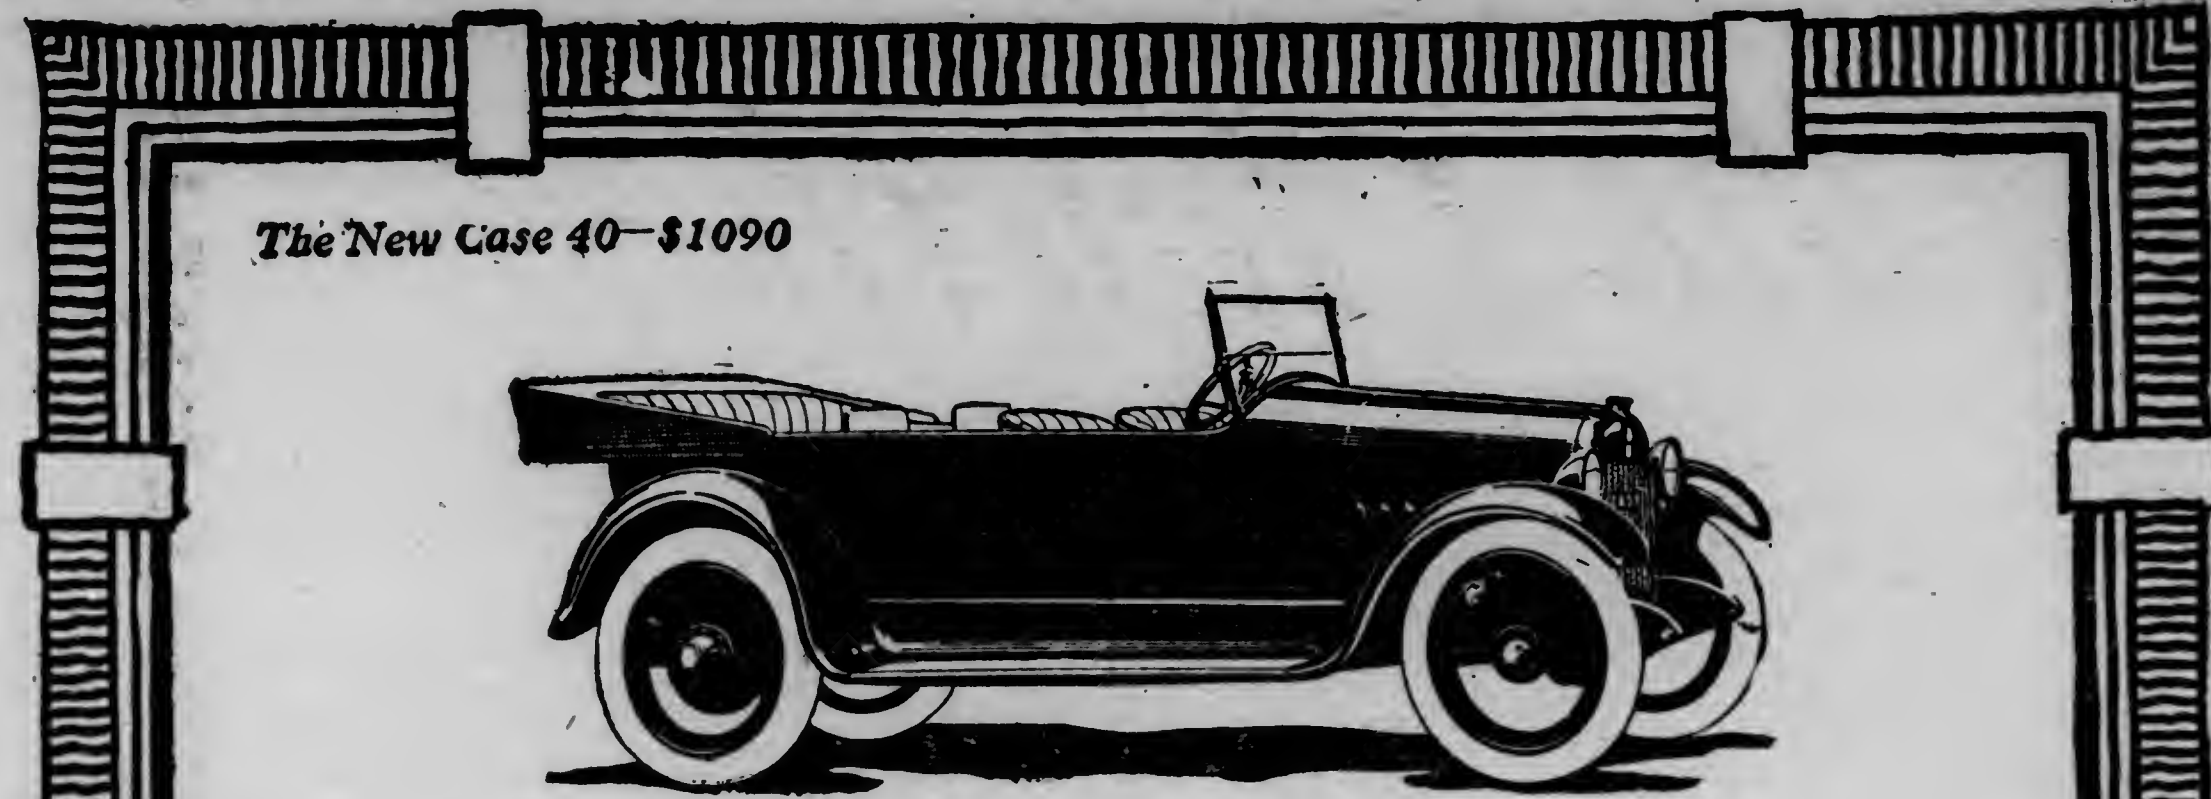

The contract for 6 1/2 miles of the Capra road was awarded by the board to John Sanjakoski at $2.20 per rod, or approximately $6,500.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Concert By Michigan Glee Club Is Event of the Week; Strong Student Sentiment in Favor of Preparedness; Report Against Blanket Tax to Cover All College Activities.

The event of the week at the University of Minnesota was the visit of the Michigan Glee club, which gave a joint concert with the University Glee club at the University of Minnesota. The old-time Minnesota-Michigan spirit was revived, and many of the old grads of both schools looked back with longing eyes to the old days when the two schools were rivals in all forms of college activities. The Michigan club was quite up to its usual standard of excellence, and the University Glee club was no exception. The Michigan men were especially strong in their enthusiasm for the Michigan Glee club, and the University Glee club was no exception. The Michigan men were especially strong in their enthusiasm for the Michigan Glee club, and the University Glee club was no exception.

April 3 has been set as Cap and Gown day for the university seniors. The seniors will congregate in the Library building and march along University avenue to the armory, where an all-university convocation will be addressed by Acting President A. F. Woods in the absence of President Vincent. At that time there will be election to the various honorary fraternities such as Phi Beta Kappa, for the academic, Sigma Xi for the engineers and Tau Beta Pi for the mining engineers.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist will make his first appearance before the university students on May 8, when he will speak in the Little theater under the auspices of the Legal society. The order of the Colf is the official name of the present Hayes bill now before the senate.

A committee appointed by the All-University Student council to investigate the advisability of a blanket tax to cover all college activities has reported that such a tax would be impracticable at Minnesota. The plan of the tax was to add a uniform amount, ranging from $5 to $7, as the details should demand, to the registration fee of every student upon his entrance to the university. This amount would cover all athletic contests, subscriptions to every publication and admittance to every debate or lecture conducted by the university. The plan is in successful operation in the other Western universities, but the University of Minnesota has been unable to enforce the rule against any person who obtained and that the plan would fail unless it had universal application. Such a tax would increase the circulation of the Daily from 2,500 to 5,000, of the Minnesota Magazine from 500 to 5,000 and of the Minnesota, the campus comic paper, from about 800 to 5,000; it would insure large attendance at concerts and lectures and would probably fulfill its mission in creating a great deal more college spirit.

Spring will be officially welcomed to the campus next Tuesday night when the students will carry forth on a parade, led by a heterogeneous band of drums, fife, siren and brass instruments, the bandroom parade is an annual affair and is taken by the citizens of Southeast Minnesota.

for the Legal society and corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa in the academic world. After the address, Governor Burnquist, Frank E. Kellogg, candidate for United States senator, and three seniors will be initiated into the order at the home of William J. Vance, dean of the law school.

The mining students are rapidly nearing the end of their school year on the campus, but will adjourn to the northern part of the state, where they will engage in practical work in an old mine shaft. Several members of the faculty will accompany the students and direct them as they explore the shaft and conduct geologic and mineralogical tests for ore and rock formations. The miners will leave the mines at the end of the month and will continue their work through the summer.

A count of mail at the university postoffice indicates that the students have other concerns besides their studies. In one week over 17,000 pieces of mail passed through the office, of which nearly 12,000 were for the students.

The university farm has been conducting a junior farmers' week, attended by representatives of nearly every county in the state. It was a meeting for the younger farmers who should still be in school but have been forced to start to work. Contests in breakmaking, stock judging, beekeeping and canning, as well as lectures on these subjects, kept the youthful farmers busy every minute.

Six university students have decided to accept the fellowship offer of John D. Rockefeller. He wants young college men to gain practical experience in the National City bank of New York, after which they will be sent to all parts of the world to carry the Rockefeller financial system. Three of the chosen men are seniors and three are sophomores. The seniors will begin work in June. They will remain in the bank one year, receiving $50 a month and expenses to and from New York.

No matter what you want, it will save you time and money if you will use THE HERALD'S WANTS.

Leader of Fight in Superior Will Speak Here Sunday.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Neighborhood Friendships

I wonder if the neighborhood feeling and the neighborhood interests are not dying out in a very apparent degree in our towns and villages where there is a chance for friendly intercourse, just as it has absolutely disappeared from our cities, and if the residents in town and village are not losing something that made life more worth living?

Observation and personal experience would seem to prove that it has, and that although there was much to be desired in the neighborhood intercourse, a certain course indulged in by the heads of families, with all its disagreeable features it was preferable to the indifference that typifies the attitude of hundreds and hundreds of families in the suburbs and towns around and about.

Probably thousands of parents have wished for a lodge in some vast wilderness where they could rear their young unmolested. Little people, when I was small, were continually getting tangled with the children next door or across the way, with the result that their parents were involved in a neighborhood quarrel in an endeavor to prove that their children were in the right.

However these disputes and quarrels seldom amount to anything serious. Only occasionally does a lasting break occur and then either one or both parties to the trouble are of small caliber or the affront is one not easily forgiven, or also, for some reason, justly deserved. Most of them are forgotten before they have a chance to rise into lasting unpleasantness and serve as a lesson to the neighborhood. A certain large family of children laughingly expressed it, to break the monotony of existence.

But if the new order of things in the neighborhood put in and to quarrels and to curious prying into affairs that are not your concern, it is a question as to the disagreeable features of neighborhood intercourse that neighbors may have a hand in if only they are the right kind. The question is do the disagreeable features of neighborhood intercourse outweigh the good. The decline in neighborhood friendships would lead me to believe that they did.

There are many cheerful happenings that neighbors may have a hand in if only they are the right kind. The question is do the disagreeable features of neighborhood intercourse outweigh the good. The decline in neighborhood friendships would lead me to believe that they did.

SHARP BREAK IN MARKETS

Wheat Slumps With Good Weather Reports From Over Northwest.

Crushers Bid for Flaxseed Supplies and Quotations Show Advances.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 8.—Predictions of better weather conditions over both the Northwest and Southwest led to a break in the wheat market today. There was furthermore nothing doing in the way of export trade on this market at least, though the working of some wheat was reported at the seaboard.

Some operators are now beginning to predict that with favorable weather the figures of the last government report may be materially improved upon and that in the event of any good news regarding progress of seeding and field work over the Northwest, a further easing off in the market may be brought about. Some influential traders are, however, reported to be of the opinion that in the last event of any slitting down from present levels, the market would be a good buy for a long pull, as it is believed that probable reduced wheat productions in this country and Canada and in the European countries this season must inevitably lead to anxiety of the wheat market.

It is also pointed out that the development of the usual flood of crop increases between now and the harvesting of the new crops must also be reckoned upon as a bullish factor. At Duluth today wheat inspections at Duluth today came to only 23 cars, of which one-half were durum. This cut is rather indistinct, yet you can easily see that NEW DULUTH is an ideal site for a steel city in the making. It is within easy walking distance of the Steel Plant (which can be seen in the back of the picture), yet away from the smoke and dust of the great steel and cement plants—level, high and dry—commanding wonderful water frontage on the bay and river; graded streets, cement sidewalks, city water, with a fine growth started in the way of stores and beautiful homes—a fine brick school building, two churches, postoffice, railroad station and fire and police protection. These 100 lots are shown in the foreground of the above picture and will be near street car line when built.

PRICES RANGE FROM $425 TO $600 PER LOT

Just where the best class steel plant workers will want to live and later pay you advanced prices for these lots. If YOU work there, buy before they advance.

Why These Lots Are Good Buys

Because of location, character of lots, neighborhood and improvements, accessibility and future value—Because the Steel Plant is on the north. On the east and south on the river bottom are lands for numerous factory sites. These lots are located just right—out of the smoke and dust and convenient for present and all future industries. Comparison with values of lots at Pittsburg, Birmingham and Gary, Ind. (all Steel centers), clearly indicate that these lots will sell at much higher prices with the development of the steel industry here. We do not sell from the map.

We Are Frank to Say

When first told about these lots and asked to handle them for the owners, we were skeptical, but finally agreed to examine them. We did so and looked at all other lots near the Steel Plant and the prices they were selling for, WE WERE FORCED TO THE CONCLUSION that these lots were the best bargains that can be bought near the Steel Plant, considering both location and prices asked, and what the future will develop. We believe they will advance in value and so accepted the selling agency.

MANY HOUSES BEING BUILT

This Feature of Construction Dominates Activity at Present.

Important and Extensive Improvements Being Made By Boat Club.

Judging by the record during the last few weeks, house building is likely to attain considerable proportions during the present season. This week, for example, forty-three permits were issued at the building inspector's office, and with only a few exceptions, they were for the authorization of new dwellings or for improvements, to be undertaken by owners. All parts of the city were represented in the list.

The erection of several expensive houses during the season is forecast in the restricted Eastern residential districts. Plans for six homes to cost from $10,000 to $15,000 each are now in preparation at architects' office, and they are expected to go out for figures shortly.

Improvements at Boat Club.
An interesting feature was the announcement that improvements to cost $10,000 are to be undertaken at the Duluth Boat club quarters. A new grandstand will be erected between the present stand and the band pavilion, and another line of seats will be put in from the end of the pier to the present stand. They will seat 2,000, bringing the seating capacity of the stands up to 4,300. A shell house, 50 by 120 feet in size, will be erected on the site.

of the present tennis courts. This improvement was rendered necessary to provide accommodation for the boat club's increasing fleet of racing shells and to take care of the shells of the visiting oarsmen at the national regatta.

Other improvements are to be carried through in the interior of the clubhouse, the aim of the boat club's executive being to make the plant one of the most complete of its kind in the country. The plans are now in preparation by A. W. Puck, architect, and they will be ready to go out to contractors for figures shortly.

One Hundred Houses for Gary.
A heavy building program is assured at Gary-Duluth this season, as necessitated through the urgent need of additional housing accommodations in the steel plant district.

It was intimated yesterday by A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, that preparations are being made to build 100 houses at Gary, to cost from $4,000 to $5,000 each. Several owners of lots are combining with the object of undertaking this extended building program.

A brick store and three-apartment building is to be erected for A. Horvitz at Fifth street and Fourth avenue east. Plans are in preparation by F. H. Fitzgerald, architect, and will be ready to go out for figures shortly.

A frame and stucco house is being built for J. Lewis MacLeod on St. Andrews street, Woodland. The contract has been let to Mork & Hanson, Gillison & Carson are the architects.

Plans have gone out for figures from the office of John R. de Ward, architect, for a frame and stucco garage for Mrs. L. W. Leithland on Dingwall street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east. Its cost is estimated at $4,000.

Plans will go out next week for figures on a two-story frame clubhouse for the Longview Tennis club at Fourth street and Twenty-fifth avenue east. A. W. Puck is the architect.

That architect has also plans in preparation for a $20,000 home for O. G. Brice at Eau Claire, Wis.

Callan & Hopkins have obtained the contract for the sheet metal work on the residence of D. E. L'Amie in Vauverly park.

The Thomson-Williams company has obtained the contract for the face brick for the home being built for R. E. Burdick at Crescent View Park and also for the new David Davis residence on Twenty-first avenue east, for which the Bowman Building company has the general contract. It is, besides, furnishing the screens for the new W. C. Agnew home in Congdon park.

MUST BUILD NEW SCHOOLS

Lester Park District Will Have New Building in 1917.

Five New Rooms Voted for Merritt—Other Structures Planned.

Lester Park will have a new school building in 1917 and the Merritt school will be improved by the addition of four rooms and an assembly hall by next fall.

Directors of the board of education last night, at their monthly meeting, approved resolutions calling for the two improvements.

Four new buildings or additions are now being considered by the board and a fifth is under way. The Morgan Park school foundation has been installed and general contractors soon will begin work upon the $125,000 building.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld in his report called the board's attention to the fact that an administration building and an east end junior high should be planned, as well as the Lester Park building and the Merritt addition.

"After investigating," reported the school committee, "this committee is of the opinion that the present wooden school structure at Lester park will be inadequate for the requirements of that district for more than another school year, and the committee recommends that a new and capable grade school building be erected in the district now served by the Lester Park school during the year 1917, and that provisions be made for it in the next tax levy."

Anton O. Wicklund, as chairman of a committee from the Onota and Hackettwood improvement club, called upon the board to redeem promises of an addition to the Merritt school, which now is full, and which, he said, would not accommodate the pupils from the district next year.

Director W. R. Getchell, chairman of the building committee, agreed that an improvement should be made soon, and said the committee had been waiting to observe the effect of the new Lincoln junior high upon the Merritt attendance.

Crosley Park residents appeared before the board to urge that steps be taken to care for children in that district. "There are about 200 children who have to walk from nine to eighteen blocks," said one speaker.

Crosley Park is a new and rapidly growing section, the committee said, and during the past winter several children have frozen their hands or feet while walking to the Lester Park school.

A further report on the situation will be heard at the next meeting of the board.

A Model House at a Model Price

The little building shown above is one of our most practical designs. For a house of its size and cost, it will be hard to find a superior arrangement. The first floor has a large living room with open hearth, place, a dining room which opens on to a glass enclosed porch. Off from the kitchen is what is termed a breakfast room, provided with two long bench seats and a table. The second floor has four good sized bedrooms with ample closet space. The bathroom is shown to the front of the building but can be placed facing the rear. The exterior is carried up in a simple manner—yet different—than that you generally see. The building can be erected in the City of Duluth for $2,800 and we believe it cannot be duplicated for several hundred dollars more than that in any other arrangement.

At 11:30 o'clock the department was given a run to 5615 West Sixth street, where another roof fire had started. The damage was only nominal.

MORE GROUNDS FOR THE "KIDS"

Children at New Duluth and Gary and on Garfield avenue will have supervised playgrounds this coming summer, according to an announcement made this morning by J. R. Batchelor, recreational director.

The new playgrounds will be located at the Stunk and Madison schools and will be equipped with playground apparatus, while an assistant director will be in charge of each throughout the summer months. The apparatus will be installed sometime before May 1. Director Batchelor said.

With the addition of these two playgrounds, there will be a total of twelve in operation this year, as compared with three during 1915. The members of the board of education yesterday authorized the purchase of apparatus for the nine new grounds and similar action, it is expected, will be taken by the city commissioners next Monday.

The playgrounds at Chester and Harrison parks will be continued this year, while the apparatus at the Fifty-second avenue west grounds will be moved to the Irving school, according to the plans. The grounds at Fifty-second avenue will be used as a baseball diamond, it being Director Batchelor's plan to install a large backstop and mark the field for baseball games.

Twelve playgrounds to be in operation this year will be located at the following points: Webster park, Washburn, Franklin, Munger, Washington, Webster, Madison, Irving and Stowe schools, Harrison and Chester parks and Ninth avenue west and Third street.

AMENDMENT IS INDORSED

West Duluth Club Members Hear Talk on Revolving Fund.

George D. McCarthy, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, addressed the West Duluth Commercial club on Amendment No. 1, known as the revolving fund amendment to the state constitution last night. The amendment, which will be submitted at the November election, provides for a revolving fund of $250,000 for the partial improvement of state land before it is put on the market.

"If this amendment is adopted and legislation enacted in pursuance to it, it will hasten the peopling and cultivation of 2,000,000 acres state land and give impetus to the development movement that will carry it far forward toward the goal for which we are striving, the complete development of the unutilized areas of Minnesota," said the speaker.

Mr. McCarthy briefly sketched the progress of development in Northern Minnesota, pointed out the difficulties met by the settler who takes land without any improvements being made, outlined the aid the provisions of the amendment would be to the settler and made a plea for support for the amendment.

"It is in Duluth should be particularly interested," he said. "We are becoming a great industrial community and it is elementary that any industrial community to become great should have at its back door, as it were, a garden in which to grow the food stuffs for its people. The development of our nearby country is important to us from the standpoint of our ability to compete with other industrial communities, and also in involving the development of a nearby market for the things we manufacture and job."

At the conclusion of Mr. McCarthy's talk, which included a brief explanation of the other seven amendments to be submitted also, the club adopted a resolution endorsing Amendment No. 1 and pledging to the committee in charge the support of the club and its individual members.

GERMANS THROW ENORMOUS FORCES AT FRENCH LINES IN SAVAGE ATTACK AT VERDUN

PENETRATE DISTANCE OF 500 YARDS

Desperate Attempts to Break New Line West of the Meuse.

Battle Rages All Along Thirteen-Mile Front Near City.

French Troops Withstand Assault Excepting at Dead Man's Hill.

BETHINCOURT ISOLATED.
*****
Berlin, April 10, via London, 4:28 p. m.—The war office announced today that in the fighting near Bethincourt in the Verdun region the town and two fortified points of the fort to the southwest were isolated. The French were cut off, losing 714 prisoners, 2 guns and 15 machine guns. The losses of the French in killed or wounded were considerable.
*****

London, April 10.—In a desperate struggle for possession of Dead Man's hill, the French lines were penetrated last night for a distance of about 500 yards in the vicinity of the hill. Paris announced this today in reporting a battle which raged in the Verdun region along a thirteen-mile front north of the stronghold.

Elsewhere the French lines stood the test of the savage attacks of the Germans, who are bringing notably heavy forces to bear in an effort to break the new French line west of the Meuse, just strengthened out by the abandonment of the Bethincourt salient.

Last night's battlefront ran from hill No. 204 west of the Meuse and on across the river to Fort Douaumont, northeast of the fortress. The results on the east bank of the river were favorable to the French. Paris asserts, the Germans winning no appreciable advantage.

Continued Attacks.

AUSTRIANS PLANNING FOR NEW OFFENSIVE

Decide to Attack Italian Troops Along the Whole Front.

Rome, via Paris, April 10.—The Austrians are preparing an offensive on a large scale along the whole Italian front, according to dispatches received here which state that this action was decided on at a recent conference between the Austrian and the other Austrian commanders. Strong bodies of troops have been withdrawn from the Roumanian border and quantities of munitions are being sent from the Roumanian border to the Italian military chiefs, the dispatches further say, have made it clear that the Austrians intend to make to the force the Austrians back on the defensive.

RIVER FLOOD AT ITS CREST

Mississippi Has Apparently Reached Highest Point at La Crosse.

Many People Traveling to and From Homes in Boats.

La Crosse, Wis., April 10.—The Mississippi river flood reached its crest at La Crosse today. It stood at 13.1 feet over low-water mark, a barely perceptible rise since Saturday. The weather bureau predicted that it would go no higher, in spite of the breaking of a dam, which caused a rise of six feet at Minneapolis. The greater with of the flood here, at points about five miles from bluff to bluff, will enable it to take care of the water from the north without a further advance. The high water from the north, however, will keep the Mississippi here above the flood stage for the entire week.
Present stage of the water affords a magnificent spectacle. The numerous islands in the Mississippi have disappeared, the land separating the Mississippi, the Black and the La Crosse rivers has been flooded.

WILL CONFER WITH LANSING

Ambassador Von Bernstorff Makes an Appointment With Secretary.

Berlin to Hand Gerard Note on the Sussex Case.

Washington, April 10.—Secretary Lansing announced today that Ambassador Gerard had called that the German foreign office informed him it would hand him a note on the Sussex case probably today.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will confer with Secretary Lansing this afternoon. The ambassador made the appointment.

A preliminary statement handed to the press by the German foreign office is understood to be on its way to the state department by cable.

Other information. In the nature of evidence gathered by the American embassy in Paris, is on the liner St. Paul, which is expected to dock in New York Thursday. Efforts will be made to have it here for the Friday meeting of the cabinet.

The state department today still was without official information of Germany's disclaimer of responsibility. Germany has asked Ambassador Gerard what information regarding the explosion which damaged the Sussex is in the possession of the American government. This inquiry was forwarded by Ambassador Gerard to the state department. Mr. Gerard was informed that German investigation into the case of the Sussex had not up to the time of the inquiry disclosed that any German submarine was responsible.

DR. WAITE ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Counsel Reserves Right to Make Change Within Ten Days.

New York, April 10.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, who has confessed to poisoning his father-in-law, John E. Peck, millionaire drug manufacturer of Grand Rapids, Mich., entered through his counsel today a plea of not guilty, when arraigned on the indictment charging him with murder in the first degree. His counsel, however, reserved the right to change the plea within ten days.
Before being arraigned Dr. Waite was taken into the district attorney's office for a conference with his counsel, Walter R. Deuel, and a prosecutor's assistant.
It was explained after the plea was entered that the reservation of the right to change it was a formality inasmuch as under the law the court cannot accept a plea of guilty on a charge of first degree murder.
After Dr. Waite had been taken to the Tombs he was placed in an observation cell.

Two Hundred Telegrams Asking for Clemency for Walter Smith.

Most of Pleas for Mercy Come From the Mesaba Range.

Mrs. Smith Attends the Meeting to Make Personal Plea.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fate of Walter J. Smith and Robert C. Pickit passed into the hands of the state prison pardon board at its meeting this afternoon.

Secretary C. M. Andrist handed to the board the pardon applications of the two men, the same being accompanied by some 200 telegrams pleading for clemency for Smith.

The telegrams asking that mercy be shown to Smith were mostly from the Mesaba range country, where Smith spent many years in business, but there were also many from other parts of the state. Sam Y. Gordon of Browns Valley and several ministers were numbered among those who pleaded for mercy for the former treasurer.

The pardon board members expressed themselves privately to some who appeared to them personally in behalf of Smith as of the opinion that, if the court had wished to save Smith from the penitentiary, it should have suspended his sentence. Herbert Keller presented the Smith case to the board, and Mrs. Smith was present to make personal plea. The Smith and Pickit cases were two of 110 which came before the board today.

ALL RECORDS AGAIN BROKEN

U. S. Steel Corporation's Unfilled Orders Total 9,331,001 Tons.

New York, April 10.—The monthly statement of unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation, issued today, again broke all records. The orders stood on March 31 at 9,331,001 tons, an increase of 762,035 tons over Feb. 29, when they were 8,568,966 tons, the previous high record.

Iowa Has Primary.
Des Moines, Iowa, April 10.—Iowa's state-wide presidential preference primary is being held today. Neither Senator Cummins, the Republican candidate for the presidency, nor President Wilson, the Democratic presidential candidate is opposed.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will confer with Secretary Lansing this afternoon. The ambassador made the appointment.

A preliminary statement handed to the press by the German foreign office is understood to be on its way to the state department by cable.

MORE BRITISH SHIPS SUNK

Loss of Four Unarmed Steamships Reported at London.

Most of Crews Saved; Few Reported as Missing.

London, April 10.—The sinking of four more British steamships was reported today. All of them were unarmed.

Lloyds announces the sinking of the Silkworth Hall and the Glenalmond. The captain and thirty men from the Silkworth Hall have been landed. Three men are missing. The crew of the Glenalmond was saved.

A Reuter dispatch from Malaita tells of the sinking of the Yonne, formerly the Kastalia, which was sunk without warning. The crew was rescued. The British steamship Zafra has been sunk, according to a Lloyds report.

Latest available shipping records announce the Zafra as having touched at Newport News on March 11 from Puerto Padre, Cuba, for Queenstown. She was of 3,573 gross tons, was 346 feet long.

VILLA BELIEVED TO BE HEADING FOR DURANGO TO JOIN ARRIETA FORCES

Bandit Believed to Have Passed Parral With 200 Men.

Mexican Reports State He Is Full Day Ahead of Americans.

United States Cavalry Driving Farther and Farther Into Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—In his fight from the American cavalry Francisco Villa is believed today to have passed Parral and with his band, said to number over 200 men, is reported to be heading for Durango City. Detachments of the Thirtieth cavalry are hard on the bandit's trail, but no official word has come from the front to indicate their position. Mexican reports stated today that Villa has a full day ahead of his pursuers. If Villa succeeds in reaching Durango City he probably will be joined by the forces of the Arrieta brothers, who command over 1,000 men.

Denied By Garcia.
A statement attributed to Mexican Consul Garcia today that Villa has now escaped any possibility of capture by the Americans, having crossed a dead-line established by President Wilson and Carranza, beyond which it was agreed that the American troops would not continue their pursuit for.

SENATE DEBATING FREE SUGAR CLAUSE

Amendment Measure Will Probably Be Voted on Tuesday.

Washington, April 10.—The house bill repealing the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law was taken up for debate in the senate today under an agreement to vote on the measure as amended by the finance committee tomorrow. The free sugar clause would go into effect May 1 with a consequent loss in governmental revenues of approximately $42,000,000 unless it is repealed in the meantime.

Washington, April 10.—Optimism for the early capture of Francisco Villa pervaded official circles today despite the fact that nearly a week has passed since news of the operations of the American troops in Mexico has come to the war department.

Many officials were of the opinion that important military developments may have occurred and it was impossible for the extreme advancing columns, last reported close on Villa's heels, near Satevo, to communicate with their field base.

Overnight dispatches from Gen. Pershing, dated April 8, explained infrequency of communication by saying that the wireless has not been able to work and aeroplane communication has been difficult because of lack of suitable landing places.

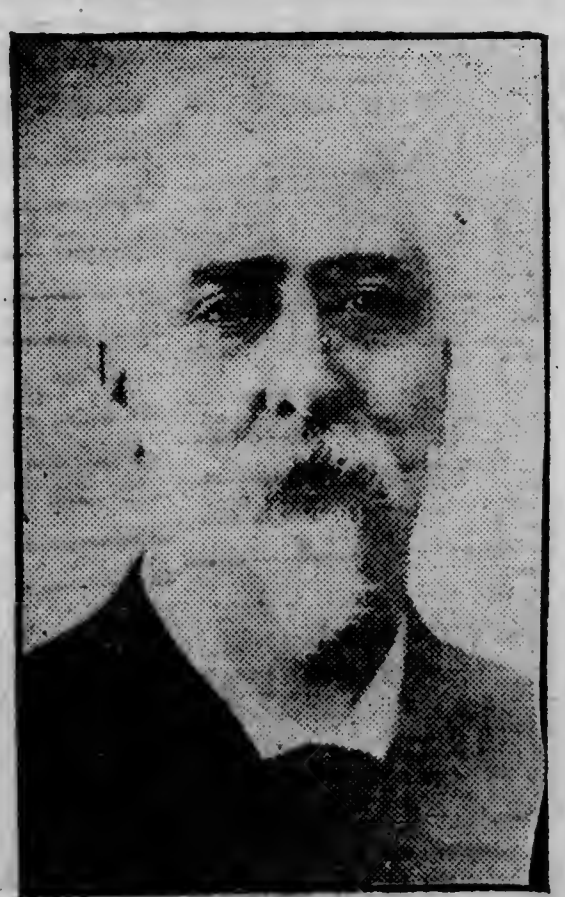

The dispatch again confirms that early report of Villa, being severely wounded in the right knee.

Satisfactory Conference.
"Gen. Pershing reports that he had a very satisfactory conference with Gen. Herrera and expects today to meet Gen. Gutierrez, to whom he sent messages by aeroplane to Chihuahua and received back replies offering full co-operation. Gen. Pershing's comment is that every indication shows that desire of the troops of the de facto government to aid to the extent of their ability."

"Gen. Pershing further reports that one aeroplane was badly disabled in landing April 6, leaving only five out of the original eight now in serviceable condition, but it is evident that the aeroplanes in use are performing."

GREEK MINISTER OF FINANCE HAS RESIGNED HIS PORTFOLIO

STEPHEN DRAGOUNIS.

London, April 10.—Stephen Dragounis, Greek minister of finance, has resigned his portfolio, says a Reuter dispatch from Athens. He is succeeded by D. G. Kallias, minister of justice and communications, who retains the communications portfolio. Mr. Hatzakos becomes minister of justice.

WASHINGTON OPTIMISTIC

Officials Believe Capture of Villa Will Soon Be Reported.

Communication With Advanced Cavalry Difficult to Maintain.

Washington, April 10.—Optimism for the early capture of Francisco Villa pervaded official circles today despite the fact that nearly a week has passed since news of the operations of the American troops in Mexico has come to the war department.

"DEAD LINE" MAY BE FIXED IN THE SOUTH

American Troops Would Not Go Beyond This in Chase of Bandit.

Secretaries Lansing and Baker Decline to Talk on Border Report.

Such an Agreement Would Come Under Protocol Now Pending.

Washington, April 10.—Secretary Lansing and Secretary Baker, both declined to comment today on border reports that an agreement between Washington and the Carranza government had fixed a "dead line" beyond which the American troops would not go in their pursuit of the Villa bandits. Secretary Baker declared in answer to questions that such an agreement would come under the pending protocol and a subject not under the war department's jurisdiction.

Protocol Under Discussion.
The proposed protocol of which little has become known still is under discussion at Gen. Carranza's provisional capital, Queretaro. Special Agent Rodgers left the provisional capital for Mexico City last week but expects to return to Gen. Carranza's headquarters soon when the negotiations will be resumed.

At both the state and war departments it was said nothing was known of reports of massing of Carranza troops on Gen. Pershing's State department dispatches located Villa heading toward Parral.

Secretary Baker plans to leave tonight for a brief visit to his home at Cleveland. He intends to return Wednesday.

ASK FREIGHT INCREASE ON GRAIN BE SET ASIDE

Washington, April 10.—Minneapolis milling companies today petitioned the interstate commerce commission to set aside an increase of approximately 5 per cent, effective Nov. 16, 1914, in Northwestern states to points in the Middle West.

The increase applied to grain milled in transit at Minneapolis and was attacked as unwarranted.

Reparation was asked for alleged excessive freight charges paid.

INTENTIONS ARE HOSTILE

Mystery Surrounds Departure of Mexican General From El Paso.

Salazar Said to Have Called on Mexicans to Protect Country.

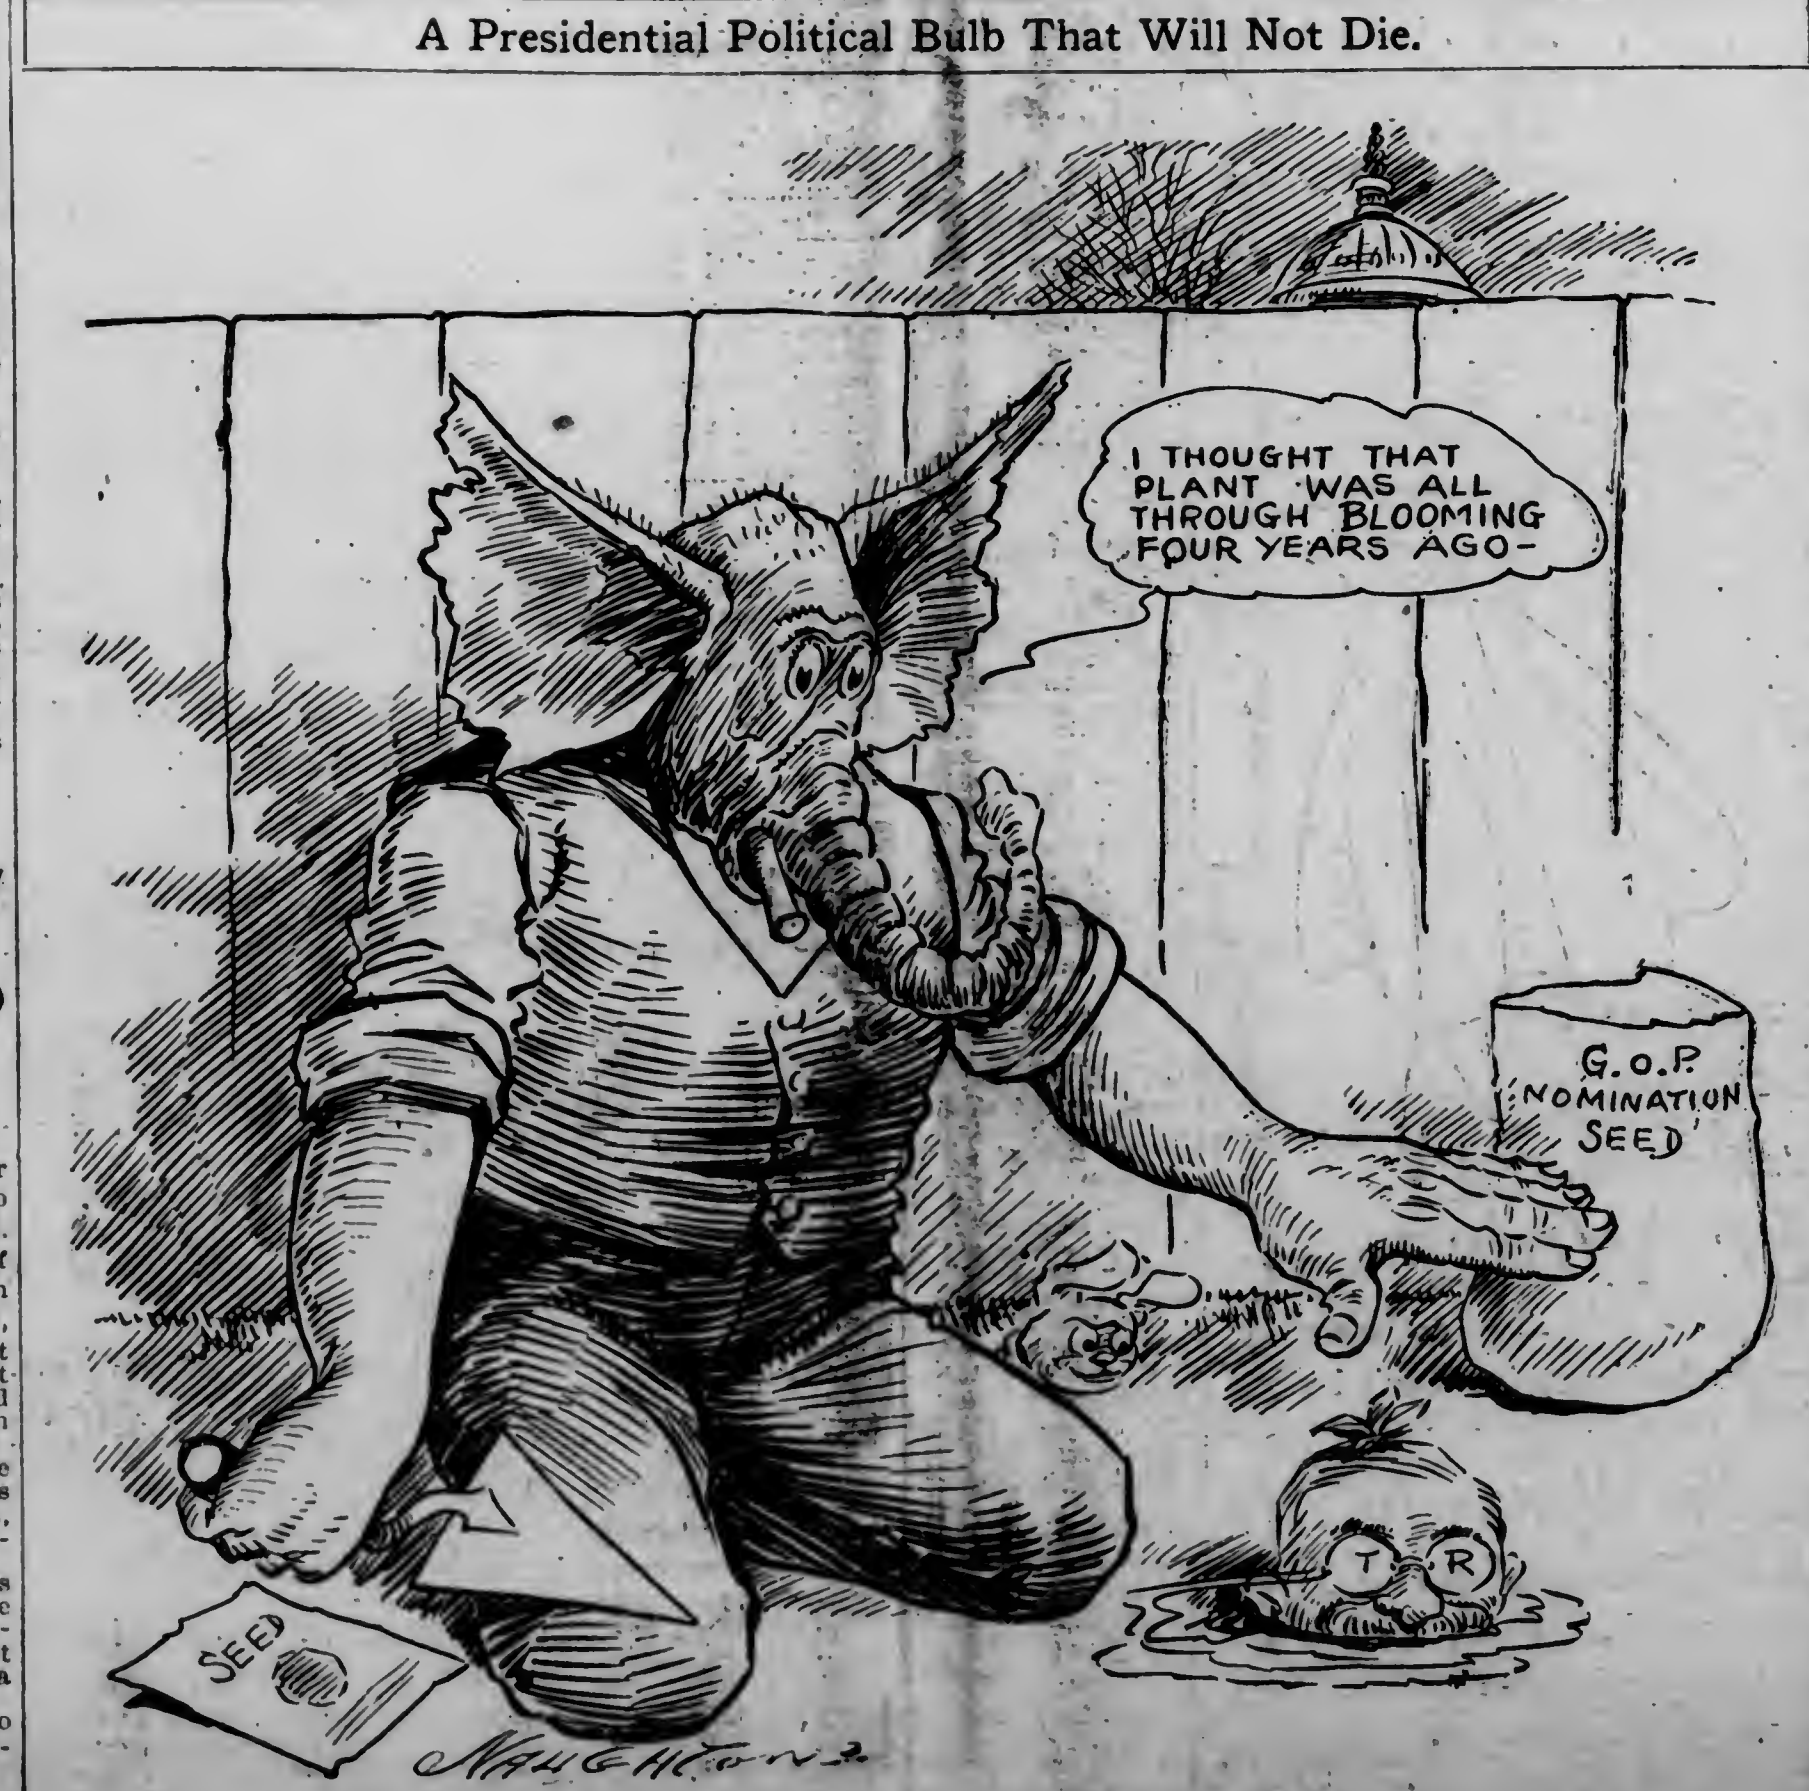

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—There was considerable mystery today over the reported crossing of the border by Gen. Ynez Salazar, former Huerta general, who is said to have gone into Mexico with avowedly hostile intentions toward the United States.

The story of the crossing was told to the press by a man once closely associated with Salazar. After investigation the police said they believed the story true, a proclamation was discovered, purporting to be signed by Salazar, in which he called on all patriotic Mexicans to join him in the protection of Mexican soil.

Offered Command By Carranza.
The man who gave the police their information said that some time ago Salazar received a letter from Carranza offering him a command in the field. It was the result of this letter, he said, that Salazar decided to return to Mexico. Gen. Salazar first came to Mexico as a Socialist agitator in 1906. Later he joined Madero, but deserted his cause to enlist under Orozco when the latter revolted. When Huerta came into power, Salazar was one of his most successful military commanders. He was, however, defeated by Villa at Parral and later came to the United States.

Tried Three Times.
He was arrested and tried three times on charges of conspiring against American neutrality, perjury and gun running. He was acquitted each time. When the news of the Santa Ysabel massacre reached El Paso a mob attempted to lynch Salazar and he narrowly escaped with his life. These experiences caused him to express the bitterest feeling against the United States.

Salazar is credited with having a considerable following in Northern Chihuahua.

WEATHER—Partly cloudy to night; southwesterly winds.

BAD NEIGHBORS FOR CHURCHES

Rev. H. A. Ofstie Declares Theater and Saloon Are Worst.

"Bad Neighbors" was the subject of a sermon last evening by Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the First Norwegian Lutheran M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, in which he enumerated the theater and the saloon being the worst. The lower standard of plays given in theaters today, asserted the pastor, is due to the demand of the public for the immoral. Among the church's good neighbors were named the schoolhouse and hospital.

"The theater today is a sad commentary on the theater of the past," said Mr. Ofstie. "Even promoters from the theatrical field must speak warning words today against the immoral trend of the stage. And then, even, some church folks will beg the intellectual education in favor of the theater. What they want is rottenness. What the theater is today it is by virtue of the public desire," says one producer, and then goes on to explain the vulgarity of the stage.

"The saloon is another bad neighbor. But Duluth is going to follow the example of her sister city, Superior, in the near future and vote the saloon out. We don't want it any longer as a church neighbor. Even the law, with its faulty defenders, knows the evil of the saloon and places statutes upon its pages to keep the saloon so many feet away from the doorstep of the church. The saloon is a bad neighbor.

"Electricians tell us that in electricity they have what is known as 'leak currents,' that steal away the power of the plant. In the church of God some individual members are the 'leak currents,' channel from the church by their unholiness and calling the criticism of the ungodly down upon God's church. This is a sad condition! But the church must guard against all its bad neighbors, that it may stand apostle in the community, washed in the blood of the Lamb of God."

THINGS COVETED FAIL TO SATISFY

Different Standards Set on Values, Declares Rev. Mr. Fish.

The fruitlessness of covetousness was the theme of the sermon on "Thou Shalt Not Covet," preached by Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, yesterday morning. The pastor of the things coveted in life fail to satisfy when obtained, he declared. In part he said:

"A non-Christian cannot understand the self-denial or the spiritual joys of the Christian. Time is worse than wasted in trying to compromise with the standard of world's values, or to accommodate the Christian life to the world's idea of pleasure. The non-Christian will deem the Christian as straight-laced, while the Christian deems the worldly standards as degraded and at times depraved.

View of Christian. "The reason for this is the soul-converting view of Jesus Christ. To the Christian, He has become the Chief treasure of his life. He has become precious than father, mother, husband, wife, child, or than life itself. All that pleases Him is good and worthy. All that displeases Him is worthless. Paul's conversion is expressed in this new standard of values is, 'What things were gain to me these I counted loss for Christ; yea, and I counted all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things.' Concerning the love for Christ, he expressed approval of Christ greater riches than all the treasures of Egypt."

"This love for Christ, which fulfills the tenth commandment, 'Thou shalt not covet,' is the love that leads the Son of God, full of grace and truth is to lose an overmastering fever for the love of Jesus Christ is the godliness of the church, which is the great gain. Such are growing wealthy in spiritual powers and are laying up treasures that will last forever."

"Christ is the light that discloses the folly of covetousness. We take from the world no more wealth than we brought with us. Our stewardship may terminate tomorrow, but our eternal home. Only in the delirium of fever would we strive to possess what will soon pass to others, or else will perish with the using. 'Such that we covet that fails to satisfy.' Achaia could not use the Babylonian garment."

Choose Unworthy Things. "The covetous seek the golden vessels rather than the oil, they grasp the cup but forget to offer the water of refreshing to others. They eat the husk of luxury and reject the kernel of opportunity for service. They admire the gilt frame but are blind to the masterpiece of God's love. They save the scaffold of riches by destroying the temple of God's love dwelling place among men.

In the morning of the human race Eve coveted the forbidden fruit and entailed us with a dread inheritance. Today men have coveted for gold and coveted commercial supremacy. The entail of this was maybe the longest prophesied since the fall of Adam.

Responsibility of Possession. "The covetous do not acknowledge the moral responsibility that possession involves. They underrate the value of the poor, too often overlooking the rights of the defenseless. They refuse to believe that riches deceive, nor do they care if wealth should with its care choke out the word of God, or even make entrance into God's kingdom impossible."

"While a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth, we covet earnestly the best of spiritual gifts. To claim these does not impoverish a brother man."

"The evil covetous is expelled by a higher passion. Concerning Christ we can say 'As the hart pants after the waterbrook, so panteth my soul after Thee, O God.'"

FOUND BALANCE SMALL.

Claim and Counterclaim Almost Cancel Each Other.

Unable to agree when it came to an accounting between them, Theodore Furland and Hugh Macampbell brought their dispute into court. Furland was employed by Macampbell as a shop foreman for nine months and when he quit he asserted that Macampbell owed him approximately $750. But Macampbell had a counterclaim. And when the several points in dispute were balanced one against the other, Judge Cant of the trial court found that Furland had just $1.86 coming. He was also given judgment for the cost in the case.

Returns From the East.

Ben Blumenthal, manager of the Leiser Co., returned yesterday from a flying trip to Eastern markets to complete his late spring and early summer purchases. He reports that the market is low on high-grade finished materials and there is continued advance on raw materials. The enormous purchasing power of the Leiser corporation enables them to secure concessions from the factories that individual stores cannot possibly obtain.

last evening about 9 o'clock. A man whom she had passed as he was standing leaning over a fence on the lower side of Fourth street between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenues walked up behind her and grabbed the purse.

Mrs. Nelson said that the purse contained only about one dollar in small change, but that several other articles which she prized were contained in it. No report was made to the police last night of the affair. Mrs. Nelson was unable to give any description of the man.

CONDITION IS UNPARALLELED

Freight Congestion Awaiting Opening of Navigation Is Enormous.

Iron Ore and Grain Alone Aggregate 100,000,000 Tons.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 10.—A congestion of freight waiting to be moved on the Great Lakes has brought about a situation unparalleled in inland water history, says a statement issued today by the Lake Carriers' association headquarters in this city. The volume of freight under contract, says the statement, has now reached the great total of 100,000,000 tons of iron ore and grain.

The freight congestion has been caused partly because of the great increase in the demand and partly by the delay in the opening of the navigation season.

The weather continues cold enough to keep the lakes open only now and then and it probably will be May 1 before navigation is really open.

Every ship used.

The delay in opening the season means that every ship available will be pressed into service on the lake this year. Even those that have been idle for several years are being hurriedly gotten into condition to enter trade again.

Thousands of sailors are returning to work on the lakes, many of whom have been idle for several years.

Sailors Coming Back.

During the 1914 and the early part of 1915 there were so few ships running full time that sailors left the lakes in hundreds. They are now coming back, as steady employment seems assured not only now but for years to come.

Wages will be the best freight bargains paid anywhere in the world. Unskilled seamen will be paid $35 a month for deck work and may be advanced to wheel work before the season ends in which case they will receive $55 per month, second mates $100 and masters $200.

ERIE ORE DOCKS BEING CLEARED

Heavy Shipments Continue and But Little Will Remain.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 10.—(Special to The Herald).—Lake Erie ore docks will hold considerable less than 4,000,000 tons of ore May 1. The shipments in March exceeded those of March last by more than 1,000,000 tons.

March shipments totaled 1,347,130 tons and was the largest March movement from docks to furnaces in the history of lake ore.

April shipments usually total about 1,250,000, but receipts at Lake Erie docks, likely to be delayed until May, the shipments this month probably will be the largest since the opening of the season.

On the basis of increased shipping and the percentage of rain during the closed season this year, it is probable that the shipments will jump well toward the 2,000,000 mark. It is generally expected that the March balance will not exceed 3,500,000 tons.

The ore docks on Dec. 1 should have about 10,000,000 tons of ore on hand. This means that close to 3,000,000 tons of ore more than the docks this year under normal conditions will have to be brought down to maintain the usual dock reserve.

In 1913, March shipments were 1,048,263 tons, and the April balance was 6,250,035 tons. In 1914 the March shipments were 820,741 tons, with an April balance of 6,774 tons, while in 1915, the March shipments totaled 848,848 tons and the docks held 6,831,840 tons on April 1.

This year the shipments in March were 1,347,130 tons, with an April balance of 1,347,130 tons. To reduce the dock balance to 3,500,000 tons May 1 it will be necessary to ship only 1,250,000 tons from the docks this month, which is only about 100,000 tons more than has been shipped in many Aprils.

The Lake Superior shipments to lower lake docks this year will be increased not only by the demand from furnaces, regularly depending on the Eastern movement, but also by an augmented view reports that almost 3,000,000 tons of lake ore have been sold to Eastern furnaces, and that 500,000 tons additional will be sold.

MARCH LAKE LEVELS.

Lake Superior Higher Than Average for Last Ten Years.

The United States lake survey reports the stages of the Great Lakes for the month of March, 1916, as follows:

Lake	Mean Sea Level	Feet Above
Superior	602.17	1.1
Michigan-Huron	571.84	1.1
Erie	571.84	1.1

Lake Superior is 27 feet lower than last month, 70 feet higher than a year ago, 80 feet above the average stage of March of the last ten years, 11 feet below the high stage of March, 1901, and 151 feet above the average stage of March, 1911.

During the last ten years the March level has averaged 2-foot lower than the February level and about the same as the April level.

Lakes Michigan-Huron is 31 foot higher than last month, 12-foot lower than a year ago, 57 foot below the average stage of March of the last ten years, 3.47 feet below the high stage of March, 1886, and 37 foot above the low stage of March, 1915.

During the last ten years the March level has averaged about the same as the February level and 2 foot lower than the April level.

Lake Erie is 15 foot lower than last month, 43 foot higher than a year ago, 97 foot above the average stage of March of the last ten years, 2.91 foot below the high stage of March, 1887, and 101 feet above the low stage of March, 1915.

March, 1896. During the last ten years the March level has averaged 1 foot higher than the February level and 5 foot lower than the April level.

NEW SIGNAL AT SAULT.

Arrow Used Last Year for Upbound Vessels Is Removed.

Detroit, Mich., April 8.—The lake survey office is in receipt of the following information from Col. Mason M. Patrick, Detroit, Mich., the district engineer in charge of the canals and locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

"To replace the arrow signal which was used last year to designate the lock to be taken by upbound vessels, there has been installed on the top of the watchmen's shelter near the end of the east center pier, a signal composed of two inclined arms which diverge upward in the form of a broad V. The arms are 3/4-inch conduit pipes, each with a white light shown from the top, and are spaced in line equidistantly along it. The lights are lighted either in the arm to the north or on the arm to the south, as a signal that the lock on the side so indicated is to be taken by an approaching upbound vessel.

In order that downbound vessels may know before coming within calling distance of the west center pier that there is sufficient water for them to take the Poe lock, the draft in the Poe lock will be displayed at the watch station at the west end of the west center pier. This information will be displayed in a manner similar to that at Bush Point and the box will be properly lighted so that the draft may be read at night."

OFFICERS OF LUMBER FLEET ARE APPOINTED

North Tonawanda, N. Y., April 10.—Capt. William D. Hamilton of the Hamilton Transportation company has announced the appointment of masters and engineers of his fleet, excepting of two boats, for the season of 1916, as follows:

W. H. Sawyer, Capt. Canart, and Engineer Daniel Flint, Buck; Capt. Mackenzie and Engineer Reuben Ellis, Niles; Capt. Ralph Myers and Engineer Valley Berger, Tempest; Capt. J. F. Higgle and Engineer T. Christensen, Pablow; Capt. John Hix and Engineer Walter Potts.

The two vessels to which no appointments have been announced are the barges Interlaken and Stewart, both of which are acquired by the Hamilton Transportation company, the former from the Hettler Lumber company of Chicago and the other barge from the North Tonawanda lumber firm of A. Weston & Sons.

The appointments on the Ashland, Capt. W. F. Johnson; Delta, Capt. E. J. Tilden; Capt. C. J. Steffen; A. C. Tuxbury, Capt. Elie Jacques; Redfern, Capt. Berney Cole; Alice R. Redfern, Capt. K. O. Robertson; Flier, Capt. John Mattison.

Capt. Hamilton stated that the appointments are practically the same as last year, with the crew of the steamer Barth, sold to Chicago Interests by his company this winter, taking charge of the steamer Buell, recently purchased from A. Weston & Sons.

BUFFALO ELEVATORS READY FOR RECEIPTS

Vessels bringing grain to Buffalo will get good dispatch, according to a prominent elevator man of Buffalo. Railroads are clearing up the congestion and present indications are that the houses will be in as good shape to handle the grain as at any time in years.

Vesselmen generally were surprised that the elevators got the fleet unloaded on schedule time this year, for the last year the grain was not unloaded until after the season was over.

Each captain has ten men under his command and the eleven men in each precinct will endeavor to see every man who has not yet been seen, and, if possible, get his signature to the petition.

The statement that the campaign for signatures would end this evening is erroneous, Mr. Smith said today.

"We are after 5,000 signatures," said he, "and we propose to get them. The rush tonight is a rally which we hope will land the number; but if it does not, the work will be continued until we do get the number required."

Burdette said that while he has no detailed report as yet, he knows the campaign has been well signed and that refusals have been fewer than were looked for.

The Herald has been asked what effect it would have on the grading of the city should the "dry" win in the proposed election. The effect would be the same as in the case of the "dry" winning a county option election, except that the rush hour traffic would not be so great.

That would be the case if the city should still opt for the beer, but if it were to opt for the dry, the beer would be shipped to that point, and then shipped in again, for there is nothing in the law to prevent the "shipping in" of beer.

GOVERNOR DESIGNATES MAY 5 AS CLEANUP DAY

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald).—Governor Burnquist, by official proclamation, today designated May 5 as the official cleanup day for Minnesota. He calls particular attention to the necessity of removing rubbish which is a hindrance to the city.

"By proper activity along lines which will tend to do away with the obnoxiousness by which this loss was in a large measure occasioned, the amount this year undoubtedly can be materially reduced."

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Low Wallace born, 1827.

Born in Brookville, Ind. General Wallace served in the Mexican war, in which he rose from colonel to brigadier-general. He was president of the court which tried Henry Wirz, commandant of Andersonville prison, and a member of the court which tried those implicated in Lincoln's assassination.
Was governor of New Mexico 1878-1881, and minister to Turkey 1881-1885.
Though his novels "The Fair God" and "The Prince of Huddell" were less well known, his "Ben Hur" was enormously popular.

FOR A SMALLER LEGISLATURE.

The Minnesota state senate has sixty-seven members; and the people are paying the salaries of about thirty more senators than they need.

The present house of representatives has a hundred and thirty members; and the people are being taxed for the salaries of about sixty more representatives than they could easily get along with.

Not only would the legislature do as good work with fewer members than with its present abnormally large size, but vastly better work.

There would be fewer to pay, and it would be cheaper.

There would be fewer to consume time in windjamming, and fewer to clutter the machinery with needless bills; so work would be done with greater dispatch and greater exactness.

Moreover, with fewer lawmakers to elect, a better selection would be made, and the average ability of the legislators would inevitably increase. With all the respect due to the house, the fact is that the senators, on the whole, average higher in ability than the houses do, and that's because there are only half as many senators to elect as there are representatives. The senators, too, do better and more careful work than the houses; and that's due to the same fact.

Minnesota, with the largest senate in the United States and a house exceeded only by a few states that cling to the old township representation plan, needs a smaller legislature in the interests of "economy and efficiency."

Indeed, there is where your economy and efficiency work should begin—and if there is any need of proof, witness the clumsy way the legislature has handled the whole subject of efficiency and economy, achieving nothing through the need and demand for it are manifest.

The legislature never will reduce its membership in any reapportionment, because its members will never vote themselves out of office; they never have and they never will.

The only way to bring about a smaller legislature is by putting a rigid limitation on membership in the Constitution.

Constitutional amendments are difficult of adoption, and more are needed besides this one than can readily be listed.

The shortest step to efficiency and economy and to the smaller legislature that should be the foundation of that reform is by way of a convention summoned to revise the Constitution.

The legislature that meets next January should submit to the people a proposal for a constitutional convention. It will do that only if it is made manifest that the people of Minnesota demand it.

THE MOST SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST BRANDEIS.

After his opponents had raked his record from childhood up, the only really serious charge brought against Brandeis in the fight to prevent his nomination as a justice of the supreme court of the United States is that as counsel for the people in the railroad rate cases before the interstate commerce commission he admitted that railroad revenues probably were not high enough.

This charge was made by Railroad Commissioner Thorne of Iowa, and later by Senator Cummins as his excuse for voting against confirmation in committee.

This is a queer misapprehension, for Thorne probably is honest in his opposition, whatever Cummins is.

Brandeis in that case was counsel for the interstate commerce commission. He was not an attorney for the shippers who opposed granting an increase in rates. The commission sat in a judicial capacity, to hear both sides and to judge between them.

Brandeis's duty was to help the commission reach the right result. The commission's function was not to prevent rate increases regardless of what was right and just, but to do justice equally between railroads and public. It had no more right to refuse an increase if an increase was just than it had to grant one if it was not just.

From that viewpoint, and in that entirely correct view of his duty, Mr. Brandeis's conduct was above reproach, and the criticism of him because of it is entirely invalid.

There's nothing to sneer at in the statement that it was too much preparedness that got Villa into trouble.

THE NEWS FROM EL PASO.

Yesterday El Paso reported—shrieked, rather, in great headlines—with grief and shame that the United States was about to abandon the Villa hunt and withdraw its troops from Mexico.

Today El Paso announces that more American troops are being sent across the border.

A report from El Paso these days is the last thing anybody should get excited about. If you see an El Paso date line on it, discount it approximately ninety-seven per cent, and be calm.

This is the time of year, musically speaking, when so many people are looking sharp for fads.

THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF THE SUBMARINE.

Though all the evidence seems to prove that the Sussex was assailed by a submarine, Germany, according to reports from Berlin, will deny that any submarine of hers did it.

That makes it difficult. Though several passengers saw the wake of the approaching torpedo, none of them was an American. Though pieces of metal said to have been taken from the hull of the Sussex are offered in evidence, and though it is believed that they are parts of a German torpedo, evidence that these pieces actually came from the Sussex seems to be lacking.

Morally, there is good reason to believe that despite her promises and her denial, Germany is responsible for the sinking, without warning, of the unarmed passenger vessel Sussex. Legally, the proof as yet seems insufficient. And, whatever the state of public feeling, the government cannot act on suspicion, however strong.

Proof will always be difficult in such cases, and usually impossible. If a submarine commander, having attacked an unarmed merchantman, fails to come back or, coming back, professes ignorance, his government can deny; and with actual proof lacking the injured nations are impotent.

Besides, the Sussex is but one of a series of unarmed merchantmen sunk without warning, some belonging to the allies, some neutral. They did not sink themselves.

Whatever comes of this series of cases, one thing grows clearer every day: that the first business of civilization, after the war, is to enact legislation prohibiting the use of submarines against merchantmen under any circumstances whatever, and sending to international Coventry any nation that does it.

WHY ROOSEVELT DISLIKES CARLYLE.

Colonel Roosevelt doesn't approve of Carlyle. He says so in a recent essay on what he likes to read.

That's rather odd.

Carlyle was a profound believer in Great Men. "The history of the world," he said, is "the biography of Great Men." This is a mistake, we think; the history of progress is rather a history of the reaction of popular aspirations upon great leaders. But Carlyle believed it, and clung to his belief firmly. "They were the leaders of men, these great ones; the models, patterns, and in a wide sense creators, of whatever the general mass of men contrived to do or to attain."

Odd indeed that Roosevelt cannot approve the upholder of such doctrine. Is he not himself the Great Man of his time? Is he not himself the leader, pattern, creator of "whatever the general mass of men contrived to do or to attain?"

Yet it is not so odd, either, after all, that Roosevelt should dislike this sage and should intimate that it is not so worth while to read him.

For did Carlyle not also vehemently warn against quackery and duper, against Quack Leaders and Sham Heroes? Verily, he did.

Roosevelt does not like Carlyle. Carlyle would not have liked Roosevelt.

It's a positive temptation of the efficiency of the pseudonym "Fortunatus" for him to get into the senatorship nomination campaign.

Sunflower Philosophy.
Aichison, Kan., Globe: Patriotism rarely consists of voting a straight ticket.

There is also the sort of morality that is due to cold feet.

Most men are busy enough not to want to serve on a jury.

When a man says plain talk, he means unpleasant talk.

A friend is a useful institution if you don't use him too much.

Sometimes a line of hot air is dignified by calling it a propaganda.

It seems impossible for one to do his duty and keep off everybody's toes.

While one is paying interest he shouldn't lead too many reform movements.

Complications sometimes represent that part of an illness the doctors fail to understand.

It wasn't a lack of raw material which eliminated the shell game as a side line of the circus.

If equal rights obtained, the woman would get the same punishment as the man if equally guilty.

Those who expect too much of woman's refining influence in politics, don't know politics very well.

Evil as gossip is, you may have observed that a gossip never has to postpone the performance for lack of an audience.

Well-behaved children are admired more than any other kind, and the rare specimen in other lines is also apt to attract favorable attention.

Hoover a True Neutral

Mollie Best in the American Magazine.

Herbert C. Hoover, American Quaker, director of the Belgium relief commission, holder of one of the most difficult positions in the whole world-war zone, is one of the few neutrals in existence, as is proved by the fact that the Germans suspect him of being entirely too pro-English and the English of being entirely too pro-German.

Mr. Hoover was "raised" on an Iowa farm in a Quaker community. His ambition to go to a non-sectarian university was frowned down by pious friends, who refused to allow him money for an education, unless he went to one of their own schools.

The lad determined to go to Leland Stanford and finance the undertaking himself.
He worked in an office and saved up his money. At night he high-schooled himself and prepared himself for the university.

When he had the good fortune to be admitted to Stanford with the promise of a chance to work his way through college, he found that there was no university laundry. Young Hoover soon supplied that lack and earned enough to put himself through the university.

Then, because there is an organizing wheel continually turning in his head, he collected all the student activities into one central organization. To this day the standard for comparison at Stanford is "the way Hoover did back in '02."

After the young Quaker got his diploma from the School of Mining and Engineering, he married one of his classmates. Besides being a mining engineer, Mrs. Hoover is a woman of extraordinary charm and beauty.
Together they have adventured into the romantic parts of the world, and have achieved fame and fortune as a successful engineer in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. Always, when Mr. Hoover had made a rough job smooth, he has looked round for a harder one. Therefore, when the hardest job was looking round for a man, it was natural that it should come upon him. God! My country is lost; France is dead! What a disaster! Ah, see, she is saved! She extends to the Rhine! O France; O my beloved country, you are triumphant; you are the queen of the nations! Your genius shines forth over the world. All the earth wonders at you!

Herbert C. Hoover, at a moment when no one was thinking of the terrible war which today is ravaging half the world.

When questioned, after the declaration of war, by M. de Vesme on the subject of the prophetic phrase, "I have been waiting for two years for the sequel of the prediction which you are about to read," Dr. Tardieu replied, on July 12:

"I have been waiting for two years, and I will tell you why. My friend Leon did not know the year, but the more general events
are described simultaneously with the events of my own life. Now the events which concern me privately and which were foretold years ago became certain in April or May last. My friends know that since May last I have been announcing war as due believed, having my prediction on the continuities with events in my private life, of which I do not speak."

This is, up to the present, the only prophecy known to us which deserves any particular attention. It is timid and laconic; but,
in those regions where the least gleam of light assumes extraordinary importance, it is not to be neglected. I admit, for the rest, that there has so far been no time to carry out a serious inquiry on this point, but I should be glad to know if any such inquiry gave positive results and if it did not allow us to state that the gigantic event, as a whole, as a general event, was neither foreseen nor divined.

Curious War Prophecy

Cited By Maeterlinck

From the Kansas City Star.

Maurice Maeterlinck doubts human ability to see into the future. In a recent article in the London Chronicle he refers to alleged prophecies of the present European war by Mme. de Thebes, the Polish monk Korzeniaki, "Father Johannes" and others, and then says:

All these, on examination, leave but a worthless residuum; but the Sonnet prediction is more curious, and worthy of a moment's attention.

On June 3, 1914—observe the date—Prof.
Charles Richet handed M. de Vesme, from Dr.
Amédée Tardieu, a manuscript, of which the following is the substance:

On July 23 or 24, 1869, Dr. Tardieu was strolling in the gardens of the Luxembourg with his friend Leon Sonnet, teacher of natural philosophy at the Paris observatory.
The latter had a kind of vision. In the course of which he predicted various precise and actual episodes of the war of 1870, such as the collection on behalf of the wounded of the moment of departure, and the amount of the sum collected in the soldiers' kepis; incidents of the journey to the frontier; the fall of Sedan, the capture of the French army by the Prussians, the siege of Paris, his own death, the birth of a posthumous child, the doctor's political career, and so on; predictions all of which he verified more than twenty years later.

These are the words uttered by Leon Sonnet in 1869 contained in the document written on June 3 and handed to M. de Vesme on June 3, 1914, at a moment when no one was thinking of the terrible war which today is ravaging half the world.

When questioned, after the declaration of war, by M. de Vesme on the subject of the prophetic phrase, "I have been waiting for two years for the sequel of the prediction
which you are about to read," Dr. Tardieu
replied, on July 12:

"I have been waiting for two years, and I will tell you why. My friend Leon did not know the year, but the more general events
are described simultaneously with the events
of my own life. Now the events which concern me privately and which were foretold years ago became certain in April or May last. My friends know that since May last I have been announcing war as due believed, having my prediction on the continuities with events in my private life, of which I do not speak."

This is, up to the present, the only prophecy known to us which deserves any particular attention. It is timid and laconic; but,
in those regions where the least gleam of light
assumes extraordinary importance, it is not to be neglected. I admit, for the rest, that there has so far been no time to carry out a serious inquiry on this point, but I should be glad to know if any such inquiry gave positive results and if it did not allow us to state that the gigantic event, as a whole, as a general event, was neither foreseen nor divined.

The Reign of Law

By "The Innocent Bystander."

X—The World State.
I have a little shadow that goes in and out with me, and whom I can never see. Who could have predicted in 1789 what form the more perfect union of American states would take in 1789? Who could have foretold precisely when the world would be united under one flag or United Italy in 1861, or the new French republic after the Commune?
Who could have traced during the Boer war
the outlines of the British empire today?
Who could have demonstrated that when the United States deferred to the A-B-C conference it would accomplish the practical union of the American republics in all their international relations?

Thirty or more bodies, national and international, are working toward the establishment of a world state. They are in Holland, Sweden, Switzerland, in the United States. In Canada, Germany, France, England. They propose world courts, arbitration courts, world legislatures, but there is no government that will not submit to the public opinion of nations, political ostracism for outlawry. All sorts of movements are distributing the boycott for moral pressure of opinion to a formally organized parliament of man.

We do not know the world state will be established, nor if it will take any form whatever.

We do know this. Society will not tolerate anarchy. Natural society and anarchy are contradictory terms. Society will destroy anarchy. Or anarchy will destroy society.

We know there is a society of nations as there never was until our time. We know that war is anarchy, the assertion of one nation's will as final law unto itself.

We know that these forces which were sufficient to establish the reign of law in the clan, in the tribe, in the kingdom, in the nation, in the group of states, are sufficient to establish the reign of law in the family of nations.

We have seen violence displaced by the will of the people, and the will of the community of nations shall henceforth put an end to the rule of violence among nations.

Passing Show: Motion Foreman Composi-tor—Three more of my men have enlisted this morning.

Editor—Ah, a wave of patriotism, I suppose.

Foreman Composer—Well! Perhaps that's the way to put it, but they say they would rather be shot than to set any more of your copy.

My Shadow.

I have a little shadow that goes in and out
with me,
And what can be the use of him is more than I can see.

He is very, very like me from the heels up to the head;
And I see him jump before me when I jump into my bed.

The funniest thing about him is the way he likes to grow—
Not at all like proper children, which is always very slow;

For he sometimes shoots up taller, like an instantaneous bell;
And he sometimes gets so little that there's none of him at all.

He hasn't got a notion of how children ought to play;
And can only make a fool of me in every sort of way.

He stays so close beside me, he's a coward,
You can see;
I'd think shame to stick to nurse as that shadow sticks to me.

One morning, very early, before the sun has risen,
I rose and found the shining dew on every blade;
But my lazy little shadow, like an arrant
sloth,
Had stayed at home behind me, and was fast asleep in bed.

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers in the Upper State.

And to Think T. R. Wasn't at San Juan Hill

What Lincoln said is as true today as it was then—"You can't fool all the people all the time." More and more widely you run upon comments like this from the Gully Advance:
"Ex-President Taft says that he must stand back of the president. No one has heard of T. R. expressing himself in such a patriotic manner."—Marquette Chronicle. And yet some people call T. R. the "hero of the battle of San Juan Hill." God save the mark!

Drastring Treatment.
Must we enlarge our state capital? The Baudette Region has another solution for the present difficulty: "The state capitol at St.
Paul is too small to accommodate the large number of state officers. To our mind the best solution is to divorce some of the officers from their jobs. It is a shame to have them slave for four or five hours a day for two or three thousand dollars a year."

The Venus de Milo Is the Only One Lacking Them.

Farley Dore of the Walker Pilot has begun to worry about what the fair sex will do. He says this "If the war is to blame for the way everything is going up, then we presume it is responsible for the six-inch rise in women's skirts. About a year long ago a woman and a woman will have to find a new place to carry her pocketbook."
But they can always use their hands to carry things in, or get a man to tote the stuff.

We Can Take Our Choice.

Of course it is every man's privilege to be reasonable if he thinks it more reasonable for him to be that way. But the Mankato Review gives a suggestion that ought to strike a popular chord, thus: "The Red Wing Republicans want the Stars and Stripes respected and feared" throughout the world.
There are some of us who think it more desirable that the Stars and Stripes be respected and loved."

Go to It!

We've heard a lot in recent years about the use of city schoolhouses outside of school hours. The Two Harbors Journal News shows evidence of the spread of the movement in a worth while direction: "It is good thing to utilize the country schoolhouses for the use of farmers' club and for other purposes designed to help the social and other features of country life. Where country schoolhouses have been thus used excellent results have followed. One alleged drawback of country life has been the isolation of families, and it is that which has helped to make such a draft from the country to town. If the sociability of the rural districts can be promoted it may do much to make the farmer and his family contented to remain on the land."

They Can Use Their Own Soles.

"Now that paper has become so scarce," says the Albert Lake Tribune, "it is not surprising that the shoe manufacturers going to use for soles." If they will try their own soles they'll strike about the toughest matterial extant.

Preparedness.

Preparedness has many ramifications.
For instance, this from the Montgomery Advertiser: "That 1916 Fourth of July celebration: Now is the time to whoop 'er up."

Have You Felt It Yet?

If it hasn't begun to get you yet you are probably reasonably near being immune.
The Hill City News man is "electic," for he says: "Along about this time of the year wherever two or three are gathered together in the name of the Walton things begin to get fishy right away. Innocent bystanders have to step warily to avoid getting a flash hook in the ear."

North Dakota Notions

Various Views Expressed by Newspapers of That State.

Justice Will Sooner or Later Overtake Us.
Fargo Courier-News: Maybe you don't need a switch behind the door at your home for your children; it was needed where you were children; but there's a good in picking for all grown-ups, and whoever goes wrong and does wrong to his fellowmen should not fool himself that he can get by with it. He'll get his just the same.

What Are They Talking About?

Minot Optic-Reporter: A North Dakota politician says he prefers to sit behind a pair rather than ride in an automobile. That's all right if the other fellow does not happen to have three of a kind.

In Short, They Would Go Back.

Fargo Democrat: A large number of Republicans would, if they could, go back to the Payne-Aldrich tariff and have it re-enacted.
They would go back to the tariff system, the elastic control of all that which the masses have to buy, and again make of this country an aristocratic and autocratic financial system. This is the present attitude of those Republicans who hope to control the Chicago convention.

Mr. Root's Disaffection.

Devils Lake Journal: If there are any fluttering hearts that need treatment after reading Senator Root's keynote speech in denunciation of the Democratic administration, it might be communicated to them that Mr.
Root would not have been any better passaged if the Democratic administration done exactly the opposite of what he objected to.

And Even That Seems to Evaporate.

Valley City Times-Record: About the only substitute for gasoline we have been able to discover is money.

Moral: Sell Your Turtle and Buy a Car.
Bismarck Tribune: A man driving a mudtuttle down the streets of Elizabeth, N. J., was sent to the workhouse for thirty days.
If he had been speeding in a high power automobile, the chances are that he would have escaped with a small fine or a gentle reprimand.

Official Permission?

Dakota when it wants to.

A SUGGESTION REGARDING THE TERMINAL FRANCHISE

To the Editor of The Herald:

The ordinance introduced granting to the Western Terminal railway a franchise to construct and operate a terminal system encircling the city was rightly refused as originally offered.

The construction of such a terminal would be of great value to the city; but the majority opinion condemns giving away these valuable rights for nothing. It is probable that the promoters of this railway intend to rely upon their rights of eminent domain and condemn a right of way.

In the case decided by our supreme court condemning an approach to the interstate bridge along Arthur avenue, it was laid down as a principle of law that a railroad company cannot condemn a lengthwise portion of a street except by two considerations; namely, that the railroad taking such property will compensate the city for the right to use those streets, excepting that they are granted such

The proposed right of way, applied for by the Western Terminal company, comes within the law as laid down in the Arthur avenue case. This right of way condemns portions of streets paralleling the proposed line, and as the city has a right to require a compensation for these streets, the city should insist upon a recognition of that right. The company cannot acquire the right to use these streets, excepting that they are granted such

As a compensation for such a right let the city grant the franchise asked for, and the construction is completed, the terminal company shall deed back to the city that portion of the road extending from First avenue east to Twelfth avenue west. ## EAST END SCHOOL BOY REPLIES TO COL. RESCHE

To the Editor of The Herald:

I refer to the article in the Open Court on April 8, 1916, by Col. F. E. Resche, entitled "Hoodlums Make Trouble at East End Armory." I am not one of the "three high school boys" mentioned, nor am I one of the boys who played "hooch" with the armory and its janitor. But I have some friends over to the armory with some friends, and on an evening, to watch the drilling and have been "promptly ejected" by Col. Resche's hasty, cunning janitor.

Mr. Resche says he caught a boy in the building committing a nuisance, and that when asked what he was doing, he responded in an unbecomingly vulgar language. I was not that boy and I do not know him. I know this, however, that the armory janitor, when we asked him why he kicked us out, responded in profane language and used the toe of his boots to excess on me.

When we added that we were conducting ourselves in a manly way while in the armory, and did not speak saucily to him, Mr. Resche says "Visitors—men, women and children, are always welcome." That excluded the janitor.

Yours truly,
A. SCHOOL BOY LIVING IN THE EAST END.

A PARAPHRASE DEALING WITH THE LIQUOR QUESTION

To the Editor of The Herald:

In Matthew xii, 43 we find these words:

"When the unclean spirit is gone out of man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and finding none. Then saith he, I will go into my house, from whence I came out, and will find it empty, swept, and garnished."

Then goeth he and taketh with himself seven other evil spirits, and enter into him, and live there, and the last state of Duluth is worse than the first. Even so it is with this wicked generation.

Here is a paraphrase:

"When the liquor traffic is gone out of Duluth, the liquor traffic goes to dry places seeking a foothold, but finding none. Then saith the liquor traffic, 'I will go back to my house (Duluth), from whence I went out, and will find it empty (free from liquor), swept and garnished (civilized).'"

Then goeth the liquor traffic and trafficketh with itself some other unclean spirits more wicked than itself, and they enter into Duluth and live there, and the last state of Duluth is worse than the first. Even so it is with this wicked Duluth.

Compare a boll on the body to the liquor traffic in Duluth. You naturally send for a doctor to remove the boll. He sets to in his accustomed manner to remove the boll, but under treatment the boll is apt to appear elsewhere on the body. There was a case for this boll and had the doctor removed the cause, the boll would not appear in effect.

The manufacture of liquor is prohibited, then and not until then can the liquor traffic be suppressed.

Superior, Wis., April 6.

WANTS PRISONERS PUT TO WORK IN OPEN AIR

To the Editor of The Herald:

Why don't you say, Mr. Resche, that we are the boys who have been making life a burden to you since you moved into the new armory, and be done with it. You may have certainly said the same words indirectly when in your article on Wednesday, you said that visitors—men, women and children—are always welcome. It seems that the last state of Duluth is worse than the first. Even so it is with this wicked Duluth.

To get out of the system that which is wrong there is nothing more beneficial than exercise in God's fresh air and sunshine.

MR. HOLMES PRAISED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like to state my private opinion concerning Roy J. Holmes as an English instructor and his dismissal from the school.

I am at present a student of the Duluth Central high school and have had Mr. Holmes for my teacher during the whole of this year and I can honestly say that he is by far the best English teacher I have ever had and that I have learned more from him than all the others combined.

Mr. Holmes firmly believes in the honor system. Why not? I am sure that it would be a success in the Duluth Central high school if it had a public school system. We know that the system is being successfully tried in some of the state prisons; and surely it would work in school as the students cannot be so very much worse than convicts. Let us give the honor system a chance and then watch.

Mr. Holmes' attractive personality has won him the friendship of the students in high school. He trusts the student and they trust him. His is their friend as well as teacher and he

The Little Boy in Green.

Hear the strains of music; see the merry throng.
Through the crowded gateway, people press along.
All within is splendor, happiness and joy.
The scene is on a race course on a Derby day.
The music ceases its playing, the bugle echoes loud.
To the post the horses come, before the yelling crowd.
Mount and dismount, on a horse they call serene.
Was the people's favorite, the Little Boy in Green.

A little boy in colors green, a lad with golden hair,
A pair of bright blue eyes that gleam
People cheered when he appeared, for they had never seen
A sweeter face ride in a race than the Little Boy in Green.

Seated in a grandstand with the gay and glad,
Is a widowed mother waiting for her lad.
Her only son a jockey, but still in tender years,
The thought he lived in danger caused
"The race will soon be over," she whispers with a sigh.
"Then I'll have a chance to speak to my darling boy."

The cry, "They're off!" is shouted, and the Little Boy in Green
The lad the widow waits for—the Little Boy in Green.
See the flying horses! What a pretty sight.
Silken canopies flashing in the bright sun.
Oh, what joy and gladness fills each happy face;
Their horses are free from sorrow, their thoughts are of the race.
Gracious God above us! The leading horse is the Little Boy in Green.

The mangled, little form was carried through the crowd,
The mother, in her indignation, a woman's scream—
"God, O save my only son, the Little Boy in Green!"

Down where the cotton blossoms grow,
I was going home again,
Low, low, rings a cry; a horse dashes by,
From out the ranks of blue;
Gallops away to where Jack lay, as a voice comes from the crowd and true:

"Did you think I could leave you dying,
When there's room on my horse for Climb up here, Jack; we'll soon be flying."
To the ranks of the boys in blue.
Did you say, Jack, I'm all a tremble?
Well, perhaps it's the battle's noise;
Or it may be that I remember
When we were two little boys."

"Norway."
(The Land of the Midnight Sun.)
Norway, Norway, Norway, Norway,
I long there to be, for someone waits for me.
There I found the idol of my heart.
My thoughts all are drifting your way;
I love you still, though we're apart.

When I reached the dear old place
Every one was so glad to see me,
Brought to my heart a throb of untold joy.
As each darkey took his stand,
I then shook each by the hand,
For I knew them since I'd been a boy.
Then a sweet and joyous cry
I heard from the crowd below,
And my mother kissed me as in long ago.

"Twas a girlish form drew near,
'Twas my sweetheart, Kate, so dear,
In my home down where the cotton blossoms grow."

Picture tonight a field of snowy white;
Hear the darkey say, for someone waits for me,
I long there to be, for someone waits for me.
There I found the idol of my heart.
My thoughts all are drifting your way;
I love you still, though we're apart.

When I reached the dear old place
Every one was so glad to see me,
Brought to my heart a throb of untold joy.
As each darkey took his stand,
I then shook each by the hand,
For I knew them since I'd been a boy.
Then a sweet and joyous cry
I heard from the crowd below,
And my mother kissed me as in long ago.

"When We Were Two Little Boys."
Two little boys and two little toys;
Gaily they'd play each summer's day,
In the yard where the cotton blossoms grow.
One little chap then had a mishap—
Broke off his horse's head;
Wept for his loss, but with joy,
As his young comrade said:

"Did you think I could see you crying,
When there's room on my horse for Climb up here, Joe, and don't be sighing."
To the ranks of the boys in blue.
Did you say, Joe, I'm all a tremble?
Well, perhaps it's the battle's noise;
Or it may be that I remember
When we were two little boys."

He can go just as fast with two.
When we grow up we'll both be soldiers,
And our horses will not be toys.
Then I wonder if you'll remember
When we were two little boys."

Long years have passed, the war came and the peace;
But the dear old place is still the same,
And the darkey who was so glad to see me,
Brought to my heart a throb of untold joy.

KILLED BY CAR AND AUTO

Edward Godmere Struck First By Machine While Crossing Street.

Hurled Under Car, Receiving Injuries Which Prove Fatal.

Edward Godmere, aged 22, was almost instantly killed at about 1 o'clock Sunday morning by being struck by an automobile driven by Edwin Johnson, 307 North Central avenue, and dragged by an eastbound street car for about 100 feet on Onota street. The accident occurred at the breakup of a party at the home of J. McKusick, 4618 Onota street.

Godmere, with several other young men, had gone out on the sidewalk. They intended crossing the street, but were waiting for the street car which was but a short distance away, to pass. Godmere stepped onto the sidewalk and started to cross the carline ahead of the car. He failed to notice an automobile on the other side and almost ran into it.

The automobile struck him a terrific blow and cast him up against the street car, his clothes becoming entangled in the journals of the car wheels. He was dragged a nearly three car lengths before it was brought to a stop.

Godmere was still breathing when picked up by his friends. Johnson's automobile was brought to a stop in a short distance of the accident and the young man was taken in it to the Duluth hospital, where he died shortly afterwards.

The accident was witnessed by several young men among them being Clarence Flynn, 102 Forty-eighth avenue, Richard Hivage, 517 Wagona street, Joseph Perry, 6101 Roosevelt street, and J. McNulty, all of whom had been at the party.

Godmere was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Godmere, 606 North Sixteenth avenue west. He leaves besides his parents, one sister, Mrs. Frank Anstitt, two brothers, Eugene of Duluth and William of Portland, Or.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the St. James Catholic church with interment in Calvary cemetery.

Dies After Short Illness.
Florida, the 11-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Olson, 512 Nicollet street, died yesterday.

GREEN, THE NOTED CACTUS JUICE MAN, IS IN DULUTH, MINN.

Duluth, Minn., April 8, 1916. E. V. Green, the Cactus Juice man, is in the city, at the Holland. Mr. Green comes here from other large cities, where he has spent many months meeting the public, and has attracted widespread attention through his views on health and hygiene. Mr. Green is a man of rare talent, magnetic force and charm of manner; he never ceases to surprise you with the infinite variety of his knowledge and absolute thoroughness and correctness.

Most of the ill health of today is due almost entirely to those having that which best distinguishes the white man from the savage of the jungle. He claims that nine times out of ten it is the result more or less of a weak, disordered stomach and nine times out of ten these disorders are due to too much eating and drinking and to too little outdoor exercise, but it is always possible, he says, to make some effort toward a healthy living, and in connection with the expression of his views, he is introducing his famous Cactus Juice Compound. To prove his advanced thoughts, Mr. Green is in Duluth for the purpose of giving the people of this city the advantage to be derived from Mr. Green's knowledge in medicinal roots and herbs. He tells an interesting story of Cactus Juice, which is called the Master Medicine. He states that it is made mainly from juices of fruit, roots, herbs and herbs gathered from most remote parts of the earth. This medicine obtains its high efficiency by the direction of E. Seiler, noted germ chemist.

It is plain that Cactus Juice quickly overcomes stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal as well as catarrhal affections and will actually prolong life by restoring and keeping up the vigor of youth in a number of cases. American cities, thousands have been converted to Mr. Green's views and have been benefited by Cactus Juice.

Mr. Green is very philanthropic to the suffering public. He will be here in one of the prominent drug stores of Duluth to direct the introduction of Cactus Juice so that it may do the most good. The Duluth agency has been about decided upon, said Mr. Green, and the name of the drugist will soon be announced.—Advertisement.

WOULD CHANGE POLLING STATION
Residents of Morgan Park Seek Better Location for Booth.

Residents of Morgan Park will urge the city commissioners to place the booth of the Forty-first voting district in Morgan Park. The voting place has been in Smithville, which up to the last two years, has been the most thickly settled part of the district.

Since the building of the steel plant's residence district the heavy voting population is in Morgan Park. It is said that there are between 200 and 300 citizens who will be unable to do so if the polling place is situated in Smithville. The entire voting strength of Smithville and Spirit Lake, which formerly made up the district, has averaged about thirty voters.

It is only fair that the city commissioners should move the polling place to the center of population of the district, said Oliver S. Olson yesterday. "When employees of the plant come home from work in the evening they will not vote if they have to walk a mile or two to cast their ballot. Then the city commissioners should move the polling place to Morgan Park now, and this number is steadily increasing."

HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR.
Western Curling Club Will Hold Its Annual Meeting.

The annual business meeting of the Western Curling Club will be held tomorrow evening at the clubhouse on Fifty-seventh street, between Herby and Bristol streets. Election of officers, distribution of prizes and other business matters will be taken up.

The present officers of the club are: Frank H. Wade, president; Ernest Anderson, vice president; D. C. Valen, secretary; and W. H. Gatchell, treasurer. The club has had one of its most successful years.

GROGER IMPRISONED IN HIS REFRIGERATOR
John J. Thorpe, grocer at 517 West Eighth street, went into his store yesterday morning to get some articles from his refrigerator. On stepping in he closed the door behind him and the lock snapped into place, making him a prisoner.

After repeatedly pounding on the door the noise in the shop attracted the attention of Rev. Herbert Ford, who lives in the flat over the shop. He went downstairs and entered the store, releasing Mr. Thorpe from his prison.

Brassard Funeral.
The funeral of Joseph Brassard, aged 58, 429 Wadena street, who died Saturday morning, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Firing Revolver Costly.
Rade Kusmanovic of Gary began celebrating yesterday morning by firing a revolver in the air several times at Gary. Patrolman McKenna took him in tow after the fusillade. He deposited $25 bail money with the police for his appearance in court this morning, but failed to show. Judge Lammers declared the bail forfeited.

Infant Dies.
Arthur I. Nelson, aged 11 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson, 421 North Fifty-third avenue west, died yesterday morning after a short illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, with interment in Onota cemetery.

WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS

Missabe Road Prepared to Haul 20,000,000 Tons This Year.

The greatest ore hauling season in the history of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad is expected during the coming summer. A third more ore than ever has been hauled before in one year will be brought over this railroad to the local docks according to expectations of officials.

The company expects to ship 20,000,000 tons this year. The greatest previous record was 15,000,000 tons. Preparations for this enormous traffic are now all complete. Every engine and car has been given thorough overhauling. The machine shops of Proctor have been busy all winter making necessary repairs to the rolling stock.

The three docks have also been given a thorough inspection and machinery for operating the pockets and loading the boats has been tested and found all to be in first class shape for starting.

The opening of navigation is what we are now waiting for," said Supt. J. W. Kreitzer. "We expect to make this our banner season. Our estimate of the amount of ore we will haul has been placed at 20,000,000 tons."

CONCRETE FOR CENTRAL AVENUE
Property Owners Select Material; Width of Paving Decided.

Central avenue property owners at their meeting Saturday evening decided that the thoroughfare should be paved with one-course concrete. The contract for improvement will be let within a short time by the city commission.

The street will be paved to a width of 30 feet from Co. street to Sixth street. It will be 24 feet wide from Sixth street to Highland and 2 feet wide above Highland to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern right-of-way.

The meeting Saturday evening was attended by about twenty property owners or representatives of owners along the street. The class of material used in paving the thoroughfare to New Duluth was decided as the best, and agreed upon. This is granite concrete, reinforced.

Old Resident Summoned.
Mrs. Boda Franson, wife of Charles Franson, 413 West Fourth street, died Saturday afternoon following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Franson had been a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-seven years. She was the widow of her husband, two daughters. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Franson undertaking home, with burial in Onota cemetery.

West Duluth Briefs.
Mrs. Jerome M. Knapp is reported seriously ill at her home, 17 North Sixth street. Mrs. Knapp suffered a severe relapse after getting up from a sick bed. Mrs. Knapp is the widow of her husband, two daughters. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Franson undertaking home, with burial in Onota cemetery.

About thirty more applications have been made for hotel licenses, but these will not come up for action until reports have been made by Chief McKercher.

The following applications for saloon licenses renewals will come up for action this afternoon: Ollie Lowry, 230 East Superior street, being a transfer from that ONE SPOONFUL relieves all stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adie's is astonishing. W. A. Abbott, druggist.

Two Proprietors Must See Plumber Before Getting Permits.

When is a hotel not a hotel? "When it hasn't a bath," is Commissioner Silberstein's answer. Two hotels without baths will be denied hotel licenses at the council meeting this afternoon.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, said this morning that Chief McKercher has made reports on twenty-four of the applications, and that twenty-two of these will be recommended for licenses at the council session today. The other two hotels, which are the Hotel Duane and the Hotel Duane, will be rejected, the safety head said, because of the insanitary conditions reported by the police. Neither hotel has a bathroom, the reports state.

PATROLMAN KNOCKED DOWN

Five Youths Assault Officer Magnuson, Who Sustains Broken Arm.

Gang at Dance Hall Arrested; Hearing Set for April 18.

While attempting to quell a disturbance in a dance hall at Twenty-first avenue west and First street Saturday night, Patrolman Neil R. Magnuson was knocked down, sustaining a broken arm and severe lacerations about the head and body.

Five alleged "toughs," who attacked the officer and after felling him, were held in $100 bail on assault charges today in municipal court. The officer is in St. Luke's hospital.

Emmet J. Savage, 24, and James P. Green, 24, two of the alleged ring leaders, were caught in Proctor Sunday evening by Detectives Herman Tuohy and J. L. Bradley, after a bit of quick work on the part of the officers. With them was Driver Eckard.

Clarence B. Jones, 22, Frank Mulcahy, 23, and John Skom, 23, were arrested at the dance hall by Sergt. Hunter and Officer Magnuson.

The dance hall proprietor called for police when, it is alleged, Savage started a fight. Magnuson collided with him and started for the door, fighting his way through a surging crowd. Green and the other three jumped upon the officer when he reached the door with his prisoner, and downed him.

With one arm useless, Magnuson fought his way to his feet and drove the toughs into the street with his club, not daring to stop and draw his gun. Sergt. Hunter arrived a minute later and took charge, jailing the three.

Savage and Green, escaped to Proctor, but were caught in their hotel by the two detectives. Both men were armed with automatics, according to police.

Magnuson is married and lives at 111 Twenty-seventh avenue west. The five men plead guilty to the assault charges. Judge F. H. Cutting will hear them on April 18.

AFTER RAGING FIGHT WITH REVOLVERS, POLICE CAPTURE TWO MUCH-WANTED BANDITS

Sunday Afternoon Pleasure Seekers See Thrilling Chase in Superior.Youth Brings Down One of Fugitives With Bullet in Leg.Second Surrenders When Cornered Under Grassy Point Bridge.

Murder, attempted murder, and twelve charges of highway robbery have been lodged by police of Duluth, St. Paul and Superior against Brady Henry, 24, and Frank Engman, alias Frank Wentry, alias Frank Olson, alias Frank Finn, 23, who were captured in a running gun fight in Superior yesterday afternoon.

Henry's left arm, amputated below the elbow, attracted the attention of Clifford Wright, clerk in a Billings Park confectionery store, and started the cross-country chase, which ended when Engman was shot through the leg and Henry threw up his arms at the Grassy Point bridge.

Last night, in the Superior police station Henry is said to have admitted that he was the man who killed Joseph Young of Cleveland, Ohio, April 1, in a St. Paul saloon, when Young refused to throw up his hands. He also said that he and Engman were the ones who held up various stores in West Duluth and Superior, terrorizing merchants for a week.

Both men are ex-convicts and have long criminal records. Henry's parents resided at 27 North Third street, St. Paul, and Engman's parents live at 118 Second avenue east.

The pair walked into the confectionery store at the end of the Billings Park line, purchased some articles, and offered a $5 bill in payment. Clifford Wright, son of the proprietor, thought it was a joke.

After some quick thinking, he said he couldn't change the bill, and the two men left. Henry then turned toward the right, heading for the Grassy Point bridge, and Engman followed him.

Henry gained steadily and was distancing the officer when Clifford Wright, aged 18, Iowa avenue, Superior, followed in a touring car and his said to be an expert shot, had gone home and secured his revolver when police called for him.

"Shall I shoot?" he called to Capt. Osborn, as the two men fled.

"Plug him," was the reply.

Engman saw that he was losing ground and turned, yelling a profane order at Westry to turn back if he wanted to live.

Westry redoubled his speed, and a minute later Engman shot twice. Then Henry turned back and his bullet hit him in the leg.

In the meantime, Henry was racing for the bridge, but Duluth and Superior police were closing in on him, and he was a little chagrined.

First he ran into a trap to their tender, and Stahl, aiming a shotgun, shot him in the back. Henry then turned back and his bullet hit him in the leg.

told him to throw up his hands. Instead of complying, Henry climbed over the railing and hid in a dark corner beneath the bridge.

Patrolman Oscar Peterson of Duluth fired at Henry's feet, which projected, and from another angle another officer tried a shot.

"One more try and we'll get you," cautioned Peterson, "you'd better come out."

Henry's automatic came rolling down the bank a minute later and the rifle followed with his hands in the air.

Capt. A. G. Fiskett, Lieut. F. A. Schulte, Sergt. Andrew and Patrolman Charles Stahl, all of the Duluth force, were at the Minnesota end of the bridge with Peterson, while Detective Mead, with Patrolman Peterson, and Donald and Hawkins of Superior closed in from the Wisconsin end.

Chief R. D. McKercher was not far from the Grassy Point bridge, searching for two men alleged to have assaulted Patrolman Neil Magnusson Saturday night, when the alarm was given.

to turn Hill 804, which lies 800 yards south and constitutes what is characterized as the Churilla in the French line in that district. This attack met with more success than the other, but at the close of the day the French held exactly the same position as at the beginning of the attack.

The German losses are again said to have been on the basis of 50 per cent of the effectives engaged and these include a considerable proportion of the German reserves.

French Encouraged.

Paris, April 10.—The failure of the latest great hammer stroke of the Germans at Verdun has already greatly encouraged the French press and public and confirms still further the general confidence felt in the ability of the high command. The attack is stated to have been one of the most determined of the great blows delivered since the battle began fifty days ago and yet it yielded the least results of any of them, although the crown prince hurled two whole army corps against the French line.

As Bethincourt formed a dangerous salient its evacuation had been expected for some time and many military observers long ago criticized its retention. Gen. Foch, however, was insistent in letting it go at exactly the right moment is now highly praised. While of little value to the French it is of almost none to the Germans, as it is located in a hollow commanded by French guns on all sides, out of which it is practically impossible for them to debouch.

Secretary Baker received word today that the railroad situation in Mexico was much improved and that supplies in increasing quantities were being forwarded to the American troops in Mexico. He informed the press that the Carranza forces were co-operating with the American troops.

No Information of Mobilization.

Secretary Baker said he had no information regarding El Paso rumors that Carranza troops were being mobilized along the American line of communication. He also declared Gen. Funston had not indicated need for additional troops in Mexico.

The another train load of forage, canned goods and other supplies is reported to have left El Paso.

The first of the eight new aeroplanes recently ordered for the troops in Mexico will be shipped to Gen. Funston today, has already been delivered at the testing grounds at Newport News, Va. It will be shipped to Gen. Funston early this week. Delivery of another biplane to the Mexican army is expected this week also has been promised.

Mexicans Uneasy.

State department dispatches today indicate that officials of the Mexican de facto government are viewing with some anxiety the continued presence of American troops in Mexico. An dispatch authoritatively was described today as containing a hint that certain Mexican officials believed the purpose of the American punitive expedition had been accomplished.

Consul General Rodgers, it was learned today, has advised the department that de facto government officials at Queretaro had intimated to him they would like to know how long the United States intended to keep the troops in Mexico. Administration officials in a position to be familiar with the Mexican situation said the de facto government had not indicated the purpose of the American punitive expedition should be withdrawn. It was admitted in various quarters, however, that such action by the de facto government would not be surprising.

Dispatches from consuls in various sections of Mexico described conditions generally as being good.

TOWER CONSIDERING SITE FOR SCHOOL

Tower Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for the proposed new $50,000 school building have been submitted to the school board by Architect Bray of Duluth, but various changes will be made therein before they can be accepted. The selection of a site is now being discussed and it is likely the decision will be by vote of the people. Two sites are being considered and various opinions being given in favor of each; one of the sites is north of the Morcom and Osterberg residences on North Third street, while the other is south of South Third street, near the river. Both sites are admirable situated and with the variety of opinions daily expressed, the board will, no doubt, submit the decision to a vote of the people.

BY BRUCE.

Tris Speaker is about to retire from baseball. He has been sold to the Cleveland team.

It's An Ill Wind That Blows, Etc. The Cubs did not lose Saturday. A wind storm prevented them from playing.

The Price Is Going Up. It is declared that Cleveland baseball officials paid $50,000 for Tris Speaker. This should bring the value of the entire team up to $51,000.03.

The Hopes That Bloom in the Spring, Tra La. Wisconsin football fans are very optimistic right now. During the spring and summer months is the only time the Wisconsin football fans have to be optimistic in.

It's No Use Advocating It. An Ohio fighter declares that shining shoes is a most excellent method of training. However, a method of training that involves any real labor will never become very popular.

Some Great Runners Down There. An Austin, Tex., sprinter is said to have run 100 yards in 9 and 4-5 seconds the other day. Right across the boundary line, though, there are also some runners who have been displaying great form.

Two Methods of Punishment. Every once in a while a great man is sent to the penitentiary and every now and then a great baseball player is sent to the penitentiary.

Some Inside Information. Maybe Raymond Smith knew Tris Speaker was going to be sold to the Cleveland team.

It Should Be a Great Year for Ty. Ty Cobb has said scarcely anything this spring. This leads to the belief that Ty Cobb is in grand condition.

It Is Rather Peculiar. Many men have attempted to follow pursuits they were totally unfitted for. Napoleon Bonaparte wanted to be able to write great poetry. Tennyson yearned to become a political power. William Bryan longed to become president. Nero wanted to join the musicians. Nero and Carl Morris has a great hankering to become a fighter.

is sentenced to the Cleveland baseball team.

However, This Has Not Been Confirmed.

It is stated that if the trouble between the United States and Mexico is adjusted within the next few months, that Mexico will send a team of Marathon runners to the 1916 Olympic games.

Well, the Cause Is Just. A headline says, "The News that Speaker is coming to Cleveland will be hailed with great joy by Cleveland baseball fans." Speaking of Cleveland baseball fans, it is believed he'll celebrate over the Speaker matter by going out and becoming intoxicated.

The Lines of Inspiration. A coach named Mathew Mann developed a swimmer named Teddy Cann, who, it is believed, is destined to become the next world's champion.

The youngster, not yet 18 years of age, but recently swam 100 yards in 55 and 4-5 seconds. All this suggests the following lyric lines: Mann, Mann, the guy who developed Cann!

Mann, Mann, do you think Cann can? Mann, Mann, on hurry place a ball—Please, old Mann, do not rush our Cann.

If Justice Was Meted Out. Judge—What is the prisoner charged with, officer?

Officer—Vagrancy, your honor; without visible means of support. Judge—Prisoner, what do you do? Prisoner—I am a member of the Cincinnati baseball team, may it please your honor.

Judge—Sixty days.

SPEAKER FIGURES IN BIG BASEBALL DEAL

TRIS SPEAKER.

The sale of Tris Speaker of the Boston Red Sox to the Cleveland Americans marks the biggest baseball deal of years. Speaker has been called the greatest outfielder in baseball. Critics of the game have often called the Sox a better outfielder than Ty Cobb. With Lewis and Hooper, Speaker composed the greatest outfield in baseball. The passing of Speaker will break up an outfield combination that has played together for many seasons. If a player of the ultra ability of Speaker cannot command a war time salary, it appears certain that the days of excessive salaries for ball players have passed.

NEW INDOOR MARK FOR POLE VAULTTwo Youths Make It at Chicago Meet; Hard Struggle.

Chicago, April 10.—The new world's indoor record in the pole vault, made jointly by Percy Graham and Ed Knourek at the Central A. A. U.'s annual indoor meet, came after a struggle between the two for the championship that lasted well into Saturday morning. Knourek, a working boy, who wears the colors of the Illinois Athletic club, was first to cross the bar at the new mark of 12 feet, 10 inches, but Graham surmounted it on his first trial.

Thereafter, neither could raise his vault, and in the jump-off with the bar lowered, Graham won the championship. Graham, now a freshman at the University of Chicago, began his pole vaulting career a few years ago when a student at University high school here.

Both he and Knourek will be credited with the new mark, which beat by more than 2 inches the record made by Gold of Wisconsin at Evanston two years ago.

Dunn would never have paid $50,000 for me if he hadn't wanted me. I am sure I will be worth it to him.

SPEAKER NOT CERTAIN.
Will See Lannin Before Agreeing to His Sale to Indians.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—Tris Speaker, famous center fielder for the Boston American league team whose sale to the Cleveland club was announced yesterday, said last night that it was not yet a certainty that he would go to the Cleveland team. Speaker came here from New York to have a talk with President Lannin of the Red Sox about the deal.

"There is no need of my saying that this deal was a complete surprise to me," said Speaker. "I nearly took me off my feet. As I understood it, Mr. Lannin had practically agreed upon terms. After talking with him on Friday I concluded that our deal was practically fixed up and that there was no longer anything between me and my continuance as a member of the Red Sox team, save the signing of a contract."

"I realize the difference now. I shall see Mr. Lannin and look for an explanation. I have not signed any contract with the Cleveland club yet, although I believe that as far as I am concerned, the Boston club no longer has me on its list. Whether I shall go to Cleveland remains to be seen. As I said, everything depends upon my interview with Mr. Lannin."

Cleveland, Ohio, April 10.—President James Dunn of the Cleveland baseball club was to have arrived here today to close the deal with Boston by which the Cleveland club will come to Cleveland. He will get into communication with Speaker by long distance telephone and will talk salary with him.

NORTHERN LEAGUE SHOULD FURNISH FAST BASEBALLWith More Players on the Market and the Salary Limit of the Circuit Increased, It Is Expected That the Best Brand of Ball Played in Years Will Be Shown to Fans.

Starting with the present week, baseball candidates for Northern league teams will begin to show their wares. The call has been sent out to the men working the kinks out of their systems.

Darby O'Brien will have about thirty men from whom to select the team that is to represent Duluth at the start of the season. The book's material is about evenly divided between tried players and green recruits. Of the old men it is certain that Altman, Wolfe, Schroeder, Culver, Moore and Fosten will be back. It is believed that young Mickey McGraw will again be a candidate for the team.

Uncle Sam has been working industriously during the winter months, despite the fact that his position as manager of Fargo was not clinched. As a result of this activity and the generosity of Joe Chaffin, the Fargo team will enter the race with a very formidable lineup.

Winnipeg Looks Good. Along with Fargo is it quite safe to stifle a bet on Winnipeg. Charley Moll will handle the reins at the bat and he will have a number of fast year's St. Boniface players to rely upon. With the scrappy youngsters of the St. Boniface team and some of the veterans of last year's Winnipeg team he has material to weld into a fast-playing aggregation. Moll is a capable and hustling leader and he is sure to make the best of his men.

Port William is an uncertainty and will remain so until the season gets well under way. Lefty Davis is a capable leader and should make a good showing with the Virginia team. Most of the members of last year's Virginia team will be on hand again this year. Davis was but recently appointed to the pilothip of the team and has had but little time to line up some new men. However, the big league veteran knows a ball player when he lumps one and knows, moreover, where to lay his hands on a lot of good performers.

Recently an ad was inserted in several of the Chicago newspapers, requesting that promising ball players communicate with the manager of the Virginia club. Some fast semi-professionals may be picked up around dear old Chi, where there are a multitude of capable players.

Superior a Mystery. Fans at the Head of the Lakes will be able to get a line on the Superior team before the opening of the regular Northern league season May 1. A series of exhibition games has been arranged between Duluth and the ball team across the bay, so that the fans will have the opportunity of forming their own opinions as to what to expect from the material Braghtin has secured.

Superior had a joke team during the short time it remained in the league last season. There is little to fall back on in the way of tried ball players. The former Appleton leader is said to have been very busy in lining up some promising recruits. Fans across the way believe that the Red

"PLAY BALL" IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES WEDNESDAY

Baseball Season Among Higher Grade Teams About to Open.

Chicago, April 11.—Preparations for the opening tomorrow of the 1916 major league baseball season, nearing completion today. Painters, decorators, groundskeepers, office officials were about ready to stop work, and the players and fans were anxiously awaiting the going which will start the national pastime on its way.

Closely watched in both the National and American leagues, the teams representing the various clubs were nearing home today from their training camps and each took the fielder Jones back into the younger major league were some of the things which promised to keep the fans talking.

In the American league the fifteenth annual opening promised to be a memorable one. Several big deals, which were the surprise of the baseball world, and the new ownership of several of the clubs and the coming of the famous Fielder Jones back into the younger major league were some of the things which promised to keep the fans talking.

B. Dan Johnson, president of the American league, said that with the baseball war over and all the clubs in its circuit strengthened and more evenly balanced than in years, he expected to see one of the best seasons the game has ever had. He said the sale of Speaker to Cleveland would make that club a contender, and would also even up the league.

President Turner of the National league said that baseball would have one of its best seasons this year, on account of the abolishment of the Federal league and the enthusiasm which has been shown by the players during their early spring training.

Many Fight For Positions. There are a large number of surplus players in the two leagues who will have to battle hard for positions. Young blood appears on the roster of most of the clubs, and some of the veterans will have to hustle to hold their berths.

National season opens with the following games:

Chicago at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.
New York at Philadelphia.
Boston at Brooklyn.

The American opens as follows:
Detroit at Chicago.
St. Louis at Cleveland.
Washington at New York.
Philadelphia at Boston.

FARGO-MOORHEAD WILL BE IN RACE

Col. Unglaub Has Three New Twirlers for His Team.

Fargo, N. D., April 11.—Col. Robert Unglaub, who expects to pilot the Fargo-Moorhead Northern league team to another pennant during the coming season, has arrived here. He was accompanied by Mrs. Unglaub and daughter and took up headquarters at the Comstock hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Unglaub and daughter left Baltimore about a week ago, coming direct to Minneapolis.

Col. Unglaub journeyed out to the baseball park and looked the place over. He found the diamond and grounds in poor condition and announced upon his return that it would require a lot of work to put the plot in shape for spring training.

"I never felt better," said the colonel in talking to friends.

"Do you expect to have a strong team this season?" inquired one of his listeners.

"That all depends," he answered. "At any event you can bet your bottom dollar that the other clubs will know that Fargo-Moorhead is in the race."

In Minneapolis, Col. Unglaub secured the services of three pitchers from the Cantillon, owners of the Minneapolis club. They are Lester Smith, Bob Hubbard and Bob Ingersoll.

Smith is a product of Renville, Hubbard of Kellier, and Ingersoll of Minneapolis. They are all experienced and should make good in this company.

Sheboygan, Wis., April 11.—The North Side Improvement association voted last night in favor of organizing a club to enter the proposed Wisconsin-Michigan Baseball league.

The matter will be taken up tonight by the Sheboygan association and Thursday night by the South Side and West Side advancement associations. The proposed league would include Sheboygan, Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay, Marinette-Menominee and Racine. Robert Lynch, Green Bay, is promoting the league.

SAYS PEAT LANDS ARE VERY FERTILE

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gilbert A. Benson says that peat lands are just as good, if not better, than the ordinary kind for farming, and he ought to know for he lives at Malcolm, Beltrami county, near Grygila, and has cared for a peat farm for four years and is making it pay. Not only is Benson's word given that it is all right, but he has the peat lands to show it. They show growing on forty-two inches of peat that is eighty-eight inches in height, and only five feet tall on two feet of peat.

Benson disputes the statement made by soil experts of the state agricultural college that peat lands have to be broken up or fertilized to make them yield. His ryegrass crop was raised on the raw bog, after it had been drained, the bog turned over, and pulverized. Since then Benson states he has raised three crops, all good ones, and that at any place on his peat land he can obtain excellent yields of hay from planting a clover and timothy mixture.

Full Crew Will Be Employed; Busy Season Expected.

The Duluth Rock Crusher plant at the summit of Fifty-seventh avenue west is resuming operations. About thirty men, half of the number usually employed, have been at work since this number will be increased so that within another two weeks the entire crew will be at work.

Many improvements have been made by the company within the last year. Last week the company received a new hoisting engine, which will be utilized in hoisting large stones into the crusher. The crusher is capable of handling rocks weighing two tons.

The improvements made at the plant last fall included the installing of the new crusher and practically doubling the capacity of the plant. Formerly stones weighing from 300 to 500 pounds were the largest the crusher could take, but with the new machinery stones ten times as large can be crushed.

According to officials the plant expects to have a very busy season. An average of about twenty carloads of stone will be shipped daily from the plant.

MEETS DEATH UNDER WHEELS

John H. Markuson Is Victim of South Shore Passenger Train.

Was Crossing the Tracks at Twenty-Ninth Avenue West.

John H. Markuson, a pioneer resident of West Duluth, was ground to death under the wheels of passenger train No. 6 of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad and was killed crossing at Twenty-ninth avenue west and Michigan street at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was struck by the engine and knocked under the wheels and the locomotive and two cars passed over his body.

Mr. Markuson had been in Superior during the early part of the afternoon, and on his way home had stopped at Twenty-ninth avenue west. He told Patrolman A. L. Noren that he had seen Mr. Markuson struck by the engine and run over by the train, but had not noticed how he had come to be on the tracks.

The body was taken to the Olson & Hoppenan undertaking room where funeral arrangements will probably be made this afternoon.

Mr. Markuson had been a resident of West Duluth since 1890. He came here from Marquette, Mich. Shortly after his arrival he opened a grocery store and meat market on Grand avenue and was in this business until a few years ago. He was interested in the Duluth and Superior railroad. With his family at 220 North Fifty-sixth avenue west.

He leaves behind him his widow two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Lindberg and Mrs. E. J. Lindberg, both of this city, and one son, J. Markuson, of Grand Rapids, N. D. It is probable that the funeral will arrive here today to attend the funeral.

Many improvements have been made by the company within the last year. Last week the company received a new hoisting engine, which will be utilized in hoisting large stones into the crusher. The crusher is capable of handling rocks weighing two tons.

The improvements made at the plant last fall included the installing of the new crusher and practically doubling the capacity of the plant. Formerly stones weighing from 300 to 500 pounds were the largest the crusher could take, but with the new machinery stones ten times as large can be crushed.

According to officials the plant expects to have a very busy season. An average of about twenty carloads of stone will be shipped daily from the plant.

PEOPLE WHO ARE SUFFICIENT

Little Doubt But That Firemen Have Enough Signatures.

Voters Will Decide Whether Double Platoon Will Be Established.

The firemen's initiative ordinance, which was passed by the voters of Duluth last year, is now being carried out. A sufficient number of signatures, according to an unofficial opinion given out this noon by City Clerk Borgen. This makes it certain that Duluth will have an election before July 1 on the establishing of a double-platoon system for the firemen.

Four cities students from the Central high school began checking the names of the 98 signers of the initiative ordinance, according to Mr. Borgen, that at least two-thirds of the signers are legal voters of the city. The amount has been running higher than this on the early checkings made today, he said.

The initiative petition calling for the passage of an ordinance establishing a double platoon system for the firemen is signed by approximately 8,000 voters, so that the required number of 2,664 will be reached without any difficulty. According to the charter, an initiative measure must bear 20 per cent of the total number of votes cast at the last general municipal election. A year ago the total vote cast was 12,222.

Indications are that the initiative ordinance will be submitted to the voters of the city at the same time that a vote is taken on the charter amendments now being prepared by the charter commission.

BLACKBILLS WILL MAKE HEARING

Twenty Robberies, One Murder and Attempted Murder Charged.

Are Held in $10,000 Bail By Superior Judge.

Brady Henry and Frank Engman, alias Frank Engman, two boys with criminal records paralleling the early exploits of the James brothers, were arraigned in Superior municipal court yesterday afternoon.

On charges of highway robbery they were held in $10,000 bail by Judge Parker and will be given a hearing Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Twenty robberies, a murder and an attempted murder have been laid at the door of these two young men, ex-convicts, who were captured Sunday in Superior after a running gun fight in which Engman was shot. He came into court on crutches.

Brady is said to have confessed to shooting Joseph Young of Cleveland, Ohio, in a St. Paul saloon recently, when the two held up the place at the point of revolvers.

On their own admissions, the pair are responsible for the Young murder, the shooting of George Neas, Superior shoe maker, for five robberies in Superior and six in Duluth, since March 13.

The charges now against them include the shooting of Neas, and the holdup of Waterston's confectionery store, Billings Park, Superior. The maximum penalty for these crimes is prison. They prefer to "face the music" in Superior, as they put it, rather than go to St. Paul to face the murder charge. Authorities have hesitated to take the pair to the rest of their lives in the Waupun penitentiary as it is.

George Neas, the shoemaker, saw the pair at police headquarters during the day.

"I'm sorry I had to shoot you," said Engman, "but it was your own fault. You shouldn't have raised that hammer."

Both Henry and Engman have homes in Duluth. Both have served time at the Minnesota State Prison. Henry was released on Washington's birthday and Engman left Stillwater on the day of the arrest. A couple of his left hand having been amputated.

At the time he was released, Henry visited the district court judge who sentenced him to prison, and he wanted to "go straight." His statement was given considerable newspaper publicity at the time, which was but a few weeks before he joined Engman.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN TO BE STARTED IN DULUTH

Now that winter is over and the glorious spring time is here, nature puts forth every effort to make this life beautiful, the trees put on their summer coats of green and the flowers begin to bud and then to bloom to make life more pleasant.

But how can you enjoy or even see the beauty of these things when your body is all run down after the rigors of winter? Now is the time for you to assist nature; you have not been as active during these cold months as you are now and your constitution is not equal to your vigorous feeling, therefore you must do something to start your blood flowing faster through your veins.

At present it is sluggish from inactivity, and the intestines cannot throw off all the poison that is secreted itself in your system during these winter months.

The Stomach, Kidneys, Liver and your thirty feet of bowels need assistance. You must assist them; so what is the first thing that you think of to assist NATURE? I will answer that question for you. Assist NATURE with nature's remedy, CACTUS JUICE COMPOUND, which is the juice of the fruit, the minerals of the earth, and roots and herbs of the ground.

LICENSE MAY BE REVOKED

Saturday Night Dances in West End Cause of Trouble.

Six Arrests Have Resulted From Assault on Policeman.

Six men have been arrested so far, and police threaten to revoke the dance hall license of the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, as a result of the assault upon Patrolman Nils R. Magnuson Saturday night.

When Magnuson tried to arrest Frank F. Johnson, 24, for disorderly conduct, a gang of toughs assaulted him, knocking him to the ground, breaking his left arm and jumping on his body with their boots.

Fighting with his club and fists, the officer cleared the hall of the disturbers, and with the help of Sergeant John Hunter, arrested Henry Kiteken, Clarence B. Jones and Frank Mulcahy, Emmett Savage and Patrick Green made their escape, but were caught at Proctor the next day.

Last night Sergeant Andrew and Patrolman Peterson of West Duluth arrested Johnson, over whom the trouble started. When arraigned in court today Johnson admitted that he was the one who started the trouble, and pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge. Sentence was deferred until April 18, when the other five will be tried. They are out under $100 bail.

The injured patrolman was reported as being improved today at St. Luke's hospital.

"No stone will be left unturned to prosecute these toughs to the fullest extent of the law," said Capt. A. G. Fiskett. "As for the dance hall, I believe the license should be revoked. Since they began giving Saturday night dances at the place there has scarcely been a week that we have not had trouble with them."

"NUT-EATING" BIRD ON EXHIBITION HERE

No less a celebrity than the quacharo, Col. Roosevelt's famous "nut-eating" bird, arrived in Duluth several days ago from the African West Indies, and is on exhibition at the court house, 227 East Superior street.

To his friends, Mr. Storey has been showing the bird, which is one of the rare species which the colonel claimed to have discovered on his recent southern trip.

"It's not such a wonder as birds go," said Mr. Storey. "It's a small, greenish woodpecker, for size, and it's red and black, with a big beak."

The specimen was sent to Mr. Storey by a friend now in the West Indies. The quacharo was discovered no less than 17 years ago by von Humboldt, unless ornithologists are mistaken for they have taken exception to Col. Roosevelt's statement.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

TWO MISSING HEIRS.

Police Looking for Edward De La Mater and William Welch.

Do you know Edward De La Mater or William A. Welch?

Police began a check of records in employment offices today, with the hope of finding some trace of these two missing men.

De La Mater left his home at Gordon, Wis., seven years ago, according to a letter received from his father, R. S. de La Mater of 402 Seventh street, southeast Minneapolis.

"There is an estate waiting for him," said the letter, "and I think he has worked in the lumber camps of Northern Minnesota."

Welch wrote his mother, Mrs. R. Anderson of Kansas City, from Superior on Christmas day.

"He told me then that he was going to Duluth," Mrs. Anderson said in her letter. "I think he has been working in the woods." A contact over the Welch estate was started when Mr. Welch, who died on Dec. 30, the mother says, and unless the son shows up soon he will lose his share.

SPRING IN HIS BLOOD.

Thomas Resents Rude Laugh and Draws $10 Fine.

Thomas Wilson thrilled with the call of spring.

"Twas early morn and a chill was in the air, but the radiant sun was climbing the heavens, and the gentle zephyrs of the new season called to the latent joyousness within Thomas' breast."

It seemed that he must dance with gay abandon along the street, for spring was in his blood, and he was full of much more than the usual cheerfulness of a sunny day.

Of a sudden someone laughed at him, a harsh, grating laugh and it chased the spring joys far from Thomas, driving in their place a gloom that he had not yet forgotten.

Thomas was angry. He was young and he had not yet forgotten. Some rude person had laughed at him. The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la-la," sang Thomas, "have nothing to do with this case."

He turned and struck at the nearest pedestrian, sure that he was the owner of the boisterous laugh.

"Ten and costs," said the judge.

"Shouldn't worry," said Thomas, "spring, beautiful spring, is here, and it comes but once a year."

CHAUFFEUR IN HURRY.

Almost "Got" Traffic Officer—Pays Fine for Reckless Driving.

Claus Larson, Superior, Wis., chauffeur, was in a hurry this morning.

He hurried up the hill from Michigan street to Superior street on Third avenue west so fast that he grazed a street car and almost hit Traffic Officer George Wood.

"I didn't see any signals," he explained.

"A hunch" was all that saved me," the officer said, "because my back was turned. I had signaled for a west-bound car to stop ahead, and when I heard the machine I jumped."

Judge F. H. Cutting fined Larson $10 and costs for reckless driving.

"CHIEF" FISKETT NOW.

Captain in Charge During Chief's Absence—Inspection.

Now it is Chief A. G. Fiskett of the police department.

At the absence of Chief R. D. McKercher, Capt. Fiskett will be the head of the bluecoats, according to the bulletin posted at headquarters last night.

Sergeant John Engert was stationed at headquarters last night to assist the captain, so that he will be able to care for both positions.

Both men and land are undergoing a process of reclamation out at the St. Louis county work farm and vicinity.

Fred Ward, superintendent of the institution, who is in the city to attend the monthly meeting of the work farm commission at the courthouse this afternoon, declared that by June 1 the contract for the construction of county ditch No. 5, which is being handled indirectly by the work farm, will be completed.

The contract involves a $6,000 job and has furnished steady employment during the winter months for the big crew of about 1,000 men.

The project when completed will drain approximately 3,000 acres of land, some of which is owned by St. Louis county as a part of the work farm tract. It will also reclaim nearly 10,000 acres of private land, the cost will be assessed against the benefited property.

Another Ditch Planned.

It is expected that within the next few months farmers residing west of the work farm tract will institute proceedings before the county board for the purpose of securing a drainage ditch for another area of land which will not be affected by the project now nearing completion.

From January, 1913, when the first commitments were made to the institution up to April 1 last, 5,785 men were admitted to the institution. The average daily population was 127.4, the lowest number of men for any one day being 30 cents and the highest 12.74.

The families of twenty-four prisoners were helped by the work farm commission, which distributed the sum of $200 for this purpose. Seventy-two men were given temporary employment after they had served their sentences at the farm, the amount of $241.44 being paid for their work.

The sum of $1,007.35 was turned over to the county treasurer this morning by Superintendent Ward.

GAME PRESERVES IN TWO COUNTIES

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Huge game preserves in Pennington and Red Lake counties, containing thousands of acres of land that will be free from hunters, will be set aside this summer and fall, according to Game Warden William Munch of Crookston. In an interview while here he stated that already 80,000 acres near and surrounding the city of Crookston were closed and that the aggregate of land that will be protected in this vicinity

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge, rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, are disintegrated and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard.

The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

See the Anglo-Persian Wool Exhibit in Our Arcade Window!

See the jacquard pattern cards which are very much like the notes on the rolls for a Piano Player. These rolls control the shuttles which weave in the various colors.

There are also the bobbins, the shuttles, the swifts for the winding machines and samples of wool in various conditions ranging from the fleece just as it comes from the sheep's back, to the spools showing the various stages in the spinning of worsted yarns.

There is also an "analysis rug" showing the construction of the Anglo Persian fabric with the wires which make the tufts.

Doubtless some of you know that the smooth velvety pile of the Anglo Persian rug is due to the fact that it is woven over flattened steel wires, the end of which have sharp knives which, when withdrawn, cut the loops smoothly and evenly and thus make a velvety smoothness.

The Anglo Persian Rugs have a greater number of wires to the inch than most rugs—hence their greater wear.

Teachers are especially invited to send their pupils to see this display.

Pupils who come to the Rug Department on the Third Floor will be given an instructive booklet explaining how the best of rugs are made.

This information will prove especially interesting to those who have new rugs to buy. They may then learn why Whittall Anglo Persian rugs wear so much better than common rugs. Then come up and see the many handsome new patterns in rugs for your floors.

'Tis Time to Think of New Things for the Home

The good taste of our selection appeals to those who have just pride in their homes.

Here are new rugs and draperies that will lend an air of luxurious comfort to your home. Whittall Anglo Persian Rugs, as you already know, are the last word in rug quality. Note the long fiber wool, the fine yarns and the rich colorings that go to make up the artistic patterns and the lasting quality of Whittall Anglo Persian rugs.

See the partly woven rug in the window, then come to our Third Floor Department and look over this splendid collection of new patterns and colorings for spring.

Whether you need a room size or a small rug, you'll make no mistake in a Whittall.

Restful Draperies to Tone Your Home

The new drapery silks are in the soft attractive tones you will like—of rich lustrous fiber-silk and thoroughly sunfast. Let us give you an estimate on that new home or those rooms you are going to have done over. You will not obligate yourself in any way.

"LOOP" FOR STREET CARS

Commissioners Interested in Plan to Eliminate Congestion.

Does Duluth need a downtown street car loop to relieve congestion on Superior street?

This question is interesting city officials as a result of the conference held last Saturday morning with J. W. Robertson of Minneapolis, president of the Duluth Street Railway company, and Herbert Warren, local manager. It was initiated by the company officials that an increase in congestion on Superior street might necessitate a downtown loop within a few years.

Commissioner Farrell, works head, is of the belief that a downtown loop will be necessary within a very short time, and that the plan should be considered by the citizens in the meantime.

This morning he exhibited an interesting plan for a downtown loop, which he believes, might be worked out satisfactorily by the street car company. According to his plan, the loop will extend from Mesaba avenue and Superior street up the hill to First street, east on First street to Third avenue east and then down the hill to Superior street.

All the carbound cars from West Duluth and the western end of the city would continue on Superior street to Third avenue east, or would go up Mesaba avenue and come down on Third avenue and then continuing west, thus completing the loop from either end. The cars from the East end would go up Third avenue and make the loop, or would continue west to Mesaba avenue and then make the loop from that end. This program would cut the number of cars passing on Superior street and Superior street down to one-half.

The only question raised is whether First street property owners would welcome a street car line, according to some of the city officials. In their opinion this matter should be threshed out by the citizens of Duluth, so that it will be understood thoroughly when official action is requested by the car company for permission to construct its loop.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 11.—With the preliminary organization of the Democratic state convention here today practically settled upon before the delegates gathered, attention was directed toward the outcome of the contest for national committeeman. Must Banish Politics.

Washington, April 11.—The United States will never assume its place in the family of nations until politics ceases to play an important part in selection of American diplomats and in the army and navy, declared Henry White, former ambassador to France, in an address at today's session of the convention of the Navy League of the United States.

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hair

(Toilet Tips)

It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectionable hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered delatone, apply to hairy surface any in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growths is painless and does not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

How He Quit Tobacco

This veteran, S. R. Lamberton, was addicted to the excessive use of tobacco for many years. He wanted to quit but needed something to help him.

He heard of a free book that tells about tobacco habit and how to conquer it quickly, easily and safely. In a recent letter he writes: "I have no desire for tobacco any more. I feel like a new man."

KILLED IN SAME MANNER AS AUNT

Sheboygan, Wis., April 11.—George Schmidbauer, 18, was instantly killed early today when struck in the head by the pilot of the engine pulling the Chicago and Northwestern train No. 308 on the Chicago and Northwestern tracks, receiving a fractured skull and a broken neck. The body was thrown fifty feet down an embankment.

Schmidbauer, who was a nephew of Mrs. Elizabeth Kesselmann, who was killed Monday morning only a few blocks north, was enroute to work in a factory and was walking along the track. Ten feet further he would have turned into the path down the embankment.

IF YOU want to wear the sport suit and sport boots you bought just before the spring rush, now is the time, for these bright, sunny days are just the kind for hiking, and the knowledge of being becomingly and suitably attired gives more springiness to the step than several pairs of rubber heels.

A well known health advisor, who said that high heels are beneficial for women sometimes, did not recommend them for hiking, and an instructor in proper walking disposed of the question of footgear before giving the following instructions:

"Many do not know or realize the importance of correct walking. In taking a step the foot and toe should be headed directly in front in the direction in mind and not placed as in so many instances at an angle.

"The result of allowing the foot to fall in an angular position with each step is that the foot is not out of gear entirely and the person who walks in this manner will be forced to show the result as the heels of the shoes of the person who walks improperly are always hopelessly run down one way or the other in the most outlandish manner.

"So if one would walk properly it is necessary to place one foot directly in front of the other, of course, gauging the space by one's height and what would be a comfortable step. With this rule in mind and the proper attention given to holding the head and chest in position, there is no doubt that, however short the hike may be, the benefits will be well worth the effort."

The Possibilities of American Cottons

THIS IS the month when we choose to clothe our rooms, like our bodies, in cooler garments. Even the best of the outdoors was cold and bleak when the sun was in the room now and is packed away on a safe, high shelf. The very sight of the open fire, the steam radiator or floor register is hateful. We let shelves in from the other, and cover the offending register with a table or rug. The result is a room about as comfortable as a tomb. Spring is here; there is life in the valleys, splendor in the sunbeams and health in the air. This is the preparatory season when we plan for summer comfort.

When the seasons change, the dining room comes in for special attention. When you take down the heavy draperies and the conglomeration of bamboo hangings in their place you are all the time planning for the summer. The patterns offered in this are all the time planning for the summer. The patterns offered in this are all the time planning for the summer.

There is a good substitute, though, to be had in the new cottons. The patterns offered in this are all the time planning for the summer. The patterns offered in this are all the time planning for the summer.

There is something about a fish's face that simply can't attract you unless it is relieved by at least one or two features, and frankly it is not admitted that as a face the haddock can quite hold its own. It is a bit of a puzzle, but the quality of the fish is not to be denied. It is a bit of a puzzle, but the quality of the fish is not to be denied.

OVATION GIVEN VETERANS.

Famous Fife and Drum Corps of Civil War at Grand.

George Patterson, bugler of the Eighth Pennsylvania cavalry, Army of the Potomac, during the Civil war, sounded "taps" at the New Grand theater yesterday on the same bugle that he played over the graves of Generals Grant, McClellan, Kilpatrick and more than 200 noted soldiers of the rebellion. He, with a two other Civil war veterans, John M. Raymond, Eleventh Michigan infantry, national drum major, C. W. M. and George W. Wolfe, Fourteenth Illinois cavalry, both of the Army of the Cumberland, headlined the new show and were given an ovation by capacity houses last night when they appeared in a musical revue entitled "From Revellie to Lights Out." They played "Taps" and other music calls of the Union army in Civil war times from the thrilling sound of the long roll to the somber strains of a requiem, "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie," and many other "tunes" as played in the Southland were repeated, and some of the old songs, as "Just Before the Battle, Mother," were sung by the snow-haired veterans, bringing up memories of a generation of men fast disappearing. It is safe to say that this act will have no competition for popular honors on the present bill.

The Follies Sisters and Le Roy are a clever trio of dancers, and have a lively line of chattering, and their two attractive young misses with so many original new dance steps that their program seems endless, and their costumes would do credit to a Ziegfeld "Follies" show. Le Roy is a good dancer with a lot of clever chatter to his credit.

The act of Sullivan and Mason was somewhat impaired because of the illness of Mr. Sullivan, who was unable to appear because of laryngitis. Mr. Mason, a good story teller and excellent tenor singer, filled in during the allotted period for the two, and he was encored repeatedly. The audience appeared well satisfied with the act and Mr. Sullivan expects to appear today.

Merle's Cockatoos, comprising beautiful and highly trained birds, offer a good novelty. A pretty miss about 20 summers directs the feathered thespians, and they do many stunts that seem incredible for birds.

"The Death, the Servant and the Man," featuring Kathryn Williams, Guy Oliver, Vivian Reed and Jean Fraser, is the star photo-play attraction. A Sig Hopkins comedy, "The Heroine," and other short films make up the remainder of the program.

Theater Gossip.

A feature of the closing performance of "The Record Breakers," at the Lyceum Thursday night will be the "Almost Perfect" girls. Each girl in the chorus will have an opportunity to present some specialty and the audience will be the judge of the winner.

The value of advertising is well exemplified in the force in three acts, entitled "It Pays to Advertise," which will come to the Lyceum theater Sunday, April 16, for four nights and Wednesday matinee, under the personal direction of Cohen and Harris. It is replete with advertising wisdom, witty dialogue and humorous situations, and the frankness with which big advertising firms are dealt with is entertaining. The well-known names of prominent advertisers are used freely without any attempt at flimsy disguise, and what are supposed to be the best advertised plays in the country.

Harry Lauder, the Scottish comedian and generally acknowledged inimitable artist in his line, will be seen at the VAUDEVILLE Orpheum-Strand matinee, April 20, during his eighth tour of the country under the direction of William Morris. Mr. Lauder, like old wine, is said to improve with age, and his opening in New York this year was the largest week's business that he has ever played in the metropolis.

Mr. Morris has seen to it that Mr. Lauder should have a company this year that is in every way worthy of the great artist who heads it. Some of the acts of the big vaudeville program have never been seen in America before and are specially imported for this tour. They include the Al Golem troupe, a company of sixteen daring performers; Dave Genaro and Isabelle, a series of dance specialties; Selwyn Driver, who performs his specialty at the piano in a humorous and novel vein; Albert Donnelly, the silent humorist in shadowgraphy; and Miss Lucille and her "marvelous" talking cuckoo.

Mr. Lauder's engagement is limited to one day and night.

Robert B. Mantell, almost the dean of the American stage, did not disappoint a single one of his admirers or a single one of the new spectators Sunday and yesterday at the Lyceum.

Coming tomorrow for two days is Constance Collier in "The Code of Marcella Gray." There are many forms of moral honor and every woman has her own individual code of ethics to govern situations. The code that Marcella Gray adopts, as so beautifully and strongly developed by Miss Collier, will win real sympathy. Many women will find in the great crisis in Marcella Gray's life an exact duplication of what they would have to do, should they meet the same problem.

ICE DRIVEN

OUT BY WIND

If Wind Continues, Harbor Entrance Will Soon Be Cleared.

The breakup of the ice has begun, and it is believed that if the present weather conditions continue, with the wind remaining as it is, it is a matter of hours until this end of the lake will be clear of the ice that has been holding it locked.

The wind from the northwest, which continued all of last night and this morning, has been blowing for some time, and by noon today there was a large space between the ice field and the north shore clear down as far as Two Harbors. It was being driven slowly toward the south shore, and wide water spaces in the center of the field indicated that the ice was breaking up rapidly. Open spaces along the shore also indicated the effect of the wind.

The bay ice was going fast also, and the tug office reported that it was rotating rapidly. It is believed that if the threatened showers prolonged for tonight should come, and the warm weather continue, there will be a good deal of damage done to the field.

No definite orders have been received by the Union Towing company as to starting tugs to break up the ice, but it is expected that they will be ordered out tomorrow or next day.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their views on any subject of general interest, but of course no religious or political differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's personal use must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

MR. PHILLIPS ASKS SOME QUESTIONS OF HIS CRITIC

To the Editor of The Herald:

Mr. Denfeld's admirer:

Your article was very well written, your language was ideal, but the thread was not interwoven in the subject at hand. I do not care how much you may know of Socialism, nor do I care how much you may think of Karl Marx. The fact that you may think that he was a good old man and that you had become converted in your belief that the philosophy propounded by him was the best for the human race is not at all interesting to me at this time.

Nor can I understand why you try to impress upon me the fact that you are a Socialist. You may be there in room for both of us, Duluth is large, and neither of us can have a monopoly of thought of the city. You must have mixed your learning a little with your stuff, and the result is the anarchist teachings as Socialism. You should be more careful; there are other people with big heads in the city.

Now for business. Do you uphold Mr. Denfeld in his attitude towards the public upon the questions that the public is interested in? Do you believe that he has the right to play the part of a boss while he is in the employ of the city? Do you believe that the request that he make a frank statement of why Mr. Holmes was discharged is unfair, and that he has the right to refuse to give out such information? Do you think that I exceeded my right in requesting that he give the reason or be ousted for not doing so? Do you think that the public is not interested in the schools, which are the bulwarks of our well-being? If you were in Mr. Denfeld's position would you adopt the same attitude?

What did you mean when you spoke of a "mismanaged school system"? Do you admit that our schools are mismanaged? You also speak of his being led into errors, and that he is conscious of doing so at the time. Do you know this to be a fact? If so, do you not think that it is a duty that the public would expect of so great a lover of justice as you would lead them to believe you are, to expose the cause of the wrongs so they may be righted?

As for myself, I care little what you may say. I do not always claim that I am right, but upon the question now before the house I believe that I am absolutely right, and I can prove it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

When the time was up, the insured could not pay his premium because he was quarantined in his house or in the pesthouse with contagious disease, and no one could come in contact with him or he with others.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following: "A Boy's Best Friend Is His Mother," from Earl Strong of Duluth. "Correct Version of 'The Shanty Boy,'" from Mabel A. Johnson of Duluth.

A Boy's Best Friend Is His Mother.
I've been thinking today of the friends that passed away,
Of friends that would stand by my side,
Of my dear old mother's knee at which I used to be,
I kissed her sweet face when she died.
Oh, how I loved her none can tell,
Like her I'll never gain another.
For a friend in need is a friend indeed,
And a boy's best friend is his mother.

Chorus.
Treat her kindly while she's here,
For when she's gone you'll gain no other;
For a friend in need is a friend indeed,
And a boy's best friend is his mother.
Now you always want to treat your mother with respect,
For she is the only one that cares for you,
And never hereafter her dear old word neglect—
A mother so tried and so true.
Now, when she is laid in her cold, cold grave,
Like her you'll never gain another,
For a friend in need is a friend indeed,
And a boy's best friend is his mother.

The Shanty Boy.
Come all you jolly lumbermen and listen to my song.
(It is only a few verses and I'll not detain you long.)
Concerning a young damsel, or a lady young and fair,
Who dearly loved a shanty boy upon the big Eau Claire.

This young and heartless damsel was of a high degree,
Her mother kept a millinery shop in the town of Mosinee,
Sold waterfalls and ribbons and bonnets trimmed in lace,
To all the nice young ladies that lived around the place.

The milliner swore a shanty boy her daughter ne'er should wed,
But Sally did not care a darn for what her mother said,
She packed up her millineries and sold them off in sacks,
And went and set up another shop way down in Fond du Lac.

Now Sally was broken-hearted and almost died of grief,
She dearly loved her shanty boy and longed to be his wife,
But when autumn came around and ripened all the crops,
She went way down to Baraboo and went to picking hops.

While in this awful raging she tore her Auburn hair,
And talked about her shanty boy upon the big Eau Claire,
The doctors tried, but all in vain; her life could not be saved,
And now ten thousand young hop leaves are dancing o'er her grave.

The shanty boy was handsome; there was none so fair as he,
In the summertime he tall-sawed in the mill of Mosinee,
But when stern winter came around with its cold and chilly breeze,
He worked upon the big Eau Claire a-felling down pine trees.

He wore a handsome black mustache and a head of curly hair,
A handsome man could not be found upon the big Eau Claire,
He loved the milliner's daughter, and he loved her long and well,
But circumstances being so, the truth to you I tell.

When the shanty boy heard this sad news he became a lunatic,
He acted just like other men do when they become love-sick.
He hid his saw in a hollow log and hired out as a sucker on the fleet of Sailor Jack.

He sometimes wished that he was dead and an end to all his life,
Old Granddaddy took him at his word and came to his relief,
As he fell off the raft post in the mill of Mosinee;
There put an end to all his grief and his sad misery.

The milliner, she is bankrupt now; her stock has gone to rack;
Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

STEEL CORPORATION'S PANAMA EXHIBIT WILL BE PERMANENTLY SHOWN HERE

ONE OF THE DISPLAYS, SHOWING STATUE OF MINER.

The complete exhibit of the United States Steel corporation, which was on display at the San Francisco exposition all of last year, will be shown permanently in Duluth, according to an announcement made today by Walter W. J. Croze of the Oliver Iron Mining company, who arranged the display for shipment the fair and its recent return to this city.

"Room 201 in the Wolvin building," said Mr. Croze, "has been set aside and fitted out as the permanent home for the exhibit, and it is open for the public every day. The exhibit should prove as popular here as at the exposition."

The exhibit includes models, relief maps, photographs, ore samples from all the ranges on Lake Superior, mining villages in miniature and other features of considerable interest. An exception of interest is a life-size statue of a miner made by the Fisher & Groulx Art company of Cleveland.

An exceptional feature of the exhibit is that all the work was done in this city. Mr. Croze had charge of its preparation and shipment to San Francisco last July 1, 1912. In a frame adjoining the display to the fair, Wallace Wellesley, photographer, and employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company's

She talked some fine day of moving away from Fond du Lac.
Perhaps she's haunted by the ghost of her daughter young and fair,
Or perhaps it's by the shanty boy upon the big Eau Claire.

The shanty boys are rowdies, as everybody knows,
In the winter time they're working down where the pine tree grows,
A-stealing ties and shingle bolts and telling horrid lies,
A-playing cards and swearing is all their exercise.

Now, if you want to get married, for comfort or for joy,
I'd advise you for to marry some honest farmer boy damels or ladies young and fair,
Don't fall in love with a shanty boy upon the big Eau Claire.

MORE CLAIMS FOR ALLEGED DAMAGES

Two Sidewalk Victims File Demands for $6,500 for Injuries.

Claims for alleged damages as the result of falls on icy sidewalks are still coming in.

Yesterday two claims were filed for damages totaling $6,500 and these were ordered turned over to the city legal department for investigation.

Katherine Hampton asks for $6,000 as the result of an alleged fall on Fourth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues west, on the evening of March 13. She claims that her spine was wrenched and sprained as a result of the alleged accident. Courtney & Courtney are her attorneys.

TO BAR ITINERANT PICTURE PEDDLERS

Council Will Act According to Request of Resident Photographers.

Duluth will be protected from itinerant photographers soliciting for photographic enlargements in the future.

This assurance was given by the city commissioners yesterday afternoon, when a delegation of photographers appeared before the council and protested against the appearance in Duluth of these traveling picture men without being licensed or under control of the police.

"We photographers can take care of ourselves," said Louis Dworshak, spokesman for the delegation, "but we want the public protected. These traveling photographers and agents offer to enlarge pictures at ridiculously low prices, but they charge exorbitantly for the frames, which they compel the purchaser to buy. That's where they make their money."

"In addition, they take old family portraits for enlargement and after making advance collections are never seen again. As a result the family loses the only print of a very valuable picture. Very often these men take pictures, declaring that no charge will be made, but later send bills for the work. These men do not live here, pay no taxes and should be licensed in some manner."

Members of the commission agreed that legislation should be enacted covering this business and Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, announced that he would take the matter up with the city legal department. Ordinances from other cities will be studied in preparing the local measure.

The petition for an ordinance licensing traveling photographers and agents selling pictures was signed by the following local photographers: L. F. Gallagher, Louis Dworshak, O. Olson, H. McKenzle, R. D. Handy, Cook Ely, John Christensen, Henrietta Mathieson, J. R. Zweifel, W. L. Smith, Thomas Furniss and the Johnson Studio company.

DENIES EXECUTION OF SPIES IN CANADA

Chicago, April 11.—Official denial has been made by J. W. White, inspector of immigration agencies of the Canadian government, that William and Louis Schroeder of Iowa had been executed or condemned as spies at Claret, Sask., on March 24. Mr. White said that the story was not only untrue, but that such an execution or sentence would be impossible, as persons were not being shot in Canada for treason or any other reason.

J. Bruce Walker, Canadian government immigration commissioner, acting in behalf of the Canadian department of the interior, Mr. White said, investigated the report to discover its source and reported that there could

Recapture the Old Joy Of Living

HAS life lost its zest? Do you suffer pretty constantly from nervous depression—"the blues"? Very often this state of things is brought on by poor elimination. Constipation is the underlying cause of many a case of "nerves" as any doctor will tell you.

Once get rid of constipation permanently and you will be amazed at the transformation in your health and spirits. Laxatives and cathartics won't cure you of constipation. They give only temporary relief and tend to form a habit which is exceedingly dangerous.

But you will find in Nujol a rational means of restoring normal, healthful bowel activity. Nujol is a pure white mineral oil conforming to all the requirements of the Lane treatment for constipation, which physicians everywhere are now prescribing as the safest and most effective means of restoring normal bowel activity.

It is not a laxative but a lubricant. Being entirely mechanical in its action it may be taken in any quantity without harm.

Nujol is colorless, odorless, and tasteless.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist hasn't it, we will send a pint bottle of Nujol prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

ILLINOISANS VOTING IN PRIMARY ELECTION

Campaign Has Been Heated
One, Especially in Chicago.

Chicago, April 11.—Illinois voters are today participating in the second presidential primary election held in the state. The campaign, which closed last night, was a heated one, particularly in Chicago.

Delegates at large, district delegates to the national convention and state central committee members are to be elected. In Chicago, ward and precinct committees also are to be chosen.

Women throughout the state can vote today only on the presidential "preference," and there is but one candidate on each ticket—President Wilson on the Democratic and Senator Lawrence V. Sherman on the Republican. Women have shown interest in the campaign.

The fight in Chicago centered principally around the choice of ward committee members. The fight in the Republican ranks is between the adherents of Mayor William Hale Thompson and anti-administration forces. The contest in the Democratic party is between followers of Roger Sullivan and the forces of Carter Harrison and Governor Dunne.

Choice of delegates at large to the national conventions has not caused much show of interest about the state but the struggle within the Republican party as to the choice of William Hale Thompson or Roy O. West, present national committeeman, to head the Republican delegates at the convention has created a more heated struggle.

In view of the fight within the parties within Chicago, leaders expect

MEXICAN PLOT AT BORDER UNEARTHED

El Paso, Tex., April 11.—A plot of wide dimensions, hatched in El Paso and backed by the same people who are financing Felix Diaz, is believed by the police to have been unearthed, following the arrest last night of fifteen Mexicans accused of being implicated in the flight across the border of Gen. Juan Salazar.

Agents of the department of justice aided the police in making the arrests, most important of which were Gen. Marcelino Zaragoza and Gen. Ignacio Morelos Zaragoza, who, like Salazar, were among the best known and trusted of the late Victoriano Huerta's lieutenants.

Salazar is opposed to both Carranza and Villa, and is expected to help rally the Mexicans on a platform of uncompromising opposition to this country, with a demand for the immediate withdrawal of the American troops under penalty of war with Mexico.

FREIGHT RATE ON PAPER IS ORDERED REDUCED

Washington, April 11.—Reductions of 1 1/2 cents to 2 cents a 100 pounds in freight rates on writing, printing, book, tissue and wrapping paper from mills in Michigan to Oklahoma City, New Orleans, Shreveport and Nashville were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission in order to place Michigan and Wisconsin paper mills on the same basis.

Readjustment of freight rates from the Michigan mills to Chicago and to other points in Central, Western and Southern territory was denied on the ground that unjust discrimination had not been proved.

DULUTH NOT REPRESENTED

Has No Delegates on Committee to Interview President.

Shippers Will Ask Support for Bill of Lading Bill.

The Duluth board of trade and the Duluth Commercial club will have no representatives tomorrow on the delegation which will see President Wilson in support of the Pomerene bill of lading bill, now before congress.

A few days ago, the chairman of the American Bar association's committee on legislation, wired an invitation here to have the Duluth bodies represented as largely as possible. The delegation, which will gather at the Willard hotel in Washington tomorrow, will have an audience with President Wilson at 11 o'clock.

The Pomerene bill, which is in the house of representatives, has been referred to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, is of the greatest interest to shippers throughout the country.

In brief it seeks to make transportation companies responsible for the bills of lading. This bill supplements the provision of the Harmon act as amended by the Carmack and Cummins amendments. It removes certain provisions heretofore caused in bills of lading, that are exceedingly prejudicial to shippers, and settles the disputed question of the liability of the carrier or the acts of its agents in issuing bills of lading.

For many years the carriers were issuing bills of lading covering packages of goods, or packages of freight, and insisted upon inserting in the bills of lading a statement to the effect that the goods had been received in good weight, load and count. The result of this has been that shippers, in transit the statement in the bill of lading as to the number of packages or their weight has not been binding upon the carrier and in an effort to hold the carrier responsible for the loss of these goods the carrier has sought to place the burden of proof upon the shipper to show that the number of packages, boxes or cases of goods received. When the shipper has presented the bill of lading to the carrier, the carrier has refused to accept it, claiming that the bill of lading expressly stipulated that this was "shippers' weight, load and count."

Up to Carrier.
Section 20 of the bill referred to makes it the duty of the carrier to count the packages and renders illegal and inoperative the obnoxious words "shippers' weight, load and count." This provision requires the carrier to ascertain the number of boxes, packages or quantity of freight delivered to it before issuing a bill of lading and deprives the carrier of the right to issue a bill of lading describing a certain number of packages, boxes or quantity of freight and then thereafter claim that it actually received them.

RIVER FALLS AT LA CROSSE

Wisconsin and Minnesota, and the spring rains are yet to come.

Below Flood Stage.
It is believed, however, that it will be below the flood stage of the river by the end of this week and that in another week it will be down to ten feet above normal. The river is ten feet higher in lowland districts, who have been marooned in their homes for a week. Will be able to drive over the roads now submerged for the first time since the flood without traveling in boats.

Damage has been done to the summer cottages of the river. Submerged point and shore areas, where almost every cottage is under water and furniture, including valuable pianos, soaked. It will be a week or two before the water will be low enough to permit an inspection of these buildings to permit an appraisal of the loss.

Rating at Clinton.
Clinton, Iowa, April 11.—With the stage of water in the Mississippi river steadily rising, it had reached 12 1/2 feet above normal at Clinton today, a rise of a foot in twenty-four hours, and establishing a new high water mark for the present season. The previous record was twelve feet.

GERMANS CONTINUE SUPREME EFFORT TO CAPTURE VERDUN

Between Comiers and Hill No. 304, west of the Meuse.

Berlin Confident.
Berlin views the Verdun operations continuing in the Verdun sector as a difficult region and the losses inflicted on the French. The statement is made by the Overseas News agency of Berlin that since the capture of the Verdun salient, more than 25,000 French have been captured. It also is said about twenty-five square kilometers of ground has been occupied west of the Meuse.

Verdun Operations.
The German military operations of particular significance are reported from any of the battlefronts. The change of seasons is interfering with movements on the Russian, Italian and Mesopotamian fronts, although in each of these lines there are signs of increased activity, which is expected to become more pronounced as the spring advances.

Obtain Footing.
Paris, April 11, 2:12 p. m.—On the west bank of the Meuse, the Germans made an attack last night on Dead Man's Hill, which is a wooded hill. They obtained a footing in a few small elements of trenches, the war office announced this afternoon, but otherwise were repulsed.

East of the Meuse.
East of the Meuse the Germans attacked trenches south of Douaumont village, but were beaten back with considerable losses. There was violent bombardment of Douaumont and Vaux.

Front Being Restrained.
Paris, April 11.—The German general offensive against the French fortress of Verdun began Sunday over a thirteen-mile front is being restricted in the latest fighting to a two-mile front on the northern side of the river Meuse. Along these 2,500 yards of trenches the French thus far only have succeeded in repulsing a further advance of the Germans on the west bank of the river, but also in securing their artillery which is raking every German advance on the east bank.

Dead Man's Hill Objective.
The object of the present operations now being conducted by the Germans on the west bank of the river is to reach Dead Man's hill, which bars the way of the Germans to a further advance west of the river. The operations began yesterday when two German divisions were ordered to attack Douaumont and Haucourt against Hill 304 on the left of Dead Man's hill, while two divisions attacked at the same time in the direction of Hill 295, between Dead Man's Hill and Comiers. The Germans advanced in aerated ranks as on Sunday, and their proportionate losses are reported to have been quite as great. The fighting lasted all afternoon with alternate advances and retreat, the little gains of both sides being offset by equivalent losses, and at the end of the day the positions were on the whole the same as before the attack.

Pearl Stinging Fire at Enemy.
The Germans are at the foot of Hill 295, while the French hold the slope and the summit which are solidly fortified. From these positions the French poured stinging fire into the dense ranks of the Germans advancing over ground where in spots they were fully exposed to both machine gun fire and the fire of three-inch guns. The repeated attacks there were thrown back before they succeeded in reaching the barbed wire defenses and old water last night they generally in the attacks against Hill 304.

Decision Reserved.
this as a hopeful sign. It was their opinion that if the German board was determined to refuse absolutely the plea made for Smith and Pickett, the board would have announced its decision this morning. The fact that the board has not yet made a decision was regarded in an optimistic light.

Negro Wants Liberty.
The board today heard an application for liberty of the oldest convict in the state, confined in the prison at Stillwater. He is R. L. Underhill, and thirty-three years of age. He is a penitentiary to serve a life sentence. Underhill, colored, was arrested in 1887 for killing a St. Paul policeman. No attorney represented him at his trial. He pleaded guilty, but people who have interest in the case say he entered a guilty plea to save himself from a mob.

VILLA REPORTED DEAD

panies of the Twenty-fourth infantry at Del Rio would start for Columbus to show the army along the communication.

An overnight dispatch from Consul Lloreda at Chihuahua said: "People of Torreon are in a starving condition. Headquarters was unadvised of the loss of the advanced columns of American troops."

Increased Precautions.
Columbus, N. M., April 10.—Increased precautions were taken at the military base at Columbus and the American line of communication, the arrival of the American troops in the town and what seemed to be an air of suppressed excitement. The military headquarters all contributed yesterday to what the authorities here to be held in all circumstances.

Names of Wounded.
San Antonio, Tex., April 11.—A report received at headquarters here from Gen. Pershing gave the names of the soldiers wounded in the fight at Guadalupe Pass, March 29.

Captured 36,000.
FRENCH AT VERDUN
That Number of Prisoners Taken Since Feb. 21, Says Berlin Dispatch.

Berlin, April 11, wireless to Sayville.—Since Feb. 21 the Germans have captured more than 36,000 French in the fighting about Verdun, the Overseas News agency announced today.

"West of the Meuse about twenty-five square kilometers of ground has been occupied," the announcement says.

German newspapers point out that the French now say Bethincourt was evacuated in accordance with plans previously made. Nevertheless, it has been ascertained that an order was issued stating: "This important place must be held in all circumstances."

The fact that more than 700 wounded French prisoners were taken and that the French losses in killed or wounded were far greater is proof that the French plan of evacuation could not be carried out as intended.

According to the French reports the new line runs from the southern corner of Avocourt wood along the line of the railway to the north of the southern bank of Forges brook, passing to the northeast of the junction of the road to the south of the junction of that road to the highway to Chattancourt and reaches the Meuse just north of Comiers. The fortifications of Orville of Avocourt, which is south of the German advance of April 9, as reported.

SHOTS FROM CRUISER FAIL TO HALT SHIP

"Wind Jammers" Captain Prefers Balls to Collision With Mine.

New York, April 11.—The Brablock, a Norwegian sailing vessel, which arrived from Kolding, Denmark, reported escaping from a choice of destruction between floating mines and guns of a cruiser when she was beating through the passage between the Orkney Islands and Scotland.

When off the coast of Scotland, the Brablock encountered winds so heavy that she was driven into the Orkney passages, which, unknown to her captain, are mined and closed to all but naval vessels.

When half way through, a British cruiser ordered the ship to lay to. Being at the helm of a "wind jammer" and a gale blowing, the captain declined to maneuver in the dangerous waters. Four shots from the cruiser still failed to stop the ship, but he was in more danger from the cannon than from the mines and reefs, and he kept on. It was not until he reached open waters that he heaved to and received a boat from the pursuing cruiser.

The naval officer threatened to take the Brablock into a prize court, but when the captain convinced him that the ship was in ballast and bound for New York for a munitions cargo for England he allowed her to proceed.

The same agency says that the British steamer Murgam Abbey has been sunk and that her crew is aboard a steam trawler, which passed the Lizard bound for Plymouth. No report has been received concerning the crew of the Santanderno.

The Murgam Abbey was a steamer of 4,411 tons and was last reported sailing from Liverpool on March 27. The Elston, 3,795 tons gross and 345 feet long, was built in 1908 and owned in Glasgow. The last report of her movements was her departure on Feb. 2, when she sailed for Queenstown.

SPRINKLING AND CLEANUP

City Council Lets Contracts for Work in Nine Districts.

Contracts for cleaning and sprinkling Duluth streets during 1916 were awarded at the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

According to the rules of the works division, the successful bidder must pay for the use of the sprinkler, which is owned by the city, and for all the water used, while he must furnish the horses. The contracts were awarded for the following nine out of the thirteen sprinkling districts: District No. 1, Dominick Scandlin, $159.07; No. 2, Dominick Scandlin, $144.38; No. 3, Louis Nordl, $154; No. 4, Joseph Cavaliero, $126; No. 5, Tony Gerrard, $130.82; No. 6, Frank Micheleggi, $138.70; No. 7, Dominick Scandlin, $156.29; No. 8, Joseph Cavaliero, $128; and No. 12, Frank Fox, $139.20. District No. 1, including Superior street, is sprinkled by the city while the bids on the other three districts were rejected, because they are too high. New bids will be advertised by Commissioner Farrell tomorrow.

Twenty licenses to operate hotels under the new hotel ordinance were granted as listed in the Herald of last evening, while two applications were rejected because the hotels in question have no bathrooms.

The width of the Minnesota avenue pavement was changed yesterday, so that the roadway will be twenty-one feet wide instead of fifteen, as originally planned. The tracks will be laid in the center of the pavement.

Fifty-sixth street was ordered paved with concrete and Tenth street, from Eighth to Ninth avenue east, was ordered graded. Sewers were ordered across Nineteenth avenue east, at Seventh alley, Seventh street and Eighth alley.

The Duluth Street Railway company was given permission to erect a waiting station at Wallace avenue and Hawthorne street. Silberstein was authorized to advertise for bids on the sale of the old Pond du Lac jail building. Only the structure will be sold by the city.

Two water hydrants were ordered at Second avenue west and Fourth street and Lake avenue and Fourth street.

Saloon license renewals were granted to Ollie Lowry, 220 East Superior street, being a transfer from Richard Sheasby; J. H. Wright, 313 West Superior street, being a transfer from J. P. Van Dalen; Peter Beschneissel, 415 East Fourth street; Frank Johnson, 1819 West Superior street; and Theodore Freker, 420 West Superior street. Lawrence Kovach was granted a saloon license at 1 1/2 West Superior street.

RETURN FROM INSPECTION

Steel Corporation Heads Pleased With Conditions on Range.

D. G. Kerr and McGilvray Shiras, of New York, respectively vice president and ore distributor of the United States Steel corporation, who have been inspecting the Minnesota properties of the corporation, passed through Duluth last evening, going from here to the Ironwood, Mich., to inspect the ore properties of the corporation in Michigan and Wisconsin. They have been on the Vermilion and Mesaba ranges for several days, and inspected the steel plant of the Minnesota Steel company yesterday afternoon, reaching Duluth last evening shortly after 8 o'clock. They left in a private car over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road, and after inspecting the Michigan and Wisconsin properties will leave for New York, reaching there by about the end of this week.

Mr. Kerr was very much pleased at the conditions he found at all parts of the corporation's property, and was particularly pleased at the complete preparations made to handle ore shipments during the coming season, which all officers of the company recognize as destined to be the greatest in history.

POLICEMEN BEATEN BY CLEVELAND MOB

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Wrestling
BoxingROME WAS DESTROYED; SO
WAS THE BOSTON OUTFIELD

All Great Institutions Must Come to an End, and It Looks as If the Best Garden Trio in Years Has Passed—Why Do They Say Gotch Will Defeat Joe Stecher?

BY BRUCE.

WELL, they went and pulled Rome down, and you may have been told that Rome in its day and generation was quite an institution, a regular big league, in fact. Clarkson and Kelly were taken from the Chicago White Stockings, and they, also, were quite an institution in their day. Also, the sale of the "Big Four" of baseball, broke up another baseball team that in its time was some pumpkins. Coming down the steps of time, it will be more readily remembered that the Cubs, one of the great baseball machines of all time, were gradually dismembered. Connie Mack also busted his world famous Athletics wide open. So it has always been. The sale of Tris Speaker also changes about quite a bit what has been considered the greatest outfield of modern times.

The fans will gasp—as they have—and exclaim, declaim, as fans are in the habit of doing, and shed tears of anguish, and then—forget.

Speaker, Lewis and Hooper, as an outfield, will be speedily forgotten. Right now, on the red and radiant impulse of the glowing moment that does seem a crime to break up that combination. Why every one of those boys could throw strikes from the outfield, as one baseball follower declared. There was hardly a weakness in that trio of garden tenders. They could all hit, run, field, and how they could peg from the outer precincts! But, like Rome, which fell before the Huns and several other rude emotional waves, the Boston outfield had to give way to time or the conventions, and we now behold, on the very threshold of the 1916 season, the disintegration of what critics have called the de luxe edition of outfield works.

As we say, it does seem a shame; but then, what will you? John L. Sullivan was finally defeated and Harry Thaw finally got out of the bughouse. Tomorrow people will forget. But right now, still, it does seem sort of tough that Speaker, the king pin in a great and excessively glowing outfield should be sent away—especially, when he is being transplanted to the hard and barren soil of the Cleveland club. But, then, all things must come to pass. Some day a perfectly original man will rise up and fervently admit his wife's expensive new spring hat.

Gotch and Stecher.

Going back a few years, groping about a bit in the mists of sporting time, you will perhaps remember that the wise men of sportive affairs vehemently declared that John L. Sullivan would lick young Jim Corbett, the ex-San Francisco bank clerk, much in the same nonchalant manner as a man would subjugate an unruly child in the rear apartment during the third dog watch.

What the young and not very seriously considered Mister Corbett did to the veteran and battle-scarred Mr. Sullivan, has been extensively woven into the wool of pugilistic history.

Again there came a time when a lank and exceedingly awkward Mr. Fitzsimmons went forth to battle the now ring sophisticated Mr. Corbett. The orthodox followers of affairs pugilistic professed to believe, enforcing their opinions with loud shouts and coin of the realm, that Corbett would annihilate the red-headed Australian. What the lanky, barn-shouldered pugilist freak did to Corbett, has been a very red-letter chapter of ring history.

When poor old Jim Jeffries was lured from the lounging place of his Los Angeles buffet to fight Jack Johnson, veteran followers of the game of fistfights professed to believe that it was a mortal cinch that the white man would overcome the negro. The result is too recent and too sad to dwell lingeringly over.

Now comes this talk of what Frank Gotch will do to Joe Stecher. Why all the Gotch talk? Stecher has done things at his barely attained twenty-three years that Gotch did not do in his career of nearly twenty years on the mat. This is no disparagement of the ability of Gotch, who has been one of the greatest wrestlers of all time; but, the but is exceedingly ominous, Gotch never beat men with the consummate ease that this Stecher boy has displayed in beating the toughest that can be brought before him.

But one man, since the youthful Nebraska boy has really gotten good, has made a showing against him. Ed (Strangler) Lewis did remain two hours on the mat with Stecher. It is claimed that Lewis simply made a runaway match of it and refused to wrestle. Be that as it may, granting that Lewis made a great showing, the record of Stecher is so startling, so sensational in the extreme, as to cause a reasoning man to wonder why some followers of athletics refuse to give Stecher a chance against Gotch.

If Gotch and Stecher ever wrestle, here is one sport follower who will string along with Stecher. The Nebraska is a marvel—and let there be no mistake there. He is greater than he looks—simply because he does things so easily. It has been the same way with Napoleon La Joie's baseball playing. Few could conceive how great the big Frenchman was, because he executed every play as if it were nothing.

In his prime, Gotch would, we believe, have made a great match of it. Now, at the fallow athletic age of near forty years, it seems absurd to believe that Gotch can defeat Stecher. But then, we shall see. It will draw one of the greatest crowds of all time—and it will be a match between two American born athletes. We have the best over here, you know, and whoever wins, the title will remain right here on this side of the water.

OLYMPIC GAMES
FOUR YEARS HENCE

International Committee Says Four Cities Want Big Meet.

Paris, April 11.—Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic games committee, said yesterday to the Associated Press that no Olympic games would be held during the present year or while the war lasted. He also supplemented the announcement with some interesting details.

"Though there will be no Olympic games in 1916 or during the war," said the baron, "preparations for the games in 1920 are being made so far as possible. Four cities already have ex-

EMERSON SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM.

With the coming of spring every school boy with natural tendencies becomes interested in outdoor sports, and the "popular pastime," baseball, is just now absorbing the attention of the school boys of Duluth. It will not be long before every back lot and fence corner will be the scene of a spirited contest.

One of the earliest teams to be formed this spring is that of the Emerson school. There the boys are already organized, and out for practice.

pressed a wish to have the 1920 Olympic games held within their precincts—namely, Antwerp, Lyons, Amsterdam and Havana.

"In the last named capital the application is about to be made or has been made to the Cuban congress for $500,000 francs on account of the preliminary expenses alone. Antwerp already had signified a desire to have the games held there before the war. Since the outbreak of the war the city has repeated the request and the burgomaster has received a letter from King Albert of Belgium congratulating it on this fact.

"There will be no meeting of the international committee until the war is over."

Asked if he thought it likely that the sportsmen of the entente allied countries would be willing to compete with Germans and Austro-Hungarians in 1920, Baron de Coubertin said: "It is impossible to say what the state of international feeling will be four years hence. It is possible that Germans and Austrians may not be invited to participate."

Baseball Trades and Deals.

Chicago, April 11.—Pete Allison, outfielder, has been sold to New Orleans in the Southern association by the Chicago Nationals, says a dispatch from Louisville. The Cub squad now numbers twenty-six players, nine of whom are pitchers.

Denver, Colo., April 11.—H. L. Jones, owner of the Denver Western league club, announces that he has given Jack Coffey, former manager, permission to negotiate for a place with the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league.

FORMER COLLEGIAN TO BE CLOSELY WATCHED

GEORGE SISLER.

There is no player in the American league who will be watched closer than George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns. This youngster went from the University of Michigan team to the big league and made one of the most sensational records of any young player breaking into the league. Sisler played nearly every position on the St. Louis team—and played it well. Originally a pitcher, his hitting ability caused Branch Rickey to play him in the in and outfields. Sisler is expected to prove a sensation this season.

HERCULEAN TASK IS SET FOR THE SENIOR OARSMEN

With But 13 Old Men, Counting the Senior Four in, the Dope Figures How This Small Band May Succeed in Winning Ten Races in the National—Crew Candidates to Hit Water.

BY BRUCE.

Would it seem impossible for thirteen senior oarsmen to win ten races in the national regatta?

It is now generally believed that the members of the Duluth senior four will row during the coming season. A semi-official announcement to that effect was made yesterday. If the members of the famous four come out, Ned Ten Eyck will have just thirteen seniors—Kent, Emmons, Arons, Hall, Grant, Forestal, Harney and Morrison in the eight; Hoover in the sculling events, and the members of the senior four.

Let's trail along with the dope for a brief distance. It is believed Dave Horak will stand an excellent chance of winning the intermediate single in the national. There is reason to believe that the Moore brothers will also have a very good opportunity of winning the intermediate double. The senior four will row as a senior quadruple and should win that event. Walter Hoover stands a very good chance of winning three single races this season—the quarter mile dash, association singles of a mile and a quarter and the championship event over the same distance. Then there are the two events, the national and international four, that the senior four will be entered in.

Count that up and add the senior eight race to it and the senior double, which Kent and Hoover will compete in, and you have ten races that may be won by thirteen men.

There are just thirteen senior oarsmen out at the present time, and it doesn't appear as if there will be any additions to this squad. Frank Williams and Charley Whiteside will not be back this year. It is rather certain, therefore, some great work will fall on the broad and capable shoulders of what seniors remain in the squad.

A New Senior Eight.

In 1915 Horak stroked the famous eight that won both the intermediate and senior eight events in the national. In 1914 the senior four rowed in the senior eight and again last year. This year it is the intention of Ned Ten Eyck to row the four boys in the two four events, the squad, and row Horak in the intermediate single and the Moores in the intermediate double.

Also, it might be stated, that Max Rheinberger will very likely be started in the intermediate single in the Northwestern regatta.

It will be going some, should thirteen men win ten events, but then Duluth and the country at large have become rather accustomed to witnessing the performance of prodigious rowing feats upon the part of the members of the Duluth Boat club rowing squad.

May Hit the Water.

Ten Eyck may get his men out on the water sometime today. The briny debut has been postponed because of the ice in the bay. One day the wind blows the ice out and the next day a contrary wind blows the ice in again. If the sun continues to labor, there will be little left to hold up the water work.

The two Moores, Phil and Dug, and Dave Horak are working on the machines. It is expected that Rheinberger will be out in the near future. A definite announcement to the effect that the members of this famous four are to row, will surely lift a load of worry from the shoulders of Coach Ten Eyck and the loyal followers of the club.

VOLLMER WINS AND MAKES NEW RECORD

New York, April 11.—Herbert Vollmer of the New York Athletic club made a new world's record in winning the 220-yard national A. U. swimming championship here last night. The time was 2 minutes and 23.2 seconds. Vollmer finished about eight yards ahead of Perry McGilivray of the Illinois A. C. Tedford Cann of the New York A. C. was third.

Arthur McAlennan of the New York A. C. retained his title at fancy diving with 144 points. Frank Mullen and E. Lawrence of the same club finished second and third with 137.25 and 131.8 points, respectively.

In a special 100-yard race, Duke Kahanamoku won in 51.3 seconds.

Fight Fifteen-Round Draw.

Denver, Colo., April 11.—Benny Chavez of Trinidad, Colo., and "Chick" Hayes of Indianapolis fought a 15-round draw here last night. They are featherweights.

TRACK MEET WEDNESDAY

Central and "Y" Athletes Will Hold Annual Competition.

Star Men Will Be Pitted Against Each Other for Honors.

One of the best track meets that has ever been held in this city is carded for tomorrow evening at the "Y" gymnasium, when the athletes of Central high school and the local Y. M. C. A. clash in their annual dual affair.

Last year the meet attracted a lot of attention and some excellent records were made. The affair resulted in a tie, and there was little to choose between the showing of the younger and the older men.

So great was the success made last year that it was determined to continue the event this year. It had originally been set for next Friday evening, but recently it was changed to Wednesday night, tomorrow, and the representative teams of both places are in fine fettle for even a harder fight than last year's affair. The older athletes of the Y. M. C. A. are considerably more experienced, but their young opponents from Central hope to offset this by their hard practice and fine physical trim.

One of the features of the meet will be the appearance on the "Y" team of Harold Kelley, former University of Pennsylvania star, and a shining light in several A. U. meets throughout the country. Central is grooming several men to pit against this star, young McKay being one of the best of them. The work of Skull Hufnord, noted Central athlete and one of the best high school dash men in the state, will also be watched with considerable interest by local enthusiasts. Hufnord was the shining individual star of the big Northwestern interscholastic meet held here last June, starred in all Central indoor and outdoor meets held last year, and then wound up a great season by journeying down to the state meet and coming back with two big cups for first places and a medal for a second place, tying with Hutchinson of Fairbault for the highest individual honors of the state.

The event tomorrow night has attracted a lot of attention around these parts, and it is expected that there will be a big turnout by local en-

HOT CONTEST IS EXPECTED

Campaign for Member of Legislature in Polk to Be Warm.

Plenty of Candidates With Prospects of Some Vote Surprises.

Crookston, Minn., April 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The legislative fight in Polk county this year promises to be the hottest in years. John Boyd and T. T. Morcken, elected two years ago, were both candidates for re-election but Morcken has dropped out, and in addition, G. O. Hays, for years secretary of the County Option League of Polk county, has filed, as has D. B. Ferguson of Mallory, western Polk, and Cummings of the same place; Thomas Vollum of Ereskine, Albert O. Gulickson of Fertile, and rumor says that E. G. Ecklund, former county commissioner, of Foston, and Joseph Hall of Crookston will soon file.

The county option organization some time ago nominated T. T. Morcken and Albert Solstad of western Polk. Morcken, it is said, did not like this, as he thought it necessary to endorse an eastern Polk man to win. Morcken also won over G. O. Hays by bare majority as the man to run from Crookston. Solstad refused to run because of the ill health of his father, and the optionists met again and endorsed Gulickson of Fertile, and Cummings of Mallory. In the meantime Gilbert Hays filed, and Morcken, it is rumored, thereupon decided not to run.

Say They Will Split Vote.—With Cummings and Ferguson both Scotchmen, coming from the same section of western Polk, both pioneers and popular, it is expected they will split the support from that section, as both will have high up with a Crookston or eastern Polk man to get anywhere, Cummings pairing off with Gulickson and getting the county option support in a large measure in that.

WANT HENS' AID IN DRY CAMPAIGN.—South Dakota Prohibitionists Ask Week's Laying for Cause.

Watertown, S. D., April 11.—The state prohibition committee expected to send broadcast throughout the state today an appeal to every woman raising chickens to give "for the cause" every egg her hens lay during the week of May 25 to 31.

The movement to have hens work for prohibition in South Dakota was begun several days ago when a committee started organizing local "egg week" clubs in towns, cities and rural communities.

Leading members of the Anti-saloon league at Mitchell have pointed out that 30,000,000 dozen eggs were produced in the state last year. Faithful work for one week by the hens would produce 600,000 dozen eggs, they declare. "The crates of eggs will be shipped to a central point and thence to a commission house."

VILLA MASKS TRAIL AS HE FLEES FROM AMERICAN TROOPS

PARDONS ARE REFUSED
SMITH AND PICKIT;
MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Clemency Denied to Former State Treasurer By Pardon Board.

Pickit Also Fails to Escape Going to State Prison.

Joseph Goldstein, Who Was Sentenced From St. Louis County, Pardoned.

St. Paul, Minn., April 12.—Special to The Herald.—The hopes of Walter J. Smith, former state treasurer, and Robert C. Pickit of escaping prison terms vanished this afternoon when the state pardon board refused to grant further clemency to either man. They must begin their prison sentences immediately.

The pardon board arrived at its decision in the face of hundreds of telegrams urging clemency for the men. Pickson of the House district court, who sentenced the two, had the opportunity to suspend sentence had he so desired, but declined to do so.

Members of the pardon board were of the opinion that they were being asked to do something which the final judge refused to do.

Three Pardons Granted.

The board granted three pardons and ten commutations of sentence and two cases under advisement. All the remainder of the 310 cases were either continued or denied.

TWO CONVENTIONS
OF GEORGIA G. O. P.

Two Separate Delegations Will Be Sent to National Convention.

Atlanta, Ga., April 12.—That Georgia Republicans will send two separate delegations to the national convention in Chicago was made virtually certain today by the gathering in Macon and Atlanta of delegates to separate Republican conventions, each claiming to represent the Republican party in this state.

The faction meeting at Macon is headed by Walter H. Johnson, chairman of the national state committee, while that meeting here is led by Henry S. Jackson, Republican national committeeman from Georgia.

VIOLENT BOMBARDING ON GREEK FRONTIER

Paris, April 12.—Resumption of violent cannonading along the Greek frontier in the vicinity of Giveli and Dolran, is reported in a dispatch from Athens, which broke up in disorder the French artillery had the advantage, and the Greek army captured the fortified position at Deve Tepe, but this has not been confirmed.

CONTENTS SEIZURE OF MEN JUSTIFIED

Washington, April 12.—Great Britain's note replying to the American protests against the seizure of thirty-eight Austrians, Germans and Turks from the American steamer China near Shanghai was made public today by the state department. It contends the seizure is justified on ground that the prisoners had been engaged in plots against Britain in the Far East and were attempting to return home to take up arms.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

In Caucasia, west of the Meuse river, another attempt to break the French line of defense was made this morning by German troops. The official communication from Paris says the attack was repulsed. East of the river there was no infantry fighting during the night, although the artillery kept up its incessant fire.

The official report of today from Berlin says German troops gained some ground in the Caucasia, southeast of Douaumont and that several French attacks broke down with heavy losses.

The official French statement says the German losses in yesterday's fighting were very heavy. Press dispatches from Paris give praise to the German soldiers who after nearly two months of the fiercest fighting kept up the courage and ardor. The French, too, sustain the shock of battle with no evidences of fatigue and the struggle for Verdun goes on with no sign of an ending.

Washington, April 12.—Meredith Nicholson of Indianapolis, an author, practitioner, has been agreed upon by President Wilson and Secretary Baker for appointment as assistant secretary of war. Mr. Nicholson is a close personal friend of Mr. Baker and is understood to have the support of Vice President Marshall.

DUTCH SHIPS
TORPEDOED

Special Report on Sinking of Steamships Palembang and Tubantia.

Says Pieces of Metal on Litter Came From a Schwartzkopf Torpedo.

Amsterdam, via London, April 12.—The Dutch shipping council, which was entrusted by the government with the official investigation into the sinking of the Dutch steamships Palembang and Tubantia, has issued the report of its findings.

With regard to the Palembang the report says:

"Three explosions took place. The first was caused by the explosion at some distance, by a drifting mine, fired upon by a British destroyer. After the explosion the Palembang remained undamaged. The second explosion was caused by a torpedo, fired at short range, which hit the Palembang. It could not have been fired by the British destroyer, because the torpedo passed some meters in front of the latter vessel. It is possible that the torpedo was meant for the destroyer, but, missing it, hit the Palembang."

"The third explosion also was a torpedo. The first mine of the steamship was blown up in the stern. The Palembang at the time of the second and third explosions was motionless and there was therefore no possibility of a collision with an anchored mine."

"The ship was preparing to cast anchor when she was hit and a severe explosion took place in the coal bunkers on the starboard side. Witnesses observed a streak on the water approaching the Tubantia at great speed, directed at the point where the explosion occurred."

"From investigations made by experts it is clearly shown that the pieces of metal in the Tubantia's boats came from a Schwartzkopf torpedo."

"Debate on Agricultural Bill." Washington, April 12.—Debate on the agricultural appropriation bill carrying $2,100,000, was continued in the house today.

After a winter of inactivity along the Greek frontier, heavy fighting is now under way, although apparently it is still confined principally to artillery actions. An unconfirmed report from Saloniki tells of the capture of a fortified position by the German allies, but so far as is indicated no large bodies of infantry have been engaged.

GERMANS RENEW DRIVE ON VERDUN IN MORNING; REPULSED, SAY FRENCH

Troops Advance on Caurettes Woods, Using Flame Projectors.

Only Artillery Firing Reported in Douaumont-Vaux Sector.

Germans Claim to Have Gained Ground in Caillette Woods.

Paris, April 12, 11:45 a. m.—The German assault on the Verdun front west of the Meuse was renewed this morning. Troops advanced on Caurettes wood, south of Caillette, the war office announced, using flame projectors but were repulsed.

East of the Meuse in the Douaumont-Vaux sector there was only artillery fighting.

The war office says it has been confirmed that the German losses yesterday were very heavy.

Germans Gain Ground.

Berlin, April 12, via London, 3:38 p. m.—German troops in the operations against Verdun yesterday gained some ground in Caillette woods, southeast of Port Douaumont, according to the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters.

Trying to Recover Lost Ground.

Paris, April 12.—While bringing up reinforcements to resume their attack on Le Mort Homme, the hill of the Dead Man, the Germans are trying to recover the ground regained by the French in Caillette woods and to the north between Douaumont and Vaux.

The French positions there describe an arc from a point south of Douaumont fort to the center of the village of Vaux, and the front is a little less than two miles in length.

For three days the only actions on the east bank of the Meuse have been centered there with the habitual preparation in heavily concentrated artillery fire, with a finishing touch in the form of a couple of hours of heavy fighting.

HOLLAND NEEDS MUCH GRAIN FROM AMERICA

Large Importations Proposed If England Will Give Her Consent.

The Hague, April 11, via London, April 12.—According to figures given the Associated Press by the Dutch government, the grain bureau of Holland intends to import from America this year 1,100,000 tons of maize, with a value of $45,000,000, and 140,000 tons of rye, valued at $7,500,000.

Should Great Britain persist in limiting the supply to 75,000 tons a month the Dutch government will purchase 805,000 tons of maize and 95,000 tons of rye.

As for wheat and flour the government will import from America at least as much as last year, which was about 600,000 tons of wheat valued at $35,700,000, and 275,000 tons of flour valued at $2,800,000.

THE FIRST DAY OUT.

CARRANZISTAS DEFEAT
BANDITS IN A FIVE-HOUR
ENGAGEMENT AT PASAJE

Contreras and Cenicerros Forces Attack Garrison Stationed There.

Outlaws Flee to the Hills, Leaving Seventy Dead Behind.

Gen. Reyes, Supposed to Have Been Implicated, Not There.

Torreón, Mex., April 11, via El Paso Junction, April 12.—Details of a five-hour battle between the Carranza garrison at Pasaje, Durango, and an attacking force composed of Contreras and Cenicerros bandits were brought here today. The outlaws fled in disorder into the hills of the Nazas district after losing seventy killed. It is reported. The de facto troops had four dead.

The battle took place on Sunday. First reports were that the attacking force was commanded by Gen. Canuto Reyes.

Reyes Not Implicated.

As negotiations have been under way for the surrender of Gen. Reyes under an amnesty grant, bitter disappointment was expressed by Carranza officials. The latest details, however, seem to show that Reyes was not implicated.

A doctor who treated men wounded in the battle said that the Contreras and Cenicerros attackers were subjected to withering fire from the garrison. They fled in disorder. He arrived in time to count the bodies of seventy of the outlaws scattered over the battle grounds. Among the dead were a colonel and a captain.

After the battle, word was brought (Continued on page 8, first column.)

POWDER PLANT IS BLOWN TO PIECES

Three Persons Killed When Dupont Works in West Virginia Explode.

Bluefield, W. Va., April 12.—Three persons were killed, one perhaps fatally injured and two others less seriously hurt at the Nemours plant of the Dupont Powder company, eight miles from here, early today, when 4,000 kegs of black powder exploded. The plant was almost completely destroyed with a loss of about $100,000.

The force of the explosions was such that houses in the little village were wrecked and the sound could be plainly heard here.

The principal damage was done by the first explosion, which is said to have completely destroyed the building in which it occurred. The succeeding explosions were believed to have been caused by flying embers and were of less intensity.

Nemours is located in a wild country and all wires leading to the town were torn down. The plant has been working day and night on war orders.

WELL KNOWN AUTHOR FOUND DEAD AT HIS TELEPHONE

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS.

FOUND DEAD IN LIBRARY

Richard Harding Davis Dies Suddenly at Mount Kisco, N. Y.

One of Most Popular of American Authors and Playwrights.

Mount Kisco, N. Y., April 12.—Richard Harding Davis, author and playwright, died at his home here late last night from heart trouble. His body was found early this morning and he had apparently been stricken while at his telephone.

He had gone into his library to dictate a telegram to a friend in New York city. His wife assumed, when he did not return, that he had seated himself to read and did not visit the library until after midnight.

Mr. Davis had been in failing health for some time and had sought quiet at his country place, Cross Roads farm, under the care of his wife, who was Bessie McCoy, the actress.

Richard Harding Davis, one of the most popular of American writers, a playwright also and a veteran correspondent of five wars, including the Boer war, the son of L. Clark Davis and Rebecca Harding Davis, also a writer.

After being educated at Lehigh and Johns Hopkins universities, Mr. Davis entered journalism, starting with the Philadelphia Press and after serving on the New York Evening Sun. He was a correspondent of the highest quality for the London Times and the New York Herald and during the present war wrote dispatches for a syndicate.

His earliest and most widely read book, "Soldiers of Fortune," was published in 1899, and in succeeding years he wrote more than thirty volumes of fiction and war experiences, together with a number of plays and numerous short stories.

In 1899 Mr. Davis married Cecil Clark, daughter of J. M. Clark of Chicago, and was divorced by her in 1912. A few days later Mr. Davis married Miss McCoy, who was the famous Yama Yama girl in a popular musical comedy. A daughter, Hope Davis, was born.

PEONS SPREAD RUMORS THAT CHIEF IS DEAD

Mexican Military Officers Believe He Is Hiding in Mountains.

Spreading of Death Stories Favorite Trick of the Bandit Leader.

Gen. Pershing Has Established New Army Base at Satevo.

El Paso, Tex., April 12.—Masking his trail with the deluding fiction spread broadcast by Mexican peons that he is dead of his wounds, Francisco Villa is thought by Mexican military officers in Juarez to be safely hidden in the Sierra Madre mountains, while the American cavalry are pursuing a rear guard band of Villa bandits, whose strategy it is to beguile Villa's pursuers away from the hiding place of their chief.

Mexican followers of Villa in other campaigns say it was a favorite trick of Villa when the chase became hot for the bandit to have the story spread that he was dead, that the ardor of pursuers might be dampened.

Brig. Gen. Pershing has established a new base at Satevo, according to information here.

There was no official here or at army headquarters at Columbus to confirm a report that Troops K and M, seventh cavalry, killed a number of Villa bandits and captured thirty-five others last Saturday south of Satevo.

TEMPTATION FOR HUGHES

Senator Works Denounces Politicians Who Are Trying to Bait Justice.

Says Use of Name as Candidate Is an Offense to the Country.

Washington, April 12.—Senator Works, Republican, today coupled an attack on the party bill with a denunciation of politicians who, he declared, were trying to tempt Justice Hughes with a presidential nomination.

"Partisan politics," declared the California senator, "is ruthless in its demands and invades the most sacred precincts of the national government. It is a wicked and a wicked power, wherever and whenever it can find a trace."

"Just now it is attempting to invade the supreme court of the United States. It is presenting to a member of that body the greatest temptation that could be offered to an American citizen—to surrender his place on the bench and become a candidate for political office. This attempt to bring the highest judicial tribunal of the country, or any members of it into politics should be repented not only the member to whom the tempting offer is made but by the whole country."

"Should Be Absolutely Separated."

"To my mind it is of the greatest importance that the great and august body of the nation should be separated absolutely and forever from politics, and for that reason cannot consent to accept a nomination to a political office or engage in politics, he will have rendered his country a great and lasting service. If he does that, he will be a traitor to the best interests of his country that has so signally honored him. It will keep his memory green in the minds of his countrymen long after the politicians who thus tempt him are forgotten. The use of his name as a candidate is an offense to him and to the country."

FORMER GILBERT BOY IS GIVEN MEDAL FOR BRAVERY

First American to Be Decorated By King George.

Single-Handed, He Held Trench Against German Forces.

Visits Duluth Friends After Ovation From Winnipeg Citizens.

Lester L. Spalding, formerly employed at Gilbert, Minn., as cashier by the Republic Iron & Steel company, and who is the only American who ever received the coveted Distinguished Conduct medal for bravery on the battlefield by the personal designation of King George V of England, was in Duluth yesterday.

Young Spalding enlisted with the Winnipeg Rifles in August, 1914. The young man went from Duluth to the Western Canadian metropolis and was engaged in the real estate business when war was declared. Last April, the Winnipeg Rifles, known as the "Little Black Devils," went into action in the first line of trenches at St. Julien, which is just outside Ypres. For two days the attacking Germans rained a terrible fire of shells on the exposed trenches where the Canadian soldiers lay. Spalding was literally rained on the positions. Suddenly Spalding discovered that the members of his machine gun crew, which was on the extreme left of the line, had been killed. Instead of retreating or joining another company, the young American boy stood by his gun and single-handedly worked it against the charging lines of Germans. Alone he discharged 21,000 rounds, mowing down the charging line of soldiers as grain falls before the reaper.

Rescued By British. Wounded in both legs, his arm hanging helplessly by his side, suffering from the poisonous gas fumes, and lying under his overturned machine gun, the Minnesota fighting man was discovered by a British captain, his face scarred with powder, his trousers stained with the crimson of his blood. It was the British who mentioned the remarkable feat of bravery.

LESTER L. SPALDING.

In his dispatches from the front, The distinguished service of the young man was brought to the attention of King George V, and last Saturday evening in Winnipeg, before 8,000 soldiers and citizens of that city, he was adorned with the Distinguished Conduct medal by Gen. Hughes, inspector of Western Canadian troops.

Kept on Fighting. "I would rather talk about the general aspect of the war, than the act for which I received the medal," said the young man here yesterday, when he was requested to give some detailed information of his now famous exploit. "I guess I just kept on fighting, as any soldier is expected to do. I kept working the machine gun and the charging Germans kept falling before the rain of fire. Finally I lost consciousness and when I awoke it was to find myself in a troop hospital."

"England and the allies will win the war, I thoroughly believe. Germany has made her greatest effort and has lost. England and France are better prepared than ever before. I am firmly convinced that the long expected offensive movement of the allies will be inaugurated in the very near future. In my opinion it will be a great combined offensive drive on the part of the Russians, French and English troops. As for arms, ammunition and men, the allies have never been so well prepared as at the present time."

Is Given Promotion. For his bravery Spalding has been promoted from the rank of private to that of lieutenant. Spalding is now on a furlough. His condition is so bad as the result of wounds and the terrible ordeal he suffered from the poisonous gas. Canadian friends are planning to send him to Banff to recuperate. After he recovers it is believed Spalding will be engaged in recruiting work.

"Life in the trenches was at times relieved by brief touches of comradeship between the contending soldiers," said Spalding. "The Saxons, for instance, seemed less inclined to savagery than the Prussians and Bavarians. There were nights when the Canadian and Saxon troops declared a truce and hoisted peace signals. We even came out of the trenches and mingled with one another, exchanging stories and repairing the trenches. When the German Staff officers discovered this they speedily put a stop to it."

"Shelling is one of the favorite sports. One German shooter had thirty-seven notches on his rifle. It seems hideous even to think about this shelling over murder, but it is true, nevertheless. Some of the trenches are named after the London streets. When soldiers are quartered in trenches for any great length of time, they find a way of fixing them up like city abodes. We had sidewalks and street signs where we were last spring."

Young Spalding left Duluth last evening for Aitkin, Minn., the home of his parents. He will remain there for several weeks, then return to Duluth. The young man had several serious hemorrhages of the lungs, the result of inhaling poison gas, and will most likely go to the Canadian mountains to recuperate.

While not employed in Duluth, Spalding made frequent business trips here and spent considerable time in this city. He at one time tried out for the Winnipeg baseball team.

ELECTIONS NUMEROUS

Special Questions May Be Considered With June Primaries.

Six or Seven Election and Registration Days This Year.

Duluth will have six and possibly seven election or registration days this year. According to City Clerk Borgen, Duluth voters will register on June 6 for the general election, while the second registration day is scheduled for June 12. The primary election will be held on June 19 and on Nov. 4 the last registration will take place on Nov. 14.

In addition to these dates already scheduled for this year, it is virtually certain that the voters of Duluth will have an opportunity of voting on several charter amendments, the firemen's ordinance establishing a double payment system for the members of the department and the question of a wet or dry Duluth.

It is planned to hold these, if possible on June 19, primary election day, doing away with much additional expense. Just when these elections will take place, is not known of course. It is understood that City Clerk Borgen will report at the council meeting next Monday on the sufficiency of the petition filed by the firemen last Monday. The council then has twenty days in which to pass the proposed ordinance or twenty-five days in which to call a special election. This election must be held not earlier than forty nor later than fifty days from the date of the call. In that event, the election will be called sometime before the last week in June.

Charter Amendments. In case the members of the charter commission complete the amendments on which they are working, these will be submitted to the Duluth voters at the same time that the firemen's ordinance is voted on. Otherwise, an additional election will have to be held.

Workers for a dry Duluth are circulating petitions and it is generally admitted that the measure will have a sufficient number of signatures. In that event, an election will be called by the commissioners so that the voters of the city can decide whether or not they want the 170 saloons thrown out. It is also planned to hold this election on primary day, June 19.

There will also be the school election in July.

LOG COMPANY ASKS LOWER RATES

Three Railways Are Defendants in Hearing Before I. C. C. Examiner.

An action brought by the Duluth Log company against the Soo, Northern Pacific and Northwestern railways to reduce the freight rates on pulpwood, paper, posts, poles and other timber commodities was heard by J. Wood, examiner for the interstate commerce commission, at the Federal building this afternoon. The action involved four parts, and some of these were sub-divided into many more parts. The actions affect traffic between points in Minnesota and North Dakota. Repatriation is asked in several of the cases, and thirty-two items are involved in the one docket. The cases involve shipments for several years back, and the matter has been in dispute for a long period.

"EXAM" IS "STICKER"

Applicants for Chauffeur's License Are Given Rigid Test.

Truck operators, drivers of jitneys and chauffeurs who aspire to limousines and touring cars rubbed shoulders (and scratched their heads) at police headquarters today. It was the day for the monthly examination of prospective chauffeurs, under the direction of W. H. Healy, member of the state chauffeurs' examining board, and the questions were "stickers."

In previous years the examination given before a chauffeur received a license was called a "snatch" and few had difficulty in passing, but now, according to Mr. Healy, the "old order" changed.

"The examining board decided recently that the requirements had not been strict enough in the past," said

Mr. Healy, "and it is going to be much harder to 'get by' now than it used to be."

The fifty men who tried to answer the questions and who gave their automobile history to Mr. Healy were inclined to agree with him. Some men gave their address at some small country town, because in the past the country men were left easier than their city brothers.

Their rule didn't work this time, however, because no distinctions are to be made from now on. After testing the eyesight and examining into the physical qualifications of the applicant, Mr. Healy gave them ten questions, to be answered in writing.

Twelve questions, four on the state laws, four on the mechanical parts, and four on the care and operation of a car, were prepared and ten are selected from the twelve. The first four must be answered.

MORE APPLICATIONS FOR HOTEL LICENSES

Applications for hotel licenses are still coming in. This morning eight more applications were filed with City Clerk Borgen and turned over to Commissioner Silberstein for investigation.

About forty applicants are now being investigated and it is expected that these will come before the council next week. Twenty licenses were granted by the commissioners last Monday afternoon.

DULUTH'S FIRE LOSS SMALL DURING 1915 SAYS MARSHAL COMPRISED $58,140 OF $4,722,925 IN STATE

Fire loss in Minnesota during 1915 amounted to $4,722,925, according to the annual report of State Fire Marshal Robert W. Hargadine and $58,140 was Duluth's share of the total. Minneapolis' loss was $750,000.

Defective fires cause firemen more trouble than any other known agency, the report shows, for 146 blazes started in this way. Nearly one-fourth of the fires reported were of unknown origin, for 640 were classified in this way out of the total of 2,596.

Accident fires, electric wiring, carelessness with matches, sparks from a chimney, and woodwork near stoves, were some of the more common causes. One hundred and nineteen were suspicious. Careless smokers, spontaneous combustion, gasoline explosion, lightning, overheated stoves, and kerosene lamps or lanterns, all were responsible for many blazes.

Seventy-seven different causes are enumerated by Marshal Hargadine, in telling how the 2,596 fires were started. Automobile back fire, Christmas trees, fireworks, flat irons, friction,

HOTEL CLERK PURSUES "BEATS"

Designs of Trio at Spalding Partly Thwarted By Roy Quigley.

A chase to recapture the baggage of two young men who had left the hotel without settling their bill, was staged by Clerk Roy Quigley at the Spalding last night, and he did not return empty handed.

UNCLAIMED ESTATES RANGE IN VALUE FROM $1.85 TO NEARLY $4,000

County Treasurer Has More Than $5,000 Which He Is Holding for Missing Heirs to Claim—Many of Them May Never Be Found.

On deposit with County Treasurer George H. Vivian is a sum, probably more than $5,000, the property of fifty or more persons whose identity or address or both is unknown. They are scattered over the world and reside from Saskatchewan to Ithaca and from Berlin to strange corners of the globe. The money is a part of the county revenue fund and is held in trust for the unknown heirs of those who have died in St. Louis county and left behind them legacies ranging from $1 to $1,000 and more.

It is a strange list with odd figures, such as $1.85 and $11.65 and the like. In some cases dead men have been found with money on their persons. Who they were or where they came from, is a mystery yet unsolved. The coroner finds $17.57 on the body. There is no one to claim it. He turns it over to the county treasurer. It becomes the property of the state until such a time as an heir can establish his claim. In the meantime, the county must assume a careful guardianship for years and years.

Graves seldom give up their secrets and oftentimes it is only by some strange trick of fate that heirs show up. Sometimes they are impostors. It is within the province of the probate court, however, to say whether heirs claiming money turned over to the county treasurer, if the claims are bona fide and the heirship is established, an order of the court is made and the money paid out.

In many cases heirs have been traced as far as the name is concerned, but the whereabouts is unknown. John Doe dies. It is understood that a brother residing in far away Eng-

FRANK R. GREEN.

They were residents of Wilton, Ill. Carroll married Miss Mary Tully on Jan. 26, 1888, and deserted her and their two children while residing in Chicago ten years later. Carroll was in the saloon business at the time. The last he heard from him was from his wife. The administrator of his estate knew nothing of his family and considered him a single man. It took John B. Odette of Little Falls several months to establish his heirship claim to money left by one John Polissant, who died on March 23, 1911, and after considerable red tape, Odette secured $221. Polissant was only an uncle and there were many other heirs. He was the father of a living child of a sister of the dead man according to his claim. Others resided at Saskatchewan, Montreal, Winnipeg and in Massachusetts.

Estate of $1,500 Unclaimed. If Frank Johnson, who committed suicide at the McKay hotel Turkish bathhouse on Oct. 1, 1913, has any relatives or heirs living, they are unknown. Efforts have been made to find some of them, but no one has yet put in their claim. The estate consists of about $1,500, which will be turned over to the state within a short time if no heir shows up.

Little was known of Johnson's early history. The cause of his self-destruction was just as much of a mystery as his name. He was a few months before committing suicide he came to Duluth and engaged in the real estate business. It was said that his life was a closed book to those who knew him here. Victor Sundquist, a credit man here, is administrator of the estate. There are other cases and each is a story in itself.

WEST END ASK WARNINGS FOR CROSSING

Fatal Accident on Soo Tracks Stirrs Residents to Activity.

Clubs Will Discuss Means of Securing Protection for Public.

The accident Monday afternoon at Twenty-ninth avenue west, which resulted in the death of John E. Markson of West Duluth by the South Shore passenger train No. 5 at the Soo line crossing, will bring about an extra effort on the part of residents of that area to have the railroad put up warnings on this and other grade crossings. The subject will be taken up Friday evening at the meeting of the French Naturalization club and on Thursday evening of next week at the meeting of the West End Commercial club.

The crossings at Twenty-ninth avenue and Twenty-ninth avenue are said to be especially dangerous. Trains are shielded from view on both the upper and lower sides and the same is said to be true of the Twenty-ninth avenue crossing in the matter of trains from the east.

On the upper side of the track the factory buildings of the Duluth Show Case company obstruct the view of the French Naturalization club last night. The company's high fence and buildings extending almost to the railroad crossing, the lower side the danger is not quite so great, say residents, owing to the death of Michigan street having to be crossed before the tracks are reached.

There are about seventy-five children belonging to families living below Michigan street who use these crossings four times a day in going to and from school, said a member of the French Naturalization club last night. "We have asked for warning bells or some other safety arrangement at these two crossings, but our committee has so far been unable to convince the railroad that they are necessary. Trains will be moving over these crossings this summer than they have in the past and will increase the danger of persons using the crossings."

FOURTH TRIAL FOR DR. HYDE

Kansas City Physician
Again Arraigned for Murder of Col. Swope.

Released in $10,000 Bond and Hearing Set for April 21.

Kansas City, Mo., April 12.—Dr. B. C. Hyde was arraigned late yesterday on a new information filed yesterday, charging him with the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, millionaire philanthropist. Dr. Hyde waived reading of the warrant and his preliminary hearing was set for April 21. He was released on bond of $10,000.

The accused physician appeared voluntarily in Justice Clark's court, the same court in which the new warrant was filed earlier in the day by Floyd Jacobs, prosecuting attorney of Jackson county. It charges Dr. Hyde with having caused the death of Col. Swope by the use of strychnine and cyanide of potassium.

The previous information on which he had been tried three times, charged the use of strychnine and other unknown poisons.

DR. B. C. HYDE.

Col. Thomas H. Swope, for whose alleged murder Dr. B. C. Hyde was indicted, died Oct. 3, 1910, under mysterious circumstances. He was a bachelor. On Dec. 3, two months later, he was found dead in his room at the Hotel Swope. The coroner's jury found that he had died of strychnine poisoning. Dr. Hyde was the attending physician at the time.

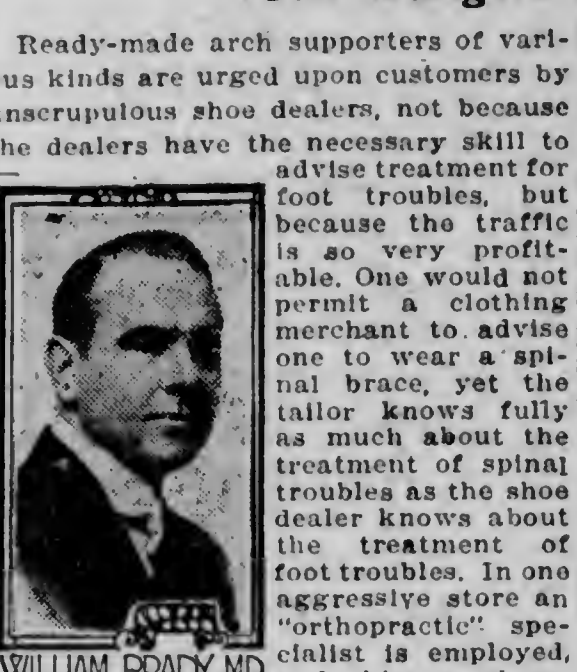

Dr. Hyde's wife, before her marriage, was Miss Frances Swope, daughter of Mrs. Logan O. Swope. Mrs. Swope was a sister-in-law of Col. Swope. Under the will, Mrs. Hyde and nine other nieces and nephews were made heirs. At the death of any one of the heirs, the bequest under the will, reverted to the residuary part of the estate and the surviving relatives shared equally in it.

Nurses employed in the Swope home during the illness of Col. Swope and his nephew were responsible for the first rumors regarding the deaths of the two men. They communicated ob-

The Dangers of Arch Props

WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Ready-made arch supporters of various kinds are urged upon customers by unscrupulous shoe dealers, not because the dealers have the necessary skill to advise treatment for foot troubles, but because the traffic is so very profitable.

One would not permit a clothing merchant to advise one to wear a spinal brace, yet the shoe dealer knows fully as much about the treatment of spinal troubles as the shoe dealer knows about the treatment of foot troubles. In one aggressive store an "orthopedic" specialist is employed, and his employer announces that the young gentleman is a "graduate." The young gentleman recently showed us his "diploma." He also showed us his "course of study," which consisted of six "lessons," or rather six lectures, all of which could be read in, say, an hour. Think of that for a while before you submit to shoe-store "treatment" for your arch trouble.

Alarming statements relative to "painful feet," "weak ankles," "broken arches," "fallen arches," etc., are placed before the public to attract customers for these expensive appliances. Customers in some shoe stores are graphically told of the marvelous cures effected by the particular prop or appliance the dealer wishes to sell, and perhaps warned of the disastrous effects of neglect of an imaginary falling of the arch. But perhaps we speak with bad grace of this kind of fraud. Some physicians when consulted by patients suffering with foot troubles confess themselves incompetent by saying: "Get a pair of arch supporters." Patients are constantly applying for treatment who have worn arch props for years, trying all the modifications the shoe clerk could think of, and suffering all the time. The reason they have been so long deceived is that the prop or support seemed to offer considerable relief when first applied. But this relief was always temporary, and soon the old trouble was as bad or worse than before. Of course the support weakened the muscles and ligaments, when worn for several months, and the original weakness was only exaggerated, so that the victim became a steady customer, a slave to the prop. In the great majority of cases of actual arch weakness or flat foot or pronated foot (the earliest stage of flat foot), arch supports are unnecessary and injurious. The patient requires general treatment, and scientific advice about the toning up and development of the weakened muscles and ligaments. Massage, certain exercises, and above all, the adoption of proper shoes, will give permanent relief if anything can. In pronounced cases nothing less than surgery can effect a cure.

To wear an arch prop, of any kind or material whatever, for a prolonged period, is as wrong as it would be to bind a weak arm in splints for an indefinite time—and as disastrous.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Proper Diet for Typhoid Fever.
Please tell me what to eat for a typhoid fever patient, temperature 102.5 deg., to have other food than milk.
Answer.—Yes, by all means. Here are the articles allowed in the Massachusetts General hospital: Soft toast, soft-boiled eggs, any form of soup or porridge, or chicken, or mutton, the soft part of a baked apple, ice cream, custard, blanc mange, and various other foods which require little mastication and are easily and quickly digested. Patients are fed six times a day. The milk and "slops" diet is a generation behind the times, and does almost as much harm in some cases as the fever itself.

Fistula.
I have had for the past year a rectal fistula. Can it be cured without operation? Is the disease dangerous if allowed to go on? Is the operation dangerous? What will remove the lump where the fistula opens?
Answer.—It is rarely possible to heal a rectal fistula without surgical treatment. The disease is dangerous if neglected—favors tuberculosis. The operation is simple and absolutely safe, and it is the only treatment which will remove the lump.

servations made during the illness of the aged philanthropist to other members of the Swope family and an investigation was begun. On Jan. 3, 1916, the body of Christian was exhumed and an autopsy was held. A few days later that of Col. Swope was disturbed. Chemists were summoned and the viscera were taken to Chicago for analysis.

Poison Found.
At a coroner's inquest, Feb. 7, the chemists testified to finding enough poison to cause the death of Col. Swope. On Feb. 17, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Col. Swope's death was due to poisoning. "We believe," said the jury's signed verdict, "said strychnine was administered in a capsule at 3:30 a. m. of the day he (Col. Swope) died, by direction of Dr. B. C. Hyde, whether with felonious intent, we the jury, are unable to decide."

Following the coroner's inquest, Dr. Hyde was arrested under a warrant charging first degree murder in the death of Col. Swope. He was released on $50,000 bond. On March 6, 1916, charges against Dr. Hyde were returned by the county grand jury. These charges: First degree murder for the death of Col. Swope and for the death of Christian Swope and manslaughter for negligently killing Col. Swope, a nephew of Col. Swope, and one of the executors of the estate, by bleeding him to death.

Huntton died two days before Col. Swope's death. The remaining indictments charged poisoning other members of the Swope household with typhoid germs. Dr. Hyde was placed on trial April 11. The most important witnesses against him were Miss Pearl Kellar, a nurse in the Swope home who described the giving of a capsule to Col. Swope, and the confusion which followed on the day of the death of the philanthropist's death, and Dr. Hugo Brecklein, a druggist. Dr. Hyde testified that he had sold Dr. Hyde cyanide capsules in a capsule form three times. He said he had never before sold anyone else cyanide capsules. He also told of Dr. Hyde purchasing 200 media cultures.

Settled Order of Cyanide.
Thomas H. Swope, Jr., a nephew of Col. Swope, declared he saw Dr. Hyde tramp cyanide capsules in snow in front of the Swope home. He said he picked them up and noted the peculiar odor of cyanide.

Dr. Hyde, testifying in his own behalf, explained that he had typhoid germs to start a laboratory. He said he bought cyanide capsules to kill roaches. He denied giving poison to Col. Swope and Christian Swope and denied bleeding Miss Huntton to death. He said the capsule given Col. Swope was a digestive capsule.

HOLDUPS HAVE BEEN NUMEROUS

More holdups were staged in Duluth during March than for any one month in recent years, according to the report of Police Lieut. Terry today.

Nine were reported, of which four were attributed to Brady Henry and Frank Engman, ex-convicts, now in a Superior Jail facing several charges of highway robbery, murder and attempted murder, after a sensational career of crime.

Lieut. Terry, in his report as inspector of pawnshops, states that property valued at $2,533.30 was lost or stolen during the month, and that police recovered $2 per cent of the amount. This recovery, although higher than that for February, is considerably below the average. The value of missing property is less than usual, comparing with $2,588 in February.

Activities of crooks who assembled in Duluth early in the month, preparing for the gathering of lumberjacks and lake vessel men, are reflected in the report. There were thirty-nine cases of petty larceny, thirteen of grand larceny, two of larceny from the person, nine of holdup and seven of burglary.

FIRST SIGNS OF ACTIVITY

Tug Breaks Ice and Releases the Steamer Briton.

First Ore Dropped Into Pockets at Great Northern Docks.

The first moving of a tug about the harbor occurred yesterday afternoon when the Minnesota of the United Towing company cut into two slips, coated and released one steamer.

The first move of the tug was to go into the slip at the No. 7 Pittsburgh coal dock and take on a supply of coal, releasing the ice at the face of the dock. The tug then proceeded to the Soo dock on this side of the bay, breaking the ice along side the steamer Briton as far up as the bow, releasing the steamer. No further ice breaking has yet been ordered, but it is expected at any time. The Minnesota found the ice fairly soft yesterday and experienced no difficulty whatever in making her way through it. The sun of the last few days softened it considerably and the rain of today is working further havoc.

The steamer Briton, which belongs to the Massey Steamship company, will leave the harbor probably Friday or Saturday for Port Arthur. She will go up light and will there load screenings or wheat, most probably the former. The Briton was the last steamer to arrive last fall, making several trips to Port Arthur for screenings long after the insurance rates had been off.

The first ore to arrive at the Great Northern ore docks this year was dropped into the pockets today. Shipments will continue to arrive daily until fall. Ore dock officials believe that 15,000,000 tons of ore will be shipped by the Great Northern this season, eclipsing the previous record of 1912. The Soo and Northern Pacific roads also are preparing for an active ore season. The two roads will bring about 3,000,000 tons from the new Cuyuna range to their docks at Superior.

The lake ice, which started out yesterday, blown by favorable winds, is back again today, for the northeast wind that is blowing sent it in more rapidly than the offshore wind had drifted it out. The field is badly broken up, however, and there is a great deal of open water in sight.

MANY SAILORS RATED AS SEAMEN

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Says Record Is Large.

From The Herald Washington Bureau. Washington, April 12. — Assistant Secretary of Commerce Edwin F. Sweet, upon his return to Washington from a tour of the Great Lakes ports today stated that the number of sailors on the Great Lakes who have received certificates under the seaman's law is about 3,800 and that he expects the total when navigation opens to reach 4,500. Mr. Sweet said it was impossible to determine at this time how many vessels will be commissioned and just how many certified seamen will be required, therefore he could make no prediction as to whether the vessels to be put into commission on the Great Lakes could be operated.

Eighty-eight per cent of the men who applied received certificates and many of the remaining twelve per cent were rejected conditionally and advised to procure glasses or take necessary treatment and try again.

Mr. Sweet said the prospect is that this will be a record-breaking season on the Great Lakes. He said many vessels that had been out of commission for two or three years have been fitted for service this year and the business in ore, coal and grain is likely to aggregate 107,000,000 tons.

ICE STILL LOCKS UP SAULT RIVER

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 12.—Ice conditions in this section have not changed appreciably during the last week. The operation of the ferry between the Saults has been broken away a considerable portion of the ice in the harbor, and open water exists as far down as Six Mile point in Hay lake.

Driving by teams is still in progress across Hay lake, although here and there aches are showing up. The ice has gone out of the mouth of the river into Lake Huron, and crossing between Detour and Drummond Island has been discontinued.

At Whitefish point from fourteen to nineteen inches of solid ice in the bay. Fishing is still conducted through the ice all the way down to Trout point. Above Whitefish point the big field is being blown back and forth by the wind. The weather turned colder tonight with a northwest wind. All steam craft in the harbor are being put in readiness for work as soon as they will be required.

FINDS OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS UNUSUAL

Washington, April 12.—Assistant Secretary Sweet, the department of commerce, back today from a tour of Great Lakes ports, declared that shipping conditions for the season would break all records for goods carried.

"Vessels out of commission for last two or three years have been fitted up for service," he said. "Many vessels are loaded now ready to start."

First Boat to North Shore.

The little fishing steamer Goldfish of the Goldfish Fish company of Duluth is due to leave Two Harbors today for Grand Marais and intermediate points. She wintered in Two Harbors and today is carrying freight and passengers, as well as her fish load.

It is expected that she will have quite a number of passengers on the trip back, as she is the first boat to go up the shore this year.

TOTAL NOT YET KNOWN

"Drys" Believe They Have More Than 4,000 Names on Petitions.

"Drys" will not know how many Duluthians have signed their initial petition for a wet and dry election until tomorrow morning, when the names will be checked. Monday night, in a four-hour, house-to-house canvass, the dry workers believe they secured nearly 3,000 names on their petition. The time limit was extended until tomorrow morning, as captains of the various districts wanted more time.

Although 2,616 names of voters are all that are needed to make the petition sufficient, the "dry" workers determined early in the campaign to obtain 5,000 names.

Up to last night, with several districts captains yet to report, W. L. Smithies, chairman of the Dry Ordinance committee, said that more than 4,000 names had been obtained.

"Many men came to our headquarters during the day," Mr. Smithies said, "complaining that they were not canvassed Monday night, and that they had no opportunity to sign a petition. That is why the time was extended. The lists will be closed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, however, and all of the captains must have their petitions in by that time."

The petitions probably will go to City Clerk Walter Borgen Thursday noon, or after that. They ask that the council provide for a vote on the liquor license question at the coming spring election, and that saloons be abolished by July 1, 1917.

NOT AUTHORIZED TO SOLICIT FUNDS

Michigan street merchants were visited by a solicitor today, who succeeded in obtaining donations to the Children's home in one or two places, before authorities at the institution heard of it.

They denied that he was authorized to represent the institution and issued a statement asking that merchants have no requests until they had verified the credentials of the solicitor.

Wives Had to Identify Headless Husbands

Do you think you could pick your husband, if you happen to have one, out of a crowd of men all dressed in stereotyped evening clothes, if he had lost his head temporarily by having it encased in a paper bag for the women who attended the Oriental subscription dance, that was given in Cleveland, Ohio, last week. At the end of one of the dances all husbands were ordered to go to a little room off the ballroom, where their heads were inserted into bags. On their return to the ballroom they were lined up and identified by their spouses, who realized that there is often as much individuality of form as of face.

Grayson's Romance Began In Taft Administration

Dr. Carey Grayson, whose position as physician to President Wilson and one of his aides, has made him a target for matchmakers who have had him engaged to first one and then another, preferably some of the president's family or friends, is quoted as having said that he and Miss Gertrude Gordon will be married late in May or early in June.

It was while doing escort duty to President Taft's daughter, that Dr. Grayson met Miss Gertrude Gordon, who is a pretty Virginia belle. The affair continued in the Wilson regime and the result was an engagement that was announced recently.

It is said that Dr. Grayson and Mrs. Wilson would like to make the wedding a White House affair, but that the bride and bridegroom-elect prefer less conspicuous surroundings and will probably be married in Miss Gordon's house, which has been rented this winter, but which will be occupied next season by its owner.

As a rule when a president's aide marries they soon cease to be aides, as such, but in this case, Dr. Grayson is also the president's physician the rule may not hold good in his case, for there is no custom that demands that the president's physician shall be unmarried.

Mr. Leon gave an interesting diversified program ranging from some unusual "Bergerettes" of the Eighteenth century, to songs by Wexley, a group of German "lieder," the spirited "Tarentella Napoletana" of Rossini, some attractive English songs among which perhaps the most interesting was the old Irish "Woolen Tunic From County Kerry," the melody of which Percy Grainger used in his "Tune From County Kerry."

Mr. Leon has the invaluable adjunct of a pianist, who gave added pleasure to the comprehensive skill with which he rendered the songs, and in a dramatic and adaptable voice.

Theater Gossip.

Rei Cooper McGraw is a firm believer in the statement that it pays to advertise. He wrote the play, "MY LADY'S SLIPPER," which comes Sunday, April 16, for four nights and Wednesday matinee, but just because he knows that it does pay. The other night between acts at another play, he was standing out in front of the theater talking to some newspaper friends when an enterprising young street merchant with a tray full of chewing gum to sell came along and offered his wares with a patter that made Mr. McGraw watch him respectfully.

"I tell you what I'll do," said Mr. McGraw, "I'll buy two packages of gum from you instead of one if you'll go around while you are selling that stuff and start your spiel with 'It pays to advertise!'"

"Gimme the dime," said the street vendor.

He got it and a moment later he was offering his gum to everyone else on the sidewalk in this sort of fashion: "It pays to advertise! Chewing gum, mister! Made in America, pure as gold. It pays to advertise! Only five cents!"

"That's the stuff," said McGraw, grinning. So did the other sidewalk folks, for they guessed what was up. So did the broker, for he sold out.

Harry Lauder will be seen at the Orpheum-strand on April 20, matinee and night.

LATER WILL SING can be stated in "SIX NEW SONGS" addition that "AT ORPHEUM." Harry will sing songs, of which he is both the author and composer, as well as some of the old favorites, which the audiences will no doubt demand. He has also brought together from Europe and America some of the best vaudeville acts, the majority of which have never been seen before in this country, and all this will mean that Lauder's engagement will be an event in this city long to be remembered.

Oliver Morosini is presenting at the Lyric one of the Paramount program pictures today and tomorrow.

STRONG FEMINE CHARACTER IN CONSTANCE COLLIER in the lead role of "The Code of Marcella Gray," with a support that keeps the picture going along without any dull scenes, is credited in this play with truly artistic success. It is a drama of modern fashionable life.

While Miss Collier, the European star, plays an impressive Marcella in this picture, the individual talents of the entire company make this Morosini picture live with the excellence of their portrayal. It is a strange and fascinating story of a woman, facing loss of fortune and reputation, and of her brave wife, who has a "code" of her own.

Marcella Gray has a big part and Miss Collier handles it in a big way. Through her work and the good work of her company, who also have strong parts, the big theme of the story is constantly kept in evidence.

On these two dates, Burton Holmes, noted traveler, takes his audience to the San Diego exposition in his travel pictures.

A large audience at the Rex yesterday and last night gave frequent applause to "The CLEVER STORY OF Raiders," the STOCK EXCHANGE strong Triangle Fine Arts motion picture.

It is a modern and pleasing story. With a fortune to be wrested from the stock exchange, and with no money on which to begin, Scott Wells (H. B. Warner), ably assisted by Dorothy Dalton and others, has added new laurels to his fame. He was best known in the play of "Alas, Jimmy Valentine."

This is his new picture, rather his initial one, and Mr. Warner comes quite up to what is expected of him. Triangle studios have a way of producing real thrills in their pictures. There are many exciting moments in "The Raiders," and they hold our interest because they have a logical place in the story. The picture is to be seen at the Rex today and tomorrow.

Elaborate costumes and settings of unusual beauty are to be seen in the latest Vitaphone release, "MY LADY'S SLIPPER," which comes Sunday, April 16, for four nights and Wednesday matinee. The story tells of how an American theater, beginning today, Anita Stewart and Earle Williams have the leading roles.

The story is of the Louis XVI period and was written by Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brinkley, who declares this is his best play. The Vitaphone company has spared no expense in making a screen masterpiece and has such well known players as Joseph Kligour, Harry Northrup, William Shea, Julia Swayne Gordon, George O'Donnell and others in the support of the two stars. The scenes of "My Lady's Slipper" are laid in and near Paris in the time of Marie Antoinette. The story tells of how an American officer escapes from a British convict ship to make his way to Paris to see Benjamin Franklin, the United States minister.

While walking outside the city's limits he rescues a beautiful girl from highwaymen and falls in love with her. Without knowing that she is the beautiful Countess de Villars, how he finally wins the heart and hand of the countess, although it nearly costs him his life on several occasions, goes to make an interesting and thrilling play.

MANY TO ATTEND MOVIE CONVENTION

Northwestern Association Will Hold Annual Meeting in Minneapolis.

Several Duluth theatrical managers are expecting to attend the first annual convention and exposition of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of the Northwest, which will be held at the National Guard armory in Minneapolis on May 2, 3, 4 and 5.

The Northwest is becoming a prominent center for film manufacturing, and the enterprises established here have grown by leaps and bounds during the last few years. The program committee for this year's convention has arranged many interesting features, some of which are expected to be both startling and surprising.

The president of the association is James Glosky; secretary, D. W. Chamberlain; and treasurer, C. E. Van Duzee.

PRIZES FOR BIRD HOUSES

Humane Society Would Interest Pupils in Feathered Visitors.

Exhibits Will Be Judged From Viewpoint of the Bird.

School children of Duluth are being encouraged by the Duluth Humane society to become bird lovers.

To stimulate interest in the care and protection of bird life among the young boys and girls of the city, the society has launched a bird house competition which will be open to any child attending school in the city. The contest will be open until April 29, and the houses must be submitted to the humane society before that date.

The contest will be similar to the one held last year under the auspices of the humane society. The children are asked to submit bird houses of their own manufacture. Prizes will be awarded for the three best offerings.

Contestants are not limited to building homes for any particular kind of bird. Neither are there any rules to be followed as to the size of the specimen to be submitted.

The only suggestion which has been given is that the house be an attractive one from the standpoint of the bird which is supposed to occupy it. First of all, it must be practical. Usually a house of simple construction free from high coloring is more practical than an abode of more elaborate and ornamental construction.

Judges of the contest will take into consideration first the bird which the specimen is supposed to be, and then it will be considered from a standpoint of beauty. What is desired most is a box that a bird will enter. If a house is painted with bright colors, or has too much ornamental work, it is usually shunned by birds, is not practical in any sense. Such houses will have a poor chance to win a prize.

The prizes to be awarded and the judges of the competition will be announced later.

WOUNDED MEXICANS BROUGHT TO COLUMBUS

Columbus, N. Mex., April 12.—Jose Mariela, one of the six wounded Mexicans brought here from the front last night to be tried in connection with the raid on Columbus, today was identified as having been in and about town prior to the raid.

Jose Rodriguez, it was learned, was a Carranza soldier who had been arrested and who was being held for execution, when Villa was obliged to abandon the town and was being held by the Carranza forces.

The men denied all knowledge of Villa's whereabouts.

FISHING HAZARDOUS AT SEASON'S OPENING

St. Paul, Minn., April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The brook trout fishing season opens today, and fish commissioners, state game and fish commissioners, said today that fishing should be avoided in the southern portion of the state but gave warning that there is still much snow in the northern part of the state and that fishing will be hazardous.

Saturday also marks the closing of the season for trapping muskrats and mink.

Guarding Against Typhoid. Appleton, Wis., April 12.—In the campaign being waged throughout the Wisconsin National Guard to vaccinate troops against typhoid fever, sixty-four local militiamen have taken their first inoculation and thirty more will be vaccinated four years ago are taking their second inoculation as the preventive is considered as being in too much of an experimental stage to know how long a person is immune.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Advertisement.

LEFT TO KILL EACH OTHER

Brutal "Joker" Hangs Two Cats Over Limb of Tree.

Claw Each Other All Night; Police Swear Vengeance.

Eighty odd policemen and detectives, comprising the Duluth force, made a promise to avenge the death of two cats today, when Jailer L. A. Root reported after an investigating trip to Mungler terrace early this morning.

A "practical joker," evidently not a lover of dumb animals, is the man for whom the guardians of the law are searching, and they have promised that it will go hard with him if he is caught.

Here is the "joke": Two cats were caught, their tails were tied together with a piece of rope, and they were tossed over the limb of a tree in a little park near Mungler terrace.

Frightened by their predicament, they fought with their claws throughout the night, and this morning a janitor in a nearby building saw them and cut them down.

Their claws were gone and the two animals were little more than a mass of raw flesh. One of the two managed to crawl away into some bushes, to die when released, and the other was shot by Jailer Root when he answered the janitor's call.

EXTENSION IS SOUGHT

Residents of Crosley Park Ask for Street Car Service.

Proposed Line Would Connect With the Lakeside Route.

Petitions for a street car extension to Crosley park and the surrounding territory were filed with City Clerk Bergen this morning, and there are approximately 400 of them, are the signatures of the man and wife and the older members of virtually every family in that district of the city.

According to the plan of those behind the movement, the extension would connect with the Lakeside car line, branching off at Sixth avenue and continuing up that roadway to Crosley park, which lies northwest of Lester park. This is a newly settled district, and the residents in that part of the city, say those behind the petition, are compelled to walk from six to eighteen blocks in order to reach the street car.

The street car extension will touch the upper end of Lester park, go through the London, Crosley Park and Loeb additions lying north and northeast. The line would make a circle in the Crosley Park addition. It has been suggested that the loop continue around to Forty-fifth or Fifty-fifth avenue east, the upper end of the line connecting with the present street line back of the Crescent View addition and the golf grounds.

The petitions will be presented to the city commissioners at the council meeting next Monday.

NEW RECORDS IN TRAFFIC

Increases Are Shown in All Commodities Except Coal.

New high records for the season are being set in the volume of freight being moved by the railroads and from Duluth, according to traffic officials of the roads operating from here.

Increases over last year at this time are being shown in all classes of commodities, apart from coal, and the indications are thought to point to the handling of a heavy business during the next two months.

The movement of forest products has become heavy of late, with the breaking up of the camps, as operators are rushing logs and timber out from logging points as rapidly as possible. The aggregate tonnage of grain handled by the roads is also showing a minimum increase materially after the opening of navigation. Shippers have been checked down to a minimum during the last month owing to the congested conditions at the elevators. From information received from agents at interior points, railroad men estimate that between 15 and 20 per cent of last year's Northwest crop is still in country elevators and farmers are carrying it over, the marketing of which will assure considerable business for the roads and manufacturers for some time yet. In view of the near approach of lake navigation, rail shipments of various staples have been cut down during the last two weeks, but on account of the satisfactory feature, as it is viewed, it comes in the larger shipments being made by Duluth wholesalers and manufacturers over the West with the Dakotas and Montana figuring up, perhaps the most favorably in that respect.

LARGE VOTE FOR WILSON

Illinoisans Express Preference for Sherman and the President.

Thompson Captures Sixteen Out of Thirty-Five Wards in Chicago.

Chicago, April 12.—Voters in the Illinois presidential preference primary yesterday declared in favor of President Wilson on the Democratic ticket and Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois on the Republican, there being the only names on the ballot. The names of Roosevelt, Hughes, Root and Mayor William Hale Thompson were written in on comparatively few Republican ballots and that of Champ Clark on seventy-five Democratic, but that of Col. Roosevelt was the only one to secure a material number of signatures. Sherman's total vote in Chicago was 63,325; Roosevelt, 11,620; Hughes, 595; Root, 198; and Thompson, 2. President Wilson polled 79,398.

In the Democratic fight, the forces headed by Roger C. Sullivan won easily, giving him control of the Cook county committee, the state central committee and the votes which will control the state convention.

A total of 7,766 women expressed their preference for President Wilson, which Roosevelt received about one-fourth.

Sullivan Retains Control.

Roger C. Sullivan retained control of the Democratic political machinery in the state and wrested control of the Cook county (Chicago) committee from the Scott-Harrison faction.

Former Governor Denon apparently retained his strength down state, but Mayor Thompson captured 16 and Duane 14 of the city's 35 wards. Five wards returned neutrals to the Republican county committee.

Fair weather prevailed, bringing out an unexpectedly large vote in Chicago, but it kept the farmers in their fields down state.

Lieut. Meyer's Ride.

Pershing's Camp at the Front in Mexico, April 8.—(By aeroplane and motor couriers to Columbus, N. Mex., April 12.)—The ride of Lieut. Meyer of the Seventh Cavalry, at the Guerrero fight, when Col. George A. Dodd caught Villa forces for the first time, was described here today by an officer from Dodd's column.

During the fight, Col. Dodd had a position on a hill near Guerrero. A mile and a half from this hill Col. Dodd saw several hundred Villistas riding steadily through a ravine. Moving in their direction, they seemed a position that they might not see the Villistas, was Maj. Tompkins' squadron of the Seventh Cavalry. There seemed a chance for these Villistas to take the squadron on the flank and Col. Dodd ordered Lieut. Meyer to carry word to Maj. Tompkins of the Villista movement.

Meyer rode on a horse, between him and Maj. Tompkins lay a mile of open field, swept by the fire of Villista snipers. Lieut. Meyer made the distance at a run, jumping ditches, dodging boulders and leaning forward, and reached the American squadron in time to warn them of the Villistas' position.

The Rain raineth

April came and the ice and snow assumed a sickly hue. Everybody felt better and bought a new bonnet and other things in pretty colors to enliven the dreary looks of the town.

And then it rained.

"Good thing," said he, and dug his old umbrella from the darkest recess of his clothes closet. But it refused to unfurl and protect his girl. My—how this wet man talked when the cranky thing balked! And she said unto him: "Put up or shut up."

Thereupon they repaired to the Columbia Clothes Shop and interviewed the red-nosed Wet Goods Man, who spoke the following piece in a dry tone of voice:

"We have rainproof Slip-ons and Coats for women at $5, $7.50, $8.50 and $10.

For men we have good Slip-ons at $3.95, $5, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $15, $20 and $25. Surely something for everybody.

over the Mexico-Northwestern railroad for distribution to the expeditionary force as rapidly as the limited use of the line will permit.

This coupled with Gen. Pershing's action in moving his headquarters to Satevo, forty miles south of Chihuahua, on the same day that the report of Villa's death was given wide circulation, was taken as an indication that army officials do not place credence in the report.

shelling with suffocating and tear-producing gas projectiles.

Attack on Two Flanks.

After a bombardment with high explosives lasting eight hours and the use of gas for another hour or two, the Germans would attack simultaneously on two flanks. There was no visible diminution in their courage and ardor; neither did the French show the slightest faltering, and the consequence is that the unprecedented carnage of the battle of Verdun goes on.

Yesterday the whole front, beaten by gas projectiles, was overhung by a yellowish cloud of chlorine vapor which seemed to be suspended from the sky. When the cloud lifted the Germans bounded forward seemingly indifferent to the thick death-dealing curtain of fire from the French artillery.

Some of them got through it, but only to find that the French had already cut the first line of trenches to allow the gas cloud to dissipate.

German reinforcements were sent up to fortify the trenches, but before they had reached the line the French came back with an irresistible counter-attack and in a few minutes drove out the Germans from the few points where they had penetrated the trenches.

FLOOD WARNINGS AT CLINTON, IOWA

Clinton, Iowa, April 12.—Warnings were received today predicting that the flood stage of sixteen feet will be reached by the Mississippi river here by the middle of the week.

The rise of the river at this stage of 16.5 feet will be reached Sunday. This morning the stage had reached 12.8 feet, a rise of one foot in the last twenty-four hours. Owners of lowlands are removing livestock and making plans to protect their property.

Change to Be Made.

San Antonio, Tex., April 12.—Gen. Funston announced today that a change would be made in the route of the long line of communications between Columbus, N. Mex., and Gen. Pershing's advanced forces. He declined to state what that change would be, but said that it would be made in the near future.

It was assumed by most army officers that it had been decided either to reinforce the line materially or shift it to a shorter route.

Plane Flies Toward Parral.

Torreon, Mex., April 12.—An aeroplane passed over Santa Rita today bound in the direction of Parral, where American troops have been reported to be operating. The aeroplane is believed to have followed the wagon trail from Gen. Pershing's camp to the Mexican National railway line and then to have followed the railway.

Villa Doubles Back.

Piedra, Tex., April 12.—Reports that Villa has doubled back from the region south of Parral and is on his way toward the Rio Grande, were circulated along this portion of the border today, but were not given much credence.

The reports were based on information said to have been received by Riojas, commander of the Ojinaga garrison.

Americans Beyond Parral.

El Paso, Tex., April 12.—That the American expeditionary force has penetrated far beyond Parral and is near, but not actually at the Chihuahua-Durango border line, is indicated in code dispatches received here this afternoon by private communication with interests in the Parral district.

These dispatches said that the American advance column now had a temporary base near Parral and that toward the end of last week two companies of the motor truck train had delivered supplies at this base. This is the first authentic information that has come from the flying columns of Col. Dodd and Col. Brown for several days.

In Mountain Fastnesses.

It seems certain now that Villa, if he still lives, has passed into the mountain fastnesses of Durango and that he is in a position to get in touch with the scattered bandit forces of that district.

There are twenty-seven trucks in each motor company. The delivery of fifty-four trucks indicates that the advanced cavalry has sufficient supplies to enable it to make long forays south. It is not believed, however, that the forces of Col. Dodd or Col. Brown have passed the Durango line. To do so would lengthen the line of communication too dangerously. It is more likely they have remained in touch with their supplies at Parral. This would account for the lack of information from the front the past week.

Simultaneously with the news that supplies had been sent as far south as the neighborhood of Parral came the information today that local concerns had presented a trainload of supplies to the Mexican Central railway for shipment to Chihuahua City, there to be sold to Gen. Pershing's troops.

USES KNIFE TO END TROUBLE

Laborer Attempts Suicide Because of High Cost of Living.

Stabs Self Three Times and Slashes Throat Twice.

"Don't tell my wife," said Joseph Henkel, 35, a laborer, as he drew a pocket knife yesterday afternoon in the Union depot ante room, stabbed himself three times around the head and then slashed himself twice in the throat.

When Patrolman Connors reached the scene a minute later, Henkel was sitting on the floor in a pool of blood, still conscious. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, and Police Surgeon Harry Klein today said that he would recover.

Worry over his inability to provide for his wife, living in Baudette, because of the high cost of living, evidently prompted Henkel in his attempt at self destruction.

One letter, from his wife, which was found on his person, read: "At last I have solved the high cost of living, which we have talked about so much and which we both have tried so hard to solve. I only wish that you too could have succeeded."

The letter was soiled and marked by constant handling and showed evidences of having been read and reread many times. Several letters discussed the high cost of living, and one told of the illness of Henkel's mother and sister, who live at Baudette. A letter from a South Dakota farmer offered Henkel a job and asked when he could come.

Henkel stabbed himself three times in the breast, up to the hilt of the knife, which has a two and one-half inch blade. Then he slashed his throat on each side.

ent cavalry and Villa bandits south of Nampiqua were not mentioned in the war department's early dispatches today and there was no further mention of the reported death of Villa.

Maj.-Gen. Funston reported the progress of a new plan for sending supplies forward to Brig.-Gen. Pershing's column. A trial shipment of forage has been sent over the Mexican Central line, which has a more direct route to Chihuahua than the Mexican western, which heretofore has carried some shipments. Nine cars of hay and oats for the cavalry composed the shipments which probably will be transferred to the Mexican Northwestern at Chihuahua and sent south.

"If this shipment is successful," Gen. Pershing said, "it is hoped the shipment will reach Gen. Pershing through the American consular agent at Chihuahua."

Maj.-Gen. Scott said today that direct use of the Mexican Central in that way instead of shipping through marketing companies or brokers would greatly simplify supplying the troops in the field.

A dispatch today from the supply ship Glacier at Matamoros said there was a feeling of hostility developing against Carranzas officials there which might precipitate trouble.

OCEAN RATES SAVE FEET

Bankruptcy and Disintegration Avoided for Transportation Companies.

Enormous Increase in Carrying Rates; Are Still Soaring.

As a result of the enormous increases in ocean freight rates, the vessel interests are earning unprecedented profits, and the values of all types of steamers have been steadily marked up.

The International Mercantile Marine company, which before the outbreak of the war, experienced difficulty in meeting its fixed charges, leading to the entering of a petition for reorganization, is now showing such large profits that it is estimated its management will be in position to liquidate all its bonded indebtedness by next December, leaving no liabilities ahead of the common and preferred stockholders. Another concern, the Pacific Mail Steamship company, which had been struggling for years to get out of business on the Pacific coast, has reconsidered its action and will remain in operation.

Not Enough Tonnage.

As a result of the losses sustained through German submarine depredations, the requisitioning of shipping by the British government for transport purposes and the enormous shipments of munitions and war supplies, there is an insolvency of tonnage for commercial requirements, so that the transportation companies are able to obtain almost any scale of freight rates they may desire to set.

The extent of the bulges in freight rates since the war began is illustrated in a report just prepared by the department of commerce at Washington. To begin with, it shows that the freight rate on grain from New York to Liverpool has been increased 900 per cent, flour 500 per cent, and provisions 400 per cent.

In January, 1914, the rate on grain from there to Liverpool was 41 cents per bushel, and one year later 183 cents. In January, 1916, the rate had risen to 40.5 cents, about ten times as much as the rate of two years before. Rates from Boston jumped from 4.1 cents per bushel to 35.5 cents in the same time, being about nine times as much as two years ago. The higher rate in New York is due to congestion.

Excesses Interests.

At both New York and New Orleans the rate on oil has increased about 900 per cent in the last two years, with a lower rate at present obtaining at New York. On Jan. 1, 1914, the rate per 100 pounds from New York was $2.25 and from New Orleans, $2.

Rates on other commodities are considerably higher. New Orleans than New York. Wheat from New Orleans to Glasgow was 5.4 cents per bushel on Jan. 1.

There was a greater increase in flour from New York to Liverpool than from Seattle to Hongkong. The rate on sack flour from New York to Liverpool increased in two years, from 15 cents to 90 cents per hundred pounds; and from Seattle to Hongkong, 25 to 75 cents.

The transpacific rates on other commodities, such as wheat, lard and meat products, showed comparatively little increase in the two years. In certain other commodities the transpacific rates from Seattle have increased in a fairly large degree. The rate on agricultural machinery has tripled; copra doubled, sewing machines two and a half times the former rate, leather five times, canned salmon twice the former rate, and steel products rates have jumped from $3.60 per short ton to Hongkong to $30. There has been an increase of $14 per short ton since Oct. 1, 1915.

PREDICTS HEAVY IRON ORE TRAFFIC

James J. Hill Urges Caution in Consideration of Future Business.

James J. Hill looks forward to a big iron ore traffic from the Lake Superior district this year, and he feels optimistic regarding the prospects for railroad traffic generally. He is quoted as follows in the course of a recent interview at New York in the Wall Street Journal: "The railroad business is in a very healthy condition. It is not safe to rely upon the assumption that Europe will be run after peace is declared to pursue our grain, no matter what the international financial and credit situation may be."

"Ten years ago no one would have thought that Canada would enter the field as an exporter of wheat. Today the dominion is able to export 275,000,000 bushels. Two other of England's colonies, India and Australia, have 75,000,000 bushels to sell with Argentina able to export 150,000,000 bushels. This total of 600,000,000 bushels is more than enough to take care of all of Europe's import needs which are normally about 500,000,000 bushels. When peace is declared, Europe must economize, and it is possible that her wheat imports can be cut to 400,000,000 bushels or less. England, which now takes about 250,000,000 bushels, may naturally be expected to favor her colonies, and cannot be expected to buy from the United States. A market here for her merchandise, which will be her only means of paying for what she buys in the international markets."

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

Don't Eat Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Glass of Hot Water.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin, a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Epsom's salt dissolved in it. To wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestion, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of Epsom's salt, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and reliable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

ent cavalry and Villa bandits south of Nampiqua were not mentioned in the war department's early dispatches today and there was no further mention of the reported death of Villa.

Maj.-Gen. Funston reported the progress of a new plan for sending supplies forward to Brig.-Gen. Pershing's column. A trial shipment of forage has been sent over the Mexican Central line, which has a more direct route to Chihuahua than the Mexican western, which heretofore has carried some shipments. Nine cars of hay and oats for the cavalry composed the shipments which probably will be transferred to the Mexican Northwestern at Chihuahua and sent south.

"If this shipment is successful," Gen. Pershing said, "it is hoped the shipment will reach Gen. Pershing through the American consular agent at Chihuahua."

Maj.-Gen. Scott said today that direct use of the Mexican Central in that way instead of shipping through marketing companies or brokers would greatly simplify supplying the troops in the field.

A dispatch today from the supply ship Glacier at Matamoros said there was a feeling of hostility developing against Carranzas officials there which might precipitate trouble.

Bankruptcy and Disintegration Avoided for Transportation Companies.

Enormous Increase in Carrying Rates; Are Still Soaring.

As a result of the enormous increases in ocean freight rates, the vessel interests are earning unprecedented profits, and the values of all types of steamers have been steadily marked up.

The International Mercantile Marine company, which before the outbreak of the war, experienced difficulty in meeting its fixed charges, leading to the entering of a petition for reorganization, is now showing such large profits that it is estimated its management will be in position to liquidate all its bonded indebtedness by next December, leaving no liabilities ahead of the common and preferred stockholders. Another concern, the Pacific Mail Steamship company, which had been struggling for years to get out of business on the Pacific coast, has reconsidered its action and will remain in operation.

Not Enough Tonnage.

As a result of the losses sustained through German submarine depredations, the requisitioning of shipping by the British government for transport purposes and the enormous shipments of munitions and war supplies, there is an insolvency of tonnage for commercial requirements, so that the transportation companies are able to obtain almost any scale of freight rates they may desire to set.

The extent of the bulges in freight rates since the war began is illustrated in a report just prepared by the department of commerce at Washington. To begin with, it shows that the freight rate on grain from New York to Liverpool has been increased 900 per cent, flour 500 per cent, and provisions 400 per cent.

In January, 1914, the rate on grain from there to Liverpool was 41 cents per bushel, and one year later 183 cents. In January, 1916, the rate had risen to 40.5 cents, about ten times as much as the rate of two years before. Rates from Boston jumped from 4.1 cents per bushel to 35.5 cents in the same time, being about nine times as much as two years ago. The higher rate in New York is due to congestion.

SAYS CHARGE WAS PIONEER IS UNJUST SETTLER HERE

John Millen of Alger-Smith Company Answers State Official.

Declares Arneson Found Fault With Lack of Bark Marks.

Declaring that the only objection which Oscar Arneson, manager of the land department in the state auditor's office, had raised to the marking of timber, cut by his company, was in regard to the bark marks and not to the state marks, John Millen, general manager of the Alger-Smith Lumber company, said this morning that he considers that Mr. Arneson misrepresented the company in his statements made to The Herald yesterday.

"Mr. Arneson was quoted correctly," said Mr. Millen, "his statements made to The Herald were much at variance with what he said to me, both over the telephone from Knife River, and over the telephone from this city yesterday, and in a personal visit to this office yesterday afternoon. He did not in any way insinuate that not having logs taken from state lands properly marked so far as the Minnesota end of the logs is concerned, but said that the bark marks were missing."

"I talked the bark marks over, and I told him that while I know that the logs require such marking on logs, it has not been used in five or six years, owing to the difficulty of applying marks, particularly on small logs; and that I regarded the bark markings as useless."

"I would recommend abolishment," said Mr. Millen, "of the bark marks. I declared that he agreed with me that the bark marks are superfluous and said that he would recommend to the state timber board that they be abolished. I might add that it is the duty of the surveyor general to see to it that the bark marks are on if they are insisted upon."

To The Herald yesterday, Mr. Arneson, who is conducting a series of investigations regarding the timber frauds on state lands, declared that at Knife River on Monday he had found twenty-nine cars of timber taken from state lands in 55-6, 60-6 and 61-6, which were not properly marked, and that he was informed that about fifty more cars in a similar condition as to marking were being moved by the mill and he had his men watching for them. He also said that he would inspect the logs in the mill pond of the company at the Rice's Point mill, and expected to find a goodly number of logs not properly marked.

He added to The Herald that he would like Mr. Millen to appear before the timber board in St. Paul at 11 o'clock Thursday morning to explain matters and make some arrangements to keep the logs from being seized by the state.

In regard to this phase of the matter, Mr. Millen said this morning that Mr. Arneson made no mention of citing him or anybody else to appear, but asked him if he would like to appear, section to go. Mr. Millen replied that he is not familiar with every detail of the business, but would be glad to have his representative, T. A. Wells, go to St. Paul to appear before the board.

Mrs. Ellen Nettleton Dies at Her Home in Spokane.

Husband Filed on 160 Acres of Land on Minnesota Point.

Mrs. Ellen Nettleton, widow of William Nettleton, died at Spokane April 10. William Nettleton and his brother, George, were probably the first settlers in Duluth, George Nettleton having established a trading post at Duluth in 1854, being joined two or three years later by his brother, William. Together they entered land—160 acres each—on Minnesota point and on the main land above the base of the point, which were their permanent settlements of Duluth.

William Nettleton, after two or three years of bachelorhood here, returned to Ashland, Ohio, and was married to Miss Ellen Scoville. They resided here until 1878, when they removed to St. Paul, where in 1878 Mr. Nettleton purchased a farm, any with their two daughters and a son resided there until the marriage of their three children.

Mr. Nettleton meantime had purchased a large tract of land across the river from Spokane, and after a few years the family moved there, to make their permanent home. Mr. Nettleton died here at an advanced age. Mrs. Nettleton continued to reside there with her children up to the time of her death.

Mrs. Nettleton was a great favorite with the early settlers of Duluth, among whom at that time were the families of Luke Marvin, J. C. Culver, Sidney Leice and James B. Ray, who had settled here and at Onota. Being entirely dependent upon themselves for food and amusement, they were almost like one family—their friendship for each other existing as long as they lived. Mrs. Nettleton was regarded as the brightest and cheeriest of the early days with untiring good spirit. A large circle of friends will miss her.

While a resident of St. Paul she visited in Duluth very often and when her removal to Spokane tried to come back to her old home every summer if possible.

CIVIC DISHONESTY.

The time has come in this country—came long ago, in fact, but is just getting recognition—when there should be an accurate estimate of that type of public discussion which aims only at the welfare of a party and only secondarily, if at all, at national welfare.

What honesty is there in the attitude of a partisan who admits no good whatever in the other party or in any member or act of that party, and who is willing to set a good and defeated rather than let that other party get credit for enacting it?

What honesty is there in the attitude of Roosevelt and Root, who find nothing but laws and faults in the Wilson administration, and who therefore cannot even mention such things as the redemption of the national honor in the matter of Panama and tolls and the enactment of the banking and currency law which has been the nation's bulwark against disaster in a time of universal wreck and ruin?

And, for a very minor, exceedingly minor, example, there is our neighbor, the News Tribune, discussing the administration tariff commission bill, and summing it up as at best a half-way measure. It points out no faults in it. It does not say what, in this half way, the whole way should be, because it comes from Democratic sources, condemns it. That's an example of playing peanut politics with a matter of vital importance.

In the drafting of this tariff commission bill the administration is meeting what is manifestly a virtually universal demand, and it is meeting it sincerely and in full measure. There is plenty of evidence of it. For instance, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a thoroughly partisan association of business men, is opposing the tariff commission bill. It advocates its enactment just as it stands. Evidently this organization of business men is not a politician's sees nothing "half way" about the bill.

Again, there is before us a circular letter on H. H. Gross, president of the tariff commission League, which is also a non-partisan organization, though doubtless a majority of its members are Republicans or progressives. Mr. Gross not only indorses a bill earnestly and wholeheartedly, but even some interesting evidence:

"The members (of the ways and means committee of the house) were very courteous, and invited the writer to discuss the various features of the first draft with them. The members showed a sincere desire to produce a bill that should be fair to all parties and in full accord with the widest reasonable demand for a strictly non-political permanent tariff commission."

The only criticism Mr. Gross makes is at the salary of the members should not be reduced from twelve thousand dollars to ten thousand; and considering the importance of the work these men will be called upon to do, probably the criticism valid, though the point is not vital.

"There are," says Mr. Gross, "some unpleasant features in the revision of this bill, which we urged successfully. One is six members, not more than three of whom will belong to the same political party.
The first draft was for five. THUS
HERE WILL BE NO PARTY CON-TROL. Another is the section eliminating possible membership of anyone who served in either branch of congress.
I think this very important—it eliminates 'lame ducks.' And, finally, one of the most important features is the last section that provides for a permanent appropriation, one that cannot be changed except by an act of congress. Do not fail to write your congressman and senators to pass the Rainey bill."

The two most powerful agencies behind this bill are the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the Tariff Commission League. Evidently THEY have no scruples about accepting it from a Democratic administration, and do not feel under compulsion to attack it solely on that ground.

How does the first real spring rain find your coal bin?

LINCOLN AND THE SCARED RICH MEN.

In Francis Fisher Brown's "Everyday Life of Lincoln," we are reminded by a correspondent in the Nation, is a story of Lincoln that seems singularly appropos in this time when a certain element in the population, usually well supplied with this world's goods, is vastly alarmed about the peril of a foreign invasion, and frantically fearful that congress will not provide an armament huge enough to reassure them.

It was in 1862. A delegation of frightened New York millionaires journeyed down to Washington, under the appearance of the Merrimac, and waited upon the president.

"We are very uneasy," they said to Lincoln, "about the unprotected situation of our city. It is likely to be attacked and bombarded by rebel rams, and we wish you would detail a gunboat to defend us."

There were fifty of these scared gentlemen, very prosperous and dignified. They said they represented in their own right a hundred millions of wealth.

Lincoln listened with close attention. He seemed to be much impressed by their presence and their statements. When they had finished he replied, very deliberately:
"Gentlemen, I am by the Constitution commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and as a matter of law can order anything done that it is practical to do. But as a matter of fact, I am not in command of the gunboats or ships of war;
as a matter of fact, I do not know exactly where they are, but presume they are actively engaged. It is impossible for me, in the present condition of things, to furnish you a gunboat. The credit of the government is at a very low ebb; greenbacks are not worth more than forty or fifty cents on the dollar; and in this condition of things, if I were worth half as much as you, gentlemen, and as badly scared as you,
seem to be, I WOULD BUILD A GUN-BOAT AND GIVE IT TO THE GOVERNMENT."

If it's not true that Villa is dead, he missed a corking good chance to make himself popular when he refused to let the rumor be true.

AN HOUR MORE OF DAYLIGHT.

Some time ago, when the world was less embarrassingly endowed with things to talk about, there was agitation for a plan of gaining an hour of daylight by setting all clocks ahead an hour during the summer months.

It is interesting to note the reappearance of this plan as a by-product of war. The federal council of Germany has directed that after May 1 all clocks in Germany are to be set ahead one hour. Of course the purpose is to get people into bed an hour earlier so as to save the cost of one hour's artificial lighting. They must save everything in Germany, and this is the latest economy.

Though it never came to anything but talk, much of it rather silly, especially the discussion about the effect of the change, when it was broached in this country, there really is merit in the plan. During the months when the sun is abroad for many hours of the day, the change would work out beautifully. After a day or two nobody would notice the difference, but the fact would be that everybody would rise an hour earlier and retire an hour earlier, thereby adding to every day one hour of daylight.

Having been adopted in Germany as a war measure, it would not be at all surprising to see it stick and, later, spread.

Can't some enterprising genius get up a submarine race as a feature of the regatta next August?

EXPLAINING PECULIAR THINGS.

Dr. Eliot, noting what he believes to be a rather notable habit of inaccurate thought, very properly blames education for it.

To the conditions he points out he ascribes the fact that the American's senses "are not trained to act with precision, that his habits of thought permit vagueness, obscurity and inaccuracy, and that his spoken or written statement lacks that measured, cautious, candid, simple quality which the scientific spirit fosters and inculcates."

This message has a peculiar effect upon the Chicago Tribune, our leading little mi-nistar. There is nothing in the whole range of human thought that to the Tribune will not suggest something about war-making or universal military service or the like.
And this message from a great educator is no exception.

"Dr. Eliot's analysis," it says, "accounts for our preference for pleasant theories to unpleasant facts. It may be the reason why Americans are a nation of philosophers, but bad ones, who build towering structures of theory on assumptions not founded in fact." That is to say, of course, that the Americans are bad philosophers because they do not philosophize the way the Tribune does. Their towering structures of theory are fragile because they are not founded on facts furnished by the Tribune. That's human nature—especially Tribune nature.

"It explains," the Tribune continues to its climax, "why we cannot see the potential hostility of Japan; it explains Ford, and Bryan, and Jenkin Lloyd Jones, and watchful waiting."

It explains much more than that, O Tribune! The Tribune itself gives a splendid example of what Dr. Eliot is seeking to establish when it completely fails to see that this also accounts for itself and its ridiculous militaristic excesses; for the absurd alarms of those who see an enemy behind every bush; for the queer mental twist of those who, having watched overdoing of preparedness plunge Europe into an atrocious war, want US to overdo preparedness; for the queer strabismus of those who cannot see that the whole shocking debacle in Europe is proof of the impotence of force and the instability of all that is founded upon force; for the cowardice of those who distrust America's ability to express herself to her sister nations otherwise than by force of arms.

Half-thinking; thinking twisted by such obsessions of bias as less powerful intellects are subject to; thinking which, instead of probing for truth, twists all discoverable facts to fit preconceived theories of militarism or pacifism or what not—such thinking is, as Dr. Eliot says, the fruit of ineffective education. Its victims are to be pitied, not blamed.

Talks on Thrift

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

You and Your Bank Account.
When the banker accepts your account, and gives you a pass book and a check book he has the right to expect certain things from you, as you have the right, legally and morally, to expect certain things from him.

In the first place, he has the right to expect a profit from your account. Banking is an expensive business. He has to maintain a certain amount to handle every check that passes through the bank, and every account should contribute a portion to the expenses of the bank, however small. When your banker asks you to keep a certain balance, he is merely asking his right to a profit. If you have a balance of $100 and draw $10, he is entitled to a profit of 10 cents. If you keep a small balance, say $10, and the banker furnishes you with stationery, does the necessary bookkeeping on the account for your benefit as well as his, the earning power of that $10, even if it were all invested at 6 per cent, would be insufficient to compensate him for the cost attending that account. Therefore he is generous and give him a chance to make a profit; for as every sale of merchandise should show a profit, so every bank account should at least pay its way. Give him as large a balance as you can possibly keep—it will help you very much in his estimation of your credit, and add to your self-respect.

Second. Never overdraw. In national banks overdrafts are now forbidden, but whether they were or not, you have no right to ask it. It hurts your credit with the banker. It is a forced loan without rescurity, and is a poor business practice.
Sometimes an overdraft is allowed as a matter of accommodation, and sometimes in order that the credit of the drawer with the holder of the check may not be impaired; but it is bad practice, gets you in wrong all over and should neither be asked nor expected.

Third. Do not draw against "uncollected funds." By uncollected funds is meant checks that have not been collected. For instance, if you have a balance of $100 and deposit a $100 check and draw your own check for $150, you have taken all the original deposit and half of the amount represented by the check deposited. The banker must send that check, let us say to New York, and wait for advice that it is paid before knowing that it has been paid, which may take three or four days. You are asking him to pay out his money three days in advance of its receipt, a practice which good banks uniformly refuse to allow. Lastly, draw your checks properly, as outlined in the next talk, and have your pass book balanced once a month. Doing these things correctly, you banker will be a good friend and you will be a good customer, in favor with one who can do you many favors.

Fools Needed.
The New Republic, which presents is a rational age, and the rationalist sees neither man nor God for naught. An old writer tells us of a land peopled exclusively with "fools."
There are men to undertake onerous public services—magistrates, ambassadors—at their own expense. A ribbon, a title, will serve as sufficient reward. There are men to accept the toils and agonies of war in exchange for a glorious grave. In a country inhabited exclusively by rational men, such services would have to be paid for in hard cash, to the immense prejudice of the public treasury.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

The Great Boon.

The boon of peace is slick as grease,
and we should guard and prize it,
and love it well; for war is hell—no delegate denies it. On Europe's strand, where peace is canned, and all the kings are scrappy, the people know the depths of woe, and not a soul is happy.
But here, where peace fulfills its lease, with industry, its neighbor, remote from fear we walk and hear the sounds of honest labor. The mill wheels hum, the plumbers plumb, the farmers go a-seeding, and you can walk a city block and see no fellow bleeding.
The spinner spins, the tinner tins, the banker banks the boodle—oh, happy land, wherein the band is playing Yankee Doodle! Such peace as this is surely bliss, the timbre sounds our gladness, the psalter psalms, the walter waltzes—to whoop for war is madness! By Europe's streams the moonlight gleams on pale and ghastly corpses, and heaven frowns on blackened towns and shattered guns and horses. But on this shore no wave of gore against the homesteads washes; the sunlight shines on pumpkin vines, and large and luscious squashes.

Taken By Surprise

Editorial in the New York Times.

"You know, colonel," said the visitor at Oyster Bay, a gentleman who expected to be a delegate to the national Republican convention, "I may make up my mind that we will have to nominate you."

It was the first time the thought of the presidency had entered the colonel's head.
But Theodore Roosevelt is a ready man.
"Take a flash the colonel turned to his visitor," he said, "and then he delivered that brief, thrilling, quite extraneous address which all the newspapers printed yesterday morning. It was as spontaneous as a performance of 'Hamlet' after a run of a hundred nights. Yet the scene was so impressive that the newspaper reports agree even as to the details of the utterance. 'And let those who rail at the inactivity of the president now forever hold their peace, for the reports of the colonel's utterance are textually identical, for all the world as if they had been written out in advance and handed to the reporters.'"
But it was most unfair to Col. Roosevelt, for in that unstudied moment he was betrayed into saying things that will prejudice him against Chicago. "Get it perfectly clear in your head," said the colonel to the expectant Republican delegate, "that if you will nominate me it must not be because you think it is in my interest, but because you think it is in your interest and the interest of the Republican party." That was fair but at once the colonel proceeded:
"And more than that, don't you do it if you expect me to pussyfoot on any single issue I have raised."

It is too bad, for the Gary dinner had heated the colonel's followers. It had inspired them with the belief that big business was flocking to his support, and Mr.
Bacon, the colonel's host, with the promise of Republican reconciliation. Yet in his great speech to the Progressive convention that nominated him at Chicago in 1912 he said: "I don't know you, but if you expect me to pussyfoot on any single issue I
have raised."

It is too bad, for the Gary dinner had

spired them with the belief that big business was flocking to his support, and Mr.

great speech to the Progressive convention
that nominated him at Chicago in 1912 he said: "I don't know you, but if you expect me to pussyfoot on any single issue I
have raised."

The soft feline footfall of Theodore Roosevelt as he backtracks from these issues will be heard by the chairman of the committee. He will stand by them, every one of them—he said so at Oyster Bay. Yet, hoping for the support of big business, he was politically most inexpedient for him to say so. It is not in his own interest that he seeks the nomination. It is the interest of the Republicans of the country. It was therefore an act of despicable meanness to betray him into any rash, unconsidered utterance that might stand in the way of his securing the nomination.

The men who presided over the Baltimore and the Chicago conventions, the great houses who controlled the two conventions, Mr. Root and Mr. Murphy, Mr. Penrose and Mr. Barnes, Mr. Clegg and Mr. Sullivan, differ from one another, of course, on certain points. They come together at once as against a common enemy the domination of both the forces of the republicanism of the people of the United States.

These bosses at Chicago are the men who sought the nomination from him. It is thrift, the colonel has often said so. This is an issue he has raised, most vociferously raised, the issue against the corrupt bosses of the Republican party, against the Republican party itself, which he sought to destroy in 1912, and now through the malignant candids of the Republican party, who are to be a delegate of that party to the convention this year the colonel, taken unawares, is made to assert with all the emphasis of his experience and vocabulary that he will not pussyfoot on this issue against Mr. Root, Mr. Penrose, Mr. Barnes, President Butler and the Republican party. The Republican delegate-to-be who, with malice in his heart, started the colonel upon this line of talk must know that the newspaper reports of the colonel will not be likely to set old-line Republicans and men of large affairs to a fury of enthusiasm for his nomination.

The colonel did not pussyfoot on Mexico, although a few days ago that was the chief theme of his discourse. He is merely waiting for the issue which may remove the artificial, strained or incomprehensible dialect. What the spectator imagines is the thing that is natural. To only one watches Hamlet with Yorick's skull, the words of the play may come "Impetuous Caesar, dead and turned to clay, might stop
a hole to keep the wind away." To another's imagination, Hamlet says: "Well, we all gotta come to it."
Could explanation be simpler, yet more profoundly true?

What We Like the Movies.

Richmond Times-Dispatch: Otto Wells of Norfolk says the reason that all classes like motion picture plays is that each person puts into the mouths of the silent actors the exclamations, words and lines that he himself would use under like circumstances.
Incidents and situations are flashed on the screen, and the spectator tells the unspoken story to himself, and there is no possibility of artificial, strained or incomprehensible dialect. What the spectator imagines is the thing that is natural. To only one watches Hamlet with Yorick's skull, the words of the play may come "Impetuous
Caesar, dead and turned to clay, might stop
a hole to keep the wind away." To another's imagination, Hamlet says: "Well, we all
gotta come to it."
Could explanation be simpler, yet more profoundly true?

A Forfeited Indiana Man.
Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette: Mr. Jantz of Wanatah, Ind., who is 104 years old and in fine condition, purchased a nice monument for himself of our salesman, W. E. Moudy, a few days ago.

Something Anyway.
Louisville Courier-Journal: "So you think a college education is a good thing for a boy."
"Yes, I think it's a pretty good thing. Fits him for something in life. If he can't catch a fish, he can't play tennis, he can't often lend a job as a professor."

Titled.
Louisville Courier-Journal: There is no difficulty about classifying Mr. Bryan. He is a Bryanite.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers in the Gopher State.

Heaven Knows We've Spent Enough.
All the talk we hear about the poorness of our army and navy fits in poorly with the tremendous sums we have spent on them.
What the Glenwood Herald calls "a suspicion" really belongs under a much stronger name. The Herald says: "There is a suspicion lurking in the minds of many that the money appropriated during past years by congress for the protection of our country has not been used to the best of advantage and that the result is a less efficient army and navy than the people should have a right to expect. Antiquated pork barrel methods of distributing money and peanut politics are said to be chiefly responsible for inefficiency both in our navy and army."

A Cure for a Lot of Things.
A good many people would find themselves a whole heap better off if they'd take this advice from the Montgomery Standard:
"Let the young man about town out of a job try a year on the farm. Plowing will give him a new perspective. No more masochism out of his head, the frog out of his throat, the gas out of his stomach, the weariness out of his legs, the corns off his toes and give him a good appetite and honest living and a slight of heaven."

Not as You Could Notice It.
Just remember this from the Fairmont Sentinel next time you get into a preparedness argument: "Preparedness has not accomplished very much for peace in war-ridden Europe."

This Also Applies to Intervention.
Maybe you never noticed this fact to which the Winona Independent calls attention:
"Profound disapproval of modern American youth who don't enlist in the army is evidenced by many editors sitting in their comfortable swivel chairs in pleasant working quarters."

The Moral Is Clear.
"The distinction between the axes," says the Sauk Centre Herald, is illustrated by the fact that when a little boy is whipped he doesn't want anyone to know it, but when a little girl is spanked she tells everybody about it. And inasmuch as the little girl gets spanked much less often, it evidently pays to advertise.

All Minnesota.
Red Wing Republican: When some "politician" wants a slice of official pie so badly that he is desperate and cannot land it, his last resort is to start a clamor for state division, and begin to talk about the rights of the citizens. No more state division. No more division of this grand state into divided.
Northern Minnesota as a whole would oppose anything of that kind as hotly as any section of the splendid commonwealth. True, there are sectional problems, but the only problem that ever suggested state division was the problem of making money. That around. To such hungry ones the multiplication of the state offices by two looks altogether desirable. Instead of division, a solid union is what all should desire. Interests are one and the diversity of the resources of the state is our great strength.
Were a rising vote to be taken there would be a universal standing up of the citizenry of the North Star state. Minnesota is one state, has one people and one future. Let's forget the sectionalism of the past and let Minnesota and simply remember Minnesota.

Those Mexican Names.
Marquette Chronicle: People should not try to pronounce the names of those Mexican towns. Just take them for granted.

He'd Have Used It Twice.
Saginaw News: The short and ugly word was used by Bryan in his own home town recently, but the dispatches do not record that the colonel resented it. Wonder what would have happened with T. R. placed under similar circumstances?

Explaining That Ford Vote.
Marquette Mining Journal: In the presidential primary in the dear old state enthusiasm for Mr. Ford of Detroit was synonymous for comprehensive dislike for William Alden of Grand Rapids.

A Badger State Game.
Grand Rapids News: All the barbarians are not in Europe. A Wisconsin man stole a Gideon Bible out of a hotel and tried to swap it for a drink of whisky.

Villa Has Company.
Saginaw News: Villa, it is said, regards himself as a second Napoleon. History records others similarly afflicted.

The Primary.
Marquette Mining Journal: But just as the primary would have been of real significance in 1912, there is reason to expect that it may be of great value in the future. The Detroit Free Press demands that it be considered premature. In the light of the evidence of 1912 as to the manner in which the system could be subverted, the argument surely appears to be worth further trial.

Disrupting the Jury System.
Kalamazoo Telegraph-Press: A Kalamazoo attorney yesterday admitted that there is such a thing as having a man of too high intelligence on the jury. The real gink among twelve men is sometimes wiser than the lawyer who presents his case.

What Is Home?
Home's not made of palace walls
Tho' with pictures hung and gilded,
Home is where affection calls—
Filled with shrines the heart hath builded;
Home to which the faithful dove
Sails beneath the heaven above us,
Home is where there's one to love,
Home is where there's one to love us.

Home's not merely roof and room
Home needs something to endow it,
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it;
What is home with none to meet
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is where there's one to love us,
Where there's one we love to meet us.
—An old favorite.

The Real "David Grayson."
Kansas City Star: Those of us who remember Ray Stannard Baker as one of the three original "muckrakers" of the old Mc-Clure's magazine, will be surprised at the disclosure that he also is "David Grayson." That delightful stroller with the tin whistle; for in all his muckraking stories there was nothing to suggest the same authorship for Gray-son's charming pastorals.

Many thousands who have been fascinated by the "Adventures in Contentment" and "The Friendly Road," have wondered about David Grayson, whether that was his real name, whether he had a sister named Harriet, and whether he really carried in his knapsack a tin whistle to play in harmony with the singing of the brooks and the droning of the wind in the treetops.

And now we know that all the adventures of David Grayson were creations of the imagination. Illusions, but none the less real.
For the "Adventures in Contentment" and Grayson, whether that was his real name,
and so are the experiences of "The Friendly Road."

The Democrats and Roosevelt

Editorial in the Washington Star (Rep.).

The Democrats continue to boom Mr.
Roosevelt for the Chicago nomination. They boomed him before Justice Hughes was brought into the equation, but are booming him vociferously now that they are told, and many believe, that the contest at Chicago will be between those two men.

There are many reasons why the Democratic managers should prefer Mr. Roosevelt to

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their views upon the topics of general interest, but no discussion of sectarian religious differences is invited. Letters must not exceed 300 words. The shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's personal use must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope. If their return is desired, otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

WHO NAMED DULUTH

To the Editor of The Herald: Shortly after I was elected secretary of the Old Settlers' association, the thought came to me one day, "Who named Duluth?" and I started to find out, if possible. I thought, J. D. Ensign might know something about it, so called at his office.

Shortly after my arrival, he said: "Waiter, you remember Mary C. Post (Mrs. J. L. Smith) of the early days? I have just received from Ohio an old scrap book of hers."

I turned to the book, and the first item I noticed on opening it was: "Who named Duluth?" and of course, was interested, as that was what I was after, and the long hunt I expected was unexpectedly solved.

The article went on to state that the Nettleton brothers, William and George R., accompanied by a party of about a dozen, came to the point, and that each great must bring a saw and a new city which they forecast must be built at the head of the lake, in the state of Minnesota.

"The day arrived, and accordingly, on a bright summer day in 1856, boats conveyed the party from Superior to Minnesota point. Arrived, a grassy knoll, on which were placed the toothed contents of many a napkin-covered basket, and the champagne was set out in readiness for the great decision."

"Many an appellation was suggested, discussed, and sentenced to death—'too long,' 'too short,' 'too hard,' 'too soft,' 'too commonplace,' 'too fanciful,'—until at last the wit and genius of the party, Rev. James G. Wilson, of Duluth, Pa., arose and read from a slip of paper, 'Duluth.' The name was received with acclamation, and after a short history of Daniel Greyson Du Luth, there was a popping of corks and congratulations of the hero of the happy thought; and then, standing in the glow of the setting sun, we drank to the future city, soon to be acknowledged the 'Queen of the West,' and the naming was over."

Among those present at the naming were George E. Nettleton, William Nettleton and wife, Julia, Rev. John M. Barnett and wife, Judge John R. Carey, Orator K. Hall and wife, Laura, Mary C. Post, Thompson Ritchie and Rev. James S. Wilson.

Thinking that probably very few of the present citizens of the city, except a few of the earlier settlers, know where or how the city came to be named Duluth, I send you this for publication, if you desire to do so.

Duluth, April 10.

W. VAN BIJUNT.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES AND COL. RESCHE DEFENDED

To the Editor of The Herald: Having been a subscriber of The Duluth Herald for the last seven years, and a constant reader of the Open Court since its beginning, permit me to say a few words regarding the two main topics that have been under consideration of late.

First: The last month or more we have had from three to six articles in the Open Court regarding the Holmes case. Now, I do not know Mr. Holmes personally, but I am a member of the school board, and in my mind I am thoroughly satisfied that every member of the school board, and would do, the right thing for every one concerned. Any suggestion to elect a school board, or ask the children whom they want or don't want for instructors? If so, let us do it with the board entirely, and place it in the hands of the children. To any one who knows the members of the school board, it is thoroughly disgusting to hear or read a direct insult to their judgment.

Secondly: For the last few days there have been a number of articles regarding the boys and the new army. Col. Resche answered the Open Court, stating why the boys had been put out of the army. Being a member of one of the local militia companies, I have been and am in a position to know Col. Resche, and what he said to be absolutely true. Things have surely come to a pretty bad pass when a man like Col. Resche, for to know him is to know that he has the good of the army and the good of every one that has to go there at heart.

I am at the army at least one night out of every week, and I would say that there has not been one time that I have been there but what there have been boys around that should have been home with their parents; and I often wonder why the colonel did not order them out before.

The army was not built for boys to play tag and hide-and-go-seek in until all hours of the night. Just the other day a gentleman, who lives within block of the army, asked me whom he could see and what could be done regarding the boys who loitered around the army until 12 at night. He said he could hear them hollering and using profane language every night, and that it was getting to be a poor locality in which to live. Also he had noticed his boys go down to watch the militia drill, because he did not want them to become acquainted with those rowdies that make a practice of looting there.

Now, in conclusion, let me say that Col. Resche, as well as the school board, are above reproach, and that they are absolutely capable of handling their respective positions to the best interest of every one concerned, and that we will again have the Open Court free from these articles slandering and criticizing those who are devoting every minute of their time and every ounce of their energy for the welfare of the community at large, by children who in all fairness should be home when the curfew rings. Sincerely yours,

A BELIEVER IN MATURE AND INTELLIGENT JUDGMENT.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not intended as a precaution, but as evidence of good faith.

"Inquirer": Duluth: What is the best time to visit Duluth?

"Answer": Duluth: The best time to visit Duluth is when you can afford to do so. The weather is usually good, and the scenery is beautiful. The city is a beautiful one, and the people are friendly and helpful.

CHILDREN WE WORRY ABOUT

Close confinement in school during the past winter, overstudy perhaps, an attack of the grip or tonsillitis, some one of these things is doubtless responsible for the condition of the child who shows a decline in health now.

What are the symptoms? Pallor and languor, a tickle appetite, dark rings under the eyes, bronchial colds. Very often the best efforts of the family physician fail in such cases and the condition of the child causes the most intense anxiety. Cod-liver oil soothes the throat, generally fails because the weak stomach is unable to digest fats.

Try this treatment. Before breakfast each morning give the child the juice of half an orange. After the noon meal give one of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Keep this up for a few days and then give one of the pills after the evening meal also. Weigh the child before beginning the treatment and again after two weeks. An increase in weight of from two to five pounds will show you that you are on the right track at last. Care is necessary in the diet of the patient and it will be well to send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a diet book and the pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood." Both are free. Your local druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"too commonplace," "too fanciful,"—until at last the wit and genius of the party, Rev. James G. Wilson, of Duluth, Pa., arose and read from a slip of paper, "Duluth." The name was received with acclamation, and after a short history of Daniel Greyson Du Luth, there was a popping of corks and congratulations of the hero of the happy thought; and then, standing in the glow of the setting sun, we drank to the future city, soon to be acknowledged the "Queen of the West," and the naming was over."

Among those present at the naming were George E. Nettleton, William Nettleton and wife, Julia, Rev. John M. Barnett and wife, Judge John R. Carey, Orator K. Hall and wife, Laura, Mary C. Post, Thompson Ritchie and Rev. James S. Wilson.

Thinking that probably very few of the present citizens of the city, except a few of the earlier settlers, know where or how the city came to be named Duluth, I send you this for publication, if you desire to do so.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES AND COL. RESCHE DEFENDED

To the Editor of The Herald: Having been a subscriber of The Duluth Herald for the last seven years, and a constant reader of the Open Court since its beginning, permit me to say a few words regarding the two main topics that have been under consideration of late.

First: The last month or more we have had from three to six articles in the Open Court regarding the Holmes case. Now, I do not know Mr. Holmes personally, but I am a member of the school board, and in my mind I am thoroughly satisfied that every member of the school board, and would do, the right thing for every one concerned. Any suggestion to elect a school board, or ask the children whom they want or don't want for instructors? If so, let us do it with the board entirely, and place it in the hands of the children. To any one who knows the members of the school board, it is thoroughly disgusting to hear or read a direct insult to their judgment.

Secondly: For the last few days there have been a number of articles regarding the boys and the new army. Col. Resche answered the Open Court, stating why the boys had been put out of the army. Being a member of one of the local militia companies, I have been and am in a position to know Col. Resche, and what he said to be absolutely true. Things have surely come to a pretty bad pass when a man like Col. Resche, for to know him is to know that he has the good of the army and the good of every one that has to go there at heart.

I am at the army at least one night out of every week, and I would say that there has not been one time that I have been there but what there have been boys around that should have been home with their parents; and I often wonder why the colonel did not order them out before.

The army was not built for boys to play tag and hide-and-go-seek in until all hours of the night. Just the other day a gentleman, who lives within block of the army, asked me whom he could see and what could be done regarding the boys who loitered around the army until 12 at night. He said he could hear them hollering and using profane language every night, and that it was getting to be a poor locality in which to live. Also he had noticed his boys go down to watch the militia drill, because he did not want them to become acquainted with those rowdies that make a practice of looting there.

Now, in conclusion, let me say that Col. Resche, as well as the school board, are above reproach, and that they are absolutely capable of handling their respective positions to the best interest of every one concerned, and that we will again have the Open Court free from these articles slandering and criticizing those who are devoting every minute of their time and every ounce of their energy for the welfare of the community at large, by children who in all fairness should be home when the curfew rings. Sincerely yours,

A BELIEVER IN MATURE AND INTELLIGENT JUDGMENT.

DULUTH'S PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 10—The Agricultural Courses in the High School—Study Course, Creamery, Garden and Club.

CREAMERY AT CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL.

Northern Minnesota means iron mines or lumber camps to the average Northwest citizen, but Duluth school-boys, scores of them, want to know something about agriculture.

For that reason the board of education started an agricultural course in Central high school three years ago. Under the direction of Mr. Gibson, a special instructor, the course has been conducted since the fall of 1912 and has been asked to broaden the work so that girls may take it as well as boys.

The school now has a two-year course, and those being graduated from the course are enrolling in agricultural colleges or in agricultural departments of state universities. The school district receives $1,000 annually from the state for conducting the course.

In 1914-1915 the agricultural students cost the taxpayers an average of 27 cents, according to Mr. Gibson's estimates, for materials, and this year he hopes to make the department self-supporting, as far as materials are concerned.

In 1915 there were forty-two who enrolled in the course. The next year the enrollment dropped off until the class now is about as large as the original class. This is not taken as discouraging, however, as the present pupils are given to dairying. Vegetable gardening comes in for a large share of attention during the second year.

Working on the assumption that the Northern Minnesota will some day become a dairying community, the courses have been designed to fit this part of the Northwest.

In the first year's course, animal husbandry, a great deal of attention is given to dairying. Vegetable gardening comes in for a large share of attention during the second year.

When the course is on crops and soils. Short courses at the Northeastern experiment farm, outside the city limits, were arranged and boys visit the farm on four successive Saturdays during the year.

Instructors were so pleased at the results, during which the boys have asked the board of education to appropriate $10,000, to be used in buying a site and laying out a model farm to be operated by the school.

The Central high school creamery, made possible through the activity of the Agricultural club, a school organization, has been a success from the start. The boys buy the materials themselves, do all the work by hand power and take home the finished product.

Crops of tomatoes, cucumbers, beans, lettuce, radishes, cauliflower, peppers and muskmelons have been raised successfully in the greenhouse built for the agricultural classes on the Central high school site. A total of $72.34 was realized last year from vegetables raised in the greenhouse and sold by the boys.

From Aug. 1, 1915, to April 1, 1916, enough was realized from the sale of greenhouse vegetables to pay current expenditures, leaving a small balance in the treasury.

A small sinking fund has been started for the creamery, and 2 cents is set aside for each pound of butter churned, to be used in providing for the upkeep and replacing of machinery.

The agricultural classes probably entail less expense to the taxpayer than any other course in the school, and the boys say that it is an unquestioned value to a boy, whether or not he intends to become a farmer.

CLEAN BILL FROM COURT

W. C. Sherwood Exonerated From Charge Brought By Former Client.

Judge Holds He Secured Fair Price for Woman's Lots.

W. C. Sherwood, local real estate dealer, has been given a clean bill by District Judge Decker.

Mr. Sherwood was charged with having taken advantage of Mrs. Ellen B. Montgomery in a deal for the sale of forty lots at Carnegie, near Superior, when he sold them for her for $2,500.

Mr. Sherwood had obtained the lots in a decision handed down yesterday afternoon, finds the charge without any foundation whatever.

Mr. Montgomery claimed that the lots were worth $8,000, but the court found that Mr. Sherwood had obtained more than a fair price and held that Mrs. Montgomery must abide by his contract and pay all the costs of the case.

Mr. Sherwood explained that the lots, being subdivided, did not have the same value that they have had in acres. He testified that he was unable at first to find a purchaser or get any reasonable offer for them. The lots were shown to be many miles from a car line.

A real estate man testified that the price was at least double what the lots were worth, and the court's finding that Mr. Sherwood had obtained more than a fair price was based on the fact that he had obtained a divorce from her husband two years ago and the transaction occurred while the divorce suit was pending. A divorce was granted by the court, but during the trial it was shown that she had begun the divorce proceedings several weeks before she met Mr. Sherwood.

H. J. Grannis appeared in the action as attorney for Mr. Sherwood and McCoy & Hanson represented Mrs. Montgomery.

ROCKVILLE POSTOFFICE LOOTED BY YEGGS

St. Cloud, Minn., April 12.—The post-office safe at Rockville was blown early Monday and $40 in cash and $125 in stamps taken.

A terrific charge of nitro-glycerin was used, the door of the safe being blown out through the plate glass window into the street. Though the hotel proprietor and the occupants of the flat above the store were up and heard the explosion it was impossible to get the yeggs when they left through the rear of the store. It is not known whether a rig was used to get into the vicinity of Rockville.

The men who are now in the vicinity of Rockville, who were followed into St. Cloud, where the police combat all of the railroad yards, but without success.

with dissonance and are prepared to support Walter Johnson and the other members of the twinning staff. The new first baseman, Joe Judge, from the International league, is expected by his teammates to outplay any other man in that position on any American league club this season and the pitching and catching departments are very strong.

The New York club, which won fifth place in last year's chase, has been greatly improved with the purchase of Lee Magee, Cullon and Geddon, from the Federals; Home Run Baker from the Athletics and a number of promising recruits from the minors. Every department appears to be strong, in both fielding and batting, while the pitching and catching staff is much superior to the old combinations.

Outlook for Others.

Through the acquisition of several Federal league stars, the St. Louis Americans, sixth last year, are also considered much stronger. Plank, a former pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and last year with the St. Louis Federals, is on the hurling staff together with Davenport, Groom and Crandall, a force of Federal league pitchers. Armando Marsans will be in the outfield.

The Cleveland American team's chief strength lies in the acquisition of Speaker and Arnold Gandil from Washington. Speaker's all-around ability is a known factor and Gandil is a strong utility infielder much of last season, will play at third. Tom Daley, catcher, and Larry Chappelle, outfielder, are two new faces that will be seen with the Indians, each at present slated for extra duty.

Connie Mack, manager of the once famous Athletics, is making no predictions. The Philadelphia Americans start the season with a mixture of veterans and minor league recruits, and Mack has stated repeatedly that he is building for 1917.

President Tener has announced the following assignments of umpires for the opening games of the National league: At Brooklyn, William J. Kinn and Robert D. Emling; at Philadelphia, Charles Riegler and Peter Harrison; at Cincinnati, William Byron and Ernest Quigley; at St. Louis, Henry O'Day and Mal Eason; substitute, A. L. Orth.

TRYING TO EVADE FIGHT FILM LAW

Arrests Due for Attempt to Import Willard-Johnson Pictures.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 12.—Indictments against six prominent New Yorkers and one Canadian charging them with conspiring to violate the law prohibiting the importation of motion pictures of the Willard-Johnson fight, and with bringing into the United States pictorial representations of the fight in violation of the law, returned by the Federal grand jury at Syracuse, to the United States district attorney at New York, and the arrest of five of the men is expected today.

The men are Harold T. Edwards of the law firm of Olney & Connelley; Isaac C. V. Uman, manager of the Duplex company; Harry A. Fishbeck, export chromograph operator; V. Bryner, James J. Johnston, manager of Madison Square Garden; Lawrence

M. D. McGuire, president of the New York Real Estate Dealers' exchange, and J. J. O'Rourke of Canada.

The accused are charged with having set up machines on the Canadian border at House Point for the purpose of transferring from the Canadian side films of the fight pictures onto American film for exhibition into the United States.

A motion picture projecting machine containing the original film of the fight was set up on the Canadian side of the line, and on the American, within twelve inches of the other machine, a motion picture camera was set up. Powerful electric lights were used to transfer the pictures from the projecting machine to the sensitized film in the camera. In this manner the film-makers, it is charged, hoped to evade the law.

MEETING SET FOR AMATEURS

City Baseball League of 1915 Will Be Re- organized.

A meeting of the Duluth Amateur Baseball league has been set for Friday evening. The place of meeting is the Fenton-Duby store and the time 8 o'clock.

It is expected that representatives of the Board of Trade, Patrick, Northrup, Deane, Edmonds, Wolvina and Duluth Street Railway ball clubs will be on hand to assist in starting the 1916 playing season of the league.

Until the matter signed by the various managers is given a tryout, it will prove rather difficult to secure a line in the strength of the six ball clubs that are to make the race for the 1916 season. On paper, the league should be faster than last year. It is believed the league will be a better circuit will face the barrier this year stronger than a year ago.

Duluth got away wretchedly last season. It was expected that the team would rally and show a winning form never materialized. By the middle of the season the White Sox were virtually counted out of the race. Manager Darby O'Brien and his players believe that there will be a decidedly different condition during the season that is but a little over two weeks away.

White Sox Appear Strong.

O'Brien's team is expected to strengthen its team in mid-season. More than sixty players are expected to be in the team, but no combination seemed to work. This year the Sox are expected to be in the lead of the team with one of the best ball players he has ever seen.

line up on the field as formidable as it appears on paper, the Red Sox will bear watching from the rise of the barrier.

Close Race Expected.

In a letter received from President John Burmeister, the league executive declares that he is sure that the quality of baseball played in the Northern during the coming season will be the fastest in years.

"Only the very best of last year's players will be retained," says Burmeister. "The six-club circuit means a survival of the fittest, insofar as the playing material is concerned. A number of promising new men have been signed. Every team in the league, we believe, has been strengthened. Baseball players are plentiful this year, good players at that, and the Northern league has taken advantage of this situation to increase its strength. The raising of a class of baseball. The approaching season should prove one of the greatest in the entire history of the Northern league."

With such experienced baseball men as O'Brien, Brautigan, Moll, Lefty Davis and Col. Bob Unglaub in charge of the playing end of the game, the great race should mark the 1916 season of the Burmeister circuit.

SEEKING DAMAGES FOR FALSE ARREST

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The damage suit of George Stein vs. T. H. Martin to recover $5,000 for false arrest is on trial in district court here today. It is claimed by the plaintiff Martin that he was arrested charged with the theft of a stove which Stein claims belonged to him and F. S. Seaman, but Stein was promptly acquitted, and he demands $5,000 for false arrest.

The jury late yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty in the case against Sam Hinkel and "Kid" Lloyd indicted on a charge of beating up a Finn in a shack in the vicinity of Hibbing during a dispute over some venson during the late hunting season. May Call Grand Jury. There are no new developments in the case of Steve Atanosi now in the county jail charged with killing George Christoff during a fight near Marble last Monday, although it is possible that late today County Attorney Stone will ask Judge Wright to call a special grand jury that the case may be promptly handled at this term of court. If the case is taken directly before a grand jury it will not be necessary to take Atanosi back to Marble for a preliminary hearing.

HENRY AND ENGMAN ARE BOUND OVER

Police Believe Latter Has Decided to Feign Insanity.

Brady Henry and Frank Engman, the two young bandits who have been terrorizing merchants at the Head of the Lakes for some time, and who were arrested Sunday afternoon after a running fight with police and citizens, were arraigned in police court this morning. Both waived examination in the municipal court and they were bound over to the superior court. The police believe that Engman is feigning insanity. This morning when Judge Parker asked him whether he intended to plead guilty or not, he answered, "I'll let you know when I hear from the general in Russia."

ELECTION IN COURT'S HANDS

Action to Restrain Proctor School Board May Be Dismissed.

Ballot on Directors Depends Upon Decision of Judge Fessler.

Proctor school directors will probably have an opportunity to vote Saturday for the first set of school directors under the independent district plan.

Whether or not the election will take place as scheduled depends upon the order which District Judge Fessler will file.

Judge Fessler strongly indicated at the conclusion of a hearing held before him today that he would dismiss the injunction proceedings which had been brought to restrain the school board from holding the election. However, he said that he would not file an order in the matter until tomorrow and would give counsel for the opposition an opportunity to submit further authorities on the law in the case.

Mr. J. H. Smith and five other voters and freeholders instituted a suit to restrain the election. It was brought by J. J. Kenny, local attorney. J. J. Code, H. J. Barnard and William McMurtry, members of the present school board, were named as defendants. On March 30 last, an election was held at Proctor for the purpose of determining whether the common school district should be changed to an independent school district. The vote indicated the change by a margin of nine. It is now claimed that there were illegal votes and a recount is asked.

George Sjosted, who appeared as attorney for the school board, which is attempting to carry out the reorganization plan, argued this morning that the proper method of determining the validity of the election was to allow it to proceed and then question the right of the incumbents by quo warranto proceedings.

In Proctor, sentiment is divided on the question. There are opponents to the present plan of managing school affairs through a common school district board of three members. The reorganization plan also meets with opposition. It being claimed that a change to independent district would encourage extravagant taxation. Under an independent district the school board consists of six directors.

LOOKS GOOD TO SAFETY HEAD

Will Ask Council to Consider
New Method of Garbage Disposal.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, is considering a new solution for the disposition of the city's garbage.

A corporation in Kansas City has offered to construct a patent incinerator plant in Duluth at no cost to the city, the only obligation being to send all the garbage to the plant and pay just one-fourth of the cost of operating the local plant at the present time. The company has a patent fuel system, which makes fuel out of the garbage and the city is willing to erect the structure and make such a low charge to the city.

The plan sounds very good," said Commissioner Silberstein this morning, "but I am looking into the matter thoroughly before making any

LACKED LIGHT TOUCH.

Sixty days at the work farm and a badly swollen jaw were the net results of Gust Huovila's debut as a pickpocket.

Huovila, a lumberjack, had read of pickpockets and their methods. It sounded easy, but he didn't stop to think that he was cursed with a pair of "hams" instead of hands.

He tiptoed into the room of Emil Laurila at 117 South First avenue east last night and carefully slid his hand into Laurila's trousers pocket.

At that moment the sleeper turned over and Huovila became panic-stricken. He turned to run and Laurila, awakening suddenly, hurried a cuspidor at the would-be thief.

The cuspidor struck Huovila's jaw and the flight ended. Then Laurila, aided by Victor Axelsson, proprietor of the place, set on the pickpocket until Chief of Detectives Lahti arrived.

He was sentenced to sixty days at the work farm for trespass by Judge F. H. Cutting today.

SAYS APPOINTEE IS NOT CITIZEN

Mayor Boylan to Veto Appointment of Mellis as Auditor.

Virginia, Minn., April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council failed last night to agree on a candidate for vice president and the appointment went over for a week. S. S. Dahl was elected city attorney, being unanimously confirmed after one ballot which resulted: Dahl, 5; Montague, 2; Cukka, 2. T. C. Mellis was named auditor, but Mayor Boylan announced later that he would veto Mellis' appointment because Mellis is not a citizen of the United States and for that reason ineligible.

When the resolutions confirming the appointments made at the last council meeting came up, opposition developed to the appointment of City Engineer Johnson, Health Officer Crowe and Street Commissioner Christopher. Johnson was confirmed, 4 to 3, but both Crowe and Christopher were defeated, 5 to 4.

Why He Opposed Crowe. Alderman Harvey, chairman of the health committee, voted against Crowe because, he said, Crowe was health officer failed to require sanitary sewer connections made to the Sanitation company. Harvey arraigned conditions in the location and layout of the sewer lines had been derelict in not compelling the necessary sewer connections made to the Sanitation company.

The mayor appointed J. S. Cherne to the park board and William Fitzgerald to the board of health. The appointments of two members of the fire and police board and one member of the city council were also made.

The annual report of the city's financial condition showed expenditures during the past year of $235,231.17. The city has assets of $506,553.61. Its liabilities are $201,048.29 and its surplus above indebtedness, $293,845.75.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Luster With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

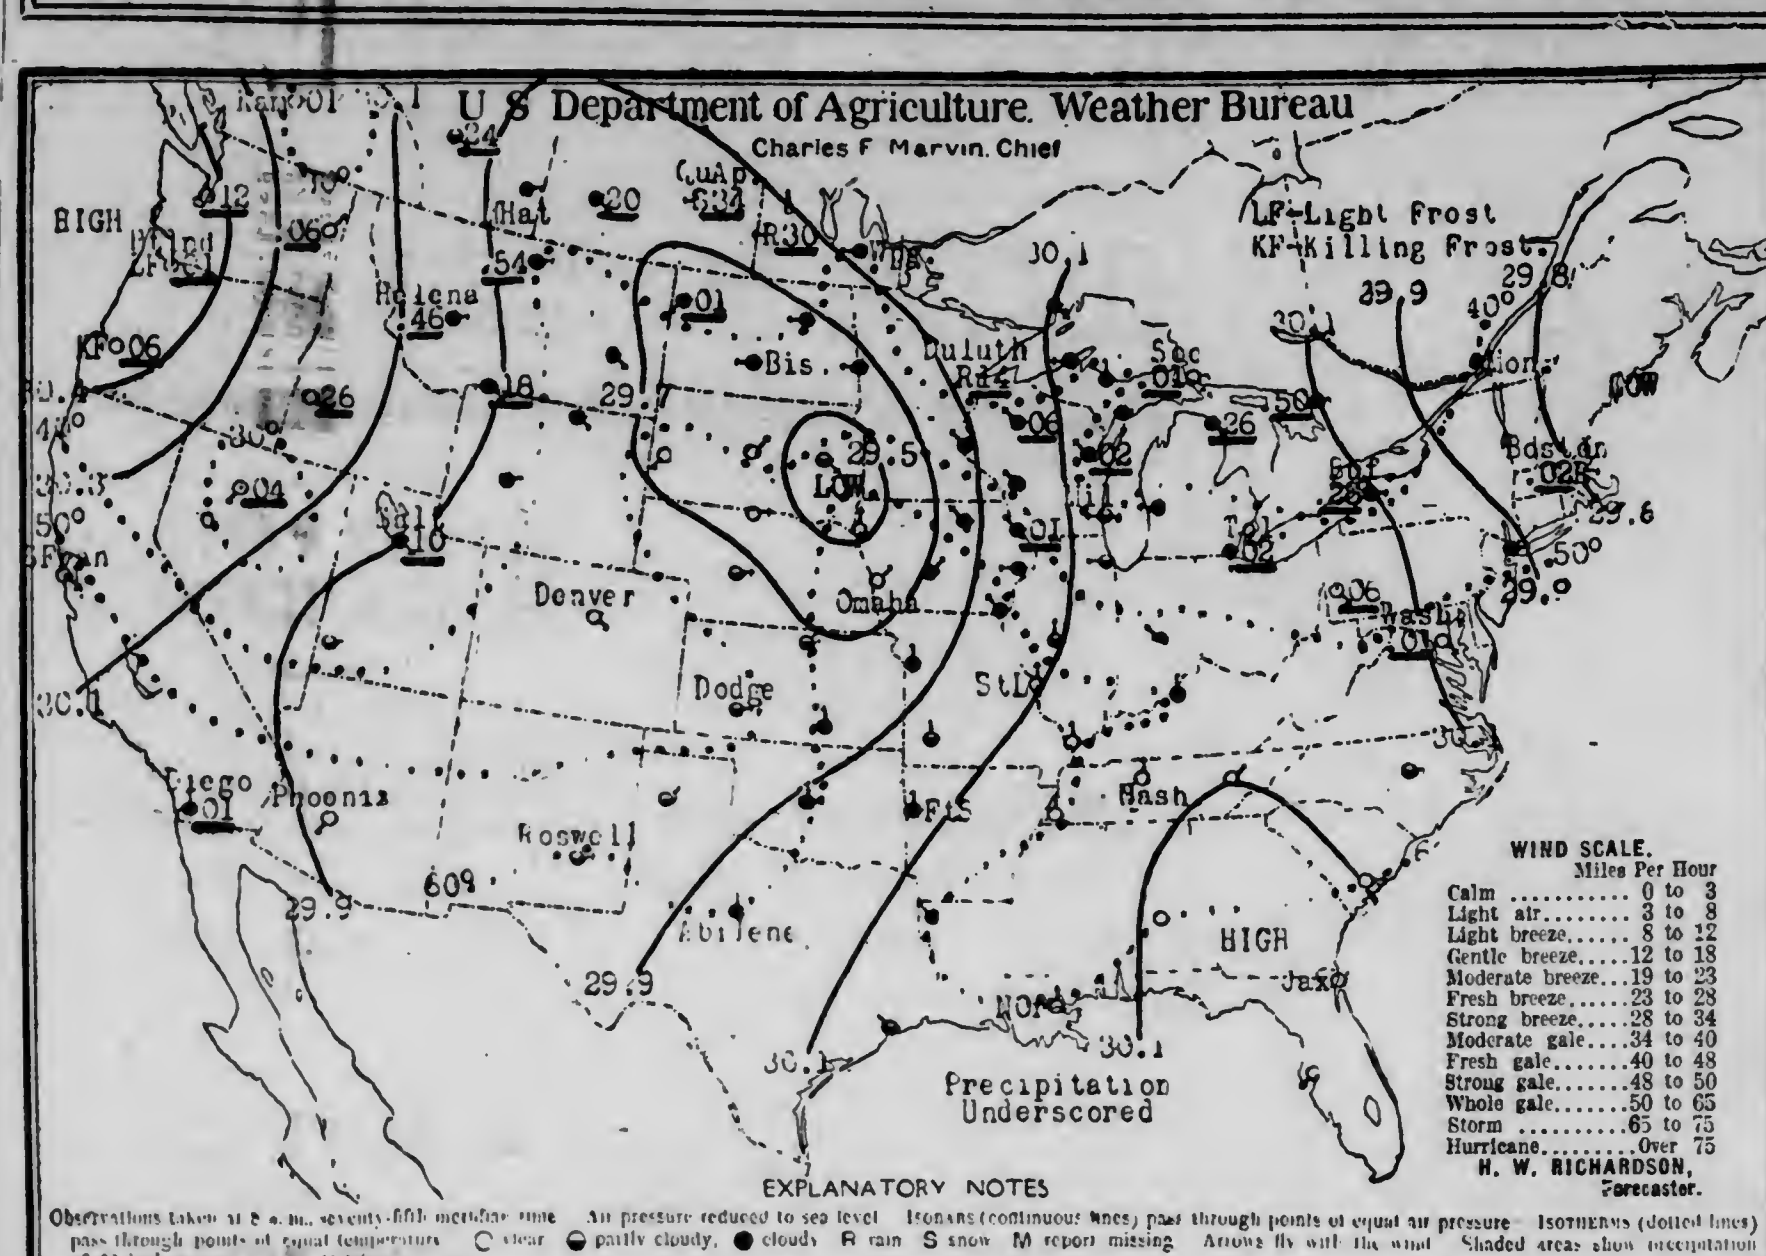

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound."

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Some of it was fresh while much of the deer meat and all the moose meat was spoiled. No one in the vicinity claimed ownership of the venison. The warden said that every one in that vicinity used it.

SEVEN LEADING STATE OFFICERS HEARTILY INDORSE AMENDMENT NO. 1

We believe that Constitutional Amendment #1, to be voted upon at the November general election, will be a great benefit to the entire State of Minnesota and we give it our hearty endorsement.

J. A. Burroughs
GOVERNOR.

Julius A. Schell
SECRETARY OF STATE.

John A. Drew
STATE AUDITOR.

W. C. Gooding
STATE TREASURER.

Lyndon A. Smith
ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Clifford A. Smith
SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.

Fred D. Sherman
COMMISSIONER OF IMMIGRATION.

The document which is reproduced herewith, tells its own mission, but in connection with it is the fact that all seven leading officers of the state have subscribed to one document. Each of the seven signatures figures prominently in the business transactions of the state, and one or more appear on virtually every state document of importance and on financial papers involving, at times, millions of dollars. But this is the first time that they have appeared on the same sheet.

The state officers, like almost everybody else who knows the facts, are in favor of Amendment No. 1, which

SIBERIA PREFERRED TO A COURT CIGAR AT LODGE MOCK TRIAL STING OF "LAW" FELT BY MANY VICTIMS

Bernard Silberstein, commissioner of public safety, was found guilty of attempting to burn the Temple Emanuel; H. Y. Josephs was convicted of being a Russian fugitive from justice and an illegal resident of the United States; Samuel Gittelsohn, accused of smuggling Chinese into this country so that he could rent the second floor of his new building for a Chinese chop suey house, was found guilty; the case against Dr. M. R. Zack, charged with practicing dentistry in Minnesota without a license, was dismissed; and Charles D. Orlovsky, who was accused of attending temple every Friday evening, was acquitted on entering a plea of insanity.

All this happened at the mock court staged by Covenant Lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, as the principal feature of its monthly "open house" entertainment in the Temple Emanuel vestry rooms last evening. About 100 members of the lodge and their friends were present.

Habbi Acts as Judge.
Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, rabbi of the temple, acted as the judge of the court, while the prosecution was in charge of A. R. Kaplin and Charles Rosenfeld, and the defense conducted by Abe Feldman and Samuel Weissstein. Dr. Samuel Gross, in a uniform of an officer, acted as the bailiff of the court. Dr. Zack was the first prisoner arraigned before "Judge" Lefkowitz. He was accused of practicing dentistry in Minnesota without a license, but his attorney proved that he is in West Duluth, where the court is held, and besides, West Duluth isn't in Minnesota, anyway.

The evidence against Mr. Gittelsohn, charged with smuggling Chinese, was conclusive, and the court found him guilty and sentenced him to buy a chop suey dinner next Friday evening, and the counsel for the defense, several "Chinese" from San Francisco appeared during the trial.

Silberstein Convicted.
Commissioner Silberstein was "guilty" before the trial began, so said the judge. It was proved that Silberstein & Bandy wrapping paper, saturated with kerosene, was found in the basement of the temple by the janitor, who testified in the court. An order of the firemen of the city, giving them a holiday on Feb. 22, was read to prove that Mr. Silberstein had planned to prevent them from fighting the fire. While Mr. Kaplin was summing up for the prosecution, Mr. Schrader of Superior caused a sensation by declaring that the safety head was innocent. On the stand he testified that he put the wrapping paper in the building and that he had written the order to the firemen. The court ruled that Mr. Schrader, being from Superior, was incompetent and he sentenced Mr. Silberstein to pay $1,000 to a fund for a new temple.

After witnesses had testified that Mr. Orlovsky was present at every Friday evening service in the temple, his attorneys entered a plea of insanity and brought ailments to prove their claim.

But send the prisoner to Fergus Falls, or he will keep on going to the temple, urged Mr. Rosenfeld for the prosecution.

"If I send him down there, I will be the only one left in the temple," declared the judge.

THE "COME-BACK"

Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. They are the pure, original, imported Haarm Oil Capsules.—Advertisement.

clared the court, and the case was dismissed. Severe Sentence Imposed.
H. Y. Josephs was not permitted to testify himself. An interpreter was appointed to speak for him and the evidence went in just as the prosecution desired. The defense had no chance, for even the court was prejudiced. So when the trial was over, "Judge" Lefkowitz found him guilty of being a fugitive from Russia and an illegal resident of the United States. He failed to pass a special "fugitive" test, and sentenced him to smoke one of the court's cigars. "I would rather go to Siberia," said the prisoner.

The court's entertainment was opened with two papers read by A. R. Kaplin, president of the lodge, and Mrs. M. Cook on "How to Confront the Popular Errors About the Jews."

After the mock court, a bridge contest was played and refreshments were served by the wives of the members. The young people enjoyed dancing for the remainder of the evening. Dr. Samuel Gross, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of arrangements.

TALK OF PHILIPP FOR THE SENATE
Friends Say His Large Vote Entitles Him to Consideration.
Madison, Wis., April 12.—Because of the unusually large vote given Governor Philipp in the recent presidential primary talk of his becoming a Republican candidate for the United States senate, has been revived. The conservative convention of 110 to select a candidate, probably will meet here on April 26. Governor Philipp was for the retirement of both these men and the selection of some third man to oppose Senator La Follette at the September primaries. Aside from the governor the name most frequently mentioned is that of former State Senator George B. Hudnall of Superior. Mr. Hudnall was chairman of the recent Conservative convention here.

Before leaving for Washington last week, Senator La Follette announced that he would be back in Wisconsin on the stump within one month. He says that he is going to cover every hamlet in Wisconsin before the September primaries.

WIFE AND BABIES NEED AUSTIN LAW

CARRANZA ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF U.S. TROOPS FROM MEXICO; REQUEST WILL NOT BE GRANTED

SUBMARINE SITUATION IS NEARING CRISIS PURSUIT OF VILLA WILL BE CONTINUED

POSITIVE EVIDENCE OF GERMANY'S GOOD FAITH IS NECESSARY

Only Thing That Can Now Prevent Breaking Off of Diplomatic Relations By United States.

Officials Believe That German Admissions Leave No Doubt as to Torpedoing of Steamer Sussex.

FRANCE HAS EVIDENCE

Paris, April 13, 4:55 p. m.—Semi-official announcement was made here today that the French government has documentary evidence that the Sussex was attacked by a submarine.

Washington, April 13.—The German note on the Sussex and other submarine cases has been received at the state department and was being decoded today. It probably will be laid before President Wilson and Secretary Lansing before noon.

The affidavits from Paris and London, expected today on the liner St. Paul, will be considered in connection with the German note and the "information" regarding attacks on merchant vessels since the Lusitania disaster, is expected to be completed in time to go to Berlin within the next week.

Some Positive Assurance Needed. While the entire plans of the administration are not being discussed, it is understood that nothing less than some positive evidence of Germany's good faith to fulfill the assurances she has given the United States, such as possibly substantial punishment of the submarine commander who destroyed the Sussex can prevent the situation between the two countries from coming to the pass which diplomats have struggled for the last year to avoid.

The use of the word ultimatum in connection with the document to be forwarded to Berlin is discouraged by officials, still it was said the effect of the communication would be to call for prompt action. In view of the conclusive nature of the information on the Sussex, already before the state department, officials cannot see how

Germany can continue to deny responsibility for the destruction of the ship. The suggestion of arbitration in the German note was met with the statement that the American government would not arbitrate a question involving American lives. The same statement was made during the Lusitania negotiations.

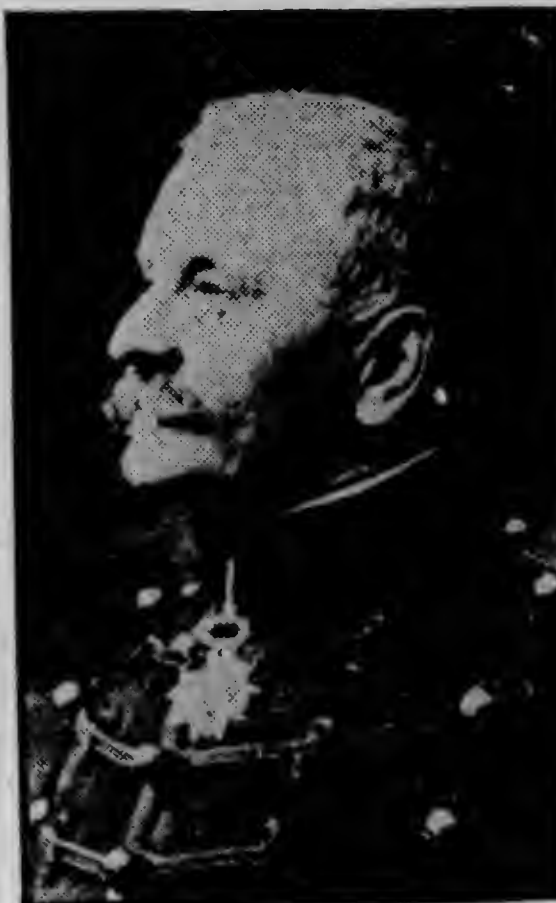

Careful examination of the German note led officials to conclude that the case of the United States had been materially strengthened. The similarity between the circumstances surrounding the attack on a steamer in the English channel admitted by the German note and those surrounding the Sussex case caused officials to feel there no longer is any doubt that the vessel was the Sussex.

Senators and representatives who called at the White House went away with the impression that action was imminent, but that no further communication would be sent to Berlin before more drastic steps were taken.

Believe Sussex Torpedoed. While Germany denies the Sussex was attacked by one of her submarines and explains that a sketch made by a submarine commander of a ship he torpedoed did not tally with the description of the Sussex, officials say that Germany's admission that a submarine was in the vicinity coupled with the array of evidence, call points to the conclusion that the Sussex was torpedoed.

Admission by Germany that her submarine was responsible for the attack (Continued on page 8, third column.)

CREATED FAMOUS "75" GUN USED SO EFFECTIVELY BY FRENCH ARMY

COL. DEPORT.

One of the men to whom France thinks a great debt is due in this crisis is Col. Deport. It was he who created the famous "75" gun with which the French have kept the Germans at bay.

BIG FORCE OF YAGUI INDIANS DEFEATED

De Facto Mexican Forces to Drive Them Out of the Valley.

Douglas, Ariz., April 13.—A large force of Yaqui Indians was decisively defeated Tuesday by de facto Mexican government troops under Gen. Rafael Estrada, according to a message received by Gen. Calles, governor of Sonora, and Gen. Estrada. The message said the fight occurred at Agua Calientes, twelve miles east of the Tonichi branch of the Southern Pacific railway of Mexico, and lasted several hours.

Gen. Estrada's plan of campaign, as stated by Gen. Calles, is to drive the Yaquis eastward out of the Yaqui river valley. Agua Calientes was fortified by the Indians and is reported to have been amply provisioned to withstand a siege. It is said by Americans, well acquainted with that section of Sonora, to be the last stronghold of the tribe.

Symposium on International Law. Philadelphia, April 13.—A symposium on international law will be a feature of the annual meeting of the American Philosophical society which opened a three day session here today.

ATTACK BY GERMANS ON VERDUN FORTRESSES HAS SUBSIDED FOR MOMENT

No Engagements of Any Importance Occur During the Night.

Preparations for Attack on Hill 304 Frustrated By French.

While Some Trenches Have Been Taken Paris Is Satisfied.

London, April 13.—The attack on Verdun has subsided for the moment after several days of particularly severe fighting. There were no engagements of importance in that region last night, the official French statement of this afternoon says. Preparations were made by the Germans for an attack on Hill 304, an important strategic point commanding a large section of the territory west of the Meuse, but the Paris communication says the French prevented the execution of this plan.

Attempt to Force Passage. The principal German effort since the general Verdun offensive was begun Sunday has been the attempt to force a passage between Dead Man's hill and Camiers for the purpose of enveloping the hill. Some French trenches in this vicinity were carried, but the main positions of the defense were held and Paris regards the operations of the week as having resulted decidedly to the advantage of the French. Following the evacuation of the Bethincourt salient the Germans were compelled to make frontal attacks except at Dead Man's hill, where they attempted to advance through the ravines.

Calm Prevails. Paris, April 13, 11:53 a. m.—Calm prevailed in the whole region of Verdun last night, this morning's official communication says. Preparation was made by the Germans for an attack on Hill 304, but the attack was prevented by the French from being carried into effect. No other important developments were reported at the front.

CAVALRY COMMANDER WHO IS IN PURSUIT OF VILLA AND BANDITS

COL. J. C. ERWIN.

Col. J. C. Erwin in command of the Seventh cavalry is in Mexico with Pershing and has been mentioned in the news stories for special bravery in the pursuit of Villa.

PRODUCTION OF COKE GROWING ENORMOUS

Connellsville, Pa., April 13.—Figures compiled here from official sources show that the production and shipment of coke in the Connellsville region during the first quarter of 1916 amounted to 6,600,000 tons, or at the rate of 22,000,000 tons a year. This will exceed by 2,600,000 tons the record of 1915, if production is maintained. Even greater production is expected the latter part of the year, as the United States Steel corporation has now under construction at Clairton, Pa., 600 ovens in a by-product coke plant which will be increased to 1,000 within the next twelve months.

PURSUIT OF VILLA WILL BE CONTINUED WITH MORE VIGOR

Head of De Facto Government of Mexico Declares Americans Are in His Country Without Permission.

Says Most of Villa's Bandits Have Been Destroyed and Mexican Troops Can Take Care of the Remainder.

Washington, April 13.—Gen. Carranza, in a note which arrived at his embassy here early today for presentation to Secretary Lansing, asks for the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico. Eliseo Arredondo, Gen. Carranza's ambassador, expects to present the note at the state department some time during the day.

Will Not Be Withdrawn. It raises a new issue in a situation already much complicated, the entry of Gen. Carranza's columns had been previously made by Gen. Carranza. When the advance troops crossed at Columbus, it was officially stated, a Carranza general met them at the border and made no protest either personally or on behalf of his government.

In official quarters it was stated that the American troops will not be withdrawn, at this time at least, and that while the question is being discussed with Gen. Carranza, the pursuit of the Villa bandits will be rushed with renewed vigor.

Raises Side Issues. Although Gen. Carranza raised side issues, administration officials at the first view of the communication regarded the principal contention as being that the object of the punitive expedition has been accomplished so far as it can be and that the Villa bandits have been dispersed.

War department officials take the view that they have no evidence that the Villa hands have been dispersed, because they never had definite information of their number and that the very nature of the situation gives no evidence that the raiders have been exterminated.

Some state department officials comment.

NO RAID ON AMERICANS REPORTED BY ADMIRAL

Washington, April 13.—Dispatches received early today at the navy department from Admiral Winslow, commanding the Pacific fleet, made no mention of a reported raid upon Americans near Guaymas. Admiral Winslow reported arrival of the cruiser Denver at La Paz, Mex., en route to San Diego. He did not mention the alleged attack upon the Americans and no orders have been sent from the navy department to that effect.

Admiral Winslow stated that the supply ship Glacier was bringing a number of Americans from Mazatlan.

FURTHER REPRIEVE TO SMITH AND PICKIT

St. Paul, Minn., April 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Further reprieve until tomorrow before being sent to Stillwater prison was granted today to Walter J. Smith and Robert Pickit, who recently pleaded guilty to a charge of misuse of the state's school funds. No reason for the delay was given.

It was said at the capitol that efforts to secure the immediate pardon of the two have ceased.

He declared, Gen. Carranza's note was not a surprise. Counselor Polk confirmed the statement in the note that when he asked for use of the Mexican railways the reply was "satisfactory," but was coupled with an expression of surprise that the United States had not awaited final approval of the pending protocol before sending troops across the border.

No Formal Protest. It was declared, officially, however, that no formal protest against the entry of Gen. Carranza's columns had been previously made by Gen. Carranza. When the advance troops crossed at Columbus, it was officially stated, a Carranza general met them at the border and made no protest either personally or on behalf of his government.

State department officials took the view that Gen. Carranza's note was not a demand for immediate withdrawal of the American troops.

VILLA SAID TO BE AT URBINAS

Reported Heading Down Nazas River to Join Other Bandits.

Band of Villistas Said to Have Sacked Sierra Mojada.

Torreon, Mex., April 13, via El Paso Junction.—Francisco Villa is believed here to be near or at the Urbinas ranch at Las Nieves, south of Rosario, in the state of Durango. It is reported that he is headed down the Nazas river in the direction of the Contreras and Ceniceros bandits.

Town Sacked By Villistas. El Paso, Tex., April 13.—A band of Villistas numbering several hundred, and possibly 1,000, has sacked Sierra Mojada, five miles across the Conchula line and eighty miles east of Jimenez, destroying many thousands of dollars worth of American property and looting the town of everything of value.

This news, which may prove to be of the highest importance, as it is believed possible Villa himself was among the raiders, was received here by the representative of one of the largest American mining concerns in Mexico, and is accepted by him as adequately authentic. The bandits made their attack on the town on April 5. They came from Escalon, a junction point on the Mexican National railroad, sixty miles south of Jimenez and about an equal distance southwest of Sierra Mojada.

UNITED STATES TROOPS CLASH WITH GARRISON AT PARRAL

Commander of Carranza Forces Says People Were Alarmed By Americans' Approach, Became Excited and Fired on Them.

San Antonio, Tex., April 13.—Advices received at department headquarters, Fort Sam Houston, today state that American forces have had an encounter with either Mexican military forces or the civilian population of Parral. No details are available.

The report came to Gen. Funston from American Consul at Parral, who stated that Maj. Gutierrez, commander at Parral, said there was a clash, which he termed unimportant, between

PUT BOMBS ON VESSELS

Four Germans Are Under Arrest in New York City.

Officials Looking for the Man Who Supplied Funds.

New York, April 13.—Detectives who yesterday arrested four Germans charged with placing bombs on ships carrying war munitions to the Entente allies, today sought evidence involving a "well-known German" who is alleged to have supplied a $10,000 fund to finance the fire-bomb conspiracy. They sought also the arrest of the chemist who did the chemical work in the manufacture of the bombs. The name of neither of these men has yet been revealed by the police.

Placed Bombs in Sugar Bags. Four employees of the Hamburg-American line and North German Lloyd steamship companies here are under arrest charged with attempted arson either in making bombs or taking part in the conspiracy. They are Ernest Becker, Capt. Charles von Kleist, Capt. Otto Wolpert and Capt. Erno Rode.

Preparations were made to arraign them in a Brooklyn court today to answer the specific charge of placing bombs in sugar bags on board the steamer Kirk Oswald on May 2, 1915. The steamer caught fire from bomb explosion (Continued on page 16, sixth column.)

SAYS EXPLANATION OF GERMANS CHILDISH

London Paper Does Not Believe It Will Go With Americans.

London, April 13.—Although all the London evening newspapers print the German reply to the United States on submarine warfare under such heads as "Vain Endeavor to Gull American Public," "Amazing American Note," "Berlin Eats Its Own Words," the Westminster Gazette is the only one to comment on the note. It says: "We don't know whether the Germans believe that hard-headed Americans will take seriously explanations so childish. If so we fancy they have done less than justice to the American nation."

DEMANDS PRESENTED FOR NEW WAGE SCALE

Pittsburgh Street Railway Employees Demand Higher Wages.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 13.—Committees representing the employees of the Pittsburgh Railways company and the interurban trolley lines which it controls have presented their demands to the company for the wage scale to take the place of the two-year scale which will expire May 1. According to the company the men want an advance of from 20 to 40 per cent over the rates now paid, and will arbitrate the question of a further advance if the original demands are granted. Meetings are being held, and it was stated today that an agreement had been reached looking to the change of working conditions for which the men asked. About 5,000 employees are concerned.

WEIGHT ON SAFETY VALVE CAUSED WRECK

Boilers of River Boat Blew Up From Excessive Pressure.

Callipolis, Ohio, April 13.—Federal steamboat inspectors in this district today reported that the result of their investigation of the cause of the explosion on board the Ohio river boat Sam Brown at Huntington, W. Va., several weeks ago, in which eleven men lost their lives, showed that the steamer's safety valve was weighted down, causing excessive steam pressure to burst five boilers. The boat sank and bodies of some of the victims have never been recovered.

MORE THAN 5,000 NAMES

Committee Counts 5,250 Signatures to the "Dry" Petition.

Still Some to Be Checked—Double Number Needed.

At noon when the steering committee in charge of the "dry" petition quit counting names for the lunch hour, they had checked up 5,250, and about twelve petitions were still to be reckoned with or brought in. W. L. Smithies, who has been in charge of the "dry" headquarters in the Provisional building ever since the campaign for signatures began last week, said that he believes the total number of signatures will be somewhere between 5,300 and 5,400.

Mr. Smithies this afternoon, at the eagerness displayed to sign the petition and at the small number of petitions which the men circulating the petitions have met with today, it having become known that the campaign for signatures is closing, we have been swamped with telephone calls from people who declare that they have not been seen and who want to sign. There was no difficulty in obtaining all of the signatures we wanted, but we set out to get only 5,000, which is more than double the number needed, and with these obtained, we are quitting.

Mr. Smithies said that an effort will be made to have all the petitions in so that they can be presented to the city commissioners before today is over. Should that not be possible, they will be presented tomorrow morning.

STATE LOG SCALERS' JOBS ARE IN DANGER

Many Living With Lumber Companies and Charging Expense to State.

St. Paul, Minn., April 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jobs of many state log scalers were placed in jeopardy today when Oscar Arneson returned from Northern Minnesota and reported to the state auditor's office that he had learned that many of the scalers have been living at the expense of the lumber companies and charging the state with their living expenses.

Lumber companies in an apparent attempt to gain the good will of the state scalers and have hoarded them free in the lumber camps where the scalers were working, says Mr. Arneson.

This gave the scalers free board but they charged the state with as high as $150 a day for their meals. Arneson said that he had offered to make restitution to the state, says Mr. Arneson.

MAIL TAKEN FROM DANISH STEAMER

Frederik VIII Arrives in New York 597 Sacks Short.

New York, April 13.—The Danish steamer Frederik VIII arrived here today without 597 sacks of mail with which she started from Copenhagen, Christiania and Christiansand. The mail was removed by the British authorities when the steamer stopped at Kirkwall for the customary inspection.

Passengers said that while the Frederik VIII was in Kirkwall they were told the British were anticipating a combined aerial and naval attack along the Scottish coast and were making preparations for it. For that reason the ship's departure was hastened, while all lights on the ship were extinguished.

While in the North Sea, passengers said, a fleet of ten British warships was sighted about two miles distant moving in a northerly direction.

Among the passengers were Charles Riggs, a missionary attached to the staff of the American board of foreign missions at Constantinople. Mr. Riggs left the Turkish capital two weeks ago, going by rail to Berlin and making the trip in twenty-four hours. He said that reports of rioting among the Turks were exaggerated, and that while food was scarce, there was no extensive suffering among the people.

DO NOT KNOW U. S. TROOPS HAVE CROSSED

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—The great majority of Mexicans do not yet know that American soldiers have crossed the international line, according to an American who arrived here today from Mexico City. This man said that in the capital there was the most profound ignorance in regard to the situation in Chihuahua and that even among the educated classes the most contradictory reports already are prevalent.

MAY 5 TO BE CLEAN-UP DAY

Governor Prepares Proclamation Urging Whole State to Co-operate.

Mayor Prince Will Issue Similar Appeal Within Few Days.

May 5 will be "clean-up" day in Minnesota. Word has been received from Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, that Governor Burnquist is preparing a proclamation setting May 5 aside as "clean-up" day for this year, with a general appeal to the people, urging them to co-operate with the officials of the state and municipalities in removing rubbish and dirt collected during the winter months.

Mayor Prince said this morning that he would issue a similar proclamation within a few days.

City officials are now taking advantage of the warm weather during the last ten days and exerting their efforts toward cleaning up the streets, alleys, gutters and catch basins.

Fire Marshal Hargadine's appeal to the people of Minnesota follows: "Reports received from deputies throughout Minnesota show that there is special need this year for extra efforts to eliminate piles of refuse. This is due to the unusually heavy snow of the past season. In many places, especially in the larger towns and cities, the refuse piles have been allowed to accumulate close to wooden structures, because of the inability of most folks to go far from the house. Waste paper, patchboard boxes, oily clothes, empty oil cans and other refuse combine to make a dangerous heap of rubbish. It is suggested that every citizen of Minnesota lend a hand and spend at least an hour on May 5 to clean up their premises.

Work together. Reduce the fire hazard and make Minnesota fireproof. The only request made by the state fire marshal's department. The operation of the newspapers throughout Minnesota in this campaign is appreciated by the department and this aid is especially asked this year because of the unusual need of 'team work' on the part of everybody.

REFUSES TO FIX AN EARLIER DATE

Trial of Officers of Riggs Bank Will Come Up May 8.

Washington, April 13.—A district court today refused an earlier date than May 8 for trial of three officers of the Riggs National bank indicted for perjury in connection with the bank's collapse. The officers are Charles R. Williams, comptroller of the currency in which the latter officials with city and state banks conspired to wreck the bank.

A further bill of particulars showing basis for the indictment was refused. The bank officers in asking an earlier trial alleged that Controller Williams intended to resign because of its charter expiring July 1 because of the indictments.

St. Paul, Minn., April 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carlos Avery, game and fish commissioner today sent six crews to the Northern Minnesota country in quest of spawn of wall-eyed pike. ## DULUTH BAY OPENS WIDER Tugs Break Their Way Through Ice to Mouth of River.

Steamers Released; Maida Will Be One of First Ore Boats.

The bay was opened this morning as far as West Duluth, when the tug Minnesota broke her way up St. Louis bay to the mouth of the river, where the docks of the Zenith Furnace company are located, and released one of the barges of the Pittsburgh Steamship company lying there. The steamer Maida was also released, but the barge, Maida, which has been carrying coal in her hold all winter was not unloaded and the ore docks for loading at as early a date as possible. These are the second and third vessels released in the harbor so far, the first being the Briton on Tuesday. As soon as ice conditions in the lake warrant the Briton will leave for Fort William for service.

Maida One of First. The Maida will probably be one of the first boats to load ore. The Maida is hauling small amounts of ore and will be loaded next, but not until there is some indication of navigation opening and boats being able to move.

All depends on the ice conditions. Capt. H. V. Noonan of the Union Towing company said today that the ice is going fast, but the tug Minnesota had difficulty in moving her way up to the Zenith Furnace this morning. The tug is now broken up, but the wind is holding it in at this end of the lake.

According to the government report on ice conditions, just issued, the ice is 12 inches thick, but with open water at the east end of the bay. The Sault harbor ice is 20 inches thick and there is one opening from above the rapids along the Canadian shore to below Little Rapids cut, while the ice on the American side remains firm, but is decreasing in thickness. The ferry has begun running.

Ice Little Changed. The government's comment on general ice conditions follows: "The reports from the regular and special stations of the weather bureau and the meteorological service of Canada show that the weather over the last week has hardened the ice over the upper lakes so that there have been no important changes. The fields over Superior are extensive, but have begun to move in and out with the winds over the western portion. Over the central portion the fields are broken up and the ice is moving in and out with the winds over the western portion. The material is now being assembled for the construction of what is called the "million-dollar ore dock," just west of the present Soo ore dock. It will be a solid steel and concrete dock and will be completed inside of a year. The preliminary work is well under way.

The railroad company bought real estate for more than a block, covered with old buildings, which the company has dismantled or sold, to make room for the new dock, which will be one of the largest and finest on the lakes.

LACK OF NAVAL STAFF SAID TO BE TROUBLE

Washington, April 13.—To the lack of a general naval staff was attributed the unpreparedness of the American navy and its want of battle efficiency by E. K. Roden of Scranton, Pa., in address at today's session of the Navy League of the United States.

Mr. Roden declared that with an appropriation no greater than that expended by the United States, Germany has built up a navy 30 per cent greater in combined units, but as a whole more modern in construction, and this he attributed to the fact that the German navy has a staff of efficient general staff.

A paper by Lieut. Commander H. C. Muston on the navy's aéroplanes was read by another because the commander had neglected to secure the consent of the navy department to appear at the meeting.

READY FOR NAVIGATION

Ashland Docks All Prepared to Begin Season's Business.

The extension work on the Northwestern docks here will be finished by May 1. As completed, the dock will be able to handle 10,000,000 tons of ore during the season, provided boats can be on hand to take the ore away, and provided further that the ore can be brought from the range in quantities sufficient to supply the demand. Here the Northwestern railroad has been hampered by limited yard room, which had a capacity of giving track room for the new dock, which did not give room to store enough loaded cars to take care of the rush season on the two docks. Last winter the company added yard room for 500 more cars, giving a total yard room for 1,110 loaded cars.

It is announced that the Northwestern proposes to build 1,000,000 tons into Ashland this summer from the Gogebic range, and in addition the Soo dock is said to be able to handle 500,000 tons, making the probable shipments from Ashland this season over 2,600,000 tons, as compared with 2,438,773 tons last season.

New Dock Arranged For. The Northwestern has just completed soundings, covering a period of several months, for a third dock, to the east of the present docks. Every preparation has been made, and all the necessary work is being done to begin work on this third dock. When the work will actually begin will depend on business conditions, but the demand for iron ore and the cost of labor and the price of material.

It is no secret that discoveries during the last three years of the Gogebic range has been mined, and that there is much more ore in sight than was the case five years ago. When the period of discovery was then thought to be complete.

The material is now being assembled for the construction of what is called the "million-dollar ore dock," just west of the present Soo ore dock. It will be a solid steel and concrete dock and will be completed inside of a year. The preliminary work is well under way.

The railroad company bought real estate for more than a block, covered with old buildings, which the company has dismantled or sold, to make room for the new dock, which will be one of the largest and finest on the lakes.

HONORS FOR DULUTH MAN

W. N. Ryerson Is Made Director of Naval Board for State.

William N. Ryerson, general manager of the Great Northern Power company, is one of five Minnesota appointed directors of the Minnesota auxiliary of the naval board by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy. He was notified yesterday of his appointment.

The other four men on the board of directors are William L. Darling, St. Paul, chief engineer of the Northern Pacific railway; H. V. Winchell, Minneapolis, mining engineer; J. J. Flather, Minneapolis, professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Minnesota; and G. B. Frankforter, dean of the college of chemistry at the state university.

Under the plan for the naval board, the five men, all engineers in different lines, will make a survey of the state with a view to determining the possibilities of the state's industries in time of war. Every manufacturer who can make anything necessary in war will be asked if he would like an annual government contract.

"Figures show that if the United States has 1,000,000 men in the field," said Mr. Ryerson, "three times that number would be needed to keep them equipped with ammunition, clothing and other necessities."

Actual work on the survey will be begun next month. It is not known how long it will take, but when the work is finished, the industrial possibilities of the country will be known to the government and in time of need it would know where the different articles should be made. Steel mills, weavers, shoe manufacturing concerns, small arm companies and cannery plants probably will be the first to be inspected.

If a manufacturer will install equipment necessary to make the required articles, he will be guaranteed a contract annually.

BLAMES CITY FOR DEATH OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Gibeau Says Proper Vehicle Was Not Provided.

Claiming that carelessness on the part of the city health department resulted in the death of her daughter, Georgiana Gibeau, the mother, Mrs. Bridget Gibeau, yesterday afternoon filed suit for $5,000 damages against the city.

Mrs. Gibeau alleges that the city was negligent in providing a proper vehicle for transporting the daughter to the contagious hospital on March 14. An ordinary cab was used, the claim states.

Despite the fact that relatives of the young woman protested, Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, said last evening that the cab was provided on instructions from the young woman's physician, Dr. A. Giroux. These instructions, he said, were followed explicitly by Contagious Inspector Larson.

The daughter died on March 20.

Bad weather and the resultant inactivity among the farmers are worrying the railroad, according to J. L. Burnham, general freight agent for the Northern Pacific Railway company with headquarters in St. Paul, who was a Duluth visitor yesterday.

George R. Merritt, general refrigerator agent for the same road, who accompanied Mr. Burnham, is sanguine with reference to the Eastern freight situation. He declared that conditions are improving and that foreign lines are beginning to send back empties.

WEST END SAY POLICE ARE UNFAIR

Directors of Woodman Hall Defend Dances as Being Orderly.

Declare Fight in Which Officer Was Injured Occurred on Sidewalk.

Directors of the Woodman Hall, Twentieth avenue west and First street, are of the opinion that the police department is attempting to give the hall an unjust reputation as being a disorderly place on account of the Saturday evening dances. The disturbances, say the directors, have occurred outside of the building and not inside as alleged by the police.

"We have not been getting a square deal in this matter," said George M. Jensen, chairman of the board of trustees for Duluth lodge No. 2341, M. W. A., which has direct charge of the building. "The fight Saturday evening took place on the sidewalk and resulted from an attempt by a drunken man to get inside."

"We, as well as the police department, have made a thorough investigation of the matter," said Patrolman Nels Magnusson, who was paid by the manager of the dance to be at the door to prevent any such disturbances as might possibly arise, and it was while carrying out the orders in his line of duty, that he was injured by the rowdies.

"Such disturbances as occurred Saturday evening in front of the Woodman hall are likely to occur at any place where a dance is being held, when a drunken man, with several other persons, attempt to get in. When this drunken man was being led away from the door, his friends interfered and jumped upon the officer. It was the fall to the sidewalk, sustaining a head injury, and the subsequent jumping on him by several of these young men, that broke his arm."

Guests in Ignorance. "The guests inside of the dance hall did not know anything about the disturbance until it was all over. Patrolman Victor Isaacson, who was off duty that evening, attended the dance as one of the guests and told me that neither he nor others had noticed anything out of the way or heard of any disturbance until it was all over and quiet reigned outside. The man in charge of the dances has had a special car very well by the special officer, who up to last Saturday evening had been able to handle anything that came up."

The unsavory reputation that the police have been giving the hall, is unjust to us. Neither the hall, the Woodman lodge, nor the manager of the dances can be blamed for acts committed on the street by drunken men and their friends, even if such acts take place in front of the Woodman building.

The other directors of the hall for the lodge are William L. Bernard and J. C. Anderson. The directors propose to place their side of the case before the city commissioners when any question regarding the dance license of the hall is brought up for consideration.

Policeman Recovering. Meanwhile Patrolman Nels Magnusson, of the West end force is recovering slowly at St. Luke's hospital from the effects of the beating he received and police are continuing their search for a seventh alleged assailant. Six men have been arrested. They are: Emmet J. Savage, James E. Green, Clarence B. Jones, Frank Mulcahy, John Strom and Frank F. Johnson. The first two were caught at Proctor Sunday, three were arrested at the dance hall, and Johnson was brought in Monday. He pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct.

First reports, to the effect that Savage and Green were armed with automatics, were without foundation, police said today. All but Johnson pleaded not guilty to assault and were held in $100 bail for a hearing April 18.

Prosecution to the full extent of the law has been promised, if police are able to learn the identity of the man who broke Magnusson's arm.

SUGAR ADVANCE CHECKED.

Greater Production in Cuba Offsets Export Demand.

The sugar market is still strong, but dealers are now hopeful that the era of price advances is over for a time at least.

The New York jobbers' quotations in fine granulated sugar is 7 cents a pound, the same as a week ago. Last year at this time the same grade of sugar sold at 2.90 cents.

England is said to have bought 15,000 tons of granulated sugar lately, and dealers there are still further fortifying themselves in placing contracts for raw sugar in Cuba.

In England the tax on sugar is now 3 cents a pound. The government controls the distribution and the price, and consumers are paying the equivalent of 10 cents a pound in American money.

In the neutral countries of Europe, sugar is very high. It is cheaper in Holland than elsewhere, where the wholesale price fixed by the government is now 9.30 cents per pound.

The high prices abroad encourage the American sugar bulls, but Cuba's production thus far this season has been 1,825,297 tons compared with 1,342,715 tons for the same period last season, so there is considered to be no reason for any scarcity of sugar in this country.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CACTUS JUICE AGENCY CREATES COMMENT

Nothing in recent years in Duluth has created quite as much comment of the kind as the announcement that Cactus Juice, the MASTER MEDICINE, that is being introduced personally by Mr. Green, the CACTUS JUICE MAN, as he is called by the public, will be distributed here.

Duluth is indeed very fortunate to secure an exclusive agency for Cactus Juice, as it will be the first Minnesota city to derive the advantage from this remarkable preparation.

Mr. Green will be located daily at the Lyecon Pharmacy at 421 West Superior street, beginning Saturday morning, to meet the public and explain Cactus Juice. The Cactus Juice Man spent some busy moments yesterday meeting many citizens who personally knew Mr. Green, and were familiar with his personal reputation and medicine over the country.

Prominent residents of Duluth, said the Cactus Juice Man, requested us to give the people of your city the same advantages of our medicine as we gave the people in larger cities where Cactus Juice has for many months been assisting thousands of suffering people in those great sections.

We finally yielded to the solicitations of these Duluth citizens, many of whom are business men, and while here I will prove to every one how easy it is to guard against inroads of ill health as carefully as you do some other features of your daily life.

Catastrophic afflictions of the head, throat, nose and stomach, finally produce a stuffed-up condition of the vital organs and nine times out of ten, this trouble is responsible for most of the ill health of the present day Americans. Our faulty methods of living are back of it all, but it is never too late to correct our faults.

Cactus Juice, the MASTER MEDICINE, we are introducing to combat this distressing and sadly prevalent condition, we believe it to be the best remedy of its kind on the American market today. This fact has been proven in many larger cities and will unquestionably be proved here.

Thousands now testify to the marvelous merits of Cactus Juice and express an abiding faith in its powers, as a superior remedy for all ailments.

The Cactus Juice Man will meet the people of Duluth, beginning Saturday at the Lyecon Pharmacy at 421 West Superior street. Ask any druggist.

ROTARIANS HAND FARRELL BOUQUET

Praise for Works Department—Want Jitneys Strictly Regulated.

The public works department of the city was given warm praise by a committee of the Duluth Rotary club which has been investigating the department's affairs, according to a report given by E. F. Burg at the noon meeting of the Rotary club, held today at the Spalding hotel.

The club also took action on a plan to have the city regulate the jitney service.

The report submitted by Mr. Burg was to the effect that the committee had found that the department of public works is being operated in an economical and efficient manner and on a sound business basis. The system now in vogue, said Mr. Burg, was different from that formerly used, and he commended Commissioner J. A. Farrell in the manner in which the business was taken care of.

C. E. Lum presented a motion to have the club favor a stringent regulation of the jitney bus service. This matter is to be taken up by a committee of the club with the city commissioners.

J. H. Murray of the Northern Shoe company, and David Dunham of the American Carbide company, were introduced as new members. They also gave a short talk to the members. Harry L. Armstrong, president of the club, presided.

DULUTH'S PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 11—Sewing and Cooking in the Grades and the High Schools.

GRADE SCHOOL SEWING CLASS.

Shortly after manual training courses for boys were established, the school board inaugurated domestic science classes for girls, and began the work of teaching the rudiments of sewing and cooking.

The classes have been popular with the students, as well as with parents, and have grown until the department now includes eight kitchens and eleven sewing rooms. There were 658 taking cooking last year and 746 who were learning to use a needle, or a sewing machine.

The school buildings which are equipped with kitchens are, the Bryant, Salter, Lakeside, Cobb, Irving, Junior high, the Denfeld high and the industrial school, or Washington. Those which have sewing rooms are the Lincoln, Lakeside, Washburn, Lowell, Madison, Jackson, Endlow, Irving, Junior high, Denfeld high and Manual Training high.

The courses were not established with the idea of making expert cooks or seamstresses, but they have been successful in advancing the general work of the school.

Teaching a child to use his hands, and incidentally, his head, proves of value in an arithmetic class, as well as in a sewing class.

Many grade school girls, entering school life after helping their mothers around the home, confess that they have managed to do housework without learning very much about either sewing or cooking. This is particularly true of sewing, and as has been proved, many of them, many in the upper grades, must begin at the very bottom when they enter a sewing class.

Practically the only book that a girl is required to buy in a public school today, aside from note books, is the cook book. Ownership has an influence, the teachers say, "when a girl owns her cook book, she will turn to it with renewed interest after she leaves school."

Sewing Work. In the sewing class the girl not only becomes familiar with the simpler stitches, and learns to make sewing aprons, fancy bags, crocheted work, etc. Lectures are given on the selection of materials, the combination of colors in the grades.

In the high school or industrial school they are initiated into the mysteries of darning and patching, and then go on with more complicated garments. All of the girls make simple waists and dresses, and several classes have made their own graduation gowns.

Cooking class work is made as practical as possible. Simpler dishes are made in the grades, with a study of menus that might be followed in the homes.

S. A. Foster, principal of the R. E. Denfeld high school, says of the cooking classes: "Attention is given in the fall to canning products of home gardens, with the purpose of teaching the pupils and through them the surplus of the garden for use during the winter. They are taught to can beans, peas, beets, tomatoes, and in fact all the vegetables and fruits raised in the garden. They also have been taught to can meats."

"Pupils have been taught that they can have better vegetables and fruits in this way than they can buy at the store, and at very little cost. Besides, they have been paid for their work and trouble in life, and greater interest in life. In fact, we are carrying out the homecraft idea in the cooking department."—R. D. McC.

FOSTER CHILD LOSES ESTATE

Brother and Sister of Jas. F. Murphy Awarded His Property.

Judge Cant Reverses Probate Court in Interesting Will Case.

A long lost brother and an almost forgotten sister of the late James F. Murphy of this city, who appeared to dispute the claims of a foster child to the estate, have won their point in the courts.

And Mrs. Edna Whiteside Snyder, wife of a Minneapolis banker, who, in her girlhood days, spent in Duluth, was known as Edna Murphy, is the loser.

Years ago, when she was a mere child of 5, she claimed, she was adopted into the home of the Murphys, who agreed with her father, George Whiteside, that they would make her their heir.

But when Murphy died in this city in September of 1913, it was found that the balance of an estate worth approximately $10,000, was given to his brother, Frank, who resided in Minneapolis, and to his sister, Anna Murphy, supposed to be residing in St. Catharines, Ont. If they could not be found, it was to go to a brother-in-law, Edward French, of Springfield, Ill.

Mrs. Snyder, who is the wife of G. Harvey Snyder of Minneapolis, who is now in Duluth, in the probate court against the will, which Frank Horgan, executor of the Murphy estate, offered for probate. She succeeded in having the will set aside and the property awarded to her by virtue of a contract which is alleged to have been entered into between the Murphys and her father, George Whiteside, twenty-six years ago, when she was a child of 5.

Was to Be Heir. Whiteside, the father, claimed on the trial of the case that he allowed Edna to remain with the Murphys as his daughter and that they, in return, agreed to leave her all the property. Mrs. Murphy died in 1911, and when her husband died two years later, Mrs. Snyder expected to come into her inheritance, but found that the will had made other disposition of the property.

Judge Cant of the district court, to whom an appeal from the decision of Judge Gilpin of the probate court was taken, today handed down a decision reversing the findings of the probate court and ordering that the estate be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the will.

At the trial of the case in district court, Whiteside, the father of the claimant, the long lost brother, Frank, who turned up in Ashland, and the missing sister, now Mrs. Anna Des Coteau of Detroit, Mich., who claimed to be the Anna Murphy who formerly resided at St. Catharines, Ont., were all present.

Was "Uncle George." Whiteside claimed that he had lived up to his agreement in fact to such an extent that when the Murphys moved from their former home in Springfield to Duluth he saw his daughter, but once in nineteen years. He claimed that he had relinquished all claim to her as a daughter in order that she might be received into a home and receive the mother's care, her own mother having died in 1888. Since that time, he said, she had never heard from him with the name of "Uncle George," but always referred to him and addressed him as "Uncle George."

Mrs. Des Coteau, the sister, testified that she had not seen nor heard from her brother James for nearly thirty years, and that she knew nothing of the whereabouts of her brother Frank.

MARRIED THIRTEEN CHILDREN WITH 400 POUND WIFE—NOW SEEKS QUIET

"And the second time, Yer Honor, I married thirteen children," said Henry La Page, soldier of fortune.

La Page is 78 years old. His battles have been losing ones, for the enemy has outwitted him and driven him back at every trench. He was explaining things to the judge this morning.

"Yup," he said, "there were thirteen children, and my second wife, the one that came with the thirteen children—she weighed three hundred and eighty pounds."

"Yup, yer honor—practically four hundred pounds that woman weighed. Believe me, Judge, she was no child. Ever since them thirteen kids came into the world, she was no child."

"The wife, she was no child, but she was a shadow she faded—"

Both brothers, she said, had drifted away many years ago. Frank, however, had been adopted by the Murphys and put in his appearance.

Judge Cant, on this occasion, holds that the evidence as adduced at the trial did not establish that the Murphys had ever adopted Edna unconditionally. The court's memorandum in the case is as follows:

Conditions of Adoption. "At the basis of the case, however, the alleged agreement, which she relies on, if there was no agreement, the case falls. The courts carefully scrutinize such evidence in support of such claims. In this case, assuming the evidence adduced on behalf of the petitioner and claimant all true, it seems that the Murphys were desirous of adopting the child Edna as an inducement to her to offer to make her their heir. The offer was accepted, and no objection was made to the adoption. So far as the evidence discloses, the Murphys made no exception on the basis that they were to adopt the child. The father, George Whiteside, was willing to relinquish his control of the child. He did, however, allow her to remain with the Murphys, but under just what agreement or understanding is not entirely clear.

"In later years the Murphys on various occasions said Edna was their heir. This sentiment might be referable to an early agreement to that effect, if one had been made, or it might refer to a plan on the part of the Murphys which originated with themselves in the course of long association with the child and a growing young woman. In some cases the remark seems to have referred back to an agreement with Mr. Whiteside, but the reliability of such a reference, after a lapse of years, even from the mouths of honest witnesses, is not entirely satisfactory."

A stay is granted and it is probable that the case may be appealed.

Before taking the case under advisement, Judge Cant, who was advised by the attorneys to effect a compromise, stating at the time that justice would be served by such a disposition of the case. Otherwise, he said, it would mean that one side would get everything and the other side would be left with a heavy expense for the litigation.

The costs in the case were taxed against the loser, Mrs. Snyder. Her attorneys are Andrew Nelson, A. T. Rock and John Brown appeared as attorneys for the heirs under the will of a boarding and rooming house, 236 a pound, Minnesota Kitchen.

SEASON WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Fishermen Will Find Poor Conditions in the Woods.

The trout season will open Saturday. Although the fishing season will open officially the day after tomorrow, it probably will be a week or two before lovers of the sport can get out to enjoy it. The woods are still full of snow and there is a large amount of ice in the streams. Very few, if any, of the streams are free from ice, according to reports of men who have made trips through the country. Roads leading into the country are also in bad shape for automobile travel.

Many of the streams which have been stocked during the last five or six years will furnish good fishing this season. Among these are Lester river, Chester river, Rocky run, Midway, Knife river, Mission creek, Miller's creek and other streams farther from the city.

Let Miss Dean plan your party for you! (She'll make up individual favors, etc.)

FIRE PROOF ZONE PLANNED

New Code Will Provide for Greater Security From Fires.

Would Extend From Fifth Avenue West to Lake Avenue.

Duluth will have a fireproof building zone under the provisions of the new building code.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the chairman of the sub-committee now preparing the combined building, electrical and plumbing ordinance, held at the organization's headquarters in the calliope building yesterday afternoon. William H. Hoyt, general chairman, presided at the meeting.

According to the plan outlined yesterday, the fireproof zone will be a building zone extending from Fifth avenue west to Lake avenue, and from Michigan street to First alley. After the proposed building code is passed, only structures that are completely fireproof will be permitted within this zone.

In addition, the chairman at the meeting yesterday agreed on a plan to change the various fire zones in the city, extending some and reducing others. No changes have been made by the city in several years and a general revision of the zones will be made before the code is finished.

In addressing the chairman yesterday, Mr. Hoyt urged them to complete their work, so that the various drafts may be submitted by the sub-committee and action by the general body sometime this spring.

CARRANZA ASKS WITHDRAWAL OF U. S. TROOPS

the forces, but an invitation to begin negotiations to limit their stay.

Consul Polk conferred with Maj. Gen. Scott, chief of staff, and announced that the negotiations would be handled exclusively by Secretary Lansing.

The dispatch of the punitive expedition before negotiations had begun was characterized by state department officials as "perfectly justified" by the correspondence between Secretary Lansing and the Carranza government.

No Comment by Lodge.

Senator Lodge, ranking Republican of the foreign relations committee, called at the navy department today but said his visit was not in reference to the Carranza situation. He declined to comment upon the Carranza note and would not forecast the attitude of the senate republicans.

The administration is charged with our foreign affairs," said he. Chairman Stone refused to comment. Senator Gallinger, Republican leader, said he regarded the Carranza situation in such condition that should be consulted on the future course.

Secretary Lansing took the view that there was absolutely nothing for him to discuss. He said he had not received any note or communication from Carranza and therefore had nothing to comment upon. What he would do after seeing Carranza's ambassador later today Mr. Lansing declined to indicate.

After a conference with Secretary Lansing, Chairman Stone of the house foreign affairs committee said he saw no necessity for congressional action in the Carranza situation.

Senator Borah, Republican, who has been a foremost advocate of forceful action in Mexico, disapproved of speech in congress in discussing the late developments. It would be unwise for congress to take any action until some definite course is determined," said he.

May Increase Delicacy.

Administration officials, however, made no effort to conceal the feeling that Carranza's action might increase the delicacy of the circumstances under which the pursuit of Villa has been conducted.

The outstanding features of the situation gave evidence that the expedition had been carried on with full realization that objections might arise, and that possibilities have been considered and probably a decision has been reached as to what steps would be taken.

There was apparent agreement among officials that the troops would remain for the present.

It was also increasingly evident today that the war department has endeavored to provide against possibilities, although attitude secrecy has been observed. It is understood that every movement of troops beyond the border and along the international line has been planned with care to avoid the possibility of an attempt to cut off the expedition has been considered and the war department is prepared to back up the forces should any arise.

Crossed Without Permission.

Mexico City, Mex., April 13.—The Mexican government has sent to its ambassador in Washington a note to Secretary Lansing in which it requested that American troops be withdrawn from Mexican territory and that the pursuit of Villa be left to Mexican constitutional army.

The Mexican note contains about 5,000 words. It states that the government of Mexico contends that as the American troops crossed into Mexico without permission, they should be withdrawn until a proper formal compact can be entered into between the two governments. It is insistently affirmed that the previous notes of the Mexican government especially emphasized the fact that permission for reciprocal crossing of the frontier would be granted only in the event of the repatriation of a raid similar to that made by Villa at Columbus, N. Mex.

No Ending Negotiations.

The note was sent to Eliseo Arraondo, the Carranza representative in Washington, with instructions for its delivery to Secretary Lansing, "so ending negotiations for a reciprocal passing of troops and asking for disavowal of the territory occupied by American troops in view of Villa's party having been disavowed."

Throughout the note emphasis is laid on the fact that the Carranza expedition was undertaken under a misunderstanding. Although acting in good faith, the declaration is made that the United States had interpreted the first note of the Carranza government as effecting a definite agreement between the two nations. But the intention of the Carranza government was that no expedition should be sent into Mexico until terms and conditions relative to an agreement were defined.

To Suspend Negotiations.

The note declares therefore that in consequence of no final agreement having been reached as to the terms of the treaty to regulate the reciprocal passage of troops over the dividing line, the Mexican government judges it convenient to suspend for the present all discussions and negotiations in this particular or founded on the circumstances that the expedition sent by the United States government to pursue Villa is without foundation in virtue of the non-existence of a previous agreement formal and definite.

What was intended by the note of March 10, it is pointed out was to submit a proposal "by means of which the forces of one and the other country could reciprocally cross the dividing line in pursuit of bandits if unfortunately there should be repeated along the border acts like those committed in Columbus."

The note adds, however: "From the beginning, the Mexican government judged that by reason of the time which had transpired and for the purpose of treating a case already passed the said incident could not constitute a proposal for the reciprocal passage of troops."

Incorrectly Interpreted.

The fact that the United States had incorrectly interpreted the note of March 10 was called to the attention of the Washington government, the state department likewise emphasized that the passage of troops would be permitted only if it was understood that from this time forward there should be repeated incursions like that of the Carranza forces at any point of the frontier line.

On March 18, the statement continues, Frank Polk, acting secretary of state, in an interview with the Carranza representative, declared that the government was not prepared to receive the observations of the Mexican government before American troops had crossed the border, declaring that the passage of troops took place in the belief that the Carranza forces would not be necessary to enter into more details of an agreement already considered definite and ended.

These declarations made by Mr. Polk were later confirmed on March 23 to the Carranza representative by Secretary Lansing, "who stated also that he was sorry at having understood incorrectly the contents of the said note in respect to the passage of troops and that they would not advance guard to the south of the place where they then were."

Reference to President's Note.

Reference also is made in the note to the declaration made by President Wilson on March 26, in which he declared that the United States was in agreement with the de facto government of Mexico for the purpose only of carrying out the bandit Villa, whose forces have invaded territory of the United States and on no pretext whatever would we order an invasion of that republic or a violation of its sovereignty.

The note continues that it is published by his excellency, President Wilson, was rectified on March 31 by a message sent to congress and published in Washington, in which he was instructed to call your attention to the note of March 10, in which it was stated that the United States in its investigation of the cases which occurred at Columbus should be repeated.

In continuing the note, which is signed by Carranza Aguilar, secretary of the Carranza government, the note states that the United States has fulfilled its object insofar as it will be able to do so, as the party headed by Villa has been dispersed, and finally, because there are Mexican troops in the north of the country, the first and more forces are being sent to exterminate the rest of the beaten party, the first charged with the executive power of the nation, considers that it is already to treat with the United States government for the withdrawal of their forces from our territory."

Officials Not Surprised.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—Mexican officials here, who were not surprised by the news today that Provisional President Carranza had asked that the United States withdraw the American troops in Mexico.

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul in El Paso and chief representative of the de facto government on the border, said he felt that the United States would receive the note in the same fair and friendly spirit in which it was sent.

Mr. Garcia pointed out that under the orders to Gen. Punzon the American troops were to be dispersed, or when the forces of the de facto government were in position to take the pursuit of Villa. The Mexican consul said that the Villa bands were now spread broadcast and that the Carranza troops, heavily reinforced, could easily effect their further destruction.

Mr. Garcia added that he did not believe that Villa was dead, but he was convinced that the Carranza power was broken and could never be restored.

Next Word From Washington.

El Paso and Juarez took the news of Carranza's request calmly, but expectantly, realizing that the next word would come from Washington. Army officers did not care to discuss the situation, but indicated that the chase of Villa would continue until orders had been received from Washington calling it to a halt.

Should the troops be recalled, it is thought that it will require from three to four weeks to bring the last American soldiers to this side of the border. Consul Garcia indicated that the de facto government would consent to the withdrawal of troops. If the soldiers were used, the troops could be taken out in about a week.

Gen. Bell has repeatedly given assurances that should any excitement or trouble arise over the development of the diplomatic phases between the United States and Mexico, the army is amply prepared to meet the situation along the border.

No Orders By Punzon.

San Antonio, Tex., April 13.—Carranza's request for the withdrawal of American troops caused no surprise here, where military headquarters are among the many Mexican political refugees living here. Consul Beltran said he had been expecting the note.

In the absence of instructions from Washington, Gen. Punzon issued orders to Gen. Pershing altering the conduct of the campaign in Mexico and had word of Carranza's action been communicated to the leader of the punitive force.

In the light of developments at Queretaro, military men here regard recent activity of Carranza troops on the border along the Sonora-Chihuahua state line as explained. It now appears that the Carranza forces are quietly being broken in position where they might be made effective in case of an open break with the American forces.

Answer Anxiously Awaited.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—The border awaited with expectancy today the answer of the American government to Carranza's withdrawal of the American expeditionary force into Mexico.

The Carranza note, which is fraught with many possibilities, all along the international boundary, has been received by the government with favorably to the proposal of the de facto government to suspend the expedition for the last few weeks while it waits for the Carranza government to be re-established.

It is pointed out that the Carranza expedition has not been accomplished, and that the Carranza government is a new period of anxiety and uncertainty in El Paso and every other city and town along the border a large proportion of the population in Mexico and opposite each place generally lies a Mexican city, garrisoned by Carranza troops. Reports of the passing of de facto troops in Northern Chihuahua have been given for weeks.

Preparing for Contingencies.

The military and civil authorities are preparing for some time against all contingencies. The 19,000 soldiers scattered along the border from Brownsville, Tex., to San Diego,

Cal., have been kept constantly on the alert.

There are reported to be 3,000 troops stationed at Fort Bliss, Juarez, facing El Paso from the Rio Grande, the Carranza garrison, the exact size of which is not known. It has a number of machine guns and some cannon. It is known here that preparations have been made to meet any situation that may arise in Juarez.

All the lesser towns of the border also have taken precautions for defense.

Army officers declared that, in their opinion, Gen. Carranza could not have presented his note to Washington without having made military preparations in keeping with the exigencies of the situation. Reports, therefore, that de facto troops were in position where they could cut the line of communications established by Gen. Pershing were received as true.

There is no great concern here for the ultimate fate of Gen. Pershing's forces.

SUBMARINE SITUATION IS NEARING CRISIS

marines recently attacked three merchant ships carrying American citizens and that one of them torpedoed a vessel in the vicinity of the coast where the damaged steamer Sussex was damaged by an explosion, has simplified the task of the government in preparing for the next step of the United States in the issue over submarine warfare.

Final Word Soon.

Following receipt of cable press dispatch of the latest German note, it became known that the United States would continue to compile information indicating that German submarines are operating in violation of international law and that very soon a communication designed to be the word of the American government on the subject would go forward to Berlin.

The state department virtually has completed the collection of facts regarding the Lusitania. Further evidence in the case of the Sussex, forwarded by the American embassy at London and Paris, is to arrive on the liner St. Louis Friday. It is understood that instructions to Ambassador Gerard accompanied by the information gathered by the department will go forward soon thereafter.

Uncertainty Constantly in Danger.

Officials made it clear that whatever might be the form of the instructions to Ambassador Gerard, the department of the document to be handed the German government would be to give notice that the United States expects to have a great array of evidence tending to prove that in spite of the assurances and pledges given by Germany, peaceful merchant ships carrying American citizens and property are being sunk, and that the United States will have some abate, continue to be the victims of illegal attacks.

The possibility of a break in diplomatic relations with Germany, coupled with an exposition of the attack by the president, has been constantly in the background, but the president was represented as being earnestly desirous of avoiding such a step if possible, and determined not to act hastily.

The United States in its investigation of the cases of the Sussex and the four merchant ships about which proceedings are being taken, has been proceeding on the assumption that two elements remained to be proved before action could be taken. The first had to do with establishing that the vessels actually were torpedoed. The second was to prove the responsibility of the German government in the sinking of the ships.

Germany has admitted sinking three of the ships, and evidence in the possession of the state department strongly indicates that in at least two of the cases the acts were in contravention of American rights.

It has appeared to officials from the unofficial position of the state department that the German government had denied torpedoing the Sussex solely on the ground that the channel through which the vessel was sunk was not a navigable waterway.

"PREPAREDNESS" SERMON REPORT STRIKES SPARKS

To the Editor of The Herald: Never before have I attempted to break into print, but my attention has been called to extract from a sermon reported in your paper of Saturday, the 8th inst., and as an American I find it hard to keep quiet.

This sermon, I note, is the closing one of a series on "Preparedness," and if the others were in the same strain they certainly would be expected. When a man tells his congregation that "there is not the slightest ground for apprehension," and that the country by any power whatsoever, he is making a statement that is merely his own personal opinion, and he knows he cannot offer the slightest assurance that the statement is true; and when he adds, "unless we greatly prepare for it,"—Piffle! Bill Bryan only has patent rights on this peculiar brand of reasoning.

How in the name of all that is wise can a man, in a pulpit, utter such a statement, and then, in the next breath, say that he would abolish her police force, and so avoid all disorders and crime.

Abolish her fire department, we will have no more fires.

If we did not prepare for cold weather, we would not have winter. If we did not try to prepare for heaven, by good deeds, we would not have a chance of getting there.

In regard to the statement that "it is stated by most impartial authorities in this country that we have the most powerful navy in the world,"—and he only says that of Great Britain, he certainly must have been misquoted in your paper, for even Josephus the Smelly himself never made such a claim. We probably know the fourth.

As to our coast defenses, they may be very good as far as they go, but they are located at only a few points. The gentleman asks, "Who are those back of the clamor for preparedness?" and then proceeds to insult anyone who believes we should prepare to defend the country in which we live.

They are, according to him, criminals and liars, or simply silly dupes being used as tools, and there are some who "are burning with desire to distinguish themselves on the battlefield"—to suffer torture and probably death to satisfy an unwholesome ambition for glory.

A mind that can conceive such motives would hardly be expected to be able to appreciate a high sense of duty to one's country, to have singled out the United States to be the banner bearer, nor for war, nor peace, among the nations of the earth.

I can agree with the gentleman in this only of his contention, that unless we are prepared to defend our country, I fear about the only banner we can bear will be a white flag.

Thanking you for the space, I am,

PINCHOT AGAIN WARNS AGAINST SHIELDS BILL

To the Editor of The Herald: The Iniquitous Shields bill, giving away the waterpowers on our navigable streams, about which I wrote you on Feb. 15, has been driven through the senate, but it has not yet passed the house. There is still a good chance not only to stop this bill on public property, but to pass a fair and honest waterpower bill in its place.

Everything I said about the Shields bill in my letter to you was confirmed in the debate. According to its own supporters, this bill turns over the power interests waterpower equivalent to twice the mechanical power of every kind now used in the United States, or enough to meet the demands of 200,000,000 people. This is a good bill, although pretending to limit the grant to fifty years. Small wonder there is pressure to get it through.

On March 21 a substitute for the Shields bill was reported to the house. This bill makes no provision for the public waterpower, but wisely and in fact sets a limit of fifty years. Nevertheless, it is not yet a good bill, and it certainly gives away the public waterpowers without compensation. There is no reason why the public waterpower should not pay for what they get. The rest of us do. The house bill should be amended.

If the house corrects its own bill and then passes it, the Shields bill and the bad bill from the senate will go to conference, and the differences will be adjusted by the conferees. The managers of the waterpower campaign believe that a majority of the conferees will be friendly to them, and will report a bill in their interest. They had to get the conferees bill through, probably in the confused final hours of the session. Such a plan has often served the special interests in the past, and it is dangerous now.

During the debate on the Shields bill, the conferees were advised. There was under discussion an amendment giving preference to the applicant for a public waterpower who offers the best terms to the public. One of the supporters of the Shields bill, Senator Nelson of Minnesota, after referring to the amendment as "bad and wicked," was asked to say something that we can eliminate in conference. He then disposed of it by saying, "The conferees will take care of it." (Congressional Record, March 8, 1916, page 424.)

We can beat this plan only by letting the people understand the facts. This power is being given away to prevent by confusing the public mind with treated statements and personal attacks.

I am asking for your help once more to get the people to pass a good bill, and then to stand by it, no matter what the conferees may do. If the house stands firm, the people will win this fight. But the house needs to know that the people are behind it. Let me call your attention again to the fact that a good bill dealing with waterpower on public lands, the substitute, the Myers bill, now before the senate, gives the public waterpowers away in perpetuity. Under this bill the power interests could occupy and exploit the Grand Canyon itself, the greatest natural wonder of this continent.

The waterpower interests want everything or nothing. In the last eight years they have killed eight waterpower development bills that were fair both to the corporations and to the public. The need of the people is waterpower development on equitable terms without further delay. They can have what they want by letting the house know it. Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM W. PINCHOT.

PUPIL OF ROY HOLMES
DEFENDS MR. DENFELD

To the Editor of The Herald: The slanderous remarks made about Superintendent of Schools R. E. Denfeld are certainly showing the narrowness of the authors of the remarks. I, too, am a student of Central high and a pupil of Mr. Holmes, which I have been for the last two years. I regard my teacher as a thorough friend and as a man of high character. I am as soon confident in him for his ability as I am in the law. I have no question in my mind as to Mr. Holmes' way of teaching being "A. No. 1," and the man is respected highly.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 16.

Acts x, 1-23; Peter and Cornelius.

CONNECTION.

We left Peter at Joppa, where he lodged with a man named Simon, who followed the trade of a tanner. I wonder why the writer gives the vocation of this man who was host to Peter when he doesn't think it worth while to tell what calling the man Aeneas, whom he cured, or any other man, followed. The reason is simple and very significant. To touch a dead body defiled a Jew ceremonially and a man who made it his business to handle dead bodies in any way was personally defiled. Tanners were a necessary, but they were to be shunned. The nature of the business would defile them, but they should have their tanneries out by the sea side, or by a flowing stream, but in addition, the prejudice of the Jews compelled them to keep out of town with their horrible business. Everybody shunned the tanner. If a woman married a man and learned afterward that he was a tanner it was legal ground for a divorce. There's evil in the name of a tanner, and Peter's orthodoxy when he becomes the guest of a tanner. He is being prepared for the great step to reach the Gentiles with the gospel.

THE LESSON.

A Gentle Applicant, 1-8.

"Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always. He saw a vision openly, as it were about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God came in unto him and saying to him, Cornelius. And he, fastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are gone up for a memorial before God. And now send men to Joppa, and fetch one Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth with one Simon, a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually, and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa."

PREPARED.—This man has been divinely prepared. It is important, for he is to be the first Gentile converted admitted into the church as a human being and not as a Jew. The gospel has gone to the Samaritans, but they were part Jews; it has embraced the eminent Ethiopian, but he had already become a Jew by adoption, with all the relocations of his heathen faith and his ceremonial with which proselytism was always welcomed. It is hard for us to understand why a Gentile could become a Christian without first becoming a Jew. But we must remember that Jews composed the church in the beginning and they thought it was the exclusive possession of their nation. They had to get their eyes open to the largeness of the gospel, a little at a time. This is the test case. The example has been selected with care—a thorough householder, a man of high social position, his respect for the Jewish faith—for while he was not a formal proselyte, he had learned the truths the Jews had taught him about the one true God and had gone so far as to adopt the Jewish forms of prayer and his regular aims-giving to the poor. God had selected him and prepared him.

2. INSTRUCTED.—Note several things that God sent an angel to solve the first problem as to where to find instruction; that he was to send men for Peter and he gave assurance to the shrewd man that Peter would not spurn him, by saying he was lodging with a tanner; that his sending for Peter would set the Gentiles knocking at the door and not the reverse, a very wise thing, really a confession by him that "salvation is of the Jews," and that he was to send for Peter and he gave assurance to the shrewd man that Peter would not spurn him, by saying he was lodging with a tanner; that his sending for Peter would set the Gentiles knocking at the door and not the reverse, a very wise thing, really a confession by him that "salvation is of the Jews," and that he was to send for Peter and he gave assurance to the shrewd man that Peter would not spurn him, by saying he was lodging with a tanner; BoxingPARAGRAPHIC COMMENT
OF THE SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.
"Speaker will help Cleveland," says a press dispatch. The next question is, will Cleveland render Speaker any assistance?

The Era of Progress.
A number of golf clubs are being organized in North Dakota. This goes to show that those behind the game have overcome a very great handicap, as N. D. is a dry state.

There is Consistency.
Connie Mack declares he has the lowest priced team in the American league. A glimpse of the league records will not convince the impartial observer that the members of the team were underpaid in the least.

Good News for Yale.
Percy Haughton is to coach the Harvard football team during the coming season. Mr. Haughton is feared almost as much by the Yale students as is Frank Hinky.

The Unmentionable Crime.
Tris Speaker has convincingly proved to the world what an unspeakable crime it is to demand money of a big league baseball manager. It is believed, as a result of the punishment meted out to Speaker, that few players will possess the temerity to brook material wrath in the future.

He's Trying to Be Right.
Jesse Willard has admitted that he is not a great actor. There is reason to believe that Jess has been reading the life of Washington.

The Crying Evil of the Age.
The James boys and younger brothers have been harshly reviled for the somewhat uncouth and primitive ways they employed to obtain money, but think of what Tris Speaker is willing to do in order to accumulate the base metal.

Past Differences Forgotten.
Carl Morris and Gunboat Smith fought a draw the other evening. The harsh feeling that once existed between the two men seems to have been healed.

You Can't Keep Them Down.
A man named Mike McCarthy has been made golf instructor of a New York club. The versatility of the Irish race is little short of phenomenal.

A Man Ideally Fitted.
Elmer McDevitt is teaching the manual of military drill to a large squad of raw recruits. It is no easy matter to make Elmer lose his temper or become impatient, as he coached the members of the Northwestern football team for two years.

Rank Favoritism Shown.
Joe Tinker seems to have pulled with the schedule makers of the National league. His team has been permitted to open the season with the Cincinnati club.

Here is a Wonderful Example.
The Quakers never believed in doing anything until they were powerfully moved. It is hereby suggested that Connie Mack's team be called the Quakers.

A Case of Genuine Affection.
It is said that there is little sentiment in baseball, that consideration cuts but small figure, that personal friendship is practically nil. That is not precisely true, however. Every once in a while some case of deep and abiding affection is manifested. For instance, John McGraw could have sent Jim Thorpe to either the Cincinnati or Cleveland teams, but he chose to send him to Milwaukee.

How Circumstances Alter One.
Recent pictures of Tris Speaker show that player strangely altered. His face is seamed and his hair tinged with gray.

Maybe That's the Reason.
A New York bartender preaches temperance to the customers of the saloon in which he works. Maybe the proprietor of the place is his brother-in-law.

Possibly, You Can't Tell.
Meadows, a pitcher on the St. Louis National league team, wears spectacles. It is possible that the poor chap is endeavoring to see his finish.

Personality is a Great Asset.
Garry Herrmann must be a man blessed with a wonderfully pleasing personality and a remarkable gift for retaining friends. He is president of the Cincinnati team and yet is a very popular man in his home town.

The hitting of Flack, E. Williams and Zimmerman all counted in the run-getting for the visitors, while Louden carried off the batting honors for Herge's team. Score: R. H. E. Chicago ..... 2 0 0 0 3 0 2 0 2

Chicago, April 13.—Pitcher Covalesskie made four hits yesterday, one more than he allowed the whole Chicago team and Detroit won 4 to 0, scoring all its runs in the first two innings. Long hits by Cobb, Bush, Veach and Covalesskie, who included a triple and double in his four, were factors in the visitors' victory, and caused the retirement of Russell in the second inning. Faber, his successor, did well and gave way to a pinch hitter and Wolfang held the Tigers safe in his part of the game. Fielding features were catches by Stanage and by Veach of Detroit.
One of the several bands which was on hand to add to the gaiety of the opening game concluded its work with "The Wearing of the Green." The tune was very much to the occasion, as President Comiskey had just completed painting his seats and chairs green and the band had not fully dried when the game started. Hundreds of spectators reported to the office after the game displaying green paint on their garments while the band was playing.
Filing their complaints to the management, President Comiskey said he was sorry that the paint did not dry and promised to settle with all those persons, who estimated at 33,000 persons, was the largest which has witnessed an opening game in the local American league park. The game was pitched by a battle between Walter Johnson and Ray Caldwell, and the bat of Second Baseman Morgan won for the Senators. Morgan drove in two of Washington's runs, including the winning score in the eleventh. Milan scored in the first inning with a home run. Washington tallied another in the seventh on McBride's double, Johnson's sacrifice and Morgan's single. New York tied in the same inning, when Jamieson opened the eleventh for Washington with an infield bunt; Moeller ran for him. Boston 2; Philadelphia 1.

Boston, Mass., April 13.—The Red Sox opened the season with a 2-to-1 victory over the Athletics yesterday. The usual inaugural ceremony of flag-raising with hand-playing preceded the start of play. Mayor Curley threw the first ball. Manager Carrigan was given a great floral horseshoe.
Run-making proved difficult for both teams and errors figured in each tally. Notwithstanding the wildness of Nabers, Philadelphia's first pitcher, the Sox were unable to score during his four innings of twirling.
With Bush pitching in the sixth, a poor throw by Fieber opened the way to a Boston run when Shorten's single sent Hobitz home. In the next inning, Barry's infield hit, errors by Bush on two bunts and Scott's sacrifice fly scored a second run. It was not until the ninth that Philadelphia scored, a base on balls, an error by Bush and Lou Jole's single sending in the run. The score: R. H. E. Philadelphia ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 4
Boston ..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 6 1
Batteries—Nabers, Bush and Schang; Meyers; Ruth, Foster and Thomas.

St. Louis 6; Cleveland 1.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 13.—Cleveland lost the opening game to St. Louis, 6 to 1, chiefly because they could not hit Groom, ex-Federal league pitcher. Clevelanders to three hits, being effective with men on bases. Mitchell, who started the game for Cleveland, was lacking in control and after he had passed the first two men in the sixth inning, gave way to Bagby, who was effective after that inning. The support given the Cleveland pitchers was ragged.
Tris Speaker played his first game as a Cleveland player. He fielded spectacularly and walked three times, being passed purposely twice. The crowd was the largest that ever witnessed an opening game in Cleveland. Mayor Davis pitched the first ball. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis ..... 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 6 7 1
Cleveland ..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 4
Batteries—Groom and Hartley; Mitchell, Bagby and O'Neill.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

Wisconsin Is Lucky.
South Bend, Ind., April 13.—Although out 9 to 2, Wisconsin won from Notre Dame here yesterday, 1 to 0. An error, stolen base and a hit in the fourth resulted in the only run of the game. Score: R. H. E. Wisconsin ..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 2 2
Notre Dame ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 1

Merced Ties Michigan.
Macon, Ga., April 13.—Curtis of Merced struck out ten University of Michigan players yesterday, but a combination of hits and errors resulted in a tie-inning, 6-to-6 tie. Score: R. H. E. Merced ..... 6 10 0 0 0 0 0 6 10 0

Yale Wins Easily.
New Haven, Conn., April 13.—Bunched hits, coupled with errors by the visitors, gave Yale an easy 12-to-5 victory over the Fordham nine here last night. Score: R. H. E. Yale ..... 2 1 3 1 0 0 0 5 12 2
Fordham ..... 0 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 5 7 5
Batteries—Garfield and Munson; Martin and McGinn.

Middies Beat Cornell.
Annapolis, Md., April 13.—After taking the lead in the third inning and then holding the sailors for two more seasons, Cornell yesterday afternoon lost to the midshipmen, 5 to 0. Score: R. H. E. Cornell ..... 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Navy ..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 5 6 3
Batteries—Perkins and Clark; Blodgett and Connolly.

Tigers Win Easily.
Princeton, N. J., April 12.—Princeton defeated Rutgers here yesterday, 9 to 0. Withness on the part of the visitors' pitchers, combined with their errors and hard hitting by Princeton gave the locals an easy lead, while Chaplin held his opponents safe. Errors by O'Kane and Tibbotts gave Rutgers its only run.

SENIOR FOUR MEN TO ROW

Announcement Made That Will Prove Cheering News
to B. C. Followers.

Members of the Duluth senior four are to row this season!
This announcement has been made. It will prove the most joyful parcel of news that has been let loose for some time, insofar as the Duluth Boat club followers are concerned.

With the members of this four, Ned Ten Eyck will have just thirteen senior oarsmen to count upon. With these thirteen men it is expected that the club will make a great showing in the senior event of the Northwestern and National regattas. Upon the green material will devolve the task of winning in the junior and intermediate events of the two regattas.

Cook and Peary weather has so far conspired to prevent the water coming out party of the oarsmen. It is expected the spring opening will be celebrated within the next few days.

Little Jack Nevill has completed the float. All that now remains is for the ice to vanish from the bay, the weather to moderate, and the boys to accumulate many flannels and divers woolens.

Should the weather moderate in the slightest, it is expected that the crew most will hit the water during the present week.

MEETING OF SPORTSMEN

E. A. Cleasby Will Address
Protective Game League Members.

E. A. Cleasby of Eau Claire, Wis., United States inspector of the migratory bird law, has been engaged to speak before the members of the Duluth branch of the Minnesota Game Protective league at the session of the league that will be held this evening in the Commercial club assembly room. There will be an informal dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Following the dinner will be the meeting. All the members of the league are requested to be present at the dinner, which will form a regular part of the meeting. Plans for the annual convention of the league, which will be held here during the coming summer, will be considered. A sportsmen's show will also be staged in connection with the annual meeting.

At the meeting tonight Mr. Cleasby will go into detail in regard to the working of the migratory bird law. His talk is expected to prove both instructive and interesting.

PITCHERS ARE DROPPED.

Bob Wright and Zabel Let Go By Cubs; Cunningham With Tigers.

Bob Wright has been sent to Mobile, Ala., of the Southern association, by the Chicago Cubs. Wright pitched for the Virginia team of the Northern league last year and was accounted one of the best twirlers in the league. The big fellow received a tryout with the Cubs during their Southern training tour, but it is evident that Tinker felt satisfied that the recruit was in need of more seasoning.
Zabel, another former Northern league twirler, was also dropped by the Cubs, being sent to the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast league. Zabel was one of the greatest pitchers ever produced in this league.
George Cunningham is with the Tiger squad that is in Chicago. It is expected that the youngster will be carried regularly—at least for a while. The showing of Cunningham on the

A clean-cut little chap, a likeable lad, it is to be hoped that if any more boxing is staged in Duluth before the year grows into a lean month, this kid will be given a chance to show that at a weight of his liking he can mingle with the best and render a good account of himself.

"Y" ATHLETES CAPTURE MEET

Central Boys Put Up Hard Battle; Final Score Is 53 to 33.

Hrutford Is Star Performer, Making 16 Out of 33 Points.

By a total score of 53 to 33 athletes of the local Y. M. C. A. last evening in the association gymnasium captured their annual dual indoor track meet with the Central high school representatives, the most being somewhat one-sided but exceptionally interesting all the way through.

The meet started fast with the 20-yard dash won by Hrutford. For the next few events the total score went very evenly, but in the 100-yard dash, the older and more experienced athletes from the association forged into the lead, and from then on the winner was never in doubt, although the high school boys put up a game fight all the way.

Star Athletes Fled.

In the 100-yard dash Hrutford and Kelly, star performers of Central and the "Y" respectively, both put up a great race, and the result was a draw. Hrutford, however, almost flew around the track in the 220 and nosed out Kelly for first place. Kelly cut loose in his favorite race, the 440, and although he was hard pressed all the way by young McKay of Central, he crossed the tape first. The mile run proved a thriller. The "Y" representative in this event got a good lead at the start, the high school pair contenting themselves with a long easy stride. The leaders soon tired, however, and young McKay, breaking apart, led on a hoarse breathing sprint. Gow started his sprint too late but nearly nosed out the Y. M. C. A. man for second place. The half mile proved easy for Olson, "Y" star, superior condition deciding the winner.

The pole vault proved exciting, some good work being done by all of the representatives. Turley, former University of Missouri athlete, Hrutford and Stevens all tied for first place, but when the tie was jumped over, Turley crept over the bar and nosed out Hrutford who had been injured by a bad fall. Anderson of Central and Parsons of the "Y" shot the high jump bar up to 6 feet, 4 inches, an equally good mark for the high school record, where both men tied, being unable to clear the fifth inch.

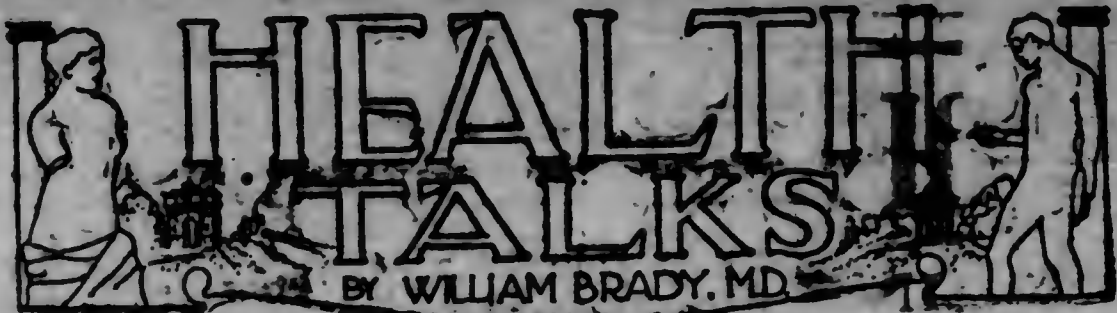

The relay race was one of the most exciting events on the whole program. The Y. M. C. A. must have favored having such stars as Bailey and Kelly. Kelly started the race, and ran up to the time that the third man had finished on both sides, the older sprinters had almost a lap lead on Central. Hrutford, running last for the high school, started almost a lap behind the last Y. M. C. A. man. The high school whirlwind shot around the track like a bullet and rapidly ate up the distance. The finish was exceptionally close, the association relying on representatives winning by a matter of inches.

The big star of the meet was Hrutford of the high school aggregation. The fleet athlete from the hill-top captured a total of 16 points, the result of two firsts, a tie for first, and a 16 for second.

The high school kid more than came up to expectations and promised a wonderful season for him this spring.

Kelly, noted University of Pennsylvania sprinter, and winner in several A. A. C. meets, also made a great showing, getting a total of 13 points.

How to Sneeze, Blow and Cough

Nowadays the doctor has to teach people how to stand, sit, breathe, eat, brush the teeth, dress, work and play. We have offered suggestions about all of these things in this department. Now let us explain how one should sneeze, blow the nose, and cough.

A good, hearty sneeze is an excellent thing for the health. It is a nature's own antidote for pharyngeal and various other infections, galling entrance through the nasal mucous membrane. To suppress a sneeze, which is bound to come, and for the sake of your health should you simply hold your handkerchief over your nose, thus avoiding the spraying of the atmosphere with infectious droplets, and perhaps saving your neighbor from catching your cold. If you fail in this duty you deserve punishment quite as much as the impossible person who spits on the floor.

The right way is by closing one nostril at a time by pressure and then blowing the other. ## PUPILS WILL PROTECT GALE

Minnesota League Branch Formed at Central School.

Three Prominent Conservationists Give Addresses at Meeting.

Students of Central high school, interested in the conservation of wild life, yesterday afternoon organized a high school branch of the Minnesota Game Protective league, to be affiliated with the state organization. The new branch was formed at the Central school. Nearly 100 boys enthusiastically responded to a call made by P. B. Carey, head of the commercial department at Central, and vice president of the Duluth branch of the state league, and following several interesting talks by men prominent in this work the boys elected officers and organized their branch.

Three men prominently connected with the conservation move in the Northwest addressed the young sportsmen. James A. Lawrie, secretary-treasurer of the Minnesota Game Protective league, and George S. Stevens, prominent Duluth nature lover, and Ethan A. Cleasby, assistant secretary of the league, were the speakers.

Mr. Lawrie spoke of an attempt that was being made to have a certain tract of land near the Duluth D. & S. railroad converted into a game sanctuary, where fishing, hunting and other sports would be allowed. The land at present, he declared, contained a large number of deer and other game, and that it would make an ideal place for a refuge. Fishing will be encouraged to keep out the poachers, and members of the high school organization will probably have charge of the work of establishing the park, putting up signs in it, keeping much of it and acting somewhat as officers.

Mr. Lawrie also impressed the necessity of establishing a hatchery for brook trout in this vicinity, declaring that the streams in this part of the state that otherwise would be nearly stripped by August could be well stocked with brook trout throughout the year.

The hatching of harmless birds, despite the law, was well brought out by Mr. Stevens in his talk. He declared that the numbers of feathered folk were annually decreasing around his little summer resort near Fond du Lac, due to the deplorable methods of the persons who went there to kill whatever they saw. Most of the birds, however, still appreciate kindness, and he is anxious to get many of them to eat out of one's hands.

Natural Enemies of Game. Mr. Cleasby brought out in his talk the necessity of natural enemies. He declared that not so much attention should be paid to the conviction and prosecution of law violators as to the protection of the game in the place from these persons. He well explained the appalling decrease of wild fowl and game in the state, had on the agricultural world.

PREDICT BOOM IN BUILDING

Great Activity in Northwest Foreshadowed by Orders for Materials.

Contractors Order Goods as Never Before in This Territory.

Remarkable activity in building operations over the whole Northwest during the present season is foreshadowed in the extent of the orders being placed for supplies and materials of all kinds. Contractors and dealers are reported to be ordering goods on a scale that has perhaps never before been equaled in this territory. Trade authorities say that so urgent has the demand become for materials for use in building projects, that manufacturers are experiencing difficulty in filling orders in some lines.

Gain For Plumbers.

William J. Harper, manager of the Duluth Plumbing Supplies company, said today that an increase of 100 per cent over the last year in orders for plumbing materials had been recorded by his house in plumbing and heating supplies. "Exceptionally prosperous conditions are prevailing in the mining districts, and through the mining territory of North Dakota and Western Minnesota, and business men according to reports we are receiving from our salesmen are covering those regions," Mr. Harper averred.

His information is also to the effect that many building projects mounting up to a large aggregate will be undertaken this year in the range towns and through the Northern Michigan Copper country. In the latter territory, it is regarded as certain that many improvements in the building line that had been held in abeyance for years will be undertaken this season. The copper mining interests are reported to feel so sanguine that production of the "red metal" will resume to be maintained almost at the peak for years that they now feel warranted in proceeding with projected building improvements.

Heavy Sales Force. The Duluth Plumbing Supplies company is now employing three salesmen covering a territory including Minnesota, Northern Michigan, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Montana. It is specializing in the sale of plumbing materials, and the Kohler enameled ware made in its distinctive features, has attained wide notice. A gratifying trade has also been built up in Capitol heaters and radiators, that line having been carried for years. An interesting display of these goods is now being staged at its showrooms, 202-04 West Michigan street.

"After many speaking favorably of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I decided to try them. I noticed great relief after having used a quarter of a box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Soap and in nearly six months I was healed."—Eugene Leander, B. ## VICTIM STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Edward Tahr, Injured By Jitney, Has Small Chance to Recover.

Driver Absolved of Blame and Released By the Police.

Knocked down by a jitney bus last night at 11 o'clock, Edward Tahr, aged 35, has been unconscious at St. Luke's hospital for twelve hours. He sustained a concussion of the brain and a possible skull fracture, and has but a slight chance to live, say physicians.

Tahr, who lives at 1105 West Michigan street, was waiting for a street car at Eleventh avenue west and Michigan street, when the jitney, driven by Michael Mignella, came along. Mignella was absolved of all blame for the affair and released by police after a short investigation.

The jitney was going west on Michigan street, parallel to a Duluth and Superior car. As the car and the auto reached Eleventh avenue, Mignella was driving at the same speed as that of the street car, and was a few feet ahead of the rear gates.

At the east crossing he noticed two men standing in the center of the street, waiting to board a car. Tahr was about five feet from the curb, and his companion was four or five feet more out. Mignella sounded his horn and threw on the brakes, he said, but knew that he would not stop in time. He so turned sharply towards the curb, thinking that Tahr would jump forward. The man didn't move a step until the fender struck him, Mignella told.

Edward Kerwin and Edward Randall, Commercial club employees, who were with the auto, were waiting until the police emergency arrived. Then he reported at headquarters. The injured man was rushed to the hospital and Police Surgeon Harry Klein was summoned.

LEGAL FIGHT FOR WIRELESS STATION

French Company Would Take Tuckerton Plant From Germans.

Trenton, N. J., April 13.—The legal fight of the Compagnie Universelle De Telegraphie Et De Telephone Sans Fil a French corporation, against the Hochfrequenz-Maschinen Aktien-Gesellschaft, Fur Drathlose Aktiengesellschaft, German concern, to get title to the Tuckerton wireless telegraph station, was renewed in the court of chancery here yesterday.

The court of errors and appeals recently decided that a court of the United States could not hear a suit between belligerent nations, taking the view that neutrality might better be preserved by upholding the legal rights of litigants than by ignoring them.

In its answer, filed in the court of chancery yesterday, the German corporation again brought up the question of neutrality and contended that the litigation should be dismissed.

According to the contention of the French concern, the German corporation agreed to sell the station before the outbreak of the war. Direct communication from Tuckerton is possible with the wireless station at Ellers, Prussia, and the German corporation claims that, although the French concern had no option on the Ellers sta-

ENGINEERS HOLDING MEETING AT CHICAGO

Chicago, April 13.—A two-day conference of delegates from engineering societies from New England to California, representing the views of 100,000 men who are regarded as "professional engineers," began here today, being called by a "general assembly" that the recent agitation on the subject of preparedness has inspired. Even among conservative professional men, notably electrical, mining and civil engineers.

Delegates from small and large engineering organizations—city, state and national—will discuss in detail large questions affecting all professional engineers and it is expected that the conference will result in a union that will effectively work for the general welfare of the profession. The principal subjects to be discussed are the benefits of co-operation in securing greater efficiency and the methods successfully followed in Philadelphia, St. Louis, St. Paul and other cities.

BRASS THIEF IS SENTENCED

Gets One Year at Grand Forks After Being Caught in Moorhead.

Said to Have Been Implicated in Moorhead Express Office Theft.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 12.—One year in the state penitentiary at Bismarck was the sentence Judge Cooley in district court yesterday afternoon imposed on Edward Long, arrested in Moorhead, Minn., on the charge of stealing brass and copper fixtures from the Express office there, after he had pleaded guilty.

The case against C. H. Smith, said to be implicated in the theft, comes up later.

Mixed in Another Crime. Arthur Gott, special agent for the Northern Pacific railway, has been in the city investigating just actions of Long. He convicted the prisoner and claims to have obtained an admission from him that he participated in the robbery of the Northern Pacific express office at Moorhead on April 12, 1915, when $125 in cash and two small checks were stolen.

According to Gott's story, he was "hanging around" the Northern Pacific depot at Moorhead on the night of the crime. Three other fellows whom he claims he did not know approached him while the agent was patrolling and said they were going to "pull a little job." This was about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Long says they asked him to stand guard at the north door of the station and wait for them if any one came. The prisoner declares that he did not ask any questions, but went to the north door and waited. Soon, he says, some one came to the door, opened it and shoved out $24. Long declares that he then "beat it," that he hasn't seen the other men since that time and does not know who they are.

Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of powdered norexin and water dissolves every pore of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. And about two ounces will be all you will ever need.

BIG GAME PRESERVE FLOODWOOD'S DESIRE

Commercial Club Petitions Game Commission to Establish One.

Floodwood, Minn., April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Floodwood Commercial club held its annual meeting Tuesday night and re-elected practically all the old officers as follows: President, M. W. Hingler; vice president, J. E. Brandt; secretary, G. I. Dzerick; treasurer, E. H. Robinson; directors, A. C. Brown, Garfield Blackwood and J. W. New.

Three new members were admitted and now practically every business man in a member. Through the efforts of the club and co-operation with the village council, the streets have been put into good condition, cement walks and crossings laid, a much needed deep well, which now furnishes abundance water for the village was secured, the cemetery improved and electric lights installed. The club also helped the settlers in securing new roads and improving the old ones by enlisting the co-operation of County Commissioner Kauppi. The traveling library which has proved to be a very popular institution has also been secured by the club and maintained at its expense.

Want Game Preserve. The club petitioned the state game commission asking that a game refuge be established near here, along the St. Louis river. The proposed location is bounded by the Duluth-St. Louis state highway on the north, judicial circuit No. 4 on the east, the McCarty brook down to its mouth at the St. Louis river on the south and the Great Northern railway tracks on the west, embracing something like 4,000 acres of land with the St. Louis river almost in the center. The club decided to hold an annual picnic picnic sometime in June or July for the members of the club and their families on the shores of Prairie Lake.

THREE ARE ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Marquette, Wis., April 12.—John Santo, 35 years old, and John Knock, 28 years old, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Rosie Gagar, 35 years old, of Stetson, Pa., have been arrested charged with murdering Joseph Heller of Milwaukee, on Dec. 28, 1914, at Cataline, near here. They are charged with robbing Heller and hiding the body beneath the railroad ties, where it was found the following March.

Knock ran away with the woman. It is charged, and met Heller at the Lakeside hotel, Milwaukee. They then went to Hills, Wis., where they lived in the home of Santo. ### WILL BE SENT TO BERLIN IN SHORT TIME

Accumulation of Evidence in Many Cases Being Prepared.

Other Cases in Addition to Sussex to Be Cited.

President and His Cabinet Consider Matter at Prolonged Meeting.

Washington, April 14.—After a prolonged cabinet meeting today it was announced that a communication to Germany would go forward as planned probably within the next forty-eight hours. It was said the case was complete without the affidavits which arrived today on the steamer St. Paul.

The plan to present the American case with the accumulation of evidence that the Sussex alone but other ships as well have been destroyed in violation of Germany's promise to the United States remained unchanged.

The president and the cabinet are understood to have agreed that the presentation of the facts shall be accompanied by a definite and final demand for evidence of Germany's good faith and observance of her guarantees, but probably not at this time.

The evidence collected by Secretary Lansing was placed before the cabinet today. Affidavits on the Sussex case, which arrived on the steamer St. Paul, were not before the cabinet, but it was

AUSTRIANS KEPT FROM VERDUN BY ITALIANS

Aggressive Operations to Keep Teuton Forces From Withdrawing.

Washington, April 14.—An Italian general staff statement describing operations designed to keep Austria from withdrawing forces from Verdun, which were made in the German drive against Verdun, was made public here last night by the Italian embassy.

"When the operations against Verdun began, the Italian general staff decided to bring energetic pressure to bear upon their own front, in order to prevent the Austrians sending troops to the French front. This plan was successfully carried out, which was begun on March 8, and which resulted in gaining a victory in nearly all sectors. About 200 prisoners, also machine guns and other arms and ammunition, were captured."

Mexican Commander Visits Gen. Pershing at the Front.

Agosta, Villa Leader, Said to Have Quit the Bandit.

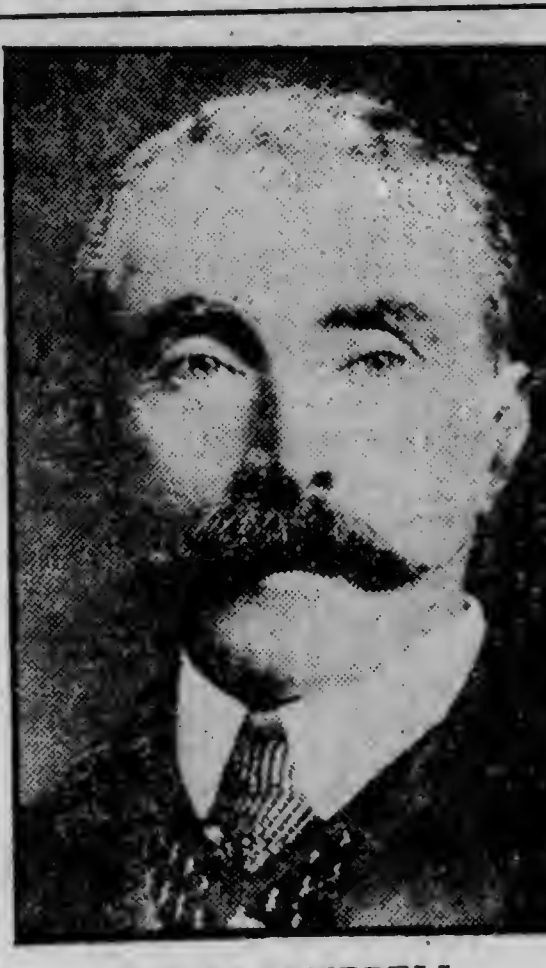

Pershing's Camp at Front, April 7, via aeroplane to Columbus, N. Mex. April 14.—A report reaching here from Mexican sources last night was that Julio Agosta, a Villa leader near Guerrero, had declared he would no longer fight against Americans. Agosta had been considered one of Villa's most steadfast men. His announcement, if true, is taken as strengthening the reports that Villa has met with serious defection among his own people.

A conference of considerable significance and of unusual picturesqueness took place here today when Gen. Louis Herrera, commander of the Carranza army, called upon General Pershing.

The meeting took place in the middle of a yellow dried mesa, five miles broad, and twenty miles long, with mountains walling all sides, and a grass fire raking up the side of a nearby mountain, curtaining the east.

IRELAND'S ATTORNEY GENERAL, UNIONIST WITHOUT COMPROMISE

J. H. M. CAMPBELL.

Ireland has a new attorney general in J. H. M. Campbell, who is the right hand man of Sir Edward Carson. Campbell is a Unionist without compromise. He was made lord chancellor of Ireland by the coalition cabinet in June last, and his appointment caused a crisis, whereupon he offered to resign. His appointment to be attorney general followed.

M'LEMORE IS BUSY AGAIN

Introduces Resolution That Troops Must Not Be Withdrawn.

Mexican Developments Are Closely Watched By Both Houses of Congress.

Washington, April 14.—Representative McLeMORE of Texas, whose resolution to warn Americans off belligerent ships raised one of the liveliest rows in the present congress, today introduced a resolution declaring that the American military forces must not for any reason be withdrawn from Mexico until Francisco Villa has been killed, captured or forced into exile. The resolution was referred to the foreign affairs committee.

In both houses of congress, Mexican developments were watched closely and there was an under-current of sentiment, chiefly among Republicans, that the embargo on munitions of war everywhere in Mexico should be enforced. Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee, after conferring with Secretary Lansing, said the state department had no information not made public.

"The problem confronting this government is how long it will be wise to keep an expeditionary force in Mexico," said Senator Stone. "They have succeeded in breaking up some of Villa's bands and have accomplished something."

"But we have recognized the de facto government in Mexico and agreed to send an expeditionary force into Mexico for a certain purpose. How long can we let that army stay in a foreign country where friction already exists and where more friction is bound to develop? If we adhere to our policy toward Mexico we cannot keep the army there. To my mind the only alternative to withdrawing the troops sooner or later is intervention."

GERMANS SANK EIGHTY VESSELS IN MARCH

Berlin, April 14, wireless to Sayville.—A statement issued by the German admiralty under date of April 13 says that in the month of March eighty vessels belonging to the neutral countries, with an aggregate tonnage of 207,000, were sunk by German submarines or mines.

ENORMOUS LOSS AT BATTLE OF VERDUN

Berlin Says French Losses Are 150,000; Paris Places German Losses 200,000.

Berlin, April 14, by wireless to Sayville.—The French losses in killed and wounded in the fighting around Verdun, says the Overseas News agency, are computed to have reached up to the present time a total of 150,000 of men and men, about four army corps.

The news agency continues: "According to a correspondent from the front the French authorities are spreading reports regarding heavy German losses before Verdun. It is said that one battalion of chasseurs lost 1,012 men, or about its total number. It is also reported the Eighteenth army corps lost 17,000 officers and men army corps lost the village and fortress of Vaux. This corps never participated in the fighting for the village or the fortress of Vaux."

"The French calculate the German losses at the round figure of 200,000. The German casualties happily have not been in proportion to the importance of the German gains. Besides among the casualties is a great percentage of men who were only slightly wounded."

"The number of prisoners taken by the French is insignificant, as the soldiers captured by them were some who were too bold and advanced far beyond their guns."

"As the French are steadily retreating they must, of course, give imaginary figures. The Germans, on the other hand, have for seven weeks been burying dead Frenchmen on the battlefield and rescuing French wounded, so they are able to compute figures regarding the French losses, which are calculated to have reached 150,000, or four army corps."

American Troopers Known to Be Far Outnumbered By Mexicans.

Lack of Definite Information Arouses Fears for Their Safety.

American Consul Edwards' Reports Say Hostilities Have Ceased.

Washington, April 14.—Deep anxiety was felt in official circles today over the fate of Maj. Tompkins and his little force of cavalry, attacked in Parral, Mex., on Wednesday. Known to be outnumbered, perhaps beleaguered, in a district notoriously anti-American, it was feared that the troopers might be in grave danger. Lack of information from the isolated detachment intensified the anxiety for their safety.

No Further Fighting.
American Consul Edwards at El Paso telegraphed today his reports since the attack at Parral Wednesday night. ## LINE OF AUTO TRUCKS ATTACKED ON NIGHT BY MOUNTED MEN

Two Assaults Made in Endeavor to Cut Out Automobiles Engaged in Transporting Supplies.

Bandits Repulsed By Fire of Guards, One Mexican Being Killed; No Americans Hurt.

General Pershing's Camp at Front, April 12, via aeroplane to Chihuahua, April 13, via El Paso Junction, April 14.—About forty mounted men, believed to be Villa men of General Tarango's command, attacked last night an automobile supply train and were driven off after a short fight. There were no American casualties. One Villa bandit was killed.

General Pershing yesterday moved his camp south, penetrating far into Villa territory, where he found numerous Constitutionalists and co-operation. Aeroplanes which were first to reach this new front yesterday had remarkable adventures but still came through safely. General Pershing traveled here in an automobile train of supply trucks, which made a record breaking trip.

Pershing Several Miles Ahead.
The fight which occurred about 9 o'clock last night was several miles in the rear of the automobile train. It lasted about twenty minutes. When the bandits tried to capture one truck came up, the Americans poured in five volleys which ended the fight completely. There were two attacks, the first a slight one, and the last attack was a rush against the rear trucks, during which bullets flew against the automobiles and hoisted through the brush which covered the mess.

The bandits seemed to think the cutting off of the rear truck would be easy because some of the men within a few feet of it before the Americans, who were withholding their fire, but the American soldiers thought they hit some of the bandits.

BRITISH TO PAY U. S. PACKERS $15,000,000

Settlement for Seizure of American Beef Finally Agreed Upon.

London, April 14.—Chandler P. Anderson, formerly counsel for the state department at Washington, and the representative of the Chicago meat packers in the prize court cases, involving cargoes of beef, valued at $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, stated last night that a settlement with the British government had been agreed upon and that the money would be paid over today.

"I wish," said Mr. Anderson, "to express my appreciation of the fairness with which the negotiations with the representatives of the British government have been conducted and the friendly consideration with which I and my clients have been treated."

Mr. Anderson represents the Armour, Swift, Hammond and Morris companies. B. Lloyd Glascock, representing the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company also joined in the settlement on the same basis as Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson said the amount to be paid by the British government would be announced later.

TURKS PUT RUSSIAN CAVALRY TO FLIGHT

Constantinople, April 14, via London.—The following official statement was made public here today: "A force of Persian warriors and Turkish detachments on the morning of the eighth attacked Russian cavalry, some three regiments strong, in the vicinity of Subbulak and put it to flight in the direction of Urmiah (Persian Armenia). Otherwise there were no important engagements."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

French positions near Hill 304 in the Verdun sector west of the Meuse were subjected to violent bombardment last night. It was an operation similar to those which usually precede infantry attacks and indicates that the next phase of the German assault on Verdun may develop shortly.

East of the river there is recurrence of activity on the part of the German army, although no heavy actions are recorded in the official French communication of April 13.

A small attack on French positions south of Douaumont in the part of the line where some of the heaviest fighting of the Verdun campaign has taken place, is said by the French war office to have been repulsed. Along various sections of the front east of the river the artillery was more active.

The Turkish war office reports the defeat of three Russian cavalry regiments by a mixed force of Persians and Turks in Persian Armenia. Several minor engagements occurred along the coast of Asia Minor between coast defenses and warships, one of which is said to have been hit.

The extent of the damage to shipping of the Entente allies since the inauguration of the new German submarine campaign is indicated by an official statement from the German admiralty. It is said that in March eighty trading vessels of hostile nations with an aggregate tonnage of 297,000 were sunk by German submarines or by mines.

INVESTIGATION IS GROWING BROADER

Various Other Cities Included in Plots to Blow Up Ships.

New York, April 14.—The scope of the investigation by department of justice officials into the alleged conspiracy to blow up ships carrying munitions to the Entente allies, broadened today to include the various other cities, particularly Savannah and New Orleans.

Eight arrests of Germans alleged to have been engaged in the manufacture and distribution of fire bombs had been made up to today and the authorities were searching for a ninth man, Dr. Walter T. Scheele, head of the New Jersey Ammunition & Chemical company of Hoboken, at whose plant the police say the bombs were charged with explosive materials. They declared that the eight prisoners, mainly employees of the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American Steamship companies, were active only in the execution of the plot, the manufacture and distribution of the bombs by which it is charged fires were started on more than thirty steamers.

BAKING POWDER CASE.

North Dakota Pure Food Commissioner Is Prosecuting Action.

Fargo, N. D., April 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whether ingredients can be put into foods or beverages which are not necessary to their manufacture and, though not injurious, tend to make the foods appear better than they really are, will be tested out in a case started against the Calumet Baking Powder company by Pure Food Commissioner E. F. Ladd today.

The case was started in district court here on the seizure of six cans of Calumet baking powder and will be carried through the courts.

Commissioner Ladd contends the baking powder in question contains a small quantity of albumen, which, in a waterglass test, makes the product appear better than others not containing it, and which has really no effect on the quality or strength of the powder. Recently Attorney General Henry J. Lunde gave an opinion that the food commissioner did not have a case against the Calumet people, but the action is started and will be tested out.

ALL FIREMEN ORGANIZED

Committee Formed to Carry on Fight for Double Platoon.

Every company of the Duluth fire department was represented in a general committee appointed to carry on a vigorous campaign in behalf of the initiative campaign filed at the city hall last Monday. It will be known as the double-platoon committee, and it will be in charge of all details pertaining to activities in behalf of the proposed change in labor conditions for firemen.

The firemen are arranging to finance the campaign themselves if possible, and the wives of the members of the department are arranging for a dance in the near future to raise funds. Many of the firemen at the beginning of the campaign for the double platoon system hoped that the matter might be settled without resorting to a special election, but now they say that this was the only course open to them because of the attitude of the city commission.

ASSESSOR TO CANVASS CITY

Deputies Will Be Given Final Instructions Next Week.

Twenty Men Will Begin Taking Personal Property Valuations May 1.

Next week Deputy Assessor Fowler will make preliminary plans for obtaining the annual personal property valuations.

On May 1 twenty men will start on a complete canvass of the city to obtain personal property valuations and a complete list of money and credits, according to an announcement made today by Deputy Fowler. These men will meet a week from tomorrow morning in the city assessor's office to receive final instructions preparatory to the beginning of the work.

Last year the personal property in Duluth was assessed at $14,262,042, while the money and credits of local residents totaled $19,574,722. Indications point to a large increase for this year, according to Mr. Fowler. The deputies who will start on May 1 will set valuations on all the personal property of the city, after which assessments will be made by City Assessor Scott. Before the books are made out and sent to the county auditor the city tax review board, consisting of the mayor, city clerk and assessor, will meet and consider objections to the assessments. This board will sit in session during the last week in June. After the auditor certifies to the books they are sent to the state board before the tax rolls are made out.

The personal property tax for this year will be payable on Jan. 1, 1917, the last day being March 31. Indications point to a large increase for this year, according to Mr. Fowler. ## HERALD EMPLOYEES BID FAREWELL TO "BRUCE" AT AN INFORMAL BANQUET

For the purpose of bidding him Godspeed and good luck, also to let him know the esteem in which he is held by his fellow workers, The Herald's city news staff and business office force entertained at a farewell dinner last evening for Robert Bruce Liggett, for seven years sporting editor of The Herald. The dinner was served in the Dutch room of the St. Louis hotel. So far as The Herald is concerned he will be "through" tomorrow, and will go East to enter another line of endeavor.

When the crowd gathered in the Dutch room the door opened and Lawrence Doby "thundered in" with the remark that he "guessed that he was as good a friend of Bob Liggett's as anybody," and he proposed to break into the farewell. The rest agreed and gave him a chair. Outside of the chief entertainer of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., the attendance was confined to the business office force of The Herald and the members of the news department. Nineteen sat at the table, all intimate friends of the "deceased." J. D. Rockwell, city editor, acted as toastmaster and "got by." Charles McDowell, official orator of The Herald, had a grievance against the toastmaster, however, because just as soon as "Mac" got on his feet the two-minute limit was called on him. He was permitted to finish his speech later, but it probably did not have the same effect as it would have had without about half a dozen other speeches sandwiched in between.

"Bruce," as the departing sporting editor is known, was extended the most sincere felicitations and good wishes; also it was impressed on him that "the gang" is sorry that he will no longer be one of them. He replied in a manner which showed his appreciation and assured his hosts that aside from business benefits, he hated to go, and leave the associations of many years standing.

Those present were: R. B. Liggett, Col. William F. Henry, business and advertising manager; J. E. Rockwell, city editor; George Hunter, circulation manager; Robert Bevil, Charles McDowell, S. John Schulte, Russell E. McCord, Earl Galaway, T. F. Olson, Coleman F. Naughton, P. J. Robinson, Lawrence Doby, Stanley Mack, S. D. Forgy, E. Kaplin, Holmer Grenier, Fred B. Teske and James A. Stuart.

"CUB" BUCK HERE TO ADDRESS "Y" BOYS

Badger Football Captain Will Speak at Annual Banquet.

"Cub" Buck, Wisconsin's 1915 football captain, arrived in Duluth this morning to be the guest of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., where he is to speak tonight at the boys' fourteenth annual banquet. Buck is a fine type of college athlete and the fact that he is a strong exponent of clean athletics has made him a popular speaker for college men and boys.

B. W. Peck will arrive from Minneapolis this afternoon. Mr. Peck is to be the toastmaster. Under the hands of a committee of women the big gymnasium, where the banquet will be served, has been transformed into a garden, and those who have been used to playing games in it will hardly be able to recognize it.

The banquet will begin promptly at 6:30. The boys' department orchestra of eight pieces will provide a program during the dinner period. One of the features of the program will be some magical wonders by Evans Phelan. Mr. Phelan was a member of the boys' department thirteen years ago. Lawrence Doby will give a black-face specialty. George Ward will sing "America" and Willard Tarp will play a guitar solo with a mouth organ accompaniment.

Several boys have won a place in the Hunter club and they will be guests this evening. Sitting at a table of honor they will each receive the official emblem of the club and one of their number will be elected to attend Camp Miller for a week free. The list follows: Fred Zollner, Harry Guinn, Herman Griffith, Russell Burns, Balus Anderson, John Bennett, Oscar Flaaten, Arthur Anderson, Clyde Peterson, Leonard Hendrickson, Harold Mitchell, Donald McGregor, Clifford Melander, William Upham, Robert Currie, William Haskins, Arthur Olson, Clinton Wiberg, Ray Barthold. The Hunter club, the department blanket and the next two highest will each receive a medal.

Secretary McLeod announces that the gallery of the gymnasium will open at 7:30 for parents who will like to hear the program and speeches.

FOLLOWS HIS "FARE" FROM CAR TO JITNEY

"Fare, please." "Twas the familiar expression of a street car conductor who had stepped off his car and had taken hold of a man who had just jumped into a jitney bus.

It happened at Fifteenth avenue east last evening. Several woodsmen had come in on the late train on the D. & I. R. railroad and arrived at the corner of Superior street. Just at the corner several of the woodsmen jumped on the car, but the jitney buses were also there to receive passengers.

One man who had evidently got on the street car at Sixteenth or Seventeenth, jumped off the car as its gates were closing, and into one of the jitneys. The conductor brought his car to a stop with a jerk and jumped after the man.

"Please, please, and be quick about it," he said, as he laid his heavy hand on his former passenger. He got his money and everybody was happy except the victim.

"These guys can't ring in that stuff on me," was the only comment made by the conductor.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT REDUCING FREIGHT

London, April 14.—Government action in the matter of reducing freight rates is apparent in most directions of the market, and fears are entertained by those who at present are reaping a harvest in the sections hitherto untouched by government measures that their turn will soon come for a scaling downwards in quotations.

The most notable reduction is in the river Rhine market, where instead of 16 shillings per ton being paid to bring maize to Europe, only 11 shillings is said to be obtainable. North American markets are also easier.

These lower rates apply only to British steamers, as the authorities have no control over neutral tonnage; but some move is contemplated in order to bring neutrals into line by restricting insurance and bunkering facilities. Certain sections of the shipping world are optimistic regarding the Dardanelles being free for Russian shipments before the end of the year.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT—TAKE OIL OF KOREN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The case and your health ruined work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result. As you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure is ruined. Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply and get from Boy's Drug Store, 321 W. Superior St., or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and runs a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

CONTRACTS CALL FOR BIG ORE TONNAGE

Great Northern Trustees Have Orders for 1,000,000 Tons Already Booked.

Great Northern ore trustees have so far closed contracts for the sale of 1,000,000 tons of iron ore this season, according to advices from New York. Negotiations are also reported to be in progress for the disposal of a large additional tonnage, and it is expected that interesting announcements in that connection will be made shortly.

The trustees are keeping their organization fully engaged at present in mining operations and stock piling in preparation for the enormous demand for ore considered certain to come as soon as the season is in full swing. It is considered probable that the great bulk of the ore will be taken from mines that are held in fee and upon which no royalties for ore mined will have to be paid to outside owners. That is expected to lead to a larger return for the trustees than during the period when the properties were leased to the United States steel corporation as a considerable proportion of the ore then mined was taken from properties not owned by Great Northern Ore. In view of the bright prospects for the season, the market in that security has been strong on the New York Stock exchange lately.

Berry made good a check for $15, which he was charged with passing in Winona, in order to save his family embarrassment, but refuses to stand further losses. Merchants who cashed the checks here declare Berry is not the man.

NOTED I. W. W. WOMAN TO LECTURE HERE

Elizabeth Gurly Flynn Coming for Sunday and Monday.

Sunday and Monday next, Duluthians will have an opportunity to hear a woman who is a unique figure on the American platform. She is Elizabeth Gurly Flynn, not unknown to Duluthians, for she spent some time here a few years ago, and made many acquaintances.

Miss Flynn, or Mrs. Jones in real life, has devoted her life to the affairs of working people, and is one of the most radical of radicals. She is a leader in the I. W. W. and has been a participant in innumerable escapades and disturbances involving members of that organization. Miss Flynn was in Duluth at the time of the big strike on the ranges some years ago, and made several speeches there then. She showed herself to be a street orator of no mean ability.

Her real name is Mrs. John A. Jones. While she has been known as a labor agitor for a good many years she is only 23 years of age now. She became a Socialist speaker on the streets of New York when a mere schoolgirl, and was arrested once, on a charge of speaking on the streets without a permit. Five years ago she married John A. Jones of Minnesota, a labor agitator also. Elizabeth did not want to marry John, but wanted to live with him in defiance of law and convention. But Jones was afraid to do that, for the authorities were after him, and he feared arrest on a technical charge, so they had to bow to orthodox methods of union. While they were on their honeymoon, Jones was thrown into prison, and their married life has been sensation after sensation. She will speak in Duluth twice on her coming visit. Sunday afternoon she will give an address at Pimash hall, 18 Lake avenue north, on "I. W. W. History, Structure and Methods"; and on Monday evening she will talk at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, on "Solidarity, Labor's Road to Freedom."

George Brewster of the First Presbyterian church officiated and interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

Mrs. McNaughton died at Battle Creek, Mich., on April 6, after having been under treatment in a sanatorium there for some time. Her maiden name was Mary Jane Martin.

She was married to Mr. McNaughton in Superior on Feb. 5, 1895. In addition to her husband, she leaves her mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Martin; a brother, J. A. Martin of Rice Lake, Wis., and five sisters. They are Mrs. J. P. McDonald of Duluth, Mrs. L. Troy of Milwaukee, Mrs. D. O. McKay of Carman, Minn., Mrs. Peter Schumacher of Montana and Mrs. H. Strehlau of Seattle, Wash.

ECONOMY IN ELECTIONS

Four Charter Amendments Will Be Submitted With Ordinances.

Four amendments to the city charter will be submitted to the voters of the city at the same time that the initiative ordinances filed this week are put to a public vote.

This announcement was made today by T. T. Hudson, chairman of the charter commission, who said that the four amendments recommended by the special committee several weeks ago are now ready for presentation to the city commissioners. These will be submitted as soon as the council sets a date for an election on the initiative measures calling for a double platoon system for the firemen and the ousting of all the saloons in the city by July 1, 1917.

"We have been holding these amendments with a view of submitting them when an election is called," said Mr. Hudson. "The city will thus save the expense of an additional election." H. H. Phelps, a member of the charter commission and the special amendment committee, said that they were awaiting the supreme court's decision on the armory referendum case, in order to consider a plan of amending that section of the charter. The four amendments already agreed upon and which will be submitted to the voters probably at the primary election on June 13, change the city's preferential ballot plan back to the state voting system, extend the non-advertised purchased limit from $100 to $500, provide for assessments for the construction of arterial highways and reduce the interest on extended assessments from 7 to 6 per cent, increasing the time limit from three to five years.

WILLIAMS HAS SIGNED

Heavy-Hitting Indian to Play With Duluth White Sox.

Chief Williams, the Indian outfield member of last year's Duluth baseball team, came to Duluth today, attached his signature to a 1916 contract, and will be seen in right field when the season opens, according to the announcement of Manager Darby O'Brien. The chief states he is in the very best of condition. According to his statement, he has been outdoors most of the winter and is very little over the ordinary weight right now.

Last season the good chief belted the ball to the sweet and inspiring tune of 324, batting eighth from the top of the batting column. If the Aborigine can duplicate this feat during the coming season, he will prove quite a power on the offense. The signing of Williams gives the Sox quite a nifty crew of candidates for his outfield. It will prove a case of the survival of the fittest. McGraw, Schoroder, Schroeder, Vignetti, and Altman are going to endeavor to become regulars. Of these men, Altman slugged the sphere to the tune of 314 in 116 games, while young McGraw hit at the lively figure of 233 for two seasons, being fourth in the batting averages. Schroeder hit for 308 in 140 games. This will give the Sox a group of 300 hitters to choose his outfield from. Schoroder is expected to hit away in this circuit during the coming season. O'Brien stated today that he expects a large crew of candidates on hand Monday. The Sox made an exception of the field in very fair playing condition. With the exception of a few wet places in the outfield, a game of baseball could be played today.

SUPERIOR

Policemen Ask "Raise."

Members of the police force of Superior filed a formal request yesterday with the mayor and city commissioners asking for an increase in pay. A committee of members of the force, consisting of Lieut. John A. Kelly, Sergeant William E. Miller and Patrolmen John W. McNamara, Martin E. Witness and M. J. Mangan, presented the request. The city commission will take the matter under discussion at its meeting next week.

Held for Shoplifting.

Mrs. Sophia Branstrom, 38, 40 Haight avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of shoplifting. She was arrested at Roth Bros. store after one of the clerks had noticed her tuck something under her coat. On being examined at the police station by Emma Tyler, police-woman, two pieces of chinaware were found. The police suspect that the woman is responsible for a number of petty thefts that have been reported by the stores recently.

Rioting in Ireland.

Berlin, April 14, by wireless to Sayville.—Advices received from Amsterdam by the Overseas News agency state that political rioting in Ireland has extended and that street fighting has occurred at several points along the coast. The British military authorities are reported to have taken control at various places and to have suppressed more Irish newspapers.

Indiana Pleads Guilty. Green Bay, Wis., April 14.—Eight Menominee Indians pleaded guilty before Judge Geiger today to taking liquor on the Menominee reservation and were fined from $100 to $200 and committed to terms of from two to six months in the house of correction. Fourteen others entered pleas of not guilty and were committed to the Milwaukee county jail in default of bail.

You Need a New Corset to Go With That Alluring New Easter Wardrobe!

You need it, because only a new corset can give you the correct figure lines for Spring, 1916. There has been a decided change in the silhouette. The old corset will "do" no longer! (Yesterday we overheard a woman say, "it is hopeless; I am too stout!") Because a woman is stout—or even inclined to be stout—does not mean that she cannot obtain figure lines, and look exactly as well as her more slender sister. Stout figures, properly corseted, are even a better foundation for the gown than a slender figure. Whether your figure is slender, medium or stout, we can give you a corset suited to just your needs. May we suggest, for instance, American Lady Corsets? We've designs for all types of figures; we have them in many modish models for both the stout and medium stout figure. —(Corset Dept., Third Floor)

Has Used Duffy's 20 Years

An article must possess merit to warrant its continual use for 20 years. Mr. King has used Duffy's for 20 years because he finds it a beneficial, tonic-stimulant. About three years ago he wrote:

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me a world of good and has enabled me to stand my work in the boiling hot sun all summer. I am past 60, yet have superintended my men all summer and lost a day only when it stormed too hard for them to come out. I am sure I could not have done so had it not been for the strength Duffy's gave me. I never lost a day the past two winters that a man could possibly work in the open."—Harry R. King, 259 Summer Ave., Newark, N. J.

After 20 years of judicious use, he is as firm a believer in Duffy's today as ever, for he recently wrote:

"I continue using Duffy's as I have been for the past 20 years and I will always use it. Duffy's Malt is worth more to me than a diamond."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Invigorates the seat of most ill—the stomach. Keep the stomach in condition and nature intended and health invariably follows. The prescribed advice of a tabescent of Duffy's in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring is worth following. The system in good condition is better able to resist attack by coughs, cold, grip and pneumonia germs now prevalent.

LORRILLARD IS BEING PRAISED

American Diplomat's Aid to War Prisoners Favorably Regarded.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Zurich, Switzerland, March 20.—After publishing many joking stories of the efforts of George L. Lorrillard, the recently appointed American charge d'affaires to Serbia, to find the court to which he was accredited, the Vienna press, these newspapers are now praising his zealous activities in aiding Austrian and Hungarian prisoners of war in Albania.

According to the latest reports, Mr. Lorrillard found 600 of these prisoners at Scutari and another 600 at Alessio. After satisfying himself that they were in good hands, Mr. Lorrillard gave the Albanian families sheltering the men out of pure charity, a generous recompense. At Alessio he bought up all the fish and wheat in the town and personally distributed it.

Ambassador Dandolo's untiring labors in the interests of the Austrians and Hungarians scattered abroad are also thankfully acknowledged by the Vienna press. Between the end of July, 1914, and the 31st of December last, the embassy in Vienna had received 14,710 letters from these unfortunate situated persons, and despatches, 10,029 to the Austrian embassy had handled in this period 39,040 letters, of which 17,280 belonged to American citizens, or 4,000 less than those of Austrians and Hungarians. The remaining 20,030 letters belonged to Belgians, French, English, Italians and Japanese, all of whose interests are under the protection of the American embassy.

SECOND MAN GUILTY IN BARR MURDER CASE

Giuseppe Archileo was found guilty last week. The jury was out an hour and a half. Ferrara was remanded to the Tombs for sentence April 20.

LODGE MUST STAND LOSS

Court Rules E. P. Towne Need Not Pay A. O. U. W. $2,500.

Money Was Secured in Liquidation of Loan to Man Now Missing.

In a suit to determine which of two innocent parties is to stand the loss of a defaulter who was acting as a middle man, E. P. Towne scored a victory over the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Minnesota. The sum of $2,500 is involved.

In district court yesterday afternoon Judge Foster handed down a decision to the effect that Mr. Towne was not obligated to repay the sum of $2,500, which was paid to him in liquidation of a loan obtained by C. J. O'Donnell, formerly of this city, whose present residence is unknown.

The facts in the case are that in March of 1909, O'Donnell, who was then connected with the Hartman-O'Donnell agency, obtained a loan from Mr. Towne for $2,500. He gave as security what purported to be a mortgage on lot 35, East Fifth street, owned by Mrs. Emma M. Anschutz. The mortgage bore the signature of Mrs. Anschutz.

The Hartman-O'Donnell agency had authority from Mrs. Anschutz to lease her property, to pay her taxes and insurance, collect rents and make repairs, but not to sell or mortgage. Mr. Towne believed the signature on the note and mortgage to be genuine. O'Donnell paid the mortgage promptly and in June, 1911, he offered to pay off the $2,500 if he could obtain $5,000 on the property. O'Donnell applied to the grand lodge of the Order of United Workmen for the loan. It was granted and two checks were sent to Duluth, each for $2,500. One of them was turned over to Mr. Towne, who gave in return a satisfaction of mortgage which was recorded.

Mrs. Anschutz went into O'Donnell's pockets. Her signatures were all forged, and she claimed that she had nothing whatever to do with the deal. In suit brought by the grand lodge against her to recover, she was victorious. The grand lodge then turned to Mr. Towne and again they have lost out. It is probable that the case will be appealed to the higher court.

RELATIONS EXCELLENT

Cordial Understanding Between Japan and the United States.

Japanese Foreign Minister Says Germany Tried to Create Discord.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, March 7.—"The relations between the United States and Japan have always been excellent, notwithstanding disturbances which occurred at times," said Baron Ishii, the minister of foreign affairs, during an address last night, "but as far as I can judge, they have never been better or as good as they are today. The minister was speaking at the annual dinner of the American Friends association, an organization composed of Japanese who are especially interested in maintaining the relations between Japan and the United States. Viscount Kato, a member of the privy council, presided, and among those present were Premier Count Okuma, George W. Goetz, the American ambassador, Baron Ishii said:

"We all remember about a quarter of a century ago the creation of the cry, 'the yellow peril.' I did not understand it then and I do not now, but it originated from a certain power in Europe, whose real motive was to create discord to serve her own purposes of domination, to crush down the newly rising nation in the Far East. Happily for humanity's sake, the American people understood the motives behind this power. This European power today is now frankly and openly embarked on her ambition of world conquest."

Source of Trouble Removed. He continued: "The result is that the relations between Japan and the United States are better than at any previous time, because the source of the trouble has been removed. The two nations, occupied with her own troubles and cares, and the relations between the United States and Japan are now left to be regulated by themselves. Therefore, we find, when left without this source of intrigue, that there never has been a better or more cordial understanding between the two nations bordering the Pacific than at present. We have every reason to congratulate ourselves on the elimination of this source of trouble, for it bespeaks a bright future, for this power is and will be too busy for some time to interfere. With the continual growing, better understanding of the motives of each country, this relationship will grow year by year more ideal, more cordial, as it justly ought to be."

Military Expansion. Premier Okuma made a reference to the United States both at the America's Friends dinner and at a luncheon which he gave yesterday at his official residence to the Japanese and foreign journalists. He referred to President Wilson's advocacy of military expansion and said that it was forced upon the United States by the war in Europe. He added: "The ideal of peace and the principle of democracy so strongly upheld by President Jefferson and others are now being relegated to the background and the military expansion movement is being vigorously pushed forward by Mr. Wilson. Why? Because the American interests are threatened. Germany and Austria are menacing the safety of American lives on the sea, and the submarines are threatening the coast of South America. The feeling of patriotism is being carried too far, and the United States is suffering from this pestilence. All this has naturally forced the Americans to get ready for any emergency, hence a great military expansion movement has suddenly sprung up."

Count Okuma thought that Japan and the United States working together could do a great deal towards rescuing the world from the calamity now oppressing it. The Chinese Revolution. The premier made several references to China, where he believed the revolution was growing worse and threatened the situation in China with that in Mexico and expressed the opinion that the United States could understand the feelings of Japan. He added: "If the great republic of the United States and the Japanese empire should co-operate in bringing about peace in China we shall succeed. Japan wishes to join America in this work of bringing back peace in the world and in restoring order and peace in China."

The prime minister feared that if the Chinese revolution became worse China might be divided into two contesting factions. He estimated that there were now about 3,500 German residents in China and thought that many were engaged in various forms of intrigue. The Japanese government was taking special measures against these Germans and Japan's allies could rest assured that everything was being done to safeguard their interests.

SHOOTING OF LINCOLN RECALLED BY "VET"

Duluth veterans of the Civil war well recall what happened just fifty-one years ago today. April 14 is the anniversary of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and the oft-repeated story of a nation's tragedy in the spring days that followed the war, will be again brought to mind. When Miss Bailey, veteran of the war and custodian of Memorial hall, courthouse, was in Louisville when the news of the death of the great emancipator came. "Nobody believed it at first," she said, "but we thought nearly paralyzed. Then came the message of confirmation. There were several deaths in Louisville that day. The same was true in almost all cities near the line between the North and the South. Unionists were infuriated and anyone showing the slightest disloyalty was shot down in his tracks."

MAY EXTEND EIGHT-HOUR STATUTE

When Miss Victoria Erickson, deputy factory inspector for this district, makes her regular inspection of the villages and towns of St. Louis and other northern counties, she will gather or statistical information which will be filed with the state factory inspector at St. Paul.

GERMAN COMMENT ON SUBMARINE NOTE

other steamers shows the bonafide and thorough character of the investigation conducted to clear up the cases, and also that there can be no talk of a violation by Germany of the assurances given the United States regarding Germany's manner of conducting her submarine warfare.

The newspapers say that three of the cases referred to by the United States have absolutely been cleared up, and that the fourth is open to further investigation when more details are furnished, and that a frank offer has been made to submit the fifth to arbitration.

The Lokal Anzeiger says:

"One should everywhere take as an example the correct and humane attitude of our submarine commanders. Instead of breaking out into scolding as soon as an English, French or neutral vessel with American citizens aboard suffers damage."

The newspapers point out a number of cases in which ships that have been torpedoed are declared to have sought to flee after they had been told to stop. Capt. Persius, naval expert of the magazine, says the case of the Sussex shows the difficulties under which a submarine labors in trying to establish the character of a vessel before it. Even if it should occasionally happen that an innocent ship suffers, says Capt. Persius, it must be taken into consideration that it is an unfortunate accident which is unavoidable in war.

MAIL ORDER COMPETITION

Trade Paper Editor Addresses Duluth Sales Managers' Association.

Merchants Must Fight Mail Order Houses With Own Weapons.

With an address by H. S. McIntyre of the Twin City Commercial Bulletin, as a feature, the Duluth Sales Managers' association held a meeting during the noon hour today at the Commercial club. Regular business was disposed of, after which Mr. McIntyre spoke on "Mail Order House Competition."

Mr. McIntyre was brought here by the Duluth sales managers because of his familiarity with the subject. His articles and speeches on mail order house competition and the way to combat it has attracted a great deal of attention and he is in considerable demand for such addresses as he gave here today.

"Considering the mail order proposition, one finds that there are three distinct and separate periods. The first period is the period of the mail order house when the retailers were prone to rave and literally tear their hair when a catalog house was mentioned in their presence. The second period was one in which the retailers talked and in some instances put into application a sort of embargo upon the practice of the consumer—that is to say, they considered and occasionally refused, to purchase his produce, to extend him credit regarding his desirability as a credit risk and in other ways tried to whip him into line.

"These two periods, which were trade antagonisms rather than trade producers' have happily gone into the discard and been succeeded by the present period in which the retail mail order house is looked upon as a large competitor of the local merchant. This is essentially a step in the right direction because they are to be considered as a legitimate form of competition, even while certain methods and sales which they use are decidedly exaggerated in their nature.

Competitors Anyway.

"That does not alter the basic fact that they are competitors. In considering any object, it is necessary, in order to get a direct view of the proposition, to analyze the conditions which obtained at the time the movement started, in order to see just what the controlling causes were.

"In applying these principles to the conditions which resulted in the origin and growth of the mail order house, we find that there were at least two factors. These five were poor stocks, long credit, big margins and lack of advertising on the part of the community with the emphasis placed by the mail order house on advertising and prizes in the traveling salesman and all essential of doing business.

"In order to get on a basis where he can successfully meet and partly overcome the competition, it is necessary for the retailer to undergo a reversion to the principles which, in this case, he must have well-chosen stocks, must have a limited and well conducted credit system, must be satisfied with reasonable margins, must do effective advertising, and finally must be of real service to the community in which he is located.

"Considering each one of these five factors singly, we find in the matter of well-chosen stocks, that it is necessary for the local merchant to have both staple and novelty lines. This does not mean that he must buy unwisely of the so-called novelties. It does mean, however, that he must have a sprinkling of these in his stock, the same being chosen as the result of an observation of the characteristics and needs of his particular community. Frequent trips to market, reading trade papers and talks with the traveling salesman are all essential as laying the basis for a correct choice of the stock of a retail store.

Need Attract By Display.

"Having the stock, it must be displayed in an attractive way and incessantly it must be bought on the right basis.

"Inasmuch as in the majority of communities a straight cash basis is not feasible, the merchant must exercise due judgment in the granting of credit and must connect his credit business with a limited and well-chosen stock. In this connection, there is no doubt but what a system of early discounts whereby the cash purchases given a certain differential as compared with the longer time credit buyers is a big factor.

"In order to be able to compete on a reasonably margin and at the same time to have the same being chosen as the result of an observation of the characteristics and needs of his particular community. Frequent trips to market, reading trade papers and talks with the traveling salesman are all essential as laying the basis for a correct choice of the stock of a retail store.

Must Be of Real Service.

"Finally, if a merchant is conforming to the four principles laid down so far, he must conduct his store upon such a basis that it will be of real service to the community. The time has past when a merchant can appeal for business on the basis of charity. He must deliver the goods at the right prices. That merchandise values in the main as given by these houses are not difficult to meet has been proven conclusively by investigations which I have made the line of matching up their offerings. The attitude of the wholesaler at the present time and his desire to co-operate in every way with the retailer in the solving of this problem promises well for the future. One of the most favorable signs of the past few weeks is the action taken by the National Wholesale Dry Goods association, which contemplates a thorough investigation of the mail order business and is to the credit of Duluth that a man high in the ranks of the association occupies a most important place upon this committee."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat even a bowel complaint with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't inflame the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lousy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

GOOD PRODUCE WILL TRAVEL FOR EASTER TO FAR NORTH

Fruits and Vegetables Are Plentiful at Reasonable Prices.

Cauliflower and Asparagus Are Features; Apples Are Selling Well.

Supplies of greenstuffs and fruits for Easter trade will be liberal and they will cover a wide range of delicacies, local commission men say. It is admitted, however, that prices will be firm, owing to unfavorable weather conditions at many of the Southern and Far West producing points. A lower range of quotations is, however, expected within the next couple of weeks.

In the vegetable list cauliflower and asparagus are features, with shipments of the former coming from both California and Oregon. Beans, carrots, celery, tomatoes and lettuce are other items largely in demand. The market in potatoes is firm, owing to the falling off in supplies on account of bad roads and the fact that farmers are engaged in their spring work. It is believed that stores of tubers in growers' hands through this district are still liberal. New Louisiana and California cabbage is now being offered at a reasonable price basis.

Good Apple Sales.
A good call is being met with in apples, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, the Stacey-Merrill Fruit company, and the Stacey-Merrill Fruit company. Supplies of barrel fruit are now confined to mainline and with a maintenance of the present scale of sales it is predicted that stocks will be exhausted within a few weeks.

Demand for oranges is reported to be expanding with the good quality and low quotations of the navel offering Louisiana strawberries have been advanced slightly, supplies being affected by rains in California. Cuban grapefruit is now on the market, and it is said to be commanding a good sale.

Heavy Butter Exports.
Butter prices are unchanged at 36¢ 38 cents per pound for the best creamery. The war is said by dealers to be to blame for the present high market in butter, and on the outlook dealers are of the opinion that consumers are likely to be compelled to pay higher figures for dairy products during the coming summer than in years. Exporters have been bidding up for all the available stock on the Eastern markets, heavy shipments having been made to England so far this month. The market of butter in this territory is reported by the Bridgman-Russell company to be increasing steadily. It is expected that a substantial tonnage will be shipped from Duluth to Eastern points with the resumption of service for the season by the package freight steamers.

Eggs are also on the same basis as a week ago at 22¢ 23 cents a dozen. The consumption of eggs here and at other points through the country is reported to be the heaviest on record, thus accounting for their firm market. Thus far packers have not entered the market to any extent and consumers have been expecting an easing off in quotations. Dealers in the egg market are reported to be thinning out, many losses having been pocketed on last season's operations.

Fishing and Hunting Expedition From Seattle to the Arctic.

John Borden, Chicago Capitalist, to Sail in Great Bear.

Chicago, April 14.—When the schooner Great Bear sails from Seattle about the middle of May on a fishing and hunting trip to the Far North—a trip which has been planned partly as a summer vacation and partly as a commercial venture—she will start on a journey that will take her about 5,000 miles from Seattle and will not end till about the middle of November. Incidentally, John Borden, Chicago capitalist, sportsman and traveler and one of the vessel's owners, will help the explorer, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, if help is needed—because the continent he discovered in the polar regions.

Mr. Borden, on his journey, will be accompanied by Capt. Louis Lane, long time a resident of Nome, Alaska, and for years a gold miner, fur trader and whaler, and by three Chicago guests, who are going just for sport—Norris H. Bokum, C. K. Knickerbocker and R. E. Slaughter—and the schooner will carry a crew of twenty-four sturdy seamen.

With Mr. Borden, Capt. Lane is joint owner of the vessel, which, including her equipment, cost $75,000 and is 137 feet long, 32 feet beam, with a draft of five feet and a speed of seven knots per hour. She carries three sails and as an auxiliary force an oil-burning engine of 100 horse power. Her deck hull is sheathed in ironwood, a heavy lumber from the Philippines, almost as impervious as its name indicates.

Provisions for the Trip.
The Great Bear will carry 25,000 gallons of fuel oil and about $3,000 worth of provisions—canned goods, tables and fruits, sugar, coffee, flour, meal and salt meats—enough to last the crew and guests a complete kitchen will be provided and will be in charge of a chef of long experience. A medical chest, fitted up according to the list authorized by the government for its vessels, will be a part of the ship's equipment. No physician will accompany the expedition, as Mr. Borden has given him sufficient training to handle any ailments peculiar to the Northern country that might come to himself or his men.

There will be private staterooms for each of the guests and comfortable berths for each man of the crew. Cards, books and a big phonograph will be among the things on board to provide entertainment for the long Arctic nights.

Previous Notable Voyages.
Mr. Borden is well fitted by experience for his proposed long journey. Though he did not go but half as far as his present plans will carry him, he made a notable voyage in the summer of 1913 in the 100-foot sailing yacht, Adventure, from the coast of Maine, around the American continent, through the Straits of Magellan, north to the Pacific coast and on to a point about 3,000 miles north of the Aleutian islands. It was the delightful experience that he had on this trip that got the salt of the sea into his veins and caused the lure of the northward sea to call him again, a call so insistent that his forthcoming trip is his goal.

The route of the Great Bear will take her through the Pacific ocean for a distance of about 2,000 miles on the first leg of the long journey from Seattle, on which she will reach the Aleutian islands, where, as she turns northward she will expect to encounter three great sails and her powerful oil burning engine are regarded as ample to make the handling of the boat easy, though the desired speed of seven knots an hour may not be attained at all times.

Into the Arctic Ocean.
Another thousand miles will bring her to the Gulf of Anadir, off the Siberian coast. Then she will pass into the Arctic ocean and will circle Point Barrow, through the Beaufort sea, and having added another 2,000 miles to the distance traveled from Seattle, she will reach Coronation gulf, off the northern coast of Canada, where the journey will end. The return will be made over the same route. Great Bear are going to harpoon the bowhead whale, which is valuable for its oil and whalebone, and will hunt with shot guns the elder duck for its valuable down. Thousands of dollars worth of game is expected to be bagged.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

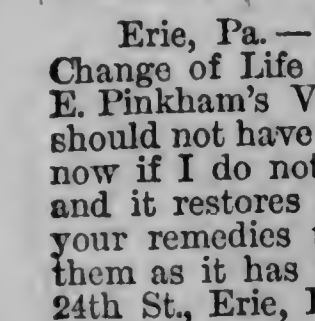

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Round St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

pay the expenses of the patrol to the imperial council meeting at Buffalo next July. There will be fifty Shrine girls, as they are called, who will leave here on special cars July 9.

Prof. A. E. M. Custance, who organized the Shrine girls several years ago, is in charge and the fact that these young women will make their first public appearance at this time is interesting to Duluthians who have heard of their entertainments staged at the semi-annual Shrine ceremonies, with a thirty-minute musical extravaganza. There will be eight acts altogether, including several specialty numbers from the Twin Cities and Chicago.

The show will include McEvoy of Chicago, a magician; the Temple band, consisting of fifty players, under the direction of Charles Helmer; a fifteen-minute silent drill by the patrol, the movements executed in double-quick time; the Scottish Rite quartet, directed by Prof. Custance; Mrs. Donna Little Flaxen, well-known Duluth soprano; a dancing specialty, featuring the latest dances; a puzzling musical novelty; the Shrine girls and a specialty comedy sketch.

The show committee, appointed by Capt. A. H. Paul of the patrol to assist Prof. Custance, follows: Lieut. Jones, chairman; C. E. Longren, A. B. Kaplin, Harvey C. Buchanan, E. J. Carland and J. T. Lundquist.

LIQUOR DEALERS WANT EXTENSION

Would Have Prohibition in Manitoba Postponed Two Months.

Winnipeg, Man., April 14.—A movement is under way among liquor dealers in Manitoba, which voted out its saloons at an election, last month, to petition the government for two months of grace in order to dispose of stock on hand. Should the petition meet with favor, the province will not go "dry" until Aug. 1.

"We have been with you for two or three years, and another sixty days will matter little," is the plea of the liquor dealers.

On the other hand, the prohibition leaders hotly protest against any extension of time. They point to the fact that more than three-fourths of Canadian territory already has voted out saloons and confidently predict that before the new year Quebec alone among the provinces will retain the liquor licensing system and that even after licensing is restricted to Montreal, Quebec and a number of large urban centers.

The possibility of the dominion government passing rigid prohibition laws in Quebec as well as in other sections uneasy, it is said. Several measures pertaining principally to the shipment of spirits from wet to dry territory now are before parliament.

On Sept. 15, Ontario, for years considered the stronghold of the Canadian liquor interests, will go dry by direct legislation, which will continue effective until after the war. Licensees will be extended from May 1 until September upon payment of a nominal fee.

After the war, and a considerable time after the return of the soldiers, a referendum will be taken. In the meantime, the law will not interfere with the importation of liquor for private consumption, but will provide extremely heavy fines for violations of the regulations stipulated.

The 320 licenses in Alberta province will be canceled July 1 next and the sale of liquor henceforth prohibited. Saskatchewan province now has one of the most stringent curtailment laws, all liquor traffic being controlled by the provincial government. No person may use liquor except in his own home.

Nova Scotia entered the prohibition ranks March 16, 1915, by a legislative vote. In New Brunswick, nine of the fourteen counties are dry.

A local option law in Quebec, passed before confederation and which now covers about 300 parishes or approximately two-thirds of the province, is in effect. Except in large cities there are practically no licensed bars.

Total prohibition has been adopted by Newfoundland, the island colony, abolishing sale, manufacture, importation and transportation of liquor. In the Northwest territories the sale of liquor is regulated by the dominion license law.

Early in the summer, railroads are expected to discontinue sale of liquor on dining cars because of the great stretch of dry territory in the West.

among the people of the stage. Some of them assuming that their individual opinion is that of the world at large, go so far as to say that it is the lack of love for the firebrand that influences towards stage careers, especially among the gentler sex, and I, for one, desire to say that it is not true.

"I have a great many dear friends in the profession who are shining examples of domestic virtue, begrudging even the time that must be spent in the theater, and who only continue the practice of their profession because it pays better than the average occupation, and thereby furnishes the wherewithal for the better exercise of their domestic life. As a matter of fact, to have a home of their own is the foremost ambition of ninety-nine out of a hundred players. Few of them, more's the pity, get nearer their coveted goal than a dinky little flat rented for the vacation days during the summer. But there are many of them who not only own a home in the city but in the country as well, and most of them are models of housewifely skill and manly provision.

"Knowing all this to be true, I, for one, resent this continual claim of the layman that actors do not know how to live. Why pick out the actors? Why not throw the searchlight on other walks of life? The sacred word in the English language is 'home.' It ranks alongside of that other—heaven—yet where do the families of today spend their lives? At home? No, decidedly no.

"Making good biscuits and an appetizing cup of coffee, maintaining a home in order and beauty should be the fundamental lessons in the education of girls. If the average mothers could be brought to this belief it would do more to emancipate the sex than 'Votes for Women' will ever accomplish. At least, the domestic accomplishments would appeal to prospective husbands who now shy at the thought of matrimony, fearing that their choice would turn out to be tango-loving, turkey-trotting nonentities, whose hands have never been busied in the ancient, honorable and honest occupation of washing the after-dinner dishes."

Pauline Frederick as "the barefoot beauty," a radiant happy girl, with hair streaming behind her as she speculates down the course and AT THE REX, wins the race, is one of the scenes in "Audrey," which holds the screen today and tomorrow at the Rex.

This beautiful star plays the title part of Mary, Johnston's celebrated novel, "Audrey." And the story becomes all the more vivid, even to those who have read the novel many times, by the handling of a capable cast under the direction of Adolph Zukor, president of the company, that secured the exclusive rights to the Audrey novel for pictures.

In the story and the play Audrey is forced to take refuge with an old woman who is supposed to be a witch. The neighbors, hearing this, form a mob to kill them both. Adroitly hiding the old woman, Audrey is forced into the water. She swims to safety, but this does not tell the story completely, and no word description can tell it as the screen does, under the fine work of Miss Frederick and her capable fellow-actors.

Photographs, which have interested Duluth patrons so long, will be shown also on these two days at the Rex.

Mary Pickford earned her fame, and well known as she is as a film favorite, it was not influence.

"LITTLE MARY" of producers, her RETURN TO beauty alone, nor any THE LYRIC.

Hard work and talent and that rare and subtle charm of hers which belongs to no other young woman, are all elements in her success. In "The Foundling" Miss Pickford will be seen today and Saturday at the Lyric, matinees and nights.

"The Foundling" has been seen here before, and is returned to the Lyric because many could not see the picture before. It is a story of a young girl of race, and no additional price is asked. The play has been pronounced just fitted to Miss Pickford. Every character and feature will be shown on both days.

"My Lady's Slipper" with Anita Stewart and Earle Williams featured in the title roles will

"MY LADY'S" close its engagement at the Lyric, after this evening's performance.

This story is one of the best from Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady's pen and under the able direction of Ralph W. Ince was made what it really is, a screen masterpiece. The scenes are laid in the period of Louis XVI, and the Parisian atmosphere is upheld throughout the entire production.

The stars are assisted by such well known players as Joseph Kilgour, Harry Northrup, William Shea, Julia Seynne Gordon and others of reputation.

Coming tomorrow for one day only Maurice Costello a big favorite with motion picture goers will make his appearance for the first time in more than a year in Duluth, in a gripping story of romance and adventure, "The Crown Prince's Double," a five part Elsie Ribbon feature. Costello has the role of crown prince of Ostria, who is driven into exile by a revolution in his principality. Costello also plays a dual part.

Opportunities for You

In the grocery and meat market ads in The Herald tonight.

THE FIRST "PUSH BUTTON" Magazine of American Industry: Benjamin Franklin invented the electric "push button." This was accomplished in 1751. He "shocked" the railing in front of his Philadelphia residence, finding the idlers of the street were too fond of gathering under his window. This so alarmed them that they no longer gave the philosopher offense.

Easter Garment Selling Is Now at High Tide!

Our garment section is overflowing with fashionable apparel for women who appreciate distinction in dress

Tomorrow's assortments are splendidly complete. Several belated shipments have arrived this week. You will enjoy seeing the many pretty things—and you will still more enjoy trying on some of these fetching fashions.

Choose the style that is most becoming to you.

You will fare much better than those who wait until next week. You know that the scarcity of dyes makes it dangerous to delay choosing. Later on many materials will be unobtainable.

Choose now. Get the shade you want when you can get it.

See the Easter Suits, Coats and Dresses at

$25--$28--$35

We have specialized in garments to sell at these prices. We have persuaded some of our best makers to co-operate with us. We have chosen unusually good materials. We have worked in little style touches—we have marked them to sell on exceptionally close margins.

You will certainly appreciate the style, the quality we have for you at these very popular prices.

Here Are Special Styles for Each of the Following Types:
Jaunty models for the juvenile. Chic styles for the youthful. Becoming models for the slender figure. Fashionable "stout" that appear slender. Refined styles for the matron. Lovable models for the elderly.

Of course, there are some for more and some for less, but the prices mentioned above seem about what nine women out of ten prefer. We wish we could promise as good values a month hence, but that now seems altogether impossible for any house to hope for.

We will look for you tomorrow. Better come early. You'll get quicker service.

You know how busy we'll be later, and if any little changes are needed—likely we can do them in time for your Sunday wear.

There Is Some One Particular Style in Millinery Most Becoming to You. Which Is It?

It may be a broad brimmed sailor with lots of dash and daring. It may be a quaint little Poke as demurely modest as the proverbial daisy. It may be a high-crowned flower pot in full bloom to add height taken away by the season's shorter skirts. It may be a toque of rare charm. It may be one of scores and scores of various shapes and trims for fashion this season gives a wide latitude of choice.

Choose which you will at Gray's—'tis fashionable if its becoming.

And in a season like this one may well be thankful that at Gray's there are milliners who are close students of style and artists in its expression. They study your requirements and assist in selecting a hat that expresses your individuality. We hope to have the pleasure of serving you tomorrow.

Let us send your hat home for Sunday.

Here Is One of the Crinoline Bags. How Do You Like It?

They are decidedly different and rather cunningly shaped, we think,—quite bouffant—and in line just a miniature of some of the new ideas in skirts. However, we will be glad to show you them and hear your opinion.

They are of moire and armure silk, very daintily fitted with coin purse and mirror in rich old rose, navy and black at $6.50 each.

Custom Decrees New Hosiery For Easter

Here are the fashion favored silk hose in this season's newest tints, also the wanted black and white. Try a pair of these pure dye full-fashioned hose. We recommend the quality. All sizes, $1 the pair.

Other silk hose at 75c the pair. Fiber silk hose, 50c the pair.

"New Fashioned" lisle hose.

These "New Fashioned" cotton lisle hose are fashioned without a seam. They are narrower in the knitting instead giving maximum comfort and service.

All sizes, black and white, 25c and 35c the pair.

Easter Togs for the Little Tots

Dress up the little folks for Easter and note their keen appreciation of the new summer clothes.

Here are new dresses, new coats and new hats for your choosing. Bring the children to our third floor tomorrow and try on the new things. See what is the most becoming and what is best suited for their individual needs.

Boys' tub suits, very special value at $1.25. Other qualities at 75c, $1.00, $2.00 and $2.50. Boys' and girls' hats. Smart mannish styles in all cloth or nifty cloth and straw combinations at 50c, 75c and $1.25. The 50c ones are especially good-looking.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Lincoln assassinated, 1865.
On the night of April 14, 1865, Lincoln attended a performance of "Our American Cousin" at Ford's Theatre.
While he sat in his box John Wilkes Booth, a dissipated and fanatical actor, shot him in the head from behind and dropped to the stage, shouting "Semi-patriotic tyrant," and escaped through the windows. Lincoln, stricken unconscious, was moved to a house across the street, where he died next morning.

act of Congress of March 3, 1879).

COMPLEXITIES.

The plot thickens.
Germany denies, and we cannot believe her denial.

Mexico asks us please to step out of Mexico, and we can't think of doing it with our vital errand undone.

The clash at Parral, where American soldiers entering the town were fired upon by suspicious natives and a fight occurred, shows the tinder nature of what we are dealing with there; though we have yet to learn if the American officers used the best judgment in marching into town when the understanding was that they were to avoid towns.

Meanwhile Germany's flimsy defense is mere irritation, sounding almost like contemptuous defiance, and is confirmation of the belief that her submarine policy of late has been not only in wanton disregard of solemn pledges to us, but of international law and the laws of humanity and decency.
A break is increasingly difficult to avoid,
and Germany is destroying even the desire to avoid it.

In the domestic field the oil trust, over whom the nation in the Roosevelt and Taft time gained a great victory, shows the same old remorseless efficiency in greedy exactions.
We indicted, tried and convicted the oil trust, and sentenced it to capital punishment.

"But what good came of it at last?"
Quoth little Peterkin.
"Why, that I cannot tell," said he;
"But 'twas a famous victory."

The nation, confident and strong in the good sense, sanity, poise and patriotism of the president, will in all these matters hope for the best but be ready for the worst.

April freezes bring May sneezes.

WHAT IS THE OPPOSITION PROGRAM?

Whether their nominee is Roosevelt, Hughes, Root, McCall or La Follette, it seems fairly well assured that the Republicans will enter the campaign with the idea of making our foreign relations the issue.
The tariff issue is dead, the "hard times" cry is impossible and Wilson's economic, fiscal and social achievements are beyond criticism. There seems to be nothing left but the issue of foreign relations.

The Republicans must be aware of the delicacy of this issue. What seems a good stand for them in June may be utterly worthless in November. What they criticize in June may justify itself overwhelmingly before fall. Theories advanced now may be exploded before harvest time.
Charges made now may fall to the ground in midsummer. Events are happening fast the world over, and no possible conception of an opposition foreign policy can be guaranteed to remain sound over night.

But taking matters as they stand, what would Republicans do about them besides vaguely criticize what Wilson did or did not do? If they condemn his policies, what policies do they offer in place of them?

They may urge greater preparedness; but they must do that at their own risk, for the chances are ten to one that before the campaign is fairly begun a program of preparedness as great as the majority of the American people will tolerate will be enacted into law.

They condemn the Wilson program toward Mexico. What would they have done?
How are they to get around the fact that for two years President Taft followed much the same program? They condemn "watchful waiting"; do they dare advocate intervention?

They condemn the Wilson attitude toward the European conflict. What will they offer in place of it? Will they propose an ultimatum to Germany calling upon it to abandon its submarine warfare on merchant ships, threatening war if it fails to obey? Will they propose an ultimatum to Great Britain directing it to revoke its orders in council, threatening war if it refuses?

The Republicans must raise an issue against the Wilson administration. They cannot raise it by mere partisan, unconstructive, bushwhacking criticism. When they say Wilson's policies have been wrong, they must also say what alternative policies they offer. Against a policy that has kept us honorably out of war, they must set up a policy that will sound better, that will have the virility and force they clamor for,

and that yet will not plunge us into war.

Where Republican statements thus far have not been mere echoes of Wilson, they have been wholly unconstructive criticisms without any offer of better policies. Roosevelt and Root condemned Wilson for not having protested against the German invasion of Belgium; yet Roosevelt is on record as having at the time argued against a protest, and Root, though he was then in public life, was utterly silent.

Intrinsically, the Republican position is that the Republicans are out and want to get in. But that doesn't interest a very large proportion of the voters. It is enough to prompt Republicans to criticize and condemn; it is not enough to enlist public sympathy. Nor will criticism and condemnation win an election. The only way the Republicans can win is not only to convince the voters that the Wilson policies have been wrong, but to convince them that the Republican candidate has a stronger, wiser and better policy.

That, as the Republicans will find, is not so easy as mere carping criticism.

Now that the precedent has been established of sinking a careless ship, maybe we can look next for attacks on persons who presume to think about what they might do if they had the money to buy a few steamers for commercial purposes.

THE ISSUE OF "AMERICANISM."

The campaign issue, if the Roosevelt forces win at Chicago, is to be "American-ism," they say, and "Patriotism."

As to Roosevelt winning at Chicago, the settled, Roosevelt will be the nominee. The party dares not beat him, knowing that if it does he will most certainly turn around and repeat his great 1912 act, when he scuttled the ship because they would not let him play captain. The Republicans must take him, whether they like it or not; and there's an end of that.

As to the issues, it will be fine for Roosevelt—if it works.

Though events and the public have a way of making issues that at all times is embarassing to politicians. Politicians always try to force hand-picked issues that will make it easy for them. Events and the public almost invariably push forward issues of their own without regard to what the politicians want. McKinley, for instance, eagerly desired to make the 1896 campaign hinge on the tariff issue; but almost immediately the tariff was forgotten.
The Roosevelt plan will be ridiculously simple and easy—if it works.

All he has to do is to stand everybody up—every voter, the whole country over.
"Attention! All who are for America and are patriotic kindly step to the left. Very well; thank you. That's the Roosevelt following. Now if those who are against America and are unpatriotic will kindly—What! None? Ah ha! You see? It's Roosevelt by acclamation!"
Great! If it would only work!

It does seem as if Shakespeare's tercen-ary wouldn't be a bad time for the civilized world to agree on some way of spelling his name.

HONESTY IN POLITICS.

On September 23, 1914, Theodore Roosevelt said that we had no responsibility toward Belgium, that we should not protest against the German invasion unless we were ready to fight, and that we should cling to our policy of neutrality and noninterference. One very good reason he gave for this was that if we keep our hands out of the war, we will at the war's end be in a better position to help toward making peace.

In this spring of 1916, the opening months of the presidential campaign, Theodore Roosevelt denounces President Wilson like a pickpocket because he didn't protest and interfere when Belgian neutrality was wantonly violated.

Maybe he changed his mind.

Well, if he did, WHY NOT BE HON-EST AND SAY SO? Wouldn't that be the square, manly, honest thing to do?

But not Theodore Roosevelt. He had the Outlook say—the same Outlook which had to undertake the job of explaining that when he said he wouldn't under any circumstances be a candidate for a third term it didn't mean that he couldn't take a third cup of coffee, or words something like that,
—he has the Outlook say that his words have been misinterpreted, though words could not possibly be plainer; and he tries to bluster through with it!

How quaintly and characteristically Rooseveltian!

And Roosevelt was the man who made
"the square deal" a popular saying!

No doubt some good souls are worrying because our troops in Mexico are not getting practice enough in trench warfare.

IT FITS LIKE THE PAPER ON THE WALL.

Ormsby McHarg, late Bull Moose delegate ruster, is organizing with the slogan
"A Business Man for President," and with
Mr. du Pont as his prospective candidate.

Mr. du Pont is a powder maker. He is profundly convinced that this preparedness business cannot possibly go too far.
He is also a "practical man," like Harriman and the Colonel.

Surely this is the very thing the Colonel has been looking for. Why seek further?

Few things surpass green stockings when it comes to persistence in attracting attention, except, of course, subscribe.

Not Politics But Business

Editorial in the New York World.

William Allen White, the most idealistic of all the Progressive leaders who have followed Col. Roosevelt's political fortunes, has been a welcome Root and Lodge and Penrose and Smoot and "the other Republican" who opposed us in 1912; provided they are "swinging in behind our banner" and remember that "they are coming to our leader and our program."

Mr. White knows little of the Republican party and less of Col. Roosevelt if he thinks that there is a solitary Progressive atom drifting in the wave of this Republican movement to nominate the colonel for president. "Our leader" is there, but "our program" is in the garbage pail.

The Roosevelt candidacy is not politics but business, and the Republicans who are hospitable to it are hospitable for business reasons. That is why it is almost certain to succeed at Chicago. Business interests of a kind is in control of the Republican party and that particular kind of business now finds the colonel very useful for its purposes.
His foreign policy is perfectly adapted to the objects of the great munitions manufacturers, the head of whom is the firm of J. P.
Morgan & Co.—the Morgan interests have been so friendly to us.

His preparedness program is likewise perfectly adapted to the needs of these munitions makers, for they wish to put the United States on a war basis in time of peace.

His Mexican policy fits in with all the plans of the banking houses that invested in Huerta securities which they are afraid that Carranza will invalidate. It fits in, too, with the plans of the oil companies, for these munitions makers have good reason to know that any honest Mexican government will cancel their concessions. They want a policy which will continue the privileges that they acquired from a corrupt and despotic government at the expense of the Mexican people.

Col. Roosevelt's tariff policy has always been the tariff policy of the monopoly pro-tectionists, and the monopoly protectionists are among the fiercest enemies of President Wilson.

As for Wall Street, it always prefers a Republican to a Democrat, for a Democrat however stable and consistent, with whom it cannot do business. Wall Street has been a bitter recollection of Theodore Roosevelt, but it can never forget that Woodrow Wilson is the man who plugged the pipe line into the United States treasury.

The Old Guard knows the colonel and knows how to deal with him. It worked with him for years and the partnership was profitable to all concerned. For reasons of party expediency it was obliged to oppose him in 1912, but it much prefers the colonel to a man like Justice Hughes, who will neither bargain nor barter.

In the matter of the German vote, we have no doubt that negotiations are already pending.

What Mr. White fails to understand is that "our program" is Hamiltonian under a new management, with the same old Hamiltonian policy of imperialism, imperialism and war.
Dollar-government Republicans are willing to take Roosevelt or anybody who might help them overthrow Wilson, and the colonel is the most available man; for if they reject him they have no other choice. They want him to make the defeat of their ticket certain.
Col. Roosevelt is willing to make a deal with anybody if such a deal will give him even a fighting chance to get into the White House. That is the psychology of the situation.

Mr. White and his Progressive friends may as well face the facts first as last.

A Great Liberal of Olden Times

San Francisco Bulletin: "Above all things good policy is to be used that the treasury and moneys of a state be not gathered into a few hands; for otherwise a state may have great wealth and yet be poor. It is much more to be desired that the wealth be spread than that it be gathered into a few hands. This is done chiefly by suppressing or, at least, keeping a straight hand upon the devouring trades of usury, ingrossing, great pasturages and the like."

In other words, according to Sir Francis Bacon, who died in a century before the rise of centralization of wealth in bad, great holdings are bad, and the "devouring trades" by which non-producers absorb the profits of producers are bad. But as for the "trades of usury, ingrossing, great pasturages and the like," regarding his warning, has a shocking example of a state whose "stock" was great, but whose people, in about ten per cent of the cases, were actually undergoing slow starvation.

"Ingrossing" would now be called speculation. "Only a few of the farmers raised last year's crop," says Collier's Weekly, discussing grain prices, "were much benefited by the rise. The poorer ones had to sell their wheat as soon as it was threshed, and take what the big dealers were willing to pay." That is, the "big dealers," who had taken in the grain and reaped the profits of the sale, soaked up most of the compensating profits. In bad years the farmer bears the loss; in good years someone else frequently makes off with the gain.

To the Elizabethan mind this was rankly immoral. To modern Americans it is probably no more. It is a bad thing, but not bad, but bad business. On that basis something may be done about it. But even our radicals would hardly dare to be as extreme as Sir Francis Bacon, the great lawyer, the dignified philosopher, the property-loving conservative of three centuries back. We have our own economic dogmas that were not worshiped in his time.

Sports.

I watch the young men sporting, and tussling and cowering, at divers manly games, at wrestling, Greek and Cornish, and boxing bouts tin-hornish, until they break their hames. It gives them satisfaction to get their forms in action, to strain their bones and thews; life in their veins is bubbling, no rheumatism is troubling the feet that fill their shoes.
They have no gout or glanders, ringbones or yaller janders, no spavins on their joints; if vagrant pain should hit them, they merely bid it quit them, and promptly it aroints. I see them strive and tussle, exerting every muscle—they call such horse-play fun; and in the shade I'm sitting, a weeping on my knitting; my active days are done. My joints are stiff and rusty, my whiskers gray and dusty, I creak when'er I walk, and you may hear me sighing when I am sadly trying to drill around a block.
Oh, Youth, when Age is gazing upon your sports amazing, and energy so fine, Age feels its portion bitter, and says, "Though not a quitter, I must take in my sign."

Why It Must Be Roosevelt

Editorial in the New York World (Ind. Dem.)

Joseph H. Choate, who is supporting Ellihu Root for president, finds it inconceivable that the Republicans should nominate Theodore Roosevelt. Why inconceivable?
The Roosevelt disqualifications which Mr.
Choate summarizes have little to do with the issue.

Mr. Roosevelt is not a "tried" Republican, or rather he was "tried" in 1912 and found wanting. He then liberally attempted to destroy the party, bolted from it and set up his Progressive machine for the sole purpose of defeating Mr. Taft and gratifying his own selfish aims.

This serves very well as a description of what Roosevelt did in 1912, but it in no way acts as a barrier to Roosevelt's nomination by the Republicans in 1916. It may be an advantage to him.

In 1905 William Randolph Hearst, who was a Tammany member of congress from New York, bolted the renomination of Mayor McClellan, organized a political party of his own and ran for mayor on an independent ticket. That campaign has been most vituperative and libelous attacks upon Charles F. Murphy. He even caricatured Murphy as a convict in prison stripes, and alleged he had been sentenced to life in prison. Mayor McClellan came within 2,000 votes of it.

The next year, 1906, Charles F. Murphy nominated William R. Hearst for governor.
It was even necessary for Tammany to steal the nomination after Grady had done "the work of a work of my life" in order to give it to Hearst, but Hearst was nominated, and Hearst accepted.

The Republican party today is guided by the same lofty standard of political morals that guided Tammany in 1906. It is under the same sort of corporation control, those who control the Republican party being rather more greedy and aggressive, but all of them centering in Wall Street and its great houses. Theodore Roosevelt's political principles do not differ essentially from William Randolph Hearst's political principles. In practice Hearst spends his own money and Roosevelt spends Perkins' money, but that distinction is not important.

Tammany surrendered to Hearst in 1906 because he had a political party of his own which controlled the balance of power in the state. Roosevelt is in a situation no less favorable than Hearst's. His political party, with him as its candidate, holds the balance of power. In 1906 it would have seemed "inconceivable" to Mr. Choate that Tammany would nominate Hearst for governor, yet Tammany did. With this illustrious precedent, why should Mr. Choate regard it as inconceivable that the Republicans will nominate Roosevelt for president in 1916?

Mr. Choate forgets that Wall Street wants a reunited Republican party, and unless the party is reunited there will be no "work of my life." But with a reunited party the Republican campaign contributions for 1916 will out-Hanna Hanna and the glad old "nation" will be in the hands of the very practical politician who wants some of that money for his organization, and he understands the situation. It is to be said—very truly—that there can be no harmony which leaves Roosevelt out of the reckoning, and he has the whip-hand. Wall Street is more likely to take Roosevelt in order to get a Republican congress, and it is Wall
Street that pays the freight.

There might have been a Republican party out of Roosevelt to a third-term bolter would have been "inconceivable," but there is no such Republican party today. It will nominate Roosevelt in 1916. Every Republican politician wants some of that money
for his organization, and he understands the situation. It is to be said—very truly—that there can be no harmony which leaves Roosevelt out of the reckoning, and he has the whip-hand. Wall Street is more likely to take Roosevelt in order to get a Republican congress, and it is Wall
Street that pays the freight.

The Colonel's Discovery.

New York Herald: If his travels had led him in that direction, the colonel might have discovered his whiskered devil-bird in the collection in the Brooklyn museum. Or he had turned to the Encyclopedia Britannica, eleventh edition, volume XIII, page 648, he would have found a column signed "The Newton, fellow of the Royal society, on "What English writers call the oil-bird, the steatomys carolinensis of the ornithologists, a species of the genus Steatomys, first described by Alexander von Humboldt," and so on, with full details as to the creature's habits and characteristics, as noted by the museum's observers. But as a matter of fact, the devil-bird was his original discovery.

The colonel was born to be a discoverer, and he has lived up to his duties. He discovered Cuba, British East Africa and the River of Doubt. He discovered wildcats, mountain lions, bears and alligators. He discovered the Irish sagas, Edward Arlington Robinson and Thucydides. He discovered civil service reform, Armageddon, social justice, the Golden Rule. It would require a work the size of the Encyclopedia Britanica to do justice to the colonel's discoveries in literature and ornithology. In poetry and in prose he has discovered the world. The colonel's discoveries are national events. So March 24, 1916, will be marked in the calendar as the day he first told the world of finding the devil-bird in Trinidad.

The Sin of the Copperpenter Man.

A copperpenter man said a wicked word.
When he hit his thumb that day,
En I know what it was, because I heard,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

He growed up a house with rooms inside it.
En the rooms is full of floors;
En my naps house, en when he buyed it,
It was nothin' but just outdoors.

En they planted stones in a hole for seeds.
En I hung on to the house begit,
But I bet the stones would have just growed weeds.

—Except for the copperpenter man.

The copperpenter man got a face all black.
With a bib sewed on to his pants,
En he pocketed in front on round the back,
En he makes a house grow like plants.

En the copperpenter man said a wicked word.
When he hit his thumb that day;
En I know what it was, because I heard,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

En then he took lots of window holes,
But he wouldn't tell where he found 'em,
En then he skawed out some attic and poles
En he growed a house right round 'em.

En the black on his face isn't soft like fuzz,
'Cause he rubbed his face on a tree.
En it feelled like the fur of a chestnut does
When it gets off the tree.

En the copperpenter man took a board on said
He'd skin it en make some curd,
En I hung on onto my ears en curd,
En they made me look like girls.

En he squinted along one side, he did,
En he squinted the other side twice,
En he told me, "You squint it, kid,
'Cause the copperpenter man's real nice."

But the copperpenter man said a wicked word,
When he hit his thumb that day;
En I know what it was, because I heard,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

En the copperpenter man said it wasn't bad,
En then you hit your thumb, kerpert!
En there'd be no copperpenter man to be had,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

En the copperpenter man said it wasn't bad,
En then you hit your thumb, kerpert!
En there'd be no copperpenter man to be had,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

En there wasn't no copperpenter men,
En they all have to live in the barn,
'Cause there wouldn't be any houses, en then,
En what would we do—by darn!

En the copperpenter man said a wicked word.
When he hit his thumb that day;
En I know what it was, because I heard,
En it's somethin' I dassent say.

These Varying Human Needs

To every city, town and village its own peculiar problems and necessities. For instance, the Plummer Pioneer thus calls attention to a crying evil within its own baili-wick: "From the melodious squeak, that emanates from the windmill over the village well, one would be led to believe that the European war had affected the price of oil.
For heaven's sake, somebody get busy with the lubricant."

Subscription Contests.

Straight language and true is this from the Princeton Union: "The Lake City Leader expresses its disapproval of subscription contests, but adds that it is the only policy that will keep alive a weak publication that relies more on pleadings than publishing to survive. The fact is that a contest seldom bolsters up a languishing paper. The public becomes weary of continual being importuned to lend support to a publication guiltless of merit, and eventually turns a deaf ear to the sobbing solicitor."

Remember Dr. Harvey W.

The enemies of our former head of the pure food bureau at Washington simply can't let up on him, it seems. Here's the Sault Rapids Sentinel saying: "That 'Man Villa is a wiley cuss."

Mary Brings Back a Text.

Mary McFadden's trip to the war zone was not all in vain. She brought back a text that the editors are finding very using. The Fergus Falls Journal, for instance, says: "Mary McFadden, a Duluth newspaper woman, has just returned from Europe, and says the soldiers in the trenches entertain little enmity toward the men against whom they are fighting. She asked one soldier if he hated the men on the other side, and his reply was 'What is the use of hating anybody, when we are all dead men tomorrow.' The war zone is not the only place where this sentiment is worth considering."

Still Another Comment.

Still another comment is furnished by the St. Cloud Journal-Press, which quotes Mary and then says: "Is it worth while for anybody to hold onto his heart against any other individual? The tomorrow in which we will end our earthly career will be here in a short time—days, weeks, months or years. The man who hates only hurts himself. The man who loves his neighbor is on the road to happiness here and hereafter."

What You Doing, Dad?

Paste this from the Virginia Virginian, in your hat on somewhere where you'll think of it often: "One-half of the boys in the world go wrong, if they go wrong at all, because they do not have the proper contact with their fathers, or the fathers are not other individuals? The tomorrow in which we will end our earthly career will be here in a short time—days, weeks, months or years. The man who hates only hurts himself. The man who loves his neighbor is on the road to happiness here and hereafter."

FIRST CARS IN SEVEN WEEKS

Morgan Park Extension Likely to Be Ready
 June 1.

Construction work on the Morgan Park extension of the Duluth Street railway line will be under way within another week. A crew of men started work yesterday installing the switch at the western end of the Seventy-first avenue bridge. This will connect the double track with the single track extension made last fall.

 The front is now fairly well out of the ground and it is expected that by the time the switch has been installed which will probably be in four or five days, that the ground will be ready to work west of Eighty-first avenue.
 A conservative estimate of six weeks is placed on the time that it will take to complete the line into the steel plant suburb. The cars will probably be ready to operate to this suburb on June 1. Every effort to accomplish this will be made, according to statements made by officials yesterday, although they said that it might take a week or two longer, depending entirely on the weather conditions.

New Cars Ordered.
 Several cars have been ordered which will be put into service on the new line. These cars are identical with the newest cars now in operation on the line and will cost the company nearly $7,000 each. The cars are expected to arrive the latter part of next month. Some of the new cars will be put into service in Superior, where the company expects on July 1 to replace the present single track cars on the Hillings Park line with the double track type.
 Ten men went to work on the extension job yesterday and an additional five men were put to work this morning. The crew will be gradually increased until a total of about 200 men will be employed on the construction of the line.

A single track will be put in on all of the straight stretches of the road, but double tracks will be built around curves and from the entry into the steel plant property. This will, for the time, be sufficient, double track road according to officials.
 The company's sub-station which will supply the power to the Morgan Park line which has been under construction near the eastern end of the Smithville subway, is completed and within another two weeks the machinery will be in place ready to distribute the power. This station has been built at a cost of about $25,000. The building while small, is of a handsome design.

Arranging Schedule.
 A schedule for the operation of the cars is being arranged. The canvass of the prospective patrons of the line is also being made in order to ascertain just what kind of service will have to be furnished mornings and evenings. The schedule for cars during the day has not yet been decided on but it is estimated that the service will be at least half hourly.

Cars on this line will be operated between Morgan Park and Twenty-fourth avenue east during the day. Extra cars will be run between the park and Fifty-seventh avenue, which will take care of the heavy traffic of morning and night. The running time between these two points is estimated at about half an hour.

Two fares will be charged for passengers wishing to go from Morgan Park to Duluth but only one fare will be collected to points west of Forty-ninth avenue. The western one fare limit from points uptown has been changed from twenty-five cents to west to Fifty-fifth avenue according to an agreement between the company and managers of the line. This arrangement, a five-cent fare will carry passengers from Lakeside to Fifty-fifth avenue west or from Fifty-ninth avenue west to Morgan Park.

LODGE TEAM GOES TO TWO HARBORS

Maccabees Will Compete in Drills to Be Held Saturday.

The degree team of West Duluth Tent No. 2, K. O. T. M., will go to Two Harbors tomorrow evening to compete with three other teams for the loving cup offered by Edward H. Haas, state commander of the order. This is the third contest to be held for the cup, the other two having been held at Virginia and with Duluth Tent No. 1.
 In both the former contests the Two Harbors team has been awarded the prize for being best drilled. A special effort will be made by the West Duluthians to get the prize this time in order that the fourth contest of the series may be held at West Duluth. If the Two Harbors team wins the contest tomorrow evening the cup becomes its property.

The local team consists of eleven members, with Judge H. W. Lammers as manager. About fifty members of the West Duluth tent have planned on taking the trip.

Dr. A. A. Giroux denies that he gave the health department any special instruction regarding the removal of Georgiana Gibson to the contagious hospital on March 11. ## ONE TELEPHONE IN DEPOT ENOUGH

The West Duluth station of the Northern Pacific railroad does not require a Zenith telephone, in the opinion of the officials of the company, expressed in a communication received in reply to a request of the West Duluth Community Club. The communication was received by R. Fisher, secretary of the club yesterday, and will be read to the members this evening.
 The communication pointed out that the station had now the Bell telephone and that this connection was sufficient to care for all of the telephone business of the station.
 This evening the club will entertain at another of its "Ladies Nights." A musical program, refreshments, and dancing are planned.

DRY ELECTION IS ASSURED

Initiative Petition With 5,179 Signatures Filed Thursday Afternoon.

Checking Will Begin Saturday; Work on Firemen's Appeal Almost Complete.

With the filing yesterday afternoon of an initiative ordinance, calling for the elimination of all saloons in the city by July 1, 1917, it is virtually certain that a "wet" and "dry" election will be called by the city commissioners. The dry petition, as it is called, was filed by W. L. Smithies and L. U. Young. There are 235 separate forms, with a total of 5,179 signatures.
City Clerk Bergen announced this morning that the checking of the petition would begin tomorrow, as work on the firemen's petition will not be finished until tonight. The latter measure, he said, nearing completion and will be submitted to the council next Monday, with his correlative of sufficiency. It is probable that both initiative measures and the alternative to each, should the council decide, on alternative ordinances, will be submitted to the voters of the city on June 13, the regular primary election day. In this way, the city will be saved the expense of a special election.

As far as is known by some of the older city officials, the only liquor election ever held here was two years ago, when the Hickman code was adopted. That was not a wet and dry fight, but merely an election on an ordinance regulating the liquor business in this city.

Leaders in the "dry" fight announced last night that a vigorous campaign would be begun within a few days. Speakers will be brought from all parts of the West, they said.

NEW WAY TO TAKE RADIUM PHOTOS

Replaces Costly Process of Photographing on Glass Negative.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Paris, March 25.—Charles Valliant, head of the radiographic laboratory of the Lariboisiere hospital in Paris, has announced a successful means of replacing the present costly process of X-ray photographing on a glass negative with printing directly onto paper.
Valliant's new process uses ordinary sensitized paper for taking radium photographs. The cost of the paper is only a twentieth of that of the glass negative, and there is also a saving in weight and space.
Valliant has only three fingers left of ten, namely two forefingers and a thumb, and the rest of his fingers he lost, one after the other, by holding them at the end of a tube thus trying on himself the penetrative effects of the radium rays. He suffered amputation, however, did not realize the danger until it was too late.
Valliant is a discoverer of a radio-graphic method of determining whether or not an infant was born dead or alive.

The infant born dead comes out on the negative completely dark, whereas if having uttered a cry or lived an instant, an instant, however, is proved by the development of the plate, first of the stomach and then of the lungs, the infant is shown to be that infantile can now be detected without recourse to an autopsy.

For the moment Valliant's mind is concentrated on giving the most outstanding of radiography for the benefit of radiography in war. "I want," he says,
"to extract all the secrets I can from science, so as to help the surgeon to operate with greater certainty and save as many heroes as possible. My little personal war is with science and I mean to make her pay me for my amputations."

LIGNITE IS FOUND IN EIGHTEEN COUNTIES

Burleigh County, N. D., Leads All in Its Production.

Bismarck, N. D., April 14.—(Special to The Herald).—Burleigh county, through the big plant established at Wilton some years ago by the late Senator Washburn of Minnesota, leads all other counties of North Dakota in lignite production. Burleigh county next with the large plant at Kenmare; Divide county with its large production at Noonan is third, and Stark, Wil-lams and other counties follow in order.
Public mines from which lignite is shipped are operated in eighteen of the fifty-two counties of the state, and mines used only for private consumption are found in a large number of other counties.

The United States geological survey of the state shows that lignite coals are found under 38,000 square miles of the state and the total deposits are estimated at 600,000,000,000 tons, a quantity sufficient to supply the entire United States for an almost indefinite period.

State Engineer Gathers Data.
State Engineer Ellis is ex-officio coal mine inspector and Mr. Robinson, one of his assistants, has spent the past four months on the public inspection and gathering data concerning the production of the publicly operated mines.

The figures of the past eight years shows an increase from 220,122 tons to 586,704 tons for the past year. The value of the output in 1915 was placed at $22,586. While the gain in production has not been as large as some of the enthusiastic advocates of the use of lignite coal would desire, it has been sufficiently encouraging to make many people of the state believe there is a great development in sight for lignite coal in the near future.

The inspector reports very few faculties in lignite mines and the larger number of these were in private holes in the ground without adequate protection. There have been no labor troubles at any of the public plants and conditions are officially reported as very satisfactory.

NO "GOLD ORCHARD"

IN DULUTH
BUT CHANCE TO WORK

There is plenty of money in Duluth but it doesn't grow on trees.
That is the conclusion that a migratory worker has come to after a visit to the Zenith City. "He with a number of others, having finished a winter's work in other parts of the Northwest, came to this city, hearing that it was an Eldorado with gold growing on the trees. He came just at the transition period between winter and spring and may have to wait a few days before getting steady employment for the season.

Manager Burke of the Minnesota
Free Employment bureau said a number of men were in the same position as the fellow seeking an Eldorado.
Spring work has not opened up yet,
and it is expected that the labor market will be dull now until navigation and other spring activity opens.
"There is no need for pessimism," said Mr. Burke today. "We expect the best year for labor in the history of the Northwest, but the cold weather has kept back spring activity and the winter work is just over. In two or three weeks there will be a great demand for labor here, but just now there is no rush."

He said workingmen coming to Duluth have told him the Duluth has the reputation of being a "gold orchard" where money could be picked off the trees. And that this migration had brought many men here just before they had finished winter work in other parts of the Northwest.

GIRL FELLE BY AUTO.

Has Narrow Escape From Serious Injury While Crossing Street.

Alfreda Nelson, an 8-year-old school girl, living at 2730 West Michigan street, was narrowly escaped a serious injury at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon as she was crossing Superior street on her way home from school. Noticing an automobile approaching but a few feet away, she suddenly stepped back into the street in front of the machine, which knocked her down. The girl, who was uninjured, passed over her, but the wheels did not touch her body. The machine, driven by Dr. W. E. Ekblad, who stopped the machine within three feet after striking the child.
The girl claimed to be uninjured and walked home. The physician, after examining her for possible broken bones, preferred to take her home, but the girl preferred to walk.

WANTS SIGNALS INSTALLED.

French Naturalization Club May Ask Soo Line for Warnings.

The French Naturalization club will hold its regular meeting this evening at the French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. One of the principal subjects to be taken up will be the discussion of dangerous grade railroad crossings in this end of the city.
Members of the club will seek to have the Soo line install warning devices at its crossings on Twenty-fifth and Twenty-ninth avenues.
Both crossings are said to be dangerous owing to buildings near the track preventing pedestrians from noticing the approach of trains.

Theater Manager Host.

Members of Trinity lodge, No. 282,
A. F. & A. M., will be guests of E. A.
Schlager, manager of the Star theater, on Monday evening, at the presentation of a four-reel feature, "Osman Temple, Trip to Yunnan." Invitation for the Masons to attend this show at the close of the Monday evening business session, was received by E.
H. Pfeiffer, master of the lodge, yesterday.

Young People's Program.

A musical and literary program will be given by the Baptist Young People's society at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and

FOR STERILIZATION LAW.

Wisconsin Club Women's President
Advocates Support of That Idea.

Ashland, Wis., April 14.—Mrs. D. O.
Kinsman, state president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking here before the Eleventh district convention, urged women to support the state law that proposes to sterilize and segregate the mentally unit. She made this declaration during an address covering the activities of the clubs and their mission.

The speaker emphasized that the home is the fundamental force in which there is unity, for before a woman is a club woman she is a daughter, a wife, a mother, and hence home is the first interest that creates the desire for the conservation of the good.

Mrs. E. C. Alvord of Washburn responded to Mrs. George McDonald's address of welcome. Mrs. McDonald, as president of the Monday club, cited three aims for women in club work—the advancement of the spirit of youth and the preparation for the future; the club woman's duty to the immigrant and her interest in the advancement of the rural school.

An interesting talk on rural life was given by Mrs. H. E. Fuller of Sanborn.
She is a rural school teacher and in her talk recited interesting and amusing incidents which dealt with her work.

GEN. HERRERA MAKES CALL

Gen. Herrera, who was in the city yesterday, was very pleasant. Gen. Herrera, he said, told him about the disposition of Mexican troops and inquired about positions of some of the American columns. Shortly before sunset Herrera and his escort rode out of camp to rejoin his troops, who he said, were already on the way to Santa Rosalia. He said he had several hundred men.

The American scouts in camp watched Gen. Herrera. They said they had been reliably informed about two weeks ago that Herrera had declared after the American expedition crossed the border that if the Americans passed Casas Grandes he would join Villa. Since that time the Americans have progressed so far to the south that Casas Grandes is but a short first section of the American line. Herrera's reinforcements did not arrive, it is said, and in consequence, Villa's command outnumbered the Carranzistas who tried to block his path. Today's conference, however, seemed to indicate that Herrera was keeping in the Villa chase. He asked many questions about Villa, apparently not knowing much about the course of the bandit. Herrera had heard troops at camp today that Villa already is dead, but said he knew nothing except the rumor.

The supply train of mules following the cavalry column which went south from here yesterday was fired upon several times some distance out of this camp. The supply train guard chased the Mexicans who did the shooting, taking them along as prisoners.

Remedy Prescribed By Many Doctors

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Proves Most Efficient.

Dr. W. A. Evans, writing for the Chicago Tribune, makes the assertion that practically everyone, at some time or other, suffers from constipation. This applies regardless of age or condition in life.

The congestion of stomach waste in the bowels is evidenced in various ways; bloating, eructation of foul stomach gases, sick headache, languor, all indicate constipation, and call for prompt attention, not only to relieve the present discomfort but also to avoid possible disease that follows neglect of this important function.

Harsh cathartics and violent purgatives should not be employed, as these afford only temporary relief, while they serve to shock the entire system. A mild laxative such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is far preferable and is now the remedy generally used and prescribed by many doctors. It is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, acts easily and pleasantly, without griping or other pain and is a safe, effective family remedy.

Mr. Chas. Schell, 132 Church St.,

MR. CHAS. SCHELL

Grenada, Miss., writes that he found relief himself by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and now keeps it on hand for family use. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

UNION LABOR WETS ACTIVE

Effort Said to Be on Foot to Swing Assembly.

Dry Advocates Being Urged to Attend Meeting at Owls' Hall.

That an attempt will be made to throw the Duluth Labor Assembly into the ranks of the "wets" opposing the initiative ordinance for a local option election filed yesterday, is predicted by those union men of the city who are in favor of the measure. The assembly will meet at the Owls' hall tonight, and it is expected that the "dry" and "wet" advocates will be in readiness to present their respective positions.

It is feared that a fight on the liquor question will be given to the initiative ordinance by the Labor Forward Movement, a new meeting with great success in Duluth. It is pointed out that many of the labor leaders are signers of the initiative dry petition, and that bringing the issue before the assembly would split its ranks.

"Dry" union labor men are today urging members to be present and uphold the cause.

DEEP ANXIETY IS FELT OVER FATE OF CAVALRY FORCE AT PARRAL, MEX.

Wednesday and there was no news of further hostilities.

Arrival in the suburbs of Mexico City last night of Gen. Carranza with his retinue from Queretaro was reported by Special Agent Rodgers, who said it was believed Carranza planned to remain there during the negotiations for withdrawal of the United States troops.

Secretary Baker said today there had been as yet no change in Carranza's orders but declined to discuss questions of policy raised by the Carranza note. The border commander's hands were entirely free, he said, to make any necessary disposition of the 10,000 men under his command. Dispatch of troops to strengthen the supporting lines of the Carranza forces to places best adapted to eventuality are matters of which Gen. Pershing, himself, is the chief architect in the war department view.

Officials here were still unable to determine today just what troops were involved in the Carranza withdrawal. Opinion prevailed, however, that it was a detachment of the Thirtieth cavalry, although some officers believed there might have been a detachment of the Tenth.

An official version of the incident is anxiously awaited and may have great weight in determining the course to be pursued by the administration.

Telegrams transmitted to Secretary Lansing yesterday by the Carranza embassy here are believed reliable but even these do not disclose the details of what occurred. Mexican advice from the border offer still other versions of the affair. Since Carranza's withdrawal, officials here are believed to have the American officers' own report before any conclusion can be reached.

When Secretary Baker left the cabinet meeting he said the war was absolutely no change in the Mexican situation, and that the status of the American troops was the same.

Quiet at El Paso. At El Paso, Tex., April 13, in spite of alarming rumors and considerable apprehension, there was no change in the situation. The Carranza withdrawal was reported as having passed peacefully.

On the surface the Mexicans in both cities have only a casual interest in the situation brought about through Gen. Carranza's request for a withdrawal of the American troops and the clash at Parral. The only noticeable excitement is among the Americans.

Little With Native. Washington, April 13.—American troops in Mexico have had their first battle with the natives at the moment Gen. Carranza's withdrawal was reported. On Wednesday night troops of the Seventh and Tenth divisions were fired upon in Parral, a Villa stronghold in Western Chihuahua, where were the suburbs of the Carranza garrison took a doubtful part in the affair, and were attacked again during the night.

Complete information regarding the losses to the American troops up to the withdrawal of the Carranza troops is not available. Secretary Baker informed President Wilson that a brief dispatch to the war department said that according to unofficial reports, one American cavalryman was killed and the troops used a machine gun against the Mexicans.

Mr. Baker announced later that he had ordered Gen. Funston to take any steps that might be necessary to prevent further trouble.

When asked whether this might mean that the Carranza troops were on the move for the movement of soldiers and supplies, he said Gen. Funston was on the ground and would act as any emergency required.

U. S. WILL MAKE FINAL DEMAND ON GERMANY

said other evidence was so complete that they were not only necessary to the preparation of the case of the United States.

The president and the cabinet showed no disposition to let the Mexican situation postpone action on the submarine question.

The administration considers the German note practically shows that a submarine attacked the Sussex.

Evidence Arrives. New York, April 13.—Quarried by Sir Charles Allison of the Sussex foreign office the evidence in the Sussex case, which has been gathered for the American state department, arrived here on the American line steamship St. Paul. It included affidavits of the survivors and was part of an exceptionally large collection of evidence.

The affidavits are those gathered by attaches of the American embassies in Paris and London. Among the St. Paul's 686 passengers was Edward Huxley, a single man, 35, president of the United States Rubber Export company of this city, who was a passenger on the Sussex escaping uninjured. Mr. Huxley, after confirming previously called news dispatches regarding the attack on the Sussex, stated positively that from the vessel the life boat was thrown overboard, and that she was attacked and for nine hours thereafter another vessel was sighted and the destroyer, which came to the rescue.

Mr. Huxley made this assertion in connection with the text of Germany's note of April 10 to the state department, citing an attack by a German submarine on an unarmed vessel in the vicinity of the Sussex at the hour when the latter met with mishap.

Carried No Ammunition. Mr. Huxley also said he was positive the Sussex carried no ammunition. The German note declared that "violent explosion" on the ship which was torpedoed warranted "the certain conclusion that great amount of munitions were aboard."

When he and other passengers were in the junior officers' room on board the rescuing destroyer, Mr. Huxley said, a warrant officer who had talked with the captain of the Sussex declared that the captain had said that he had seen the wake of a torpedo.

Mr. Huxley showed a letter, which, he said, had been written by Capt. Thomas Carroll, French embarkation officer at Boulogne, France, in which he said he had seen the wake of a torpedo.

"I have just helped take from the poor Sussex, beached nearby, the body of a woman with a piece of a German torpedo imbedded in her stomach," he said. "The body was only three military officers—two French and one Russian—Mr. Huxley declared."

It is understood that Mr. Huxley planned to visit Washington to confer with state department officials regarding the Sussex.

Has French Information. Paris, April 14.—The American government is now in possession of information obtained by the French government which led to the assertion that the submarine was torpedoed by a German submarine. Full details, even to the name of the commander, have been communicated privately to the American government.

The ministry of marine was not prepared today to make this information public, but it has been given not only to the United States but all other allied governments.

One reason the authorities refrain from giving out details is that it is their understanding that they are acting in conformity with the wishes of the American government. It is also the desire of French officials to give Germany an opportunity to reply to the statement of the French command and member of the submarine are known.

BANDITS TRY TO CAPTURE U. S. SUPPLY TRAIN

get official information from Gen. Pershing were continued.

An aeroplane has joined in the search for the bandits. It is certain the location of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez's forces and the route they are following.

Gen. Funston was still endeavoring early today to learn from Gen. Pershing the American side of the story of the fight at Parral.

Stated on the subject was not taken at headquarters, however, to mean that General Pershing was unaware of the fight, or that he was doing nothing to assist the detached and menaced cavalrymen. General Funston said that the staff officers who General Pershing must first receive from the Carranza side of the story.

Gen. Pershing's instructions had not reached General Funston early today, but already scouts were in the Carranza zone, and were in northern Mexico in that part of the country through which the line of communications extends, and officers in charge of detachments dispatched from Casas Grandes had taken steps to guard against attacks.

Extensive movement of troops along the line, the seizure of railroads or the dispatch of additional troops into Carranza's zone, were the exact wording of Secretary Baker's statement, and upon the character of General Pershing's expected report.

Colored Troops in Fight.

Pershing's Camp at Front, Mex. April 7, by courier to Columbus, N. Mex., April 11.—About thirty men of the Tenth cavalry, colored who were in the fight with Villa bandits April 11 at Casas Grandes, arrived here today for rest and reuniting.

Then men were sure they had killed more than the three dead covered in the official report. Three times the Villa forces, numbering about 150, attempted to surround the advance guard of the Tenth. The Mexicans fought them off.

Not more than three troops of the Tenth participated in the fight, which lasted an hour and a half.

The Tenth cavalry was riding for Guerrero when they approached the Carranza zone. One of the guides warned them that a considerable body of mounted troops must have passed along the road ahead of them.

The advance guard of the Tenth went forward cautiously as they approached town, which was hidden behind a hill. Hearing the top of the rise the advance was, without warning, subjected to volley fire, coming simultaneously from both sides of the road. Troop E of the Tenth was brought up at a trot, while F troop went around to flank the Villa bandits and drive them out of the hill. Troop H was hurried forward.

As E troop rounded the hill at a gallop it came within a minute's ride of the Villa forces and the Tenth man was killed in this part of the skirmishing by a pistol shot at about the moment that E troop appeared the Villa bandits rode for the side of a mountain overlooking the town.

CANADA NOW HAS MAIL CENSORSHIP

A censorship of first-class mail from Canada, which affects thousands of firms and individuals of the Northwest, is in effect now. It was discovered when all letters at the local postoffice were found today to have been opened. Across the open ends were pasted stickers informing the recipients that the correspondence had been censored. On the back was stamped the word "censored". Since the war began occasional evidence of the censorship have been discovered, but nothing like the present situation has been seen.

PROVIDES FOR SALE OF CHIPPEWA LANDS

From The Herald Washington Bureau. Washington, April 14.—Representative Steierson today introduced a bill providing that isolated tracts of ceded Chippewa lands in Minnesota shall be subject to sale at public auction under the law of 1895. There are a number of small tracts of land in the ceded portions of Indian reservations that are not subject to homestead entry but that may be bought under this act by individuals.

MARINE NEWS

EAST-TO-DULUTH LAKE RATES ADJUSTED; NOT TO TWIN CITIES

Eastern Trunk Lines Agree to Former Division; Old Rates Maintained.

Lake Line and Western Roads Fail to Reach Agreement.

The Eastern trunk lines have reached an agreement with the Great Lakes Transit company, the new package freight line merger, on a division of rates and the latter company is filling its tariffs from all Eastern points to Duluth with the interstate commerce commission today. The commission agreed some time ago to permit the Great Lakes company to put in its rates at a day's notice because of the fact that it was recently formed and negotiations with the railroad lines might take longer than usual.

The rates from Eastern points to Duluth will be the same as those used by the package freight lines during the last two seasons, those from New York, for example, being as follows: First class, 65 cents a hundred pounds; second class, 54 cents; third class, 41 cents; fourth class, 30 cents; fifth class, 25 cents; sixth class, 21 cents; rule 25, 46 cents; and rule 26, 33 cents.

No Agreement West of Here. The rates from the East to the Twin Cities or beyond Duluth have not yet been announced, for the Great Lakes company has not reached a satisfactory agreement with the Western lines as yet. It is believed, however, that an agreement will be reached before long, otherwise should the shipping season open before such agreement is reached, the Twin Cities will have to pay for their lake-and-rail shipments and receipts the East-to-Duluth rate plus from Duluth to the Twin Cities, which would be considerably higher than the through rate. Then Traffic Commissioner Trickett and others in Minneapolis would deal with the matter. It is understood that the agreement reached with the Eastern lines was a distinct victory for the Great Lakes company. The roads were disposed to demand a greater division of rates than they had been getting, but the executive committee of the Great Lakes company refused to be taken up, and told the roads they could take what they had been getting or do without.

Roads Accept Inevitable. They also told the roads that they would carry the matter up to the interstate commerce commission for adjustment. The Federal commission, having really fastened upon the line by virtue of its divorcement of the lake-and-rail lines, was expected to favor the latter. It is child's play for the roads to decide not to carry the matter that far and today an agreement was reached whereby the roads accept the same rate division.

The Great Lakes Transit company is having another difficulty, just now, namely, that of obtaining terminal facilities here so far as the Great Northern road is concerned. An agreement has been reached with the Northern Pacific road for dock facilities, although nothing has been signed up yet, but the Great Northern refuses to agree to the terms offered, which include the Great Lakes Transit company furnishing its own men to do the unloading work. It is expected that some agreement will be reached before long.

WESTERNER MAKES RICH STRIKE

E. V. Green, the CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE MAN, as he is sometimes called, who has succeeded in stirring up some of the principal cities in the Northwest, has discovered a new source of wealth in the cactus juice of CALIFORNIA. He is now in the United States who have been restored to health and happiness by this MAS-TER MEDICINE.

I shall be in Duluth probably a month or more, and I want every one to come to the Lyceum Pharmacy, 431 West Superior street, and talk to me and try this famous medicine. Ex-mayor of Lancaster, Ohio, stated that he recommended CACTUS JUICE, also that it benefited his wife when all other failed—C. M. Brown.

My theory is that stomach trouble is the foundation of a great many diseases and I attribute most of the ills in this world to disorders of the stomach. I believe that the stomach of the civilized nations are degenerating from centuries of abuse. Seventy-five per cent of all Americans are in poor health owing to weakened digestive organs, caused from eating too much meat. There would be very little sickness if we would observe Nature's laws, take time to eat, masticate our food properly, diet ourselves, and abstain from so much animal flesh. We do not observe these laws set down by nature therefore we must assist nature in every possible way. The one thing that will help you is CACTUS JUICE and I will be at the LYCEUM PHARMACY starting Saturday morning to tell you all about this wonderful preparation.

fore long, however, otherwise the Great Northern will probably be cut out of business coming by the lake line, so far as any through rates are concerned. The Port Huron & Duluth Steamship company is also involved in the matter.

FIRST BOAT TO LEAVE HARBOR

Steamer Briton Will Go to Port Arthur for Screenings.

Upbound Boats Will Clear From Buffalo Next Wednesday.

The first steamer to leave this harbor for another port will be the Briton of the Massey Steamship company, and she will leave port either tonight or tomorrow morning, depending wholly on weather and ice conditions. She will go light to Port Arthur and Fort William, to load screenings, which will be brought back here. It is not improbable that she will make several similar trips within the next two weeks.

The first steamer to leave Buffalo for the Head of the Lakes will likely be some belonging to the Pittsburgh fleet, and they will leave the lower lake terminal next Wednesday. When they will reach this port is problematical of course, and will depend on what success the ice crusher Algomah will have in St. Mary's river in her present attempt to open up the passage there for ships. Should she be successful, the steamer that leave Buffalo next Wednesday will likely get through to Duluth by the end of next week or the first of the following week.

The first steamer to be shifted for grain loading will be the J. J. H. Brown, and she will be sent tomorrow to elevator K to take on wheat. Following that movement it is likely that the shifting of steamers will be general in this harbor until all of those under charter have been loaded.

The Pittsburgh Steamship company has five vessels here, one a steamer and four barges. Two of the barges, the Maida and the Bell, were released yesterday, as reported in The Herald last evening, but they have not yet been moved to the ore docks to load. The reason for this is not thought advisable to rush this matter just now, and the boats are being held at Proctor to await more auspicious conditions.

No further attempts to break the ice in the harbor were made by the tugs today. It is regarded unnecessary as the ice is rapidly melting, and it is not expected that ships will have much trouble in being moved about by the tugs, when the work begins tomorrow. The ice in the lake was blown out quite a distance yesterday and last night, and is still a considerable distance out, but is being slowly blown in today.

From below Six-Mile Point in Hay lake to Cedar reef in the upper river there is open water. Beyond that to Whitefish the field is solid. Fishermen are still plying their vocation on the ice in Whitefish bay. About five or six inches of slush is on top of the ice. Above Whitefish Point it is winnowed heavily. Outside of this the field has moved off shore about a mile.

The Canadian canal is ready for operations at any time. The American canal will be ready next week.

ICE CRUSHER REACHES DETOUR; GOING TO SAULT

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 14.—(Special to The Herald).—The steamer Algomah, under charter by the Canadian government to attempt to force a passage through St. Mary's river and Whitefish bay, arrived at Detour at 8:30 this morning.

Ice conditions have not changed much in the last few days generally. A considerable amount of slush has formed over the blue ice by warm weather during the day, and lack of frost at night, but there still remains about fifteen inches of hard, blue ice on the average.

The Algomah expects to leave Detour for Sault Ste. Marie at noon. She will strike the heaviest ice just above Detour and if she succeeds in breaking through there prospects will look favorable.

Why Sawtay Is Better Than Cow-butter for Baking

Bake a cake with SAWTAY and one with cow-butter. Let them both stand for four or five days. The cow-butter cake will be dry, stale and with an odor of rancidity. The SAWTAY cake will be as fresh and sweet as the day you made it.

SAWTAY 100% Pure Butter-of-Nuts For Baking, Shortening, Frying & Candy-Making

The taste in cow-butter is bacteria. After baking a cow-butter cake, the taste gets stronger until it is rancid. SAWTAY is neutral, without a taste, and will not turn rancid.

SAWTAY is economical—use one-fifth less than cow-butter.

Since it will not absorb an odor or flavor and therefore cannot impart one, SAWTAY may be used over and over, viz., fry onions, strain through cheese-cloth, then fry fish, strain, and use for baking the most delicate cake.

Sawtay is Economical—Use One-Fifth Less.
